The man who objects to the editor "sticking everything in the paper" is the one whose past is clouded or whose present excesses are likely to some day place him in the lime light of undesirable publicity. Whenever you hear a party kicking because the publisher has "stuck" this or that item in the paper you may know that the kicker has fears of obtaining similar publicity for himself.

Financial Note.

Trouble is the genuine coin of sorrow; worry is but its counterfeit. The Almighty Corner makes the former for us because he thinks we need it to pay life's indebtedness; we make the latter for ourselves, and when we find that it pays nothing we moan right bitterly.
