

ENGLAND IS NOT SATISFIED

Official Confirmation Regarding Nicaragua's Counter Proposition.

THE PLAN TO COMPROMISE

It is suggested that the Corn Islands Be Ceded Great Britain. Nicaragua May Propose This to Force the Hand of the United States.

By Southern Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Official confirmation of London dispatches that Nicaragua had been informed that her counter proposition was not regarded as satisfactory by Great Britain was received here to-day.

Nicaragua's present plan, it is understood, is to endeavor to reach a compromise with Great Britain respecting the ultimatum settlement of the indemnity of $75,000 to pro Consul Hatch. In pursuance of this purpose, a special report may be sent to London, who will probably be Gen. Barrios, who recently returned from England, after an unsuccessful attempt to settle the difficulty.

It is not doubted that in the end, Nicaragua will pay the indemnity demand, or offer to Great Britain in lieu of the $75,000 a part of her territory. The report has reached here from Nicaragua that Mr. Gosling, the British Minister to Central America, declared in Guatemala, a few months ago that "England especially wanted some interest in Nicaragua with a view to preventing the Yankees from controlling absolute by the Nicaragua Canal."

This statement, it is said, was made publicly and without reserve. It was printed in the Guatemala newspapers at the time, and a high authority asserts that Minister Gosling has never ventured to deny it. The particular patches of territory available for this purpose would be the so-called "Corn Islands," the possibility of whose proffered cession by Nicaragua to Great Britain, in lieu of a money indemnity, has been more than only suggested lately. These lands would be of great value to Great Britain for a coaling and naval station and an effective British sentinel over the Nicaragua canal.

It is said to be absolutely impossible for Nicaragua to immediately comply with Great Britain's money demands. She has now $75,000 in her treasury and her population of about 2,000,000 people, two thirds Indians, have not developed resources upon which they could raise the amount. The proposition of a "Pacific blockade" of Nicaragua ports to enforce payment is quietly laughed at. "Nicaragua," it is said, "has bishops," the blockade would only hurt the commerce of Germany, France and other countries as well as the United States.

There are those who suggest that if Nicaragua should propose to cede the Corn Islands to Great Britain as an equivalent for the "smart money," the immediate payment of which is demanded, this proposal might be regarded as a shrewd move to force the hand of the United States. Nicaragua is not suffering for lack of diplomatic adroitness in her representatives either abroad or at home.

FATHER AND SON.

Both in Jail Charged with the Murder of Walter P. Willis.

By Southern Associated Press.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 19.—At the toll-gate, a mile below this city, late yesterday evening, William Weisman, the toll keeper, got into an altercation with Walter P. Willis about the latter refusing to pay toll. Weisman's son, John, came up during the squabble and while William Weisman is alleged to have held Willis, John Weisman struck the latter over the head with a single tree of a wagon, knocking him unconscious. To night he died from the effects of the wound and both of the Weismans are in jail charged with his murder. Willis is alleged to have been too intoxicated to have defended himself and was forcibly dragged out of his buggy because of his refusal to pay toll.

STATE OF TRADE.

The Increase in Speculation the Most Noticeable Feature.

By Southern Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 19.—R. G. Dan & Co.'s, weekly review of trade to-morrow will say:

In every speculative department business is growing, but this is really the least satisfactory feature of the situation. Cotton, oil and wheat climb above the export price, so that the marketing of products abroad must be checked and money is absorbed which ought to be employed in productive industry and in distribution of products to consumers.

Everybody knows that oil has not risen 200 per cent. because it is intrinsically more valuable, nor is wheat actually worth more than it was two or three weeks ago, but the expansive and up-flying has unfortunately taken to speculation rather than to production, and so we have higher prices in all speculative markets without a larger demand for consumption.

There is no evidence that cotton is in larger demand than it was when the price was 1 cent lower, but prices have been so low for months that an upward movement was easy without much reason, though stocks here and abroad are 300,000 bales larger than they were at the same date after the greatest crop ever produced heretofore, and spinners here and abroad have taken about 1,600,000 bales more than they have consumed. The rise tends to prevent the decrease of acreage, which is its one reasonable excuse.

Outside of speculative market, the most important feature is the rise in price of beef, but which is largely due to the control of sources of supply by a few strong corporations. There ought to be, but apparently is not, sufficient power in the hands of the government to meet any such conspiracy against the public, and the proposal of Secretary Morton to admit Mexican cattle and cattle from Canada on easy terms for the benefit of consumers, is heartily commended, though it is not likely to have much influence. The actual decrease in receipts of cattle at the four chief Western markets has been 200,000 head during the first quarter of 1895, and the quantity killed has been only 89,000 head less than last year, about 10 per cent., but facts have little to do with prices in this case, as in the case of oil.

Some large textile mills have advanced wages at Fall River about 10 per cent., restoring the rates paid after the reduction in September, 1893. Labor troubles are comparatively less serious this week. The cotton mills are encouraged by improving prices and are fairly busy. Money markets are comparatively dull and unexciting from the interior continues, although there is not material increase in the commercial demand. Foreign trade shows a heavy balance and gold would undoubtedly go out in large amounts but for the negotiations of bonds by the syndicate.

Interesting Dots of Newport News and Surroundings.

NEWPORT NEWS, April 19.—The greatest alarm has been felt here to-day in regard to the tug boat Albert F. Dewey. As nothing could be heard from her it was feared she had been lost in the severe storm of Wednesday night. The friends of Mr. Dewey sent telegrams all the morning and at 12 o'clock Capt. Hier, of the boat was heard from, saying they had arrived safely at Southport, and though the voyage had been severe, the little vessel had braved it well.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

The Amount Handed in so Far is $14,365,000.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller to-day gave out his official estimate of the revenue to be realized from the income tax as he stated it in a letter to Secretary Carlisle:

Telegraphic advices from the collectors of the several internal revenue districts indicate that the aggregate amount of income tax shown by the returns which were filed before the 16th instant will be about $14,365,000.

"Delayed returns and corrections, it is believed will considerably increase this amount. The total expenditures on account of the work, including necessary salaries and allowances, to the end of the present fiscal year, will not exceed $135,000."

SOME GIGANTIC SMUGGLING

The Importing House of Sypher & Co. Strongly Suspected.

INFORMATION BY A CLERK

For Fifteen Years it is Said the Firm Has Been Importing Under False Valuation. Customs Officials Implicated. Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

By Southern Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 19.—One of the most startling stories of fraudulent evasion of customs duties which has developed in the port of New York for years came to light to-day. It involves the name of one of the best known bric-a-brac dealers in the country and implicates possibly one or more customs employees who have until now enjoyed the unlimited confidence of the Collector of the Port and the heads of the various departments.

The prominent customs officials have not been so disturbed over a case of the kind for a long time, and for the last two weeks a thorough unremitting investigation of the matter has been going on. The discovery of the frauds came from the former secretary and more recently, head-salesman of the house of O. L. Sypher & Co., of Fifth avenue and Twenty sixth street.

The informer is L. H. Todd, who was discharged January last it is said for drunkenness. Two weeks ago he appeared at Collector Kilbreth's office and astounded that official with information so startling that he hardly credited the man's statements. With the assistance of Col. Phelps, of the Law Department, and Appraiser Dunn, the customs authorities have gathered indisputable evidence that Todd's statements are true and that O. L. Sypher & Co. have profited to the extent of many thousands of dollars during the last fifteen years.

Todd claims that for the last fifteen years Sypher has been importing into the port bric-a-brac, tapestry, antiques, artistic silver articles and relics at a rate of duty abnormally below their valuation, and cites numberless importations of artistic and valuable articles from Great Britain, including trays, loving cups, valuable table pieces and silver articles which were invoiced as "old silver" and valued at 4 shillings and 6 pence per ounce.

Most of the silverware passed through the second division of the appraiser's department, in which Cyrus A. Stevens was assistant appraiser until a year ago, when he was succeeded by H. W. Hart, who has charge of the department at the present time. Eugene Honeywell, who has been in the customs service fifteen years, is the man through whose hands the Sypher property passed and upon whose head now falls the suspicion that Sypher was assisted in swindling the customs by one inside the service.

Collector Kilbreth has always had implicit confidence in this official, whom he describes absolutely above suspicion until it is clearly proven that he is guilty.

The case has many ramifications and hints at smuggling, and the implication of steamship employees are given. The amount of money out of which the Government has been swindled will run into the hundred thousand dollars.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The State Department has published the diplomatic correspondence exchanged between this government and Venezuela, extending over the period between October 1893, and December 1894, relating to the boundary dispute between Venezuela and British Guiana, which, while adding but little to the general knowledge of the subject, indicates the serious turn affairs may take unless an impartial arbitration of the conflicting claims is secured. Venezuela makes it clear that she relies wholly upon United States intervention to secure a fair consideration of the matter.

CUBAN UPRISING.

Trustworthy Information That It Amounts to Nothing.

By Southern Associated Press.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, (Via Tampa, Fla.) April 19.—The staff correspondent of the United Press after searching investigation writes: "As to the progress of the uprising, it has for the last month been practically nil. In the first place, no general rising of Cubans has taken place, no provisional government has been formed, no stand against government troops has been made, no engagement of sufficient character to be designated as a battle has occurred."

"The plan mapped out by Marti and other enthusiasts in New York was not endorsed by the better classes of resident of Cubans, without whose financial aid and personal influence no uprising in Cuba can succeed."

"In the province of Santiago de Cuba at the eastern end of the island, the case has been different. The mountainous nature of the country and the number of sympathizers have made this section the natural choice for the landing of the filibustering expeditions and war material."

"Under Gov. Gen. Calle a active preparation was delayed and clemency extended to all who forswore their cause and pledged submission to the King of Spain. With Martinez Campos, the new Governor-General in the field, personally pushing active operations against the insurgents, the outcome will not long be in doubt."

"Had the movement been supported by the influential Cubans and properly led, some show of success might have been looked for. The leaders are not capable of intelligent or systematic handling of men, many of them having been outlaws and bandits for years. Others are negroes or half-breeds."

"False reports of battles fought and victories won have been manufactured in the cigar factories of Tampa and Key West. As a matter of fact no city and no town has been taken and no battle of any character fought."

RAPID TRANSIT MARRIAGES.

Portsmouth's Fine Batting Team Which Will Make a Fine Fight for the Pennant. Miss Van Lew in Court. Tablet to Bishop Moore.

Special Dispatch to the Virginian.

RICHMOND, Va., April 19.—Day before yesterday Mr. B. W. Ivey, a young lawyer here, and Miss Lulu Bond were married in Petersburg. Mr. Ivey was divorced from his first wife some time ago and it is rather a remarkable coincidence that she was married a second time within twenty-four hours of the time her former husband took his second wife. She was wedded last night to a young cigarmaker, Mr. Ivey's bride resided in Richmond some time ago.

It is generally believed that Portsmouth has a baseball team that is going to be very much in the race for the pennant. In some respects it is better than Richmond. Mr. Brady says he has not a shadow of doubt that his team will end first. Richmond probably has a team capable of better field work, but they are not the equal of Brady's men in batting. Both teams are well supplied with crack pitchers.

Miss Elizabeth Van Lew, formerly postmaster of Richmond, was a complainant in the Police Court to-day against seven little boys who played ball in the street. When she went on the stand Lawyer Sam Page, counsel for the boys, proceeded to put her through a rigid cross-examination. Miss Van Lew became disgusted and got up and left the room saying she would not be made a laughing stock of. The case had to be continued and rule was issued for Miss Van Lew's re-appearance. When she is brought back the justice probably will fine her.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Account of a Chinese Mock Marriage Held in New York.

A Chinese mock marriage took place at St. Bartholomew's parish house, New York, recently. There were nearly 300 persons present, and they had all paid 25 cents to see the unique ceremony.

A Chinese orchestra played a number of selections. There were six men in this orchestra, and they evoked fearful and wonderful strains from their instruments. When they were not playing, they were "tuning up," but the distinction was entirely lost upon the audience, which applauded everything.

At 9 o'clock the bridal procession filed in. There were six ushers, and behind them came the lovely Won-Hai-Chee, which name means "she who eats the nightingales' tongues."

She was arrayed in a dark skirt, and her features were covered with a heavy red veil. The happy bride was "lugged in" while seated in a large sedan chair, and the bearers of the chair were American, who were evidently not "up in" carrying chairs of this kind. On the arrival of the bride the orchestra broke loose again, and the two policemen on duty in the room fled.

A shower of popcorn greeted the bride, and two pages, carrying lanterns, waved them before her. The bridegroom, in a fur coat and attended by six men, was manifestly nervous, but he did well and is in good training for a real ceremony.

The sedan chair in which the bride sat was preceded by the matchmaker, who bore the brunt of the ceremony. The bridegroom followed, and when the chair had been set down he opened the door, and out came the bride.

More "music by the band" followed, and then the bride turned over the keys of her trunks to the bridegroom. This part of the ceremony seemed to have an exhilarating influence on the groom, for he promptly "opened wine," so to speak, pouring a dark red mixture from a decanter into a "chalice" (Chinese presumably for "growler"), from which chalice the newly wedded pair drank.

Miss Ho Ah Fuen, "a Chinese girl in costume," according to the programme, then sang "See This Bunch of Jasmine Flowers." She sang in her native tongue, and the first line was, "Hao ya to sien hwa."—New York Tribune.

AMERICAN SOCIETY.

Strong Americanism of Mr. Eustis at the Banquet.

By Southern Associated Press.

LONDON, April 19.—The Americans constituting the new American society in London dined at the Cafe Royal this evening. There were about 150 persons present. Ambassador Bayard, who presided, had on his right, James B. Eustis, United States Ambassador to France and General Patrick A. Collins, Consul General, and on his left Andrew Carnegie.

Among the others present were the staff of the Embassy and Consulate, and Hiram Maxim and Col. Gorsaud. On the wall behind Mr. Bayard's chair the American and British flags were draped over a large picture of George Washington. The dinner was very elaborate.

In proposing the first toast of the evening—to the Queen—Mr. Bayard said: "The manhood of America responds to the manhood of Great Britain in this toast, as Americans of every opinion and party honor the British Sovereign's sex." The toast to the President of the United States was then given by the Ambassador. He referred to Mr. Cleveland's vigorous actions at all times when the honor of the country demanded decisive steps and when America's equal rights in the councils of the world were involved. "We echo the voice of our chosen chief when he makes known our demands," he said, "and we stand behind his policy. The organization of Americans in European capitals doubtless will mould public opinion to the advantage of our country."

Ambassador Eustis caused a mild sensation with his response to the toast "Our Guests." The stirring Americanism which he breathed in every sentence was all the more remarkable in contrast with the sentiments of Ambassador Bayard's speech.
