DRUGGIST,

Paraffin Wax!

has many household uses but little understood by the housewife.

We have a little pamphlet that tells how to use it, when to use and where to use.

Gives a desirable lustre on linen, saves rubbing and scrubbing, preserves and jellies are hermetically sealed with it.

Costs but a few cents and may be used year after year.

Get a pamphlet for the asking or better a pound cake for 25c.

Bed Bugs!

Like accidents happen occasionally to the best of us.

There are dozens of reasonable and excusable ways of getting them on the premises, but there's only one way of successfully "shaking" them and that's by using our Bed Bug Poison (in large bottles 25c.) Special rates to boarding houses and hotels.

Perfumes!

Six drops of Palmer's Toilet water (a dozen odors) will add luxury to the morning bath.

It'll start you right for the day. 500 drops cost 25c.

Almond meal is another necessity, no ladies' toilet table is complete without it. Take the place of soap for the face.

In handsome screw cap boxes 25c.

The G. A. R. and W. R. C. will leave the hall at 1:30 and march to Court House where the exercises will be held. From there to the cemetery.

Dyes

Diamond Dyes, color anything any time any color.

Will cover anything except blues (that is business blues.)

Springfield, Mass., Union.

Fifty-eight thousand silver dollars in fifty-eight bags was shipped to the Pine Ridge Indian Agency this week to pay the Indians the annuity payment.

The Indians are not all dead yet.

We often hear of people going after another person with an ax.

Thursday in Sioux City a woman put the saying into practice by going after a neighbor with an ax.

The offender was fined $25 for the performance.

It is too early to schedule the arrival of Gen. Roberts at Johannesburg and Pretoria.

The Boers will undoubtedly have another try at the British forces before they reach the point of unconditional surrender.

About twenty-five farmers of St. James township, Watonwan county, have organized a horse-breeder's association, with a view of importing French draft horses to improve the grade of horses in that county.—Mankato Review.

The county hustlers that nominate a set of delegates to a state convention has been called, stand in exactly the same position as a man in a meeting who shouts out his vote before the question has been put up by the chairman.

Premature activity like that is not permitted to count.—Evening Wisconsin.

It counts in Minnesota.

The season has now arrived that when a politician contributes to a church his motive is impure, as will be seen by the following taken from an exchange: A movement at West Superior against the payment of money to churches by candidates for political distinction has its good points. However, it must be conceded that there are men who will contribute money for the church when they are running for office, but not a penny at any other time.

The abolition of the time limit of pastorates in the Methodist church is a recognition of a new condition due to growth of cities. Hereafter when a Methodist pastor of a city congregation becomes a power over his people he will not be dragged away to another charge in obedience to a cast iron rule that was well adapted to the state of affairs in an earlier generation but has outlived its applicability and usefulness.—Ex.

Under skilful republican handling, the fiscal policy of the United States is producing far more money than the government needs and far more than was produced by the wretched Gorman-Wilson enactment, while at the same time the Government expenditures are being kept within a conservative figure and the distinctive war expenditures are steadily falling off. This is a very gratifying condition of affairs for a presidential year—gratifying that is to everybody except the political party which must try to find some plausible pretext for arguing a change of national administrations.—Boston Journal.

"I am for free wool," said Hon. William J. Bryan when he was a member of the national House of Representatives. And Mr. Bryan is for free wool still. His election to the presidency would mean that, in so far as lay in his power, he would work for the free importation of the wool of South America and Australia. The farmers of the Northwest, who have seen the price of their wool and the value of their sheep rise steadily under McKinley and Protection, want to remember this when election day comes around again and they are asked to vote for William J. Bryan or for any other man who stands for the policy of Free-Trade for which Mr. Bryan and his followers now stand.

In speaking of the McCleary Funk contest the Mankato Review sizes up the situation pretty well.

The Best Tonic

is a wonderful aid in the maintenance of health; it is an easily assimilable form of nourishment in illness, and is invaluable in restoring shattered nerves and in convalescence. A doctor writes:

"I have found it especially valuable for persons convalescing from fever, and for nursing mothers. I am highly pleased with it and my patients could not do without it."

At all Drug Stores

And in an extended article says, "This thing is quite certain, that the changes taking place are from the McCleary ranks to those of Mr. Funk, some of the enumerators have even gone into the opposition ranks, and if Mr. Funk develops the strength in this county his friends claim, we should not be surprised to see a good share of the postmasters do the same thing. Reappointment is what they expect through Mr. McCleary, and two years more would enable him to thus place a majority, but if he is likely to be defeated they would just as readily accept the same favor at Mr. Funk's hands. Office holders are loyal to the powers that be or are to be, and those in the second district are no exception."

By a vote of 438 to 238 the Methodist general conference yesterday abolished the time limit of pastorates, thus finally disposing of one of the most important questions before the great Methodist body and doing away with one of the fundamental features of the itinerant system of the denomination.

Hereafter, according to the amendment to the discipline adopted by the conference today preachers will be appointed annually by the bishops, with no limit on the number of years a pastor may serve one congregation, except the limit imposed by his own ability and popularity with his congregation. He will still be a pilgrim and a stranger, but now may tarry longer than five years.

We believe this is a good plan as when a church are not satisfied with their pastor they should not be obliged to retain him as in doing so it creates a tendency among the members to leave the church and seek another especially if there is a thought of preference for another denomination, on the other hand if a church are desirous of retaining a minister it should be their privilege.

Mr. Bryan gives the estimate of his chance being elected this fall: If we hold what we had in 1896, and if we bring back the gold democrats, and if we gain large concessions from the republicans, the chances for victory of the democratic party ought to be good. This string of "ifs" is an evil omen for the democrats.

It shows that just as the campaign is about to open, the man who is to lead the rattled forces of democracy feels that there is no chance. "If we hold what we had in 1896," but "we" can't hold it. The Bryanites cannot carry Kansas this year, nor South Dakota, nor Washington, nor Wyoming. Mr. Bryan got one electoral vote from California last time. He will not get any there this fall. He probably will win back Kentucky, but this isn't "holding what we had in 1896." And what prospect is there to bring back the gold democrats, with Bryan declaring that silver is a dominant issue and that enough of a victory might be won to accomplish silver legislation? And what possibility is there of making accessions from the Republican ranks in view of the great prosperity which has accompanied the McKinley administration? On his own statement, Mr. Bryan appears to have no hope of winning this time, in which lack of hope he shows more wisdom than he displayed at any time during the other campaign.—Sioux Falls, S. D., Argus Leader.

Congressman McCleary wires today, as follows: We have today succeeded in getting a favorable report on the Grout bill taxing oleomargarine, and hope to pass it. This is a great victory for our creamery interests.—Pipestone Star.

Some people thought that when corn and oats and cattle and hogs reached a good price, and when the labor of the country was again employed at remunerative wages, the demo-pops would be rather put to it for material for calamity howling. But that was none of the business of me, people, Sioux City Journal.

The Town men announce that the free silver tail to Bryan's kite was tied on to stay and that it will require a surgical operation to remove it. With grave fears that the patient will not survive such an operation, the political surgeons who are to meet in consultation at Kansas City, may think twice before they attempt.—Omaha Bee.

County Political Chaff.

Candidates for County Offices are Coming to the Surface.

The time for county politics, becoming a subject is nearly at hand, and at this time of the campaign there is always considerable chaffing about and some observations have been taken.

For county auditor, E. A. Tripp, in all probabilities be a candidate and why he should not, there is no good reason. He has proved himself an able officer, fulfilling every requisite that pertains to an officer. An opponent in his own party has not yet developed, at least one that is desirable. Among the Democratic aspirants it will probably lie between C. W. Schultz and J. A. Kennedy, with the former accepting register of deeds, if he don't land the auditorship, and it is said that Carl may be a candidate for sheriff. He ought to have at least one of them, as we could say a good deal for Carl if he was only a Republican.

Gus Lindgren will probably be a candidate for re-nomination as long as there is any show of getting it at all, and he makes a good officer, but it is said that F. D. Lindquist, of Dundee, has been casting loving glances at the register of deeds office. Frank is alright and any one could conscientiously support him.

For Treasurer, the old stand-by, John P. Peterson, says he will not take another term. He has made an efficient officer and if his name should appear on the ticket, the other party would let that place go blank on their ticket. A candidate, S. W. Laythe, of Graham Lakes, has been put in the field early for this office, and if that is any advantage he ought to get it, but J. H. Denton, an old wheel horse of the party, has long had aspirations for this office yet, has been shelved for the chairmanship of the county convention every year.

Clerk of Court is elected for four years, so F. L. Humiston has no personal contest, but will not be found idle when his friends contest comes on, and to have his support means a good deal to an aspirant.

Judge of Probate, C. M. Cory, will without doubt be nominated and elected, as he has become about as much of a fixture as a piece of office furniture.

The office of County Attorney will be filled by Charles Crandall, because the Republicans are in the majority and his party service cannot be overlooked, should he desire the office. John Flynn, it is said, will be his opponent on the ticket, it may be J. J. Parsons again, but it is said that Mr. Parson is like some other candidates, being of a different political complexion which may upset well laid plans, as it well known that he is a hustler.

For County Superintendent, Prof. Still, of Rushmore, has been solicited support as a Republican candidate and has the support of some who have been Miss Graves most ardent admirers. Miss Kuipps will be a candidate on some other ticket beside the Republican. As heretofore, it would be difficult to forecast on what ticket Miss Grave will be a candidate, if she is one at all.

The last, but not least, is Sheriff Gilbert says he will not be a candidate again. He has served long and well. As soon as his intentions are generally known aspirants for this office will bob up like dandelions. Billy Marr, of Adrian, has had aspirations for this office for some time. B. W. Pope, came near being on the ticket two years ago and may think he has redeemed himself from the slump to Bryan by this time, as he did not fall from grace entirely. It is also asserted that Matt Bryan will be a candidate again, but we hardly believe it, but it is generally understood that Newton Fauske will be a candidate. The first question asked is on what ticket? While Newton is all right for the office, yet it would look a little inconsistent to have a candidate that is holding an office under a Democrat; this indicates something wrong. Either one is not a very good Republican or Gilbert is unfaithful to his party. As a man we had just as soon see Newton sheriff as any one, but the G. O. P. gets no quarter from any one and a good man was turned down two years ago because he thought 16 to 1 was the proper thing.

We do not wish to be understood as supporting or working against the interest of any one at this time, but the question as to who will be candidates is becoming a frequent one and these statements are in substance what has been said, and, of course the Advance cannot fail to give them to its readers for their enlightenment, so far as the comments go.
