WANAMAKER'S PLAN.

Contemplates, It Is Said, Founding System of Postal-Telegraph Service Washington, Sept. 2.—The question telegraph rates for Government business which has been so long pending between the Post-Office Department and the Western Union is probably developing into a big Administration project for a postal-telegraph system. Mr. Wanamaker has had something of the sort in mind ever since he became Postmaster-General. He reasons that nothing could desired by the Administration of more essential service and greater popularity with the business classes measure to reduce telegraph tolls. The subject has been considered by the President and several of his advisers. It is said they have approved of it. The best proofs that they have lies in the efforts of Mr. Wanamaker toward the preparation of a feasible plan to present to Congress, for nothing can be done without an act of Congress. The broad features of the scheme are to make postal tele-graph a semi-public and semi-private system-to use the wires and plant of the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Cable companies, the ownership of them ploit to any but Officers Glode and Weisel, to remain as they are now, and to utilize the post-ffice stamp and delivery system for the payment and delivery of messages. The tolls, of course, are to be reduced both man who went through the Milwaukee responsibilities to be shared either by the payment of Government subsidies or the train in August, besides having held up purchase of a part interest. The details of several stage coaches in Northern Wisconthis scheme are only to be guessed at for no one who knows will talk about them. Some such plan Mr. Wanamaker : dmits was considered by him and Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Company, attheir conferences of Friday and Saturday. But more he would not say. Dr. Green and Mr. Wanamaker were joined Saturday by John W. Mackey, president and chief owner of the Postal Telegraph Company, and the whole business was talked over. The church was then entirely draped in black, and when the doors draped in black, and when the doors were opened for the funeral services the iffect was strikingly impressive and mournful. The services were conducted by Bishop Tuttle, assisted by Revs. Dr. Montgomery Schuler and Carroll Davis, the Episcopal service for the dead and a short sermon by Rev. Dr. Schuyler being the programe. The remains were then the programe. The memains were then placed in the hearse and the hearse ar placed in the hearse and the funeral march began to the beautiful spot chosen by Mr. Shaw himself as his last resting-place—the mausoleum in the center of the famous botanical garden which bears his name. The procession was the most imposing ever seen in this city, and as it slowly wound through the principal streets to the mountful music of tolling bells was viewed by thousands. Beaching the can be said to the mountful music of tolling bells was viewed by thousands. Beaching this time he was unmasked by bells was viewed by thousands. Some of His Exploits.

Milwavere, Sept. 2.—A special to the Evening Wisconsin from Republic, Mich., says: Reimund Holkhay, alias "Black Bart," the lone highwayman who for five months' part has been robbing trains, waylaying stage coaches and holding up pedestrians, is in custody. He was captured here by City Marshal Glode and Justice of the Peace E.E. Weiser, and was taken to Bessemer head.—Shoe and Leather Review. E.E. Weiser, and was taken to Bessemer to answer for the killing of A. Fleischbein, of Believille, Ill., at Gogebic, on Monday of

in a back driven by Andrew Horn, and carried around to the mouth of Chippewa creek, on the Canadian side, three miles above the falls. There Graham was joined by Gerry K. Stanley, who rowed by Gerry K. Stanley, who rowed by Gerry K. Stanley, who rowed in a boat. The barrel was towed 300 yards from the shore, where, at 6:45 o'clock, it was let go. A fifty-foot rope drag was attached and 100 pounds of railroad iron were fastened to the bottom of the barrel ed in of the Gogebic stage robber, and immediately stepped in front of the manifold that would detract from other through the same loop, his head legs thrust through the same loop hi and three revolvers, three gold watches, four pocket-books and other ar-ticles were found on his person. One pocker-look bore the name of Reimund hay, the robber's name. He broke down under examination and acdnowledged committing the robbery of the Milwaukee & and the robbery at Lake Gogebic on Mon-

Holzhay came here Friday evening and put up at the Republic House. The police officers in all towns up here had been furnished with a description of the robber and when he entered the Republic he was at once placed under surveillance on the suspicion that he was the man wanted for the murder and robbery. semer authorities were telegraphed to for further information, but up to an early hour no response was received from them Marshal Glode resolved not to wait word from them, and to make the arrest, being fearful that if he delayed longer the man might escape.

Among the pocket-books found on Holz hay was the one that he took from Fleisch bein, the man whom he killed and robbed when he held up the stage at Gogebic, and which contained letters and papers bearing Fleischbein's name. Another pocket-book, evidently belonging to W. G. Decelle, 408 Sibley street, St. Paul, was recovered. There was also a fourteen-karat hunting case, stemwinding gold watch, which the man admits e took from Fleischbein.

It was some time before Holzhay would admit his identity, but finally, when con-fronted by the evidence of his own pocketbook, acknowledged his identity. He stubbornly refused to say that he had committed other robberies than those at Ellis Junction and Gogebic, but after much cross-examination said: "It is generally sed that one man has done them all and I think that is so," He then entered into a detailed statement of his various crimes. His story was an interesting one. MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 2.—Holzhay, the Gogebic stage robber who was captured Saturday by Marshal Glode at Republic, was on Sunday turned over to Sheriff Foley, of Gogebic County. The sheriff left for Bessemer with his prisoner at 5:30 in the evening. The prisoner was sullen and defiant, his demeanor showing him to be ready for any desperate deed that would give him death or liberty, and if not securely kept there was danger that he would yet effect his escape. who captured him, but to them he made a & Northern train between Maple Valley and Ellis Junction last May, a Wisconsin Central sin during the last six months, and committed numerous other small robberies. MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 2—Reports from Bessemer say that Holzhay, under the escort of Sheriff Foley, reached North Bessemer at 12:55 a. m. They took the stage there, and, proceeding to Bessemer, arrived at that place at 1:30 s. m. Very little excitement was manifested.

Popular feeling has run very high in Gogebic County and as the miners and workmen are idle and drinking heavily it would ganize a lynching party. Sheriff Foley is a very resolute officer and is accompanied by two efficient deputies, but it is doubtful if they would resort to shooting at an attack-Funeral of the Late Henry Shaw at St.
