

Plan to Come to the Chautauqua Assembly at Worthington August 6 to 14

WHY ROOSEVELT MUST RUN AGAIN

Alfred Henry Lewis in Saturday Evening Post

This will be in the nature of an open letter to the people, and, per incident, to President Roosevelt.

As recently as last month, in a letter to Mr. Conant, of Colorado, Mr. Roosevelt—if one may believe the press—declared by his secretary that "You will have to vote for some other Republican next time."

It may be regarded as axiomatic that, in picking its Presidents, the public alone is judge. No one may stand at the popular elbow and direct the popular choice.

Being called to the Presidency, one must wish that the wishes of him called are not to count.

The public, when it called him to the Presidency, was not without reasons for the hopes within it.

In working out the a redemption of their Trust-crushed destinies, the people called to Mr. Roosevelt.

possessed the measure of his courage his honesty, his intelligence, his power of initiative.

Knowing him, and knowing the work in hand, the people made him President. Nor has he fallen short of general expectation.

It was no marvel the people demanded Mr. Roosevelt. Every age, since the morning of time, could have used one.

There are, however, some enterprises beyond the power of Money. It cannot stay a conflagration, or stop a runaway horse.

Money wanted a catpaw in the White House, the people wanted a president. Considering the popular needs, no one was better fitted for the place than Mr. Roosevelt.

In the common clasp sense, usual of politicians there was no issue between the parties. Finance was settled and the currency gold.

And what was that reform? Nothing astounding, nothing hideously revolutionary, surely!

The times, out of honest joint, required remedy. The call of the hour was for one strong enough in wisdom and courage and an aggressive militant honesty to enforce the laws.

Yes, there are laws enough albeit ex-Ambassador Andrew D. White would appear to think otherwise.

"We need laws with teeth!" says he.

It is in my mind—and I judge by certain recent utterances of his concerning Andrew Jackson—that Mr. White is a belated Federalist.

Peculiarly is his one who, with just and even balance, should hold the scales between the Man with the Dollars and the Man with the hands.

The people called Mr. Roosevelt to the Presidency that he might go about a national house-cleaning, and every pirate money here sought to prevent his coming.

To cope with these sinister forces calls for one who is not only wise and brave and honest and aggressive, but possesses those attributes in certain nice proportions.

Business Change.

The firm of Fagerstrom and Clark, shoemen, has been dissolved, and Mr. Fagerstrom retires.

CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY.

Everything Ready for the First Annual Assembly—Success Assured.

Program of Great Merit will Draw Crowds From Far and Near.

The first assembly of the Worthington Chautauqua Association opens next Monday, Aug. 6th, and continues to the 14th, inclusive.

The music and choral work, the Bible study, the patriotic and entertaining lectures covering a broad range of subjects are bound to make better men and women of those who attend and hear them.

The other entertainments and lectures will follow as scheduled in the program.

The platform manager, Prof. C. K. Warne, is thoroughly experienced in that work, full of energy and resource and has closed a successful assembly at Iowa City.

Children's Day is August 7th, and on that day all children under 14 years of age, will be admitted free.

Notice has been sent to the clerk of every district in Nobles County, of this free day for children and the County Superintendent will be at the Court house to furnish tickets to those wishing to accept this generous offer of the management.

All lovers of music and musical training should strive to attend the choral classes of Prof. Fred Wimberly.

The $700 advance ticket sale attests the interest. Many camping parties are coming from surrounding towns and many home people have engaged tents and will live on the grounds.

NEW LANDLORD.

Lear Bros. Sell the Hotel Worthington to R. P. Dorgan of Minneapolis.

A business change that comes as a complete surprise, and was as unexpected by the parties to it as by anyone, was consummated on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. Dorgan visited this city a couple of weeks ago on a prospecting trip. After looking the field over he decided this was a good location, and made the Lear Bros. an offer for the Hotel Worthington which was accepted.

ing from Col. G. W. Lear, who owns the property.

Mr. Dorgan is an experienced hotel man, and we are confident he will make the Worthington one of the most popular hostleries in this part of the state.

Mr. Harry Lear will remain with the hotel as day clerk. The rest of the Lear family will remain until fall, when they expect to go south for the winter.

Sunday School Convention.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Nobles County Sunday School Association will meet at Worthington, August 28th, and 29th.

The citizens of Worthington will give a royal welcome to all delegates; opening their homes, and providing entertainment according to the Harvard plan.

Prof. A. M. Locker, Gen'l Sec'y for the State Association, and Miss Grace Longfellow primary sec'y for the State Association will be present through the convention.

Time and space will not permit an extended notice here, of all the lectures and entertainments that have been provided.

Will you not help to make it a success by planning for it, praying for it, advertising it, and coming to it?

(Miss) Richie M. Maxwell, Gen'l Secy, Nobles Co. S. S. Assn. Worthington Minn.

COUNTY POLITICS.

Many File For Nominations at the September Primaries.

The preliminary campaign for county office can be said to have fairly begun. On Tuesday most of the present incumbents of the county offices filed for re-nomination and a few others have entered the field.

No opposition has so far developed to any of the other officers, and the prospects now are that there will be none. In fact the primary election promises to be very tame affair.

What little interest develops will center on the senatorship, where there will be a pretty race between two leading citizens of Nobles county, with the chances greatly in favor of the new man.

BURGLARS SENTENCED.

Chas. Martin draws 5 year. Ed Evans 2 years and 3 Months.

Judge P. E. Brown came over from Luverne last Monday to sentence the two burglars who looted a saloon at Ellsworth.
