

In the country it is hard to get help for the household work. Wives, mothers and daughters who do their own work should have the very best of everything to do it with. Ivory Soap is the best; it cleans quickest and is easiest on the hands. It floats.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

There is nothing a farmer can do so foolishly waste money on or that offers a greater field for economy than the item of fencing. A cheap fence in quality as well as price is not economy, but a good and strictly up to date fence in every particular at a reasonable price is true economy.

In this day and age of improvement we all want the best, that is the one that comes nearest filling every requirement for the least money.

The DeKalb fence, below illustrated, is the only fence that has filled every requirement made on it. It is a heavier fence, weighing 20-pounds to the roll more than any other fence. It adopts itself to the rolling land, the pickets are so placed that the horizontal wires cannot be forced apart and the barbs on the bottom wire prevent animals rooting under it. Study the question carefully before buying any but the DeKalb Co.'s fence.

A new condition of things is the result of Sunday closing of saloons at Winona. On Saturday the Enforcement League tacked placards on nearly every business house in the city, with the inscription, "This store will be closed on Sunday in compliance with the law." Ice cream parlors, livery stables, cigar stands and all classes of business were placarded and it created considerable astonishment: Many removed them, but others allowed them to remain and say they will obey the warning. The League has a large membership, and says it will shortly commence prosecuting those who defy closing.

Geo. W. Wilson won a victory in a case of law in the Supreme Court last week. The case was one in which an action was commenced to recover a note given by an Iowa party to a Wisconsin brewing company, for goods which, upon arrival in Iowa, were destroyed by the prohibition element. Mr. Wilson representing a bank, who were assignees of the note. The case has been in the lower courts a number of times and was before Judge Brown at the term held last fall. The matter now stands where it did at first, in favor of the bank. Whether it will come up again will require time to determine. The amount now involved amounts to over $700 and Mr. Wilson's success is a creditable reflection upon his legal ability.

H. E. Yoeke and J. E. Erickson captured an old wolf and seven young ones on the farm of the former in Bigelow township Tuesday. Previous to this Mr. Yoeke had seen his dog fighting with two old wolves but was only able to capture one of them. He killed all but two of the young ones and brought them into town to obtain the bounty, but not conforming to the laws enacted by the last legislature and also by reason of the county commissioners not having provided for paying wolf bounties, the bounty was not paid. Among other things the law says: Every person who shall kill a full grown wolf during the months of January, February, March, April and May shall be entitled to a reward of seven (7) dollars or a cub wolf at any season of the year, three (3) dollars, and any person who shall kill any full-grown wolf at any other season of the year shall be entitled a reward of five (5) dollars. The person or persons so claiming such reward shall within thirty days after the killing of such animal exhibit the carcass of the animal so killed with the head and ears entire to the town clerk in the presence of two witnesses of the town wherein such animal was killed, and make oath that the animal so exhibited is the animal killed by such claimant, stating the time and place and where such animal was killed by him and that the claimant did not spare the life of any wolf within his power to kill.
