An Old Landmark About to Disappear. St. Mary's Academy, the oldest school for young ladies in this city, the alma mater of many of the ladies now adorning our best society, is about to be replaced by a fine new building which will face on Chapel street.

To aid in furnishing funds for its construction, as well as for an addition to the present Asylum, an entertainment will be given on the 27th instant. A varied programme will be presented, such as the playing of music as well as the admirers of grace and education. Fort Monroe Post Band will be present on the occasion, and will accompany the sweet young voices of St. Mary's Junior choir.

Several ladies and gentlemen, friends of the institution, will also lend their aid to add to the pleasure of the evening. Friends of St. Mary's, now is your time to co-operate with the sisters and to make these two institutions as flourishing as any on this broad continent.

Admission fifty cents. Tickets may be purchased at the Asylum, 114 Chapel street.

Valuable Property at Auction. By direction of N. Beaman, trustee, Byrd, Baldwin & Co. will sell at the old State Exchange, at 12 m. today, the following valuable property: All that certain lot of land, with improvements thereon, on the north-west corner of Union street and Loyall's lane, Norfolk, Va., fronting on said Union street seventeen feet, more or less, and extending back on Loyall's lane sixty feet, more or less.
