"Improved Iowa Dairy"

On March 4th we offered to wager ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS with Dieckhoff Bros. that the "Iowa Dairy Separator" would run easier and skim closer than the United States Separator. We did not get their money, as they did not call the wager.

We are after them again for this reason: While our agent was canvassing this week he was told by a farmer who has one of our separators that they, Dieckhoff Bros., offered to wager us ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS that the United States Separator would run easier and skim closer than the "Iowa Dairy." This is a falsehood, and to show them we are riding in the front seat we have this day deposited with the STATE BANK OF WORTHINGTON which they can cover at any time within the next 30 days, and if they can prove in a contest that the United States Separator will run as easy and skim as close as the "Iowa Dairy" they can have our money and we will go out of the separator business. It is up to them—to put up or shut up."

We have at our office several "Iowa Dairy" Separators and plenty of milk. We would like for you to call and turn our separator, see how easy it is washed and how close it will skim. All we ask is if you are in the market for a separator permit us to show you our machine before you buy. Whether we sell or not we are here to show you the goods. There are other makes of separators that will skim as close as the "Iowa Dairy" but they all have a disc bowl.

Call and see us at any time. Office two doors west of Dieckhoff Bros. Respectfully, KELLEY, The Separator Man.

"Not Guilty."

Jury Out Six Hours--Acquit Mrs. Krause of the Charge of Murder.

The Krause murder case was brought to a judicial close Saturday morning about three o'clock, by the jury finding Mrs. Tomke Krause not guilty of the charge of killing her husband with a shot gun.

The taking of testimony was closed Friday afternoon about two o'clock. About two thirty Attorney J. A. Town began making the plea for the state closing about four o'clock. Mr. Town conducted all of the examination in the second trial and it is general opinion that he made a better case than his predecessor in the first trial. He made an excellent argument to the jury. Mr. Knox took up the argument for the defense at four fifteen closing at six o'clock. His plea excelled that of the former trial in every way in connection and explanation. At seven fifteen the judge began his charge closing at eight and the jury immediately retired to their room. It is reported that the jury stood six to six on the first ballot. Several ballots were taken and the one before the last stood 10 to 2 for acquittal. About two o'clock they requested to be brought into court. The court was assembled, the defendant, and counsel and other court officers present. G. W. Smith as foreman presented the verdict and when read by the clerk, as before, Mrs. Krause was cool, calm and showed no sign of emotion. The words she is reported to have first uttered were, "Here I have sat for three months and all for nothing." After the verdict was announced the jury and herself were discharged and released from custody. She thanked the jury. She returned to the sheriff's residence and spent the remainder of the night in prayer, reading the bible and writing a letter to her children in Muscatine. She did not go to bed at all Friday night. She spent a great deal of the time in reading the bible. In the morning she said she felt like a bird set free, it being a beautiful warm morning certainly must have been pleasant to her. She returned to Adrian Saturday afternoon where she said she would take up her home and try to make a living from her garden.

The decision of the jury meets public opinion and the sentiment of her innocence increased since the close of the first trial. Attorney Crandall, principal counsel for defense, has spent a vast amount of time in studying and preparing the case to bring about this result, and his associate, Mr. Knox, when speaking of it, freely gives Mr. Crandall credit for their success. They both are deserving of great consideration by their client.

In speaking of the jury the attorneys were profuse in their remarks as to the jury being composed of the most intelligent jury they ever saw in the box. Their interest was deep and constant throughout the entire examination and arguments. One attorney said, the eyes of every jurymen could be secured at any time during his argument.

They were also complimented on reviewing so much testimony and returning a verdict in such a short time. County Attorney Jones and associate, Mr. Town, made all that could be made out of the case. While there was some strange circumstances yet they were not conclusive of guilt of the defendant. From all that can be learned they made the most of what they had to work on.

Mrs. Krause gave the skull of Mr. Krause to Dr. Walker. Sheriff Fauske received many compliments for his work and it was frequently heard said that he made the best sheriff the county has ever had without any exception. Some attributed this to the training he had with one who held the office so many years and but for his declining years would probably be sheriff now, as he seemed to be one whom the voters, republicans as well as democrats, thought was the only man for sheriff, this man was Gilbert Anderson.

Judge Brown ordered all the exhibits returned to their respective owners. As heretofore Judge Brown performed his duties throughout the entire case without criticism.

The expense of the case cannot be estimated and will not be known for some time. The expense of the last trial will not be as great as the first one.

Court adjourned Saturday afternoon without date.

The following is a report of the Grand Jury.

"We the Grand Jury, report that we have visited the County Jail and found it clean and in a satisfactory sanitary condition. We do recommend that the old furnace plant be removed from said jail."
