THE EDITORS

HOLD THEIR WINTER MEETING AT WORTHINGTON.

A Good Program—Banqueted by Mayor Shell—Largest Turn-out During the History of the Association.

From Wednesday's Daily. The meeting of the Southwest Minnesota Editorial Association at Worthington can truly be said to have been a most successful one. Nearly the entire district was represented, and a number of new members taken in. The regular meeting of the association was held at G. A. R. hall in the evening; President King presiding. An address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Robt. McCune, and responded to by E. C. Huntington of the Windom Reporter. President King delivered his annual address. It was a splendid paper, and, had we time, would give it in these columns. It is worthy of a wide circulation. Miss Anderson of the Minneapolis Journal followed with an able address on the subject of women in journalism. Miss Anderson is a graceful, easy speaker, and her remarks were timely and interesting. Senator-elect H. J. Miller of the Luverne Herald read an interesting paper. His remarks, however, in reference to the publication of the state laws created some discussion—but did not convince Mr. Miller that he was in the wrong. J. J. Ryder of the Luverne News gave a talk of considerable length on matters of interest to publishers and others. Senator Frank A. Day was called upon for an address and responded in his happy, entertaining way. E. J. Lynch of the St. James Journal was asked to give his opinion as to whether personals pay or not. He said he did not wish to take advantage of his contemporary, who was down for a paper on that subject, and would have to let the matter pass. M. J. Dowling of the Renville Star-Farmer made a splendid impression on his audience in his impromptu speech.

Resolutions endorsing Hon. Dan. Shell for speaker of the house were unanimously adopted, and so far as this association is concerned, is now speaker of the house.

Resolutions were also adopted extending sympathy to Bro. Nicholson of the Worthington Herald in his misfortune of injuring his leg.

The citizens of Worthington for the generous hospitality extended the editors were given a unanimous vote of thanks.

The meeting at the hall then adjourned to the palatial home of Mayor Shell, where an informal reception was tendered them. After refreshments were served the Hon. Mayor (and to-be-speaker of the house) Shell was called upon for a few remarks. He said he was glad his house was filled with editors, that he enjoyed mingling with the "advance guard of civilization," said he did not believe editors generally as bad as people thought them to be, had not missed any articles of furniture, therefore concluded they were not such a bad lot after all. In closing Mr. Shell said when he is elected speaker of the House he wished the entire party would call on him at St. Paul.

Speeches were also made by Ex-President Huntington, J. A. Town, M. J. Dowling, Senator Day, Mr. Caswell, Jas. Ruane, Rev. Robt. McCune, F. M. Baily, J. J. Ryder, Dr.

Dolan, Senator Miller, and others. An interesting paper by A. W. Warnock, advertising agent of the Omaha, was read by Senator Frank Day, Mr. Warnock not being able to be present. The paper was good, and we wish every editor in the state could have heard it.

One of the most delightful features of the evening's entertainment was the vocal selections by Miss Youngman and Miss Caldwell. They were heartily encored. Worthington's famous orchestra also delighted the audience with fine music.

It was one o'clock before the last of the company departed, and all were profuse in their words of praise for the splendid entertainment they had received at Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Shell's.

In Memory.

[Written for THE ADVANCE.]
In the midst of summer harvest,
When the sun's fierce rays came down,
Scorching every tree and leaflet
Till it looked a russet brown;
In his home upon the prairie,
Stricken unto death one lay,
One who in the early spring time
Started out so blithe and gay,
Thankful for the life within him,
Promised manhood, true and rare,
Planning for himself a future,
Oh, so beautiful and fair;
Still 'twas but the old story,
Work best planned doth often fail
Although God in infinite wisdom
Surely watches over all.
To that home he came an infant,
Carried in his mother's arms,
Reared from infancy to manhood
On that same old prairie farm,
So he planned to start his life's work
Mid the scenes wherein he'd dwelt,
Nothing daunting, only trusting
Him who doeth all things well,
Sowed the seed and waited, watching
It unfold each day and hour,
Hoping for abundant harvest,
Helped by sunshine, wind and shower,
Tho' the grain came hastening forward,
Early harvest sure to come,
E'er it needed the busy workers
God had called him to his home.
But at last the strength was wasted:
All that hands could do was done,
And he drifted, drifted slowly
Onward to his heavenly home;
And the little baby sister
Gone but three short years before
Beckoned him with dimpled fingers,
Standing on the shining shore.
Loving mother, father, brother,
Sister, all whom he adored,
God has taken your darlings from you,
Heaven has just two angels more,
From the school house on the prairie,
Where his first school days were passed,
Friends and neighbors bore him gently,
Gently to his final rest.
On a bed of pain and anguish
Many weary days he lay,
Watched by faithful nurse and loved ones,
Trying hard death's hand to stay,
But the scorching days came onward:
Nights of anguish, days of pain,
Naught but suffering for the sufferer,
Weary watching, nothing gained.
If on earth I could but linger,
Health to me could but return,
I would thank thee, Heavenly Father,
And would not their lesson spurn;
Could I only see the shadows
Flitting through the ripening grain,
I would be so thankful, mother,
Do you think my prayer in vain?

ANNEXED TO NICARAGUA.
Mosquito Indians End the Trouble on Their Reservation.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—United States Minister Baker has cabled Secretary Gresham that the Mosquito Indians had formally incorporated their reservation with Nicaragua. This was very welcome news to the state department, for it marks the end of the Bluefields difficulties which have harassed the department for nearly a year.
In the treaty of Managua of 1880 the right was reserved to the Indians at any time voluntarily to take this action, and, of course, this having been done, there can no longer be asserted any claim to a protectorate by Great Britain. Thus the correspondence on the subject of Bluefields which will go to congress in answer to a resolution will make what is known in diplomacy as a complete incident.

To Look After His Fences.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Senator Washburn will leave for home Friday to remain until after the senatorial election. He says all the measures he has pending here will be held up until he returns. This will be the case with his proposed bill for the establishment of a national branch of the soldiers' home in Minnesota.

Criticize the Carlisle Bill.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The minority members of the banking and currency committee severely criticized the Carlisle bill. The whole action of the party majority of the committee, they say, was most extraordinary and not approved by its voting majority.

Another Trust Formed.
CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Manufacturers of bedsprings, mattresses and bedding met in secret session at the Sherman House to form a national association which will regulate the output of goods and control prices. Delegates were present representing the trade in all sections of the country.

Garrison Goes to England.
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—"Snapper" Garrison will never ride in this country again if he can carry out his present plans successfully. Garrison has made up his mind to sail for England in February and remain there until the next racing season is over. Garrison is not so sure that his style of riding will do over there, but he means to have a wrestle with the English jockeys to ascertain, if nothing else, how Americans compare with Britishers in the saddle.

Elected Mayor of Winnipeg.
WINNIPEG, Dec. 19.—Ex-Mayor Alexander McMicken defeated ex-Alderman Thomas Gilroy for mayor of Winnipeg by 42 majority. McMicken was the workingmen's candidate. Gilroy was the nominee of the capitalists and business men.

Changed Six Votes.
CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Dec. 19.—W. H. McKittrick (Dem.) is the winner in the contest case, which involves the clerk of court's office of this county for the next two years. The original returns gave the office to Orriff Pardee by three majority, but the recount results in the election of McKittrick by three majority.

Settled for 50 Cents on the Dollar.
ST. JOE, Mo., Dec. 19.—Settlement with the creditors of Steele & Water, the wholesale grocers who failed last June, has been made on a basis of 50 cents on the dollar. D. M. Steele is president of the new corporation, which claims a paid up capital of $100,000.

Press Will Boycott Kolb.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 19.—In line with the suggestion of the Talladega News a blank agreement is prepared for circulation among the Alabama editors, the compact to be entered into being that they will not again print the name of Reuben F. Kolb.

EWINGTON.
Mr. Clark from Nebraska has moved onto the Brown place on sec. 30.
W. C. Barton has been laid up for a few days with rheumatism.
The Germans are to have a Christmas tree at the school house in district 98.
F. J. Myers has his new house about finished, and it is the finest building in Ewington.
Mr. Jann Jansson and wife were suddenly called to Lemars by the sad news of the death of a brother-in-law.
J. A. Spafford is putting up a building for a store on his place. It will be a great convenience to the people when he gets it filled.
R. H. Lain and Henry Uden made a trip to Jackson Saturday, and had rather a disagreeable time coming home through the rain.
Christmas is coming and the children are making preparations for Santa Claus, but they must remember that it is pretty hard times for the old man.
Mr. Draeger will commence a protracted meeting at the Bethel church Christmas night. All are cordially invited to attend. E.
—Get your Christmas cigars at Ray Humiston's—25 in a box, just the thing for a Christmas present. D-tf
—For Oysters, fried, stews, dry, plain or milk, raw, or any way you like them, go to the old reliable and so well known Oyster Bay Restaurant or JOE LOWE'S.

Buckwheat.
Nothing fits the spot for breakfast like a nice buckwheat cake. W. H. Blume makes the finest and best buckwheat flour on the market. He guarantees his flour to be absolutely pure. Try a sack. (D & W)

Poultry.
We will handle all kinds of poultry. Will receive same on Mondays and Thursdays of each week. Bring on your poultry. UNION MERCANTILE CO.

Annual Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Nobles County Agricultural Society for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting, will be held at the Recorder's office in the village of Worthington on Saturday, Jan. 5th, 1895, at 2 p. m.
A. E. TUTTLE, Secy.

Teachers' Meeting.
The fifth general meeting of the Nobles County Teachers' Association will be held at Worthington, Dec. 22, at 10 a. m.
The president has appointed as conductors of the several exercises: Civics, Miss Lydia Estes; Pedagogy Mrs. Pratt; English History, Phila Hall; Schoolmaster in Literature, Mis Lunita Dow.
P. H. HALL, Sec.,
Worthington.

RAY HUMISTON,
Druggist.
