From Washington.

WASHINGTON, January 27.—Thaddeus Hyatt, President of the Kansas Aid Committee, will, on the first of February, appear before the Committee, in relation to the disposition of the funds received by the Tribune for the relief of Kansas in the fall of 1859.

Old Brown's case, John, Jr., will not consent to come here, nor Sanborn, of Massachusetts, either.

The Superintendent of the El Paso and Fort Yuma Wagon Road, for the construction of which an appropriation was made in 1856, has been indicted by the grand jury of this district, upon a charge of fraud, forgery, &c.

MELLOY'S STATION, January 27.—The Overland Mail, with dates to the 6th inst., one day later, passed here this morning.

Overland Mail News. MELLOY'S STATION, January 27.—The Overland Mail, with dates to the 6th inst., one day later, passed here this morning.

Another Gold Mine in Georgia.—A new gold vein has been found in Merriweather County, Georgia, four miles east of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, on the lands of Mr. Allen Post.

SHOCKING SUICIDE OF A JEALOUS WOMAN.—A shocking suicide is reported in our latest English papers, as having occurred near Wolverhampton, England.

THE WAY THEY DISPOSE OF UNLAWFUL WEAPONS IN BALTIMORE.—The Baltimore Sun notices the mysterious disappearance of a German named John R. Rittius, who was a witness in regard to the outrages perpetrated at the Second Ward polls on the day of the late election.

THE STREETS AND SQUARES OF LONDON.—Every street in London is either finely macadamized or paved with square stone, and the streets and squares are so perfectly finished that no one can only think of them as formed in a mould.

A PRETTY QUARREL ABOUT FEDERAL SPOILS. Mr. Wendell, late public printer at Washington, has brought suit for damages against Bowman, of the Constitution, and the present incumbent.

REVOLVING MURDER UNDER PRETEXT OF FRIENDSHIP.—A party lately assembled at Warren, Ohio, among whom were A. Reeves and John Klingensmith, both of whom had formerly had a difficulty.

DISHONEST SERVANT GIRLS.—The servant girls in New York have so frequently, lately, proved dishonest, that a police sergeant encourages a Daguerreotype portrait gallery of all in the city, to be used like the famous "Rogues' Gallery," for detecting theft.

POPULARITY OF NAPOLEON IN HUNGARY.—The Breslau Gazette relates that in the session of the 19th December of the Hungarian Academy of Science, at Pesth, many prominent Hungarian nobles being present, loud and enthusiastic cheers were given for Napoleon III., who was hailed as the champion of European liberty.

A SCHILLER FESTIVAL AT SEA.—The St. Petersburg Gazette says that a Schiller Centennial Festival took place at Astrachan, on the Caspian Sea.

THE NEW JERSEY REVOLUTIONARY MONUMENT.—Two thousand dollars have been subscribed toward the erection of the New Jersey Monument to the Revolutionary heroes.

A CHURCH TO BE MADE OUT OF CANNON BALLS. A church is about to be erected by the Russian Government, near Inkermann, the funds for which are supplied by the sale of cannon balls, which have been picked up at Inkermann and Sebastopol.

A REVENGED SLAVE.—A slave girl has been arrested in Richmond on a charge of attempting to poison the infant child of Mrs. R. F. Luck, with blister salve, in revenge for the whole reprimand which she had received from that lady.

AN UNFORTUNATE ROBBERY.—An industrious old man in Newburyport, Mass., who had saved four hundred dollars from his earnings with a wheelbarrow, was recently robbed of the whole amount, which he had buried three or four feet deep in his cellar.

STEALING FOR A PURPOSE.—Peter Davis stole a turkey in Burlington, Wis., and was angry with the justice because he would not send him to jail for a longer time than thirty days for it—said he stole so as to get board for the winter.

GOODNESS OF HEART.—The heart is the spring and fountain of all natural and spiritual actions; it is the primum mobile, the great wheel that sets other wheels going; therefore, keep it with custody and caution, or else bid farewell to all true joy, peace and comfort.

MACAULAY'S HISTORY OF ENGLAND AND HIS OWN OPINION THEREOF.—A London correspondent says in a late letter:

Though when Lord Macaulay began his history he hoped to bring it down to the limits of living memory, he had long ago abandoned this hope. Latterly the almost rage he gave himself was down to the accession of the House of Hanover, and this he had hoped to accomplish in five, if not four more volumes. I do not think he would ever have so compressed his material. The reign of Queen Anne—with its stasms, poets and essayists—would have been ground too tempting to his well-stored memory, and his strong love of the writers of that age, for any sharp or narrow limitation.

ANOTHER PHRENOLOGICAL.—A new superstition has been started in Nottingham, England, by an old pensioner named Brown, who is both lame and blind. This self-styled prophet professes to have received from heaven instructions to form a "circle of twelve members," who were convened for the first time at his house on the 19th of July, last year, which day the whole members of the "Great Organization," as they term themselves, are commanded by the angel Gabriel to commemorate annually. It is the duty of the "circle" to propagate the revelations received from heaven, and received on a scroll by Gabriel through the crystal to Brown.

THE REVISED CODE, which has just gone into operation in Maryland, has put an end to lotteries and lottery ticket-selling in that State.

When friendship is warmest, be careful how you entertain it. Remember it is a cold shoulder.

Disappointment is the sorrowful child of the state hope. We all experience the birth.

Charles Starr, sr., one of the three original founders of the American Bible Society, died at Orange, N. J., last week.

Mrs. Mary Romaine committed suicide by poison a night or two since, in New York, on account of dissatisfaction with married life.

A member of the Church of England is said to have given $5,000 toward erecting the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon's new chapel in London.

A Massachusetts man, named Seaver, has been expelled from South Carolina on a charge of preaching abolition sermons to the slaves.

A sugar plantation was purchased in St. James's Parish, La., a few days ago, by Mr. Burnside, a dry goods merchant of New Orleans, for $500,000.

The Philadelphia Ledger says that passenger railroads have been so multiplied in that city that very few of them pay the cost of operating them.

The Washington Star says that in the south part of the eastern wards a club of youths has been organized under the title of "Black Snakes," for the worst purpose.

Wm. Mulligan, the shoulder-bitter, has been committed to the Tombs, in New York, in default of $1,000 bail, for attempting to shoot a police officer.

A pretty young lady, telegraph operator from an inland town, was in Utica, N. Y., recently, and saw a railroad train, track, depot, &c., for the first time in her life.

The New York Sunday Courier learns that all hope of the recovery of Mr. Burton, the comedian, has been abandoned, and that his death is almost momentarily expected.

The latest London papers say that Prince Albert is suffering from a "swelled body." It is not unnatural that the husband of Queen Victoria should be so afflicted.

Large cakes of silver are getting to be quite common in San Francisco. A lump about two feet in diameter may be seen in the show-window of a jewelry establishment there.

An Irishman, named John O'Day, drank a tumbler full of gin at Bloesburg, Penn., a few days ago, and died in a few minutes afterward.

Wm. H. Parsons, of Lawrence, Mass., committed suicide at Boston, a few days since. He was twenty-eight years of age, and formerly a Clerk of the Police Court.

A young fool about starting down to New Orleans, proposed to purchase a life preserver. "Oh, you'll not want it," suggested the clerk, "be'g of wind don't sink."

"Alas, and alack a day," is generally considered an expression of grief; a traveler in the East Indies says, however, that a less and a less a day "ain't bad to take."

One contented with what he has done stands but a small chance of becoming famous for what he will do. He has lain down to die—the grass is already growing over him.

The Newburyport, Mass., Railroad carried seven hundred and thirty cases of shoes, or about forty thousand pairs, from Haverhill to Boston, a day or two ago, consigned to one of the South Carolina disunionists.

Resolutions have been submitted in the Virginia Legislature, proposing the call of a convention of the slave-holding States, to recommend measures of self-defense and protection.

It is stated that there have been over $4,000,000 worth of scrip issued by the Post-office Department. One man, it is said, holds two millions of this scrip, purchased at 80 cents.

A gang of young men, organized as a band of thieves, and including members of some of the most respectable families in the city, has been discovered in New Haven, Connecticut.

Kan'kols, the gay Lothario in Chicago, who, after being shot by Williams for the great intimacy with his wife, ran away with her while her husband was in jail, has not turned up as yet, though, it is said, Mrs. W. has.
