

THE LIQUOR ORDINANCE

Adopted in Committee of Whole Last Night.

VERY DIGESTIVE DISCUSSION

The Ordinance a Stringent Measure, With Numerous Provisions and Penalties. The Atlanta Law Modified to Meet Conditions Here.

The Councils met in committee of the whole last night and adopted the ordinance found below for the regulation and control of the liquor traffic of this city.

The ordinance will be found not to agree in all points with that at first submitted, having been amended, though it is yet a strong law and will likely be again modified when it comes before the Councils in separate session.

The deliberations last night, while at times spirited, were in good temper and watched with interest by the large number of prominent citizens of all political parties, who had assembled as spectators.

The leading Democrats acted with the greatest dignity. They supported heartily many of the sections, and declared their purpose to vote for any measure not so extreme in its provisions as to endanger the business interest of the community, or oppress the dealers in liquor unnecessarily. There were no party lines, each member voting his individual opinion.

THE SESSION.

The Clerk of the Councils, Mr. Stead, called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Mr. Winston nominated Capt. John L. Roper for chairman and he was elected without opposition.

The roll was called and the following members answered to their names: Arps, Bensley, Broughton, Brickhouse, Borum, Camp, G. W. Campe, E., Cooke, Goodridge, Bunting, Briggs, Heath, Hyslop, Lewis, Leigh, Moore, Mallory, Grubb, Philpotts, Prince, Redd, Roper, Rolland, Sheldou, Shellhouse, Walker, Peelle, White, Wright, Winston.

The bill as heretofore published in the city papers was read, also a petition from Whitehurst & Petree, J. J. Malbon, B. D. Henley and W. A. Shipp, grocery men on Church street, near Charlotte, who sell liquor, asking that they be made an exception to the operations of the ordinance, as it would greatly injure their country trade which was largely with truckers who come to town at night and secure lodging with them and shelter for wagons and stock.

On motion of Mr. Sheldon, Mr. Wilcox was tendered the privilege of the floor to speak.

Mr. Brickhouse desired to know whether Mr. Wilcox wished to speak to the petition or the general ordinance. Mr. Wilcox said to the petition only, and as an attorney; that he had no special personal interest in the matter one way or the other.

He argued for his clients strongly that the operators of the law would break up their business as they sold liquor and groceries in the same store.

When Mr. Wilcox yielded the floor Mr. Goodridge arose as the patron of the measure, and said that the paper originally offered was in a crude shape and that he had prepared another bill which he desired to offer as a substitute.

Mr. Cooke wished to know if the original ordinance was not known as the Georgia law.

Mr. Goodridge said it was, but that he had made certain changes to make it conform to the laws of Virginia.

Mr. Brickhouse seconded the substitute, which was read and considered as a whole.

Mr. Leigh raised the point that it was an entirely new ordinance, of which the members knew nothing. He objected to its consideration until the members had time to read the paper. He said further that the action of the committee was of no effect, simply recommending, and it did not matter much to him whether the bill went "up or down."

Mr. Peelle said he was not prepared to vote because of the radical changes and moved that the matter be postponed for one week and that the ordinance be printed. He said he endorsed many of the provisions of the measure and wanted to vote intelligently, and moved to adjourn.

Mr. Leigh seconded the motion. Mr. Winston made a point of order that a committee of the whole could not adjourn.

The point was declared well taken, and Mr. Campe (G. W.) moved to reconsider the action, whereby the substitute was under consideration. Agreed to unanimously. The original ordinance was then read by sections and a long debate followed as to the hour of closing barroom s

THE TAYLOR DEFALCATION.

Important Disclosures Looked for in a Few Days.

By Southern Associated Press. PIERRE, S. D., January 11.—The Taylor defalcation now threatens to involve some of the State officials, and there are rumors of revelations to be made which will show a condition little less shocking than the treasurer's defalcation.

It is understood that another official having the custody of very large sums of State money was concerned with Taylor in the beginning of the trouble, and that he has disposed the funds in an equally illegitimate manner. The officials are now investigating the matter and they expect within a day or two to make important disclosures. The Legislature has appointed a committee to make a thorough investigation, and it is likely that a condition of rottenness will be discovered which will shake the State as even the story of Taylor's downfall has not done.

It is now known that during the panic the State funds were used to bolster up private affairs of various State officials, and that thereby not only were the State and school boards deprived of the use of the money which the statute gave them, but the State lost a large sum in interest, and as a result of this illegitimate conduct has now lost $350,000.

The Chief of Police has received a telegram from Memphis stating that the police have under arrest a man answering the description of W. W. Taylor, the defaulting State Treasurer, and asking for instructions. Attorney General Crawford has wired to hold him for identification.

DOUBLE EXECUTION.

One Died Professing Religion, While the Other Blasphemed God.

By Southern Associated Press. CHATTANOOGA, TENN., January 11.—Buddy Wooden and Geo. Mapp, young negroes, aged 20 and 21, respectively, were privately executed to-day for the brutal murder in 1892 of Marion Ross, an aged saloon keeper. Both died game, Mapp struggling to death in fifteen minutes, while Wooden's neck was broken and death ensued in eleven minutes.

Nothing could have been more unlike than the manner in which the two met death. Wooden, a short time since, confessed the Catholic faith. Two priests read the Catholic service to him on the scaffold, but speeches from the men were forbidden. Mapp, on the other hand, maintained his innocence, and after shouting farewell to the prisoners, mounted the scaffold, and in the face of death blasphemed God and cursed those who had borne witness against him. Here are a few samples of his last remarks:

To the sheriff he said: "This is all right, Sheriff Hyde, but I am coming back to haunt you."

To the minister who had attended him he sent word that he was lost, but did not want to see him. Even after the black cap was adjusted Mapp continued his loud blasts of profanity.

THE LIBEL SUIT.

The Lawyers in No Hurry. Papers Being Prepared Carefully.

The attorneys for Mr. Massey say they are engaged in preparing his case. They are in no hurry and will take their time. They do not see that there is any special reason why they should work night and day to get the matter before the people.

It was reported yesterday that some bets were being made at even money that Mr. Massey would not bring a suit. All such offers found takers and if the statements made to THE VIRGINIAN are true, as there is every reason to believe, the backers of the Superintendent will make their money easily and certainly. It is thought that by Monday or Tuesday the suits will be filed.

It is said that Mr. Thon left Norfolk on private business.

A VIRGINIAN SUICIDES.

By Southern Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, January 11.—Unable to bear the tortures of a shattered nervous system, C. C. Whitlock, aged sixty-four years, a wealthy lumber dealer of Richmond, Va., shot himself through the left breast with a revolver this evening at the corner of Seventh and Spruce streets, and died almost instantly. Mr. Whitlock's wife and three children, who are in Richmond, were notified of his death.

THE INCOME TAX ASSAILED

Senator Hill Makes a Strong Speech Against It.

ITS VALIDITY QUESTIONED.

Further Discussion of the Bill Postponed Until To-Day. Two Financial Bills Introduced in the Senate. Business of the House.

By Southern Associated Press. WASHINGTON, January 11.—(SENATE.) The debate in the Senate to-day on the subject of the income tax occupied the better part of five hours. Most of that time was used by Mr. Hill in advocacy of the amendment offered by him yesterday, giving courts of the United States jurisdiction to hear and determine suits to test the constitutionality and validity of the tax. He assailed the tax as unequal, uniform and unjust, and expressed his conviction that the Senate would agree with him that the provisions as it now stood was unconstitutional, unwieldy and unworkable and that it ought not to be inflicted on the tax payers, the executive officers or Congress.

Mr. Sherman said that in the main, he agreed with the New York Senator in regard to the tax, but he held that a refusal of the Senate to appropriate money to carry it out would tend to overthrow the principles on which the government is established, and would be practically wrong in regard to a revenue measure which the Senate had no power to originate. Speeches were made by Mr. Dubois, Mr. Quay and Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon.

A motion by Mr. Quay to postpone the further consideration of the bill and amendment until the first Monday in February received one vote (his own) in its favor and forty-three against it.

A point of order was made against the Hill amendment (that it was general legislation on a general appropriation bill), and was sustained by the presiding officer, Mr. Faulkner.

An appeal from this ruling was taken by Mr. Hill, and at that stage of the proceedings the whole matter went over till to-morrow.

Two financial bills were introduced, one by Mr. Vest and one by Mr. McPherson, the latter authorizing the issue and sale of bonds. The salient points of the bill of Mr. Vest are these: It makes no reference to the refunding of the greenbacks; provides for unlimited coinage of silver at the market price—the Government taking the seigniorage; it calls in all gold and silver certificates and treasury notes and substitutes certificates that shall be redeemable in either gold or silver according to conditions—if the surplus in the treasury is less than $100,000,000, to be redeemed in silver; if more than $100,000,000 to be redeemed in gold; provides for an issue of 3 per cent. bonds to maintain the reserve, but limits the amount to the $100,000,000 stipulated in this bill.

The Senate at 5:20 adjourned till to-morrow.

House—A House bill authorizing the Laporte, Houston and Northern railroad to build a bridge over Galveston Bay was passed. Also the following: Authorizing the Little Rock and Pacific railroad to bridge the rivers in Arkansas which its lines will cross; authorizing the Tennessee Bridge and Ferry Company to bridge the Tennessee river at or near Sheffield, Ala.; for the relief of I. H. Hathaway & Co., of Philadelphia, contractors for the harbor work at St. Augustine, by the issue of a duplicate check for $10,115, the original having been lost in the mails; and the following Senate bills: Extending the time in which the Texas and Fort Smith railway may bridge the Little river in Arkansas.

The bill to repeal the law of 1890, relating to shipping commissioners, which by agreement was prepared yesterday, was called up by Mr. Fithian, Chairman of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Mr. Dingley proposed a substitute which retained the features of the law of 1890 that had been found beneficial to the seamen engaged in the coastwise and nearby foreign trade. The substitute had been accepted by members of the committee and others interested in the matter. It was agreed to by the House and the bill was passed.

Under the rules this was private bill day, and on motion of Mr. Enloe, the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole to consider business on the private calendar for the first time since July 18th last, and Mr. Tarsney took the chair.

Three hours were spent in an unavailing consideration of a bill that engaged the attention of the body the last day devoted to the private calendar. It was for the payment of $13,000 for stores and supplies taken from

The Minnesota Senatorial Fight.

By Southern Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., January 11.—The Legislature has adjourned to Monday. Most of the members have remained in town in order to be in the thick of the Senatorial fight. The Washburn men claim that Washburn will go into the caucus with sixty-five votes. This, of course, is ridiculed by the Nelson men, who give the names of seven men who have come out for Nelson in the last twenty-four hours. The Nelson men claim at least sixty men of the necessary seventy-two and insist that Washburn will never get above fifty-five. McCleary's vote will be about twenty and that of Comstock is an unknown quantity. The Populists announce that they will vote for a man of their own party.

THE GREAT SACRIFICE

The Subject of Father Himmill's Discourse

AT THE CHAPEL LAST NIGHT.

A Plea for Spiritual Worship and Greater Perseverance. Present Day Idols Exposed. Interesting History of the Mass.

Yesterday morning the subject of Father Himmill was, "Honor to Parents, and Adjunct to Love of Neighbor."

At night his discourse was as follows: "The most important thing in all our lives is sacrifice, and around the holy sacrifice of the mass cluster all the other beauties of holy sacraments, whether in a log hovel or in the finest cathedral, the holiness of that mass is the same.

"You may have the external appearance of religion, but without that adoration of God, which is the mainspring of Christianity. If we can realize that God is our own God, the Master of our being, then for us life begins. And the only way to learn this is to adore Him. He says we shall not have strange Gods and if we will look into the lives of some men to day we can realize how God came to make that commandment.

"One man adores success, another pleasure, and still another clasps to his bosom the idol of gold. And how shall we adore God? We shall sacrifice to Him, and Him only. We have the means now, even in these days when men seem to have separated from religion. In the old days the sacrifice of hearts was made in imperfect worship of God until the Great Priest, the Great Sacrifice, Christ, came and changed it. And His admonition to His disciples was to commemorate that sacrifice by the sacrament of His body and blood there celebrated for the first time.

"By the holy mass that sacrifice has been perpetuated. He was a sacrifice upon Calvary and now he is upon the altar. The mass means adoration and thanks to God for His goodness; prayer supplication for mercy and blessing. When I realize my utter inability to perform penance for my sins, then I see my Savior there to perform it for me.

"The life and the soul of the Catholic religion is the sacrifice of the mass.

"The first step in that ceremony is the confession, then the absolution. After this the prayer to the saints of God, to our Blessed Lady, to Jesus Christ and to the Almighty Father. Then comes the great sacrifice. The people have made theirs; they may sacrifice the sin; Christ has sacrificed all. Now comes the solemn administration of the sacrament with those beautiful words, which since the seventh century, has not been changed. Then the thanksgiving, completing for those who have joined spiritually in the service and have seen something besides a mere ceremony—the adoration of God. This class of worshippers are the ones who are really blessed in their service.

"The pomp and circumstance thrown around the priest by the Church is done only to make the lesson of the sacrifice more impressive.

LYNCHBURG STIRRED UP.

Judge Christian Strikes at the Saloons and Gamblers.

By Southern Associated Press. LYNCHBURG, Va., January 11.—The city has been considerably stirred up for the last few days by the investigations of common abuses by the grand jury. Judge Christian, who succeeded to the bench on January 1st, seems to have been credited with having brought about the investigation.

About 150 young men of various vocations in life were summoned before the grand jury to tell what they knew about gambling, Sunday liquor drinking, and prostitution generally. Their testimony has resulted in about forty presentments by the grand jury, including nearly all the principal saloons in town, the gambling rooms and several houses of bad repute.

SOUTHERN WAR CLAIMS

Payment of the South's Claims May Provoke Bitterness.

DIVIDED BY SECTIONALISM.

Members of the Committee on War Claims Considerably Exercised, and They Will Defeat the Bill, if Possible. Some Quiet Missionary Work.

By Southern Associated Press. WASHINGTON, January 11.—What may result in a division of the House on strictly sectional lines, will be an order from the committee on rules next week fixing the time for the consideration of a bill to pay certain Southern war claims. A bill providing for the settlement of the claims of citizens in both Northern and Southern States, was reported some time ago from the committee on war claims and is now on the House calendar.

Some of the members of this committee learned to-day that another bill, which looks only to the payment of Southern claims and which did not originate with their committee, is the one of which the committee on rules will take cognizance. The war claims members are considerably exercised over the matter, and an effort will be made, when the rule is reported, on Monday or Tuesday of next week, to defeat it, their argument being that the bill reported from their committee is fairly and impartially drawn, and the only measure that ought to pass the House.

Some quiet missionary work was done on the floor of the House to-day by certain members of the War Claims Committee, looking to the presence in their seats next week, when the order is reported, of as many Northern men, both Republicans and Democrats, as can be counted upon to antagonize the action of the Committee on Rules.
