Jacobson The Standard Bearer.

The republican party has again come into its own in this state and has demonstrated that it is again dominated by the rank and file of the voters. The state convention held at St. Paul on Wednesday nominated for governor and standard bearer in the coming campaign that peerless champion of us common people, Hon. Jacob F. Jacobson, the noted sage of Lac qui Parle.

Two years ago the people demanded the nomination of Mr. Jacobson, but the influence of the "system" through the machinations of the politicians circumvented the will of the people. The politicians were visited with dire punishment at the polls, and this year they dared not oppose the popular choice, and he was nominated by acclamation. His competitors can hardly be classed as "also rans." Mr. Jacobson is so well known to the people of Minnesota that nothing we could say can add to the high esteem in which he is held by everybody. It is sufficient to note in passing that he pioneered in Minnesota those self same policies later made so immensely popular by President Roosevelt. He is credited with the ability to see a woodchuck further in the woodpile than almost any other man in the state.

The Advance takes particular pleasure in the nomination of Mr. Jacobson, for it was alone among the press in the county in espousing his cause, and we feel vindicated in the stand taken. Our neighbors who were for Jake two years ago, but switched to Mr. Young this year, would have shown greater consistency and political acumen if they had remained loyal to Mr. Jacobson.

The outlook for republican success in Minnesota this year is most promising, and nothing now in view can prevent the state from rolling up its old time majorities, both for the state and national ticket.

Louisville has been chosen by the prohibitions of Kentucky as the place at which to open a war on liquor, and this despite the fact that "Marse" Watterson has told them over and over again that prohibition is unnatural.

St. James Plaindealer: About thirty-five from here attended the big Woodman picnic at Worthington on Wednesday, and report all kinds of a good time. They say that Worthington treated her guests right royally, and provided entertainment of the best kind. No exorbitant prices were charged, and there were plenty of free attractions, Worthington people did not go in to make a lot of money, but to give their city a good advertisement, and they succeeded admirably. Hon. W. S. Hammond's speech was listened to by thousands and was pronounced a masterpiece. F. E. Ellsworth was elected president of the picnic association for the ensuing year. St. James gets the picnic next year.

A Woman's Religion and Marriage.

The last chapter in Miss Milmine's Life of Mrs. Eddy in the June McClure's is a review of her writings and teachings.

"The most discouraging thing about Mrs. Eddy's dissertations upon anatomy and physiology is that she seems to know so little about the physical facts and laws which she despises. She says, for instance, that a father 'plunged his infant babe, only a few hours old, into water for several minutes and repeated this operation daily until the child could remain under water for twenty minutes, moving and playing without harm, like a fish.'

"Among the many incidental ideas which Mrs. Eddy has added to Quibbism is her theory that the Godhead is more feminine than masculine, and her qualified disapproval of matrimony. Quibby himself had a large family and saw nothing unspiritual in marriage. In defining the real purpose of marriage Mrs. Eddy says nothing about children; to happiness existence by constant intercourse with those adapted to elevate it, is the true purpose of marriage.' In her chapter on marriage she says: "The scientific morale of marriage is spiritual unity. . . Proportionately as human generation ceases, the unbroken links of eternal harmonious being will be spiritually discerned."

SEVEN PERSONS DEAD

Many Others Injured at Clinton, Big Stone County.

CYCLONE DEVASTATES TOWN

Thirty-three Buildings Completely Demolished and Twenty-five More Practically Ruined.

Seven persons were killed, eleven seriously injured, sixty others hurt and thirty-three buildings completely demolished by a cyclone which struck the village of Clinton, Big Stone County. Property to the value of $145,000 was destroyed.

The storm covered an area of 300 yards wide and four miles long and a tour along the path of the storm shows desolation as complete as it is possible to picture.

People who have experienced other tornadoes say that this left the most complete ruin in its wake of any in their experience. The marvel is that so few were killed and that the list of injured isn't longer.

The storm first struck the earth outside of town, where a number of buildings were demolished and three people killed. Coming to the village of Clinton the real havoc was done. All the southwest corner of the town is absolutely cleaned out. Thirty-three houses were completely destroyed and twenty-five practically ruined.

Everywhere are the usual evidences of wind storms, chickens stripped of their feathers and branches driven through the trunks of large trees.

The devastation in the city is almost wholly among the smaller property owners whose homes represented their total savings. These people have been stripped of everything, in many cases not having sufficient clothing in which to appear on the streets.

A part of the cyclone which wrecked Clinton struck a mixed train as it was leaving the station. The thirteen cars were lifted from the track and hurled into the ditch. Two of the cars were demolished.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED.

Several Others Hurt in Accident in Minneapolis.

Two men were killed, three others were badly injured and seven or eight more were bruised by the collapse of a livery stable at Minneapolis which was being torn down to make room for a theater. The dead are: C. W. Hardy, Minneapolis, and George Johnson, home near Willmar.

The accident occurred when fourteen men were working on the building. So far as can be learned, bricks, which were being removed, were thrown on the front part of the roof, making a weight greater than the walls could bear. The front part of the roof caved in, hurling Hardy and Johnson to the pavement outside the walls. Hardy was killed instantly and Johnson died on the way to the hospital.

The three men who later were taken to the hospital were buried under the debris.

The others were not seriously hurt, some getting out of danger as the roof went down and some being so slightly bruised that they were able to pick themselves up from the ruins and walk away to the rear of the building.

Policemen and firemen rushed to the scene and soon they were at work digging out the men buried in the ruins. It was two hours later before the last man was removed.

Much difficulty was experienced in accounting for all the men who had been employed on the building and for a time exaggerated rumors spread through the crowd which had quickly gathered.

THREE PERSONS DROWNED

Young Women and Would-Be Rescuer Perish at Mankato.

The first fatality caused by the high water at Mankato occurred when three young people were drowned in North Mankato.

Miss Eva Ehler of North Mankato and her friend, Miss Maud Worlds of St. Peter, had gone in bathing on Cornelia street, which is inundated by the overflow of the river. The girls had been swimming but a short time when Miss Ehler was heard to scream and her friend, Miss Worlds, went to her rescue. Both girls sank and Max Sues, a young man who was coming from town, plunged in to save them.

The two girls and the young man were all expert swimmers. It is thought that they were all taken with cramps.

Victim of Poison.

Lewis J. Lundemo, a Minneapolis pharmacist, considered of more than ordinary ability in the mixing of drugs, was himself a victim of poison, apparently taken in an effort to induce sleep. He was found dead in bed. Lundemo, who was thirty-seven years old, had been living for some time with his brother-in-law.

Boy Accused of Murder.

The coroner's jury in the inquest at Kasota held over the body of Russell St. John, seven years old, who was supposed to have been accidentally shot Sunday night by Robert Jardine, aged ten, found the Jardine boy guilty of willful murder and committed him to the custody of Sheriff Teaster.

MERELY MARKING TIME.

State Department Taking No Action in Venezuelan Question.

Washington, June 27.—The state department is "marking time" in the Venezuelan question. Events that have occurred have produced a situation that promises little change for some time, and this government is merely "awaiting the course of events." The gunboat Marietta will leave Curacao for Guantanamo with Jacob Sleeper, secretary of the American embassy at Caracas, and Lieutenant Francis A. Ruggles, military attaché, as passengers. Senior Veloz-Goitoca, the Venezuelan charge at Washington, remains in this city, but soon will take up his residence in the suburbs, where he will continue to be in close touch with the state department, if necessary. Nothing has been learned at the Venezuelan legation concerning the events in Caracas, so that no new light could be shed upon the diplomatic tangle involving the two countries.

Some interest was attached to the fact that in ordering the Marietta from Curacao to Guantanamo no instructions were given for the return of the vessel to Venezuelan waters. The reason given for this course was that there was no further use of the gunboat to ply between Puerto Cabello and Willemstad.

EIGHTY-FIVE ARE MISSING

Heavy Loss of Life by Sinking of Spanish Steamer.

Corunna, Spain, June 25.—Latest reports show eighty-five persons missing as a result of the sinking of the steamship Larache. The rescued number sixty-five. The captain sank with his ship.

Most of the passengers on the Larache were residents of the Argentine Republic. The Larache was little more than an old tub and she proved a veritable deathtrap when she struck on the rocks near Muros. She sank in a few minutes, leaving the passengers and crew struggling in the water. The small boats on the Larache were either smashed or capsized. There was a fleet of fishing boats in the neighborhood and these rushed to the rescue, but the heavy fog prevailing seriously interfered with their work.

The fishermen succeeded in rescuing sixty-five persons. In addition to the captain the ship's doctor and the first officer were drowned. The disaster occurred at 5 o'clock in the morning and most of those who were saved are without clothing. It has been ascertained that the number of passengers and crew of the Larache totaled 160. Sixty-five persons are known to have been saved, but the fate of the other eighty-five is not known and it is feared that most of them perished.

THREE DEAD, MANY INJURED

Santa Fe Train Goes Through Burned Bridge.

Winslow, Ariz., June 29.—The west-bound California limited on the Santa Fe was wrecked near Hardy, twelve miles east of here, killing two trainmen and a passenger and injuring about twenty persons, only nine of whom are said to have required medical treatment.

While going at a good rate of speed the train struck a burned bridge extending over a ditch sixty feet wide. The engine, mail car, accommodation car and diner were badly wrecked, falling into the ravine, and the fireman and engineer were buried under the wreckage.
