

—Proceedings of the board of county commissioners are published in this paper.

—Jno. Malton, of Bigelow, spread his name on the Worthington house register Sunday.

—Mince meat that tastes like that mother used to make.

LOVELESS, The Grocer.

—I. Milton, of Rasom, and N. Krier, of Fulda, were registered at the Western House last Saturday.

—J. T. Fisher, formerly in the hotel business here, was greeting old time friends last week. He is now located at Luverne.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Smallwood returned last Friday from Rochester, at which place the remains of Hon. J. P. Moulton were interred.

—The Adrian Guardian says Grafton Hitchcock and Harvey Beckley came up from Worthington again yesterday, and are transacting business in our city.

—We wish to express our most sincere thanks to all friends for their sympathy and kindness to us in our recent bereavement.

MR. AND MRS. C. J. SMALLWOOD.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. Hubbard started yesterday for Worthington, Minn., to visit Mrs. Dr. Warren and on their way west will visit Mr. Hubbard's son and daughter at Pipestone.—Cedar Falls Gazette.

—Mrs. Dr. Xanten, of St. Paul, visited with Mrs. Eastwood the past week. The lady is much impressed with the beauties of Worthington. She particularly admired our fine school building.

—Mr. Whalen, of the Spirit Lake Chautauqua, called on the ADVANCE last Saturday. He is a pleasant, affable gentleman, just such a one as we would expect to see at the head of such a meritorious organization.

—Oleof Degn came out victorious in his suit against the city to recover payment for a horse killed last summer by being struck by a falling flag-staff, near the Lake View house. The case was tried before a jury of six, and Oleof was awarded $75 damage.

—The popular Western Hotel is undergoing some improvements. A large plate glass front is being put in, which adds much to the appearance of the place. The ADVANCE is pleased to know that the "Western" is always full of business, and its patrons are always pleased.

—Report of school in District No. 83, Bigelow township, for the month ending Nov. 10, 1893: Total number pupils enrolled 15; average daily attendance 14½. Names of those not absent nor tardy: Alma Larson, Peter Doedon, Leonard Nordquist, John Doedon, and Emil Larson. Number visitors 5. MATH BARNES, Teacher.

—Ray Humiston is doing his share towards spreading the name of Worthington before the people, and is working up a fine sale for the specialties he is manufacturing. His headache capsules, children's cough remedy, iron tonic bitters, sarsaparilla, witch hazel cream and laxative fruit syrup, are rapidly gaining in popularity, and he is enjoying large sales. In the manufacture of his specialties he uses nothing but the purest drugs, hence their merit.

—Mrs. M. E. Lawton had quite an exciting time last Friday morning. In filling her gasoline stove some of the fluid ran down the side and ignited, after the fire was started. In her efforts to remove the stove from the building some of the blazing fluid fell upon the carpet and on her dress. She succeeded in getting the stove out of doors and the flames extinguished. It came very near being a serious conflagration.

—Died. Mrs. Magdaline Elizabeth Wallgast died Nov. 11, 1893, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Rebensee, in Bigelow township, Nobles county. Mrs. W. was born May 21, 1824, in the province of Holstein, Germany. Mr. Wallgast having died early Mrs. W. emigrated to this country in 1879, and located near Worthington, where she remained with her only living child, Mrs. Wm. Rebensee, until her death. About six weeks ago Mrs. W. began to suffer from a tumor. After having an operation performed she was rapidly gaining her strength and health, when unexpectedly she got a relapse of her trouble and suddenly died. Her funeral service took place Monday Nov. 13, from the Evangelical Church, of Worthington, and her remains were laid away in the city cemetery. D

Good meat market in an Iowa town for sale or exchange. 81tf M. E. LAWTON.

—Last Monday, in company with Rev. Rob't. McCune, whilom editor of the ADVANCE, we made a trip to our sister on the west, Rushmore. It was our first visit there. As we drove in we noticed many signs of improvement in various parts of the town. A large number of new houses have been put up in the past year, and two or three business houses. As our time was limited we could not call on all the business men, but expect to at a future visit. Stopped at the Rushmore house, kept by that prince of hotel keepers, Judge Wemple. He knows just how to please his customers. His tables are always supplied with the best that can be had. His rooms are cosy and home-like. Found S. B. Bedford up to his eyes in business, also Ferrin & James, the hardware merchants, who report a trade far in excess of their expectations. They have been in business there about one year. Dr. Carrell, the new doctor, was just unpacking his stock of drugs. He is a new comer, but finds a pleasant welcome among the good people of Rushmore. There is a bright future in store of our neighbor on the west. The fine land will soon be occupied, which will largely increase the volume of business. Rushmore people have much to encourage them.

—Seldom has a company visited our town that gave such universal satisfaction as the Wade-Leroy company which will be seen at the opera house next Thursday Nov. 16th, in their latest success "By Wit's Outwitted." The comedy is a charming and effecting story of love and ludicrous happenings, in picturesque Mexico, particularly pleasing, by virtue of the delicate vigor and deftness with which each personage is drawn. It is one continual round of pure fun. Miss Wade, an actress of rare ability, will be seen in the part of Lady Glendowine, her past achievements warrant the prediction of a most amusing as well as artistic rendition of this part. Mr. Leroy has made famous the eccentric comedy role of Dow Jose. This is said to be the best of the many funny characters this capable comedian has given the stage. The supporting company includes Miss Georgie Wells, Adel Wentworth, R. C. Chamberlin, D. Alger, Harvey Baker, Chas. Jestie and other New York players. 1w

—Jno. Iverson, who had such a thrilling experience Sunday night, is still at the Western House, where he is receiving every attention.

—No other sarsaparilla has the merit to hold the confidence of entire communities year after year, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla. It possesses curative power peculiar to itself.

—The ADVANCE regrets that there is no prospect of the Nobles County bank resuming right away. We had hoped that this could be brought about as to us it seemed the quickest and best way to settle up the affairs.

—Married, On Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1893, at the residence of H. James, in Elk township, by Rev. Robert McCune, Mr. Geo. J. Engel and Miss Margaret S. James. Mr. Engel is one of the industrious and intelligent young farmers of Elk township, who came from Iowa to this county a few years ago. After doing good work on his farm as a bachelor, he wisely concluded that that was not the best way, and found in the family of his neighbor, Mr. James, a worthy help meet. The union is an auspicious one, and the ADVANCE wishes the happy couple all possible success in life.

—Miss Lottie Wade and Mr. Henesy Leroy will again be seen in Worthington, Thursday, Nov. 16th. This time in a new comedy, "By Wits Outwitted." They have surrounded themselves with an exceptionally clever company of comedians, especially selected on account of their adaptability for their several parts. Miss Wade, perhaps the cleverest actress ever seen in Worthington, will appear in two distinct parts which offer her ample opportunity to display her versatility. Mr. Leroy will portray the part of Dow Jose, an eccentric comedy role, out of which in his usual happy manner, he extracts an immense amount of fun. 1w
