CHRISTMAS TREE NIGHT

Nearly Every Church in Town Had Some Kind of Celebration.

RAT-AND-MATCHES THEORY ABOUT A FIRE

Country Roads Are Just Awful—Horse Runs Away With a Young Wagon—Isle of Weight Young Man Overestimates the Strength of His Grip—Argument With a Knute.

Suffolk, Va., Dec. 28.—(Special).—This was a night of Christmas trees. Nearly every church here set its side to make the children happy.

The Main street M. E. church had its tree at 6 o'clock this afternoon. There were presents for every one of the infant class, many members of which made speeches and recited very prettily.

Mr. A. A. Riddick represented Santa Claus and handed out the gifts. The Presbyterian and Baptist churches also had their juvenile festivities to-night. There were pretty decorations, seasonal recitations and appropriate presents.

There was an entertainment to-night at Providence church, in the county. There were also orators.

Several members of the Suffolk churches went out and helped with the music.

MYSTERIOUS BLAZE

What might have been a very serious affair if allowed to develop, was today suffocated while yet in an embryo state. It was a mysterious fire, discovered at 5 o'clock this morning in a clothes closet in W. C. Harrell's residence on Sycamore street.

A dense smoke and smell of burning cloth informed the residents that something was wrong. The cause was soon located, and when the closet door was opened the flames, given new life by the rushing air, burst forth violently.

A timely application of water subdued them. An overcoat and several articles of ladies' apparel were burnt, and the building was slightly damaged. The loss is covered.

No one knows how the blaze started, as the closet had been unoccupied by any person for many hours. The only theory that Mr. Harrell can suggest is that of rats and mice.

HE NEVER SAW WISE

A gentleman who has just traveled twice the county roads between Suffolk and Smithfield, says the highways are worse than he ever saw them—in fact, he says they are almost impassable, and he had serious thoughts of abandoning the trip, and what is the worst part of it, he says the roads in Nausmond are worse than those in Isle of Wight.

A FIRE CRACKER CAUSED IT. There was a short but exciting runaway on the fair grounds to-day. A horse owned by Charlie Keeler, which was hitched to a beer wagon, got scared by W. D. Hoyt's store and ran with furious speed till it was stopped by a colored man near W. T. Lipscomb's store. The wagon was badly damaged. There was no driver in it when the horse started.

NOW HE IS SORRY

A young man in Isle of Wight county made a very reckless wager a day or two ago, while under the influence of egg-nog. He bet he had a hand grasp strong enough to prevent a seven-inch cannon from exploding. He took his hold, and some one touched the fuse. When the explosion came the hand suddenly opened and several fingers took flight.

CHARGED WITH DRAWING KNIFE

Marmaduke Jones and Joe Blackwell had some harsh words to-day and a row looked imminent. Now Jones is charged with drawing a knife on Blackwell. Mayor Brewer will settle it in the Police Court to-morrow.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Rose Mordecai, who had been the guest of Capt. M. M. Crubart's family, left to-night for Portsmouth. Mr. E. C. Dean, of Lawrenceville, was in Suffolk to-day visiting friends.

Miss Eleanor Brooks, of Baltimore, is visiting her brother, Mr. H. P. Brooks. Several Suffolk persons attended the tournament at Churchland to-day. Capt. F. E. Godwin, of Norfolk, was in Suffolk to-day.

There is to be no regular Christmas german in Suffolk this year. Some of the officers will take part in the Courtland ball to-morrow.

Mrs. M. J. Messer, lost on the street a feather box a few days ago. Read her special notice and get reward by returning it.

Kenneth B. McLeod is visiting friends on Eastern Shore. Sir John B. Colbart, who had been visiting Suffolk friends, left to-day for Memphis, Tenn.

Miss Bessie Cropper, who spent Christmas with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cropper, left to-day for Rocky Mount, N. C., to teach school.

lament in honor of his young friends

Mr. E. L. Folk's salesmen evidenced their regard by giving him a valuable present.

Mr. Borden Prentiss, of Washington, D. C., has been visiting his mother, Mrs. M. A. Prentiss.

Miss Ellen Orquhart left to-day for a visit to friends in Henderson, N. C.

Mrs. M. J. Kilby, of Churchland, has been visiting Suffolk relatives this week.

Traveling Auditor L. L. Joyner, of the Seaboard Air Line, is the guest of Mr. William E. Winstead.

Mr. D. J. Good and family have gone for a visit to their old home, in Burlington, N. C.

Miss Mary Casler, former organist of the Christian church, will leave to-morrow for Salamanca, N. Y.

Miss Lena Parker left to-day for Wilmington, Del., where she has taken a position as governess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jordan, of Norfolk, are guests of former Mayor and Mrs. John B. Plumer.

In the Christian church entertainment, "Kingdom of Mother Goose," to be given at the City Hall Theatre Friday night, about seventy-five persons will take part.

NEWPORT NEWS.

Charges Against Justice Jones—Gwynne's Case Dismissed. Newport News, Va., Dec. 28.—(Special).—County Officer Williams, by his attorney to-day moved the Warwick County Court to remove from office Justice Jones, of Bloodfield, charging him with gross misfeasance and malfeasance in office. This is the culmination of a feud between Justice Ford and Justice Williams, of long standing.

Justice Jones does Justice Ford's work and none of Jones', and his principal charge against Justice Jones is that he depulizes a special officer to serve papers instead of turning them over to a regular officer. The case is set for hearing at the January term.

In the case of Sam Gwynne, for impersonating an officer, the Warwick County Court sustained a demurrer and dismissed the case yesterday. The charge was most frivolous, and he was simply made the object of the spite of one Justice for another.

Warrants were issued to-day for saloon-keepers Jack Magee and B. F. Cane, and R. C. Burnett, for violating the Sunday liquor law.

Mamie Rogers, the proprietress of "Smithfield Cottage," was also arrested on the same charge.

Mrs. Virginia Nelms, wife of Mr. George T. Nelms, died very suddenly about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Gloucester Hotel, on West avenue.

She was suffering from a complication of diseases, and had been sick for some time, but has lately been better, and her death was a surprise. She died very suddenly, while talking to friends.

The funeral services were held at the Washington Avenue Methodist church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Barnard F. Lipscomb officiated. Mrs. Nelms has been residing at Newport News for the last seven years, and previous to that resided in Smithfield.

The Washington Avenue Methodist Sunday school will hold a grand rally next Sunday in honor of its anniversary.

Mr. J. W. Whitley, proprietor of the Gloucester, is somewhat better. He had a severe stroke of apoplexy Tuesday.

NEW DISPENSER OF PIE

Norman L. Scott Recognized as the Power Behind the Throne.

WILL CONTROL VIRGINIA PATRONAGE

Third Invasion of the Hungry—Factions as Wide Apart as Ever—Walker Stands up for His Friends—Bowden Interested in Candidates for Postmaster.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 28, 1897. Norman L. Scott, the new Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is the power behind the throne in regard to Virginia patronage. He is, so to speak, the Mark Hanna for Virginia, and bears the same relation to the old Dominion as does Mark Hanna to the United States. He arrived here today fresh from West Virginia and will assume his new position on January 1st next. Mr. Scott, it will be recalled while national Republican committee-men for West Virginia, had charge of the Virginia campaign. He it was who distributed the $17,000 corruption fund in Virginia in the endeavor to swing the old commonwealth from her Democratic moorings, and of course he failed, but that did not prevent him from keeping tabs on all the party workers and noting who were active and discreet in distributing the "paw." He has brought his little book along, and it will figure prominently when the grand division of the spoils is made here this week.

Mark Agnew, the chairman of the Republican State Committee, was looking about Washington for Mr. Scott yesterday, but he had not arrived. Agnew, who lives in Alexandria, only seven miles away, has a great advantage over his fellow members of the State Committee, and runs over to Washington almost daily to consult about the disposition of the State offices.

The third invasion of the Virginia office seekers will begin on Wednesday. Quarters have been engaged at the Ebbitt House for Mr. Edmund Waddill, of Richmond, and Colonel James D. Brady, of Petersburg. Ex-Congressman Bowden is due to arrive at the Hotel Johnson on Wednesday, and Congressman Walker and Yost are expected to arrive the same day. All the small fry politicians, who came here before the holidays, will be on hand again. It is doubtful if Mark Hanna, himself, will be here, as he has pressing business just now out in Ohio, but Mr. Scott, who knows his views, and is perhaps intimately acquainted with the details of the case, will not be so easily deceived. From all that can be learned here the two factions are as widely separated as ever, with little prospect of harmonious action. The chief bone of contention continues to be the marshaling of the western district and the position of United States District Attorney Walker.

Congressman Walker still maintains his outward support of S. B. Allen, but is said to be weakening in the face of the strong opposition that has developed among other State leaders. He is for Allen, but does not want to exhaust himself politically in landing him, and may agree to a compromise candidate. Congressman Yost is named in this connection, and in an event will endorse ex-Congressman Bowden, who is being backed by Congressman Yost. This diversity of interests among the only two Republican Congressmen from Virginia has weakened their commanding position at the pie counter and may result in Mr. Scott stepping in and naming some one not yet mentioned for office. Colonel D. F. Bailey, while nominally a candidate for United States District Attorney for the Western District, would not, it is said, be adverse to performing the duties and drawing the pay of United States Marshal, and his friends are quickly impressing that fact upon Mr. Agnew and Mr. Scott by letters, and when here some weeks ago upon other members of the committee.

Within the past two weeks W. C. Franklin's chances for appointment to the position of United States District Attorney for the Western District are said to have improved, and his friends here are quite sanguine he will land the rich plum. Colonel J. Hampton, of variegated politics, is still in the race, and as a horse of color in the human breed, he is expected to continue in the race until the end. J. L. Gleaves is also mentioned in this connection and has some strong backers.

Ex-Congressman Bowden is still standing by Kimberly for postmaster at Old Point, and will probably land the new future, Burroughs, having been named for postmaster at Portsmouth, is still in the lead, but the announcement in The Virginian that Burroughs was sure of the place has not deterred Larkin and the other candidates from putting in hard bids for the place. Nearly each mail adds to their papers on file, and they evidently intend to fight to the last.

Ex-Congressman Bowden's quiet but effective work for Capt. Nicholas as postmaster at Norfolk has also stirred up those who desire to serve Uncle Sam since The Virginian's publication, and Captain Nicholas will not have a walk over by any means.

It is considered almost certain that General Groner will not be appointed to a European Consulate. He has not, however, given up the fight, and daily letters, backing up his claims, are received at the White House. Still such positions are very desirable and the pressure for them is great and Virginia cuts but little figure in Republican politics, while New York and Illinois do.

These States have been liberally rewarded and will yet receive more, and the probabilities are that General Groner will have to content himself with a residence in Virginia and have ample time during the next four years to contemplate the ingratitude of politicians.

W. S. Clanton has been appointed custodian of the assay office at Charlotte, N. C.

Senator Pritchard is urging the President to appoint A. Lyman of Asheville, N. C., to a consular position. "Any old place will do"—and C. A. Cook, of Warrenton, N. C., as United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina.

The resignation of Secretary Gage and the President's refusal to accept it is regarded as stage play. The effect will be to further accentuate differences between silver Republican Senators and the President and show the latter's insincerity as a bimetalist.

Chairman Agnew and James D. Brady had an extended conference to-day with Mr. Scott in regard to the distribution of Virginia patronage. Mr. Scott will see the President in a day or so in the absence of Mr. Hanna and obtain his views on the subject of how the spoils shall be distributed.

CABINET MEETING.

Brief Session on Account of Small Attendance. Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—To-day's Cabinet meeting was unusually brief. Secretaries Gage and Elias being out of the city, and Secretary Alger III. only five members attended. The appeal to the American people for aid for the sufferers in Cuba was the principal topic of discussion. The President and all the members of the Cabinet are deeply interested in the relief project and have taken every means to effect the extension of relief through the State Department here and Consul General Lee at Havana. It is expected that the first response to the appeal will come from the large cities of the country, and the belief is expressed that they will be both prompt and generous. Several important matters of minor importance also were brought to the President's attention.

CANADA APPROVES.

Klondike Relief Measures Meet With Favor. Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—The Canadian Minister of the Interior, Mr. Sefton, and his secretary, Mr. Kenna, were waited upon at their hotel this morning by Assistant Secretary McKeljohn of the War Department, and welcomed in the name of Secretary Alger. They were then driven around the suburbs until noon, when Secretary Alger, who had arisen from his sick bed for the purpose, entertained his visitors at luncheon. It is learned that Mr. Sefton, in accepting Secretary Alger's invitation to accept of Washington for the purpose of consulting respecting Klondike relief measures, telegraphed that his government was heartily in favor of co-operating with the United States authorities in the effort to aid the miners in the Klondikes.
