

STREET CARNIVAL

Instead of the 4th Celebration.

Monday morning a meeting of Worthington's business men was held in the Commercial Club rooms for the purpose of deciding whether the street carnival, which has been at Luverne the last week, should be secured, or the 4th celebrated in the usual way.

The motion was made and carried almost unanimously that the carnival should be held. It was suggested that there would probably be more sale for wet goods than for dry goods but all thought it would be a good thing for the town.

There are several free attractions with the carnival and a charge of ten cents is made for the others.

A discussion arose as to who should have charge of it and it was finally decided that it would be under the auspices of the Commercial Club. A good many think that this club was organized merely for amusement but it is for the advertisement and advancement of the town.

The same committee, with Mayor Gould, which solicited for the 4th will do the grafting business for the carnival. $300 has to be raised in order to bring the company here.

At the present writing, no further particulars have been obtained but it is expected that the contract will be drawn up today.

J. J. Kies, J. N. Gould, A. R. Albertus, A. T. Latta and R. L. Morland were appointed as a committee to draft all the other committees and designate their power.

A COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor:

Being somewhat of a rambler when not employed I have been looking the village over and would like to say something of what I think that is offensive to a good farmer's eyes. First the indifference with many owners and renters of property in regard to the horse or river weed that flourishes so luxuriously on bridge approaches and culverts and often along the streets, scattering millions of seeds throughout the country by clinging to passing vehicles and dropping off later on. What some people call sweet scented clover is another pest that threatens to be as much of an annoyance as the dandelion and for which I know no use except the smell. Near the fair grounds I noticed an exceptionally fine assortment of weeds, about two feet high occupying a full one fourth of an acre of the most valuable ground near the buildings. In the yard lounged a healthy young man with his hands thrust deep into his pockets apparently oblivious to his surroundings. I thought what a fine time for him to cut those weeds and put something better in their place. The remedy is each one keep them from seeding on his premises and also have the road in front of them. Some may object to this theory as it involves manual labor. But as it is one of the immutable laws of our Creator that a free use of muscles prolongs life and gives health and strength to those who use them freely, why to wake up and destroy the pests and beautify our premises.

But I am glad to say I saw many exceptions of what I have described and I felt like doffing my hat to them as I passed their premises; all honor to them!

If this is accepted by the Daily more may be expected next week or sooner, some of a ridiculous nature and some of grave importance as I still am looking around.

RURAL CARRIER REGULATIONS

Laws and Rules Governing the New Salary Schedule.

It was announced at the postoffice department in Washington by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow that the salaries of rural mail carriers under the new law will be based upon the number of miles traveled. It will be remembered that at the last session of congress the salaries of rural carriers were fixed at from $400 to $720 per annum. The new law goes into effect July 1st. The business privileges of rural carriers will be governed by the following rules:

"Under the law rural carriers are not permitted to solicit business or to receive orders of any kind from any person, firm or corporation, and cannot, during the hours of their employment, carry any merchandise for hire, except that they may carry merchandise for hire for patrons residing on their respective routes, provided the same shall not interfere with the proper discharge of their official duties.

"Under this provision of law no mailable matter may be handled by rural carriers while serving their routes, unless the proper postage has been prepaid, with the single exception of county newspapers, which are permitted to be carried free throughout the county in which they are published to actual subscribers, and such newspapers addressed to subscribers, residents on rural routes, must be deposited at the postoffice the same as papers for other subscribers.

"The hire for merchandise carried on request of the patron of rural free delivery must be paid by the carrier. Patron's will not be permitted to receive any compensation from the seller of such merchandise. Articles or packages which are mailable which are handed to the carrier or deposited in the postoffice, or in a rural letter box, or in a collection box located on a rural route, with a request that the rural carrier deliver the same, are subject to the rules regulating mail matter, including the payment of postage thereon.

"Articles or packages that are not mailable which the patron desires the rural carrier to carry must be delivered to the carrier in person, and in carrying merchandise for hire rural carriers are not permitted to leave their routes as officially laid out, or to accept anything that will in anyway delay the delivery of the mail, or in any way interfere with the efficiency of the service."

A NEW FAKIR ABROAD.

Faribault Republican: One of the smoothest games yet worked has come to light in various parts of the state and the fakir is apt to strike Faribault any day. He calls upon merchants to get an ad for his rural directory, claiming the rural patrons will boycott those who refuse to advertise in their directory. Of course he gets the ads and sells the list of rural routes to the department houses to use in working up mail order business. It is a slick trick and comes in just right for that class of merchants who are always throwing away money on such advertising. The merchants who do not advertise in legitimate ways are the ones who are usually caught by the scheme but the business men should be on the lookout for the grafter and give him the go by.

The delegation to the state convention was uninstructed but there is probably a majority against Hearst.

TRIUMPHS OF MODERN SURGERY.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by F. M. Hickman.

CROP COMPARISON.

On a recent trip from this state in portions of Iowa and Wisconsin, the condition of the crops compared with this section of the state was noticed.

Along the Rock Island road from Worthington to a point near Cedar Rapids, and to within a short distance of St. Paul our corn and small grain is farther advanced and has a better color. Nearing St. Paul small grain is some higher but corn is a very little better. In Wisconsin east from St. Paul corn is not as good as here while small grain is about the same. The land, in the sections referred to is more rolling and in some cases more sandy so taking it all in all the crop conditions in this locality at the present time have prospects of being good.

The weather the past week has been excellent for growing grain and grass, a nice shower and not too hot.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will be entertained by Mrs. J. D. Matsson, Friday afternoon, June 17th, at three o'clock. All friends of the Society will be welcome.

A STRONG HEART

is assured by perfect digestion. Indigestion swells the stomach and puffs it up against the heart. This causes shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and general weakness. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures indigestion, relieves the stomach, takes the strain off the heart and restores it to a full performance of its function naturally. Kodol increases the strength by enabling the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and appropriate to the blood and tissues all of the food nutriment. Tones the stomach and digestive organs. Sold by all Druggists.

TAKE CARE OF CHILDREN.

Last week a child on the Rock Island road would have been run over and killed but for prompt action of the engineer and modern appliances on railroads.

As the evening train approached Roman's crossing a child stood on the track watching it coming nearer, and the child should have left the track but it seemed paralyzed and did not know which way to go. The engineer saw the child as soon as he was in sight of this location, and the child facing him, thought it would leave the track without taking chances but later was obliged to bring the train to a sudden and full stop which could only have been done by the entire train being equipped with air brakes. If the train had not been handled by air brakes the child would have been killed and no power on earth saved it.

Parents, especially those residing along the lake shore, should be particularly careful where their children play or there will be a serious accident.

STARTLING EVIDENCE.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va. serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pleuronia and Grip. Guaranteed by All Druggists. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c, and $1.00

THROWN FROM A WAGON.

Mr. George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best liniment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain, Conn. There is nothing equal to Pain Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one-third the time required by any other treatment. A BARREL OF MONEY.

Farmers and others who want to know where and how to make money should write John G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for booklet, "The Land of Now."

LIFE OF RUSSIAN POOR.

Peasants in the Village Lead a Forlorn Existence These Days.

As a rule a Russian village is a forlorn looking place, where the huts of the poor are made of birch logs, with upright oak or pine supports, ceiling of strips of the same birch, and walls lined with the crude branches. In these huts there are only two rooms, one of which is not for every-day use, but is kept for best occasions. This room houses those sacred images so dear to the heart of every member of the Greek church, to which belong the great mass of the Russian people.

The other room serves the purpose of both kitchen and sleeping room, as one of the principal ideas of comfort for these people, ice and snow bound for so many months of the year, is warmth. In many of the peasant huts no beds are used, and on top of a great stove, reaching nearly to the roof, is a much sought sleeping place. Although the conditions make dirt and accompanying results inseparable in the lives of these peasants, they are devotedly fond of bathing. The vapor bath in a crude form may be called a national institution and a not unusual picture of a summer afternoon is the village pond filled with women and children bathers.—Social Service.

HAVE GIFT OF IMITATION.

Many Animals Seem to Adopt the Habits of Other Species.

Some animals have wonderful powers of imitation. Dogs brought up in the company of cats have been known to acquire the trick of licking the paws and then washing the face. When a cat has been taught to sit up for her food her kittens have been known to imitate her action. Darwin tells of a cat that was in the habit of putting her paw into the mouth of a narrow milk picher every time she got the chance and then licking the cream off her paw. Her kitten soon learned the same trick. A lady tells of a rabbit that she keeps in a cage with a monkey and says that Bunnie has caught many of the monkey's ways. It is said that starving pigeons that have been brought up on grain will not eat peas to save their lives, but that if pea-eating pigeons are seen with them they follow their example and eat peas.

Valuable Manuscripts in America.

In the year 1900 two famous collections of Oriental, chiefly Arabic, manuscripts, were brought to this country; one, the private collection of a well-known Arabic scholar, Count Landberg, was secured for Yale university; the other, which originally had been in the library of a Mohammedan scholar at Medina, and then had been purchased by the publishing house of E. J. Brill at Leyden, through Count Land, was acquired and deposited in the library of their alma mater (Princeton). A third collection was acquired by Mr. Robert Garrett, also from the Brill house, and is at present in Princeton. As to numbers, there are between 800 and 900 manuscripts at Yale, and 1,878 at Princeton.

The Pure in Heart Shall See God.

O pure in heart! to thee 'tis given To face the eternal Presence now, To catch a radiant glimpse of heaven, And feel God's touch upon thy brow. But sight of God endures a while, And thou canst not see his face earth Revolving in the balmy light Of passion's flame with ghastly mirth. Thou seest manhood oft defiled, And womanhood trailed in the dust, And 'e'en the pure and trusting child Estranged in her most holy trust. O pure in heart! to thee 'tis given To help lift up a fallen race, And to advance that glorious heaven That still on earth may find a place. That heavenly time when man, as king, Shall rule himself with stern control, When he his passions all shall bring Under dominion of the soul. When woman, strong and brave and free No longer waits man's royal nod, When children born in purity Shall be a heritage from God. —Mary Wood-Allen.

Old English Custom.

In certain districts of England formerly when an owner parted almost entirely with other rights to a house he would reserve the right of boiling his pot on the fire. This secured to him the right of voting, and what was of more importance, the position of being a freeholder. At Taunton, for example, the voters were called "pot wallopers," because they had the rights to "wallop" or boil their pots at the fire in their freehold houses. Sometimes when a person parted with a long lease, but not with the freehold of a house, it was expressly stipulated that he should keep the right to boil his pot on the fire.

High Honor Declined.

Party nominations for vice president have been declined a number of times. In the Democratic national convention of 1844 Silas Wright of New York was nominated for vice president on the first ballot, receiving 256 of the 266 votes. He declined to accept, and George M. Dallas of Pennsylvania was nominated on the ticket with James K. Polk. The Democratic ticket was successful in the election. The nomination for second place on a national ticket by third parties has been several times declined.
