TO TEACH BOOSTING

Municipal Service League, of Chicago, Wants to Wake up Worthington.

Possible to Make This Town an Important Industrial Centre.

Mr. George Erving, representing the Municipal Service League of Chicago, on Tuesday evening addressed a small audience of Worthington business men, at the Masonic hall, on the theme of municipal boosting.

Mr. Erving briefly reviewed the causes which tend to the centralization of trade, and gave a few suggestions as to the best methods of combating these influences. He cited the fact that all large centres and all live towns are thoroughly organized and a unit in boosting their respective municipalities. He emphasized the absolute necessity of every community, especially natural trade centres like Worthington, doing something to conserve trade and capital, and secure the investment of capital in home enterprises rather than in oil or mining stock or in cheap farm lands far away, and gave instances of how investments at home brought in outside capital. Mr. Erving said he pitied a town where politics were so bitter and religion so severe as to prevent business men and citizens from rubbing elbows in an effort to build up the town. He emphasized the fact, which we all realize, that the citizens must wake up, organize and push and boost for the town. He called attention to the naturally advantageous location of Worthington as a trade and industrial centre, and also noted a few of our troubles, among them the following: Money going out of town in trade and investment; young men going out of town; the Thompson estate; lack of harmony; lack of team work in boosting. He also enumerated a number of our unscheduled assets, some of which few had thought of before.

The object of Mr. Erving's visit to Worthington was to interest the commercial club and business men in the work of Municipal Service League, which presents a lyceum course of a week's duration, giving lectures of instruction in town boosting with special application to local conditions, and also a course in commercial club methods of boosting, taking up another week. In addition to this the league furnishes the services of able and experienced men to advise along various lines of municipal advancement. The cost of the service to be defrayed by the sale of booster buttons, to the number of 500, at one dollar each. The proposition looks very feasible, and while no action was taken Tuesday evening, the sentiment seems to be in favor of taking advantage of the service. Mr. Erving will be in Worthington again next Thursday to further discuss the matter.

County Commissioners Meet

An adjourned meeting of the county board was held at the court house this week, which was attended by commissioners Bryan, McConky, Murphy and Moss, and chairman Swanberg. A contract for a bridge across Lake Ocheda was let to the Joliet Bridge and Iron Co. The contract for a grade to this bridge, and the cutting down of Slade's hill, near Adrian, was let to W. C. Wyatt of Bigelow. Appropriations from the county and state funds for roads and bridges were made for the several towns.

Ernest Foeschow and Miss Emma Thueson were married Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents in Bigelow township. They are well known young people of Nobles county, and have a very bright future before them.

F. C. Stitser and family, who are on the Pacific coast, took in the naval review at Long Beach a few days ago. They were accompanied from Corona to Long Beach by M. C. and Chester Harding, I. B. Newkirk and other former Worthington people.

KILLED AT SIBLEY

Will McGowan, Bridge Carpenter, Victim of Peculiar and Fatal Accident.

Deceased Was a Well Known Railroad Man and Very Popular.

A shocking accident occurred on Wednesday afternoon, shortly before 6 o'clock, at Sibley, in which Will McGowan, a well known railroad man lost his life. Mr. McGowan was superintending the taking down of a windmill, when the guy collar of a jennypole broke, and he was hit under the chin by a piece of the casting attached to the end of a swiftly flying rope. His neck was broken and death must have been instantaneous. The remains were brought to Worthington and prepared for burial. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

The deceased was a brother of C. W. McGowan, a conductor on the Ojibwa line, and F. J. McGowan, who lives northwest of town. He also leaves a mother and brothers and sisters in New York state. He was a single man, of genial disposition, and very popular with all who knew him. His untimely death was a shock to the entire community. The remains will be taken to New York.

Rushmore.

Miss Alida Bedford has been home on a visit from her school at Hamline the past week.

Miss Ethel Patterson of Worthington, visited friends in Rushmore on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Thompson having rented their farm south of town to their son will move to Rushmore about the middle of the month and occupy the Dr. Carrell residence. These people have lived on the farm for many years and are deserving of a rest which they will take for the coming year.

Dr. F. A. Carrell departed with a car of household goods for Sebeka, Tuesday, where he has a farm. For the present the family will move on the farm but the doctor has made no definite plans for a continued stay and thinks he may return to Rushmore after a year. Alba has been troubled with hay fever and asthma and the change is made partly on this account. Mrs. Carrell and Emily are visiting in Winnebago City and will go north later. This leaves Rushmore with no doctor, something that no town can get along without.

Senator S. B. Bedford and wife were Worthington visitors Thursday.

On last Saturday night Noah Bielharz appeared at the opera house as the last number of the lecture course. This was one of the best entertainments we have had of the season. The lecture course came out with $39 in the treasury to start for another year.

On Saturday occurred the death of a former Rushmore man, Peter McTier who has been living on the John Reed farm near Reading. For several years Mr. McTier has been in poor health suffering from lung trouble. About five years ago he moved to California and remained two years, but this did not seem to relieve him and he moved to Lismore where he farmed until this year when he moved to this territory. Mr. McTier is a son in law of James Baird an old resident of the county. He was an earnest christian and a member of the Presbyterian church. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. The funeral was held in the church at Rushmore and the remains layed in the Rushmore cemetery.

On Tuesday James Greig and daughter Ida departed for Scotland, the native home and where Mr. Greig's father and mother still live in good health though advanced in years. It is planned to have a general reunion and all children expect to be present. Mr. Greig will meet eighteen brothers and sisters there having been nineteen children born to the father and mother who now live at the old home.

MANY UNNECESSARY FATALITIES

Appendicitis Known Among the Ancients who Treated it as Such.

The Modern Surgeon's Hobby "The Knife"

Appendicitis which is thought to be of modern origin, is as old as the human family. This disease was known among the ancients and many systems of treatment were in practice. There are many cases of appendicitis where operations are absolutely necessary and as well where operations are unnecessary.

With appendicitis are complicated many other diseases such as bowel, liver, stomach troubles, kidney troubles, poor circulation, bad blood, weakness of the heart, female troubles and a variety of similar troubles primary cause of appendicitis. The surgeon's knife in these instances fails to bring about the required results. They fail to bring health to the patient and fail to remove the cause. Such operations leave the patient in a worse condition than they were in the first place.

A medical doctor is of prime importance, one who is familiar with constitutional chronic conditions of the patients and one who has had sufficient experience in the treatment and cure of appendicitis, typhalitis and bowel obstruction.

Every large city has its specialists in these particular classes of diseases; even in many of the smaller towns throughout the country, medical doctors are sufficiently well versed in these diseases to give an opinion. Inasmuch as different people in different climates require different treatment, the expertness of the physician is of the most importance.

Thousands of cases are being annually cured by Dr. Rea, and even cases that have been operated upon and where they have been in a worse condition than before the operation.

Dr. Rea's cures speak for themselves. He is a man amply prepared to combat with the different complications in all the phases of these diseases. His medical training has been of such character to warrant him sufficiency in himself to assure his patients whether or not it is best to have an operation or resort to milder methods.

Dr. Rea as a specialist, treats and cures all chronic, nervous surgical diseases, diseases of deep-seated lingering and of long standing, such as heart disease, bad blood, tubercular diseases, cancer, tumor, varicocele, rupture. It is said by friends that he has the ability to diagnose the disease of any patients without even asking them a question. This being so, he is not liable to doctor a patient for the wrong ailment.

We herewith take the liberty to publish the names of a few of the many cures he has made.

To Kill The Creameries

That the great cream centralizing plants are determined to kill off the local creameries in order to get a monopoly of the butter business seems certain. Another branch of the octopus has established a cream station here making three in all, and between them the creamery is likely to have a hard time unless the dairymen are far sighted enough to realize that their salvation lies in the success of the creamery. If the local creamery got all the cream marketed in the city we believe they would be able to pay even better prices than at present prevail. Remember that when you sell to the creamery you get a can of buttermilk to take home.
