in New York, at the last enumeration, 560 tenement houses, containing by actual count, 10,933 families, or about 65 persons in each. Of these human hives, 103 had 111 inmates each, 71 had 140 each, 29 had 187 each—according to the averages.
A YANKEE SPECULATION.—In June last a down-east Yankee purchased a lot of salmon, at a trifling price, and by a peculiar process he applied, kept the fish frozen until a few days since, when he sent the lot to New York, where the fish found a ready market at sixty cents per pound.
A SAVAGERY.—A Mrs. Good, in Rochester, N. Y., rolled a child, sick of fever, in blankets, and laid it by the stove, while she went to

A TRIO OF CURIOUS DWARFS.

Three curious specimens of stunted humanity are just now creating quite a furore, in Parisian drawing rooms, where they appear to be the object of private circles, though they have as yet given no public exhibition of their persons and talents. These Lilliputians leave Barnum's ex-protoge, Tom Thumb, quite in the background; and one of the "glorias" of America as having given birth to the smallest of men, is departed. The three dwarfs now in Paris are respectively of Italian, Austrian and Hungarian origin. Kiss Jozsef measures thirty inches in height, and is, like the "silly-boy" of the song, "only nineteen years old." Vanderloch is twenty-five, and claims thirty one inches, and Piccolo is of the same age, with the disadvantage of possessing three inches more than his Austrian rival.
None of them speak French, but they sing French songs with German words, which does almost as well. These little fellows are not in the least deformed, are full of gaiety and are capital actors.

A DISHONEST TRICK OF PAWBROKERS.

Some of the pawbrokers in New York have recently started a new game by which to victimize speculators in tickets for articles pledged.
They get accomplices to pledge galvanized watches worth about $5—the kind sold for "Peter Funk" auctioneers—for $35 or $40, as well appear on the ticket, but actually giving them but the trifling amount of $5 or $6. The ticket holders start in search of some one who will purchase the ticket, and sell them for more than the sum mentioned on the card. Purchasers of such tickets, knowing that pawbrokers seldom advance more than one-fourth of what the article pledged is worth, think they have made a good speculation, but, after getting possession of the article, and themselves victimized.

SINGULAR INVENTIONS.

There is a firm in Troy, N. Y., who make cards for rubbing down horses, and a smaller size for combing the hair of negroes. Strange as it may seem, these horse cards are found to be the best things out for smoothing the wool of alpacas, and are so shipped to the South in large quantities for that purpose. The firm is now filling an order for 20,000 to go to New Orleans. They are ornamented with a pictorial card, in his or her hand, preparing for the toilet.

PLAN TO EXTINGUISH A VOLCANO.

Some of the German journals announce seriously that a company of English capitalists have made an application to the King of Naples for a concession for the extinction of Vesuvius. The principal seat of the fire of that volcano is located several thousand feet below the level of the sea. By cutting a canal which would carry the water into the crater, the fire would be completely extinguished, and the operation, which would cost only two million of francs, would result to cultivation land of ten times that value.

THE AUTHOR OF "BULAH."

A writer in the New Orleans Delta thus describes a literary lady: Miss Augusta Evans is of a Georgia family, but a Mobilian. Her father was a merchant engaged in the cotton business, who died last year—a man universally respected for his public, business talents, and intelligence. Miss Evans is not more than three and twenty, if she be that. She has a fine and rather commanding figure, though not too tall; with an air of truly feminine grace.
Her brow is expansive, and her dark eyes expressive of genius and feeling. She is natural, unaffected, with a very warm-hearted smile, and social without absorbing conversation.
She does not betray the authoress, nor has a particle of the manner of "I wish-every-body-to-know-I-am-the-author-of-Bulah." Miss Evans is a transcendentalist, judging from her book. She has faith in the Carlyle theories of spiritual development, and in the soul working out its own destiny from love of virtue, independent of revelation. Those who know her best, say that the mental conflict through which Bulah and Dr. Hartwell passed is but the transcript of her own intellectual and moral experience. As a sculptor of character out of the hard marble of humanity, she is hardly surpassed.

TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE POISONED BY FLOUR.

A very curious incident is given in the Fond du Lac (Wis.) Press, of how a great number of people of the towns of Forest and Marshfield have been attacked with strange pains in the stomach and bowels, which was supposed to be a kind of epidemic, until it was discovered that the miller who does the custom-work for the neighborhood, under the impression that the grooves in his mill-stones were too deep, was in the practice of filling them up with a preparation of white lead, and when it wore or came out, of refilling as occasion required.
Some of the flour has been brought to Fond du Lac to be analyzed, and it has been found to contain a considerable quantity of lead.
There is no doubt among the people of that section that their sickness was caused by the use of this poisoned flour. No less than 150 to 200 persons have been affected by eating the flour. Rumors are that not one has yet died whose death could be distinctly traced to that cause, though many are very sick, and came near to death's door, who will probably recovert.

A REPORTER DISCONTINUES DIVINE SERVICE.

An amusing, though not very decorous, scene took place a few Sundays since, at the Church of Colton, a little village near Rugby, in Staffordshire, England. Mr. Horsfall, M. P., and the Rev. A. Benton, rector of the parish, have been at war for some time past, and the reporter having on former occasions spoken against his opponent from the pulpit, a shorthand writer was sent in to report the Rev. Gentleman's words. The clergyman soon caught sight of the pencil and paper, and protested against the reporter's presence, desiring the church warden to remove him. This the church warden had no power to do, and the reporter declined to go. The result was that the clergyman broke off the service, and remarking on the conduct of persons who "can neither enter into the kingdom of Heaven themselves nor allow other people to enter there," dismissed the congregation.

HOW HENRY CLAY OBTAINED A NICKNAME.

The Hon. Henry Clay was denominated the "Eight 'E's" by a coterie of wags in Washington, while that gentleman was a member of the Senate. He acquired this title thus: A gentleman sitting in the gallery of the Senate Chamber, during an interesting debate, wished to point out Mr. Clay to his friend, a foreigner, who sat beside him, without disturbing the House, and wrote upon a card thus: The gentleman to the left of the Speaker, in black colored coat with crimson collar, is Mr.
Clay, member of Congress from Kentucky.

HAZLETT CONVICTED.

The trial of Hazlett was concluded at Charleston on Friday evening. After an able defense by Mr. Green, the case was submitted to the jury, and the Court adjourned till Saturday, when the jury rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree. The prisoner received the announcement with the same indifference that has characterized his conduct throughout the trial.
Arrival of the Atina.
SANDY HOOK, February 12—9 P. M.—The screw steamer Atina, from Liverpool on the 28th ult., is off this point, with Liverpool papers of the same date as by the Canada, at Boston.

ILLNESS OF A SCULPTOR.

Paul Akers, the well-known American sculptor, is lying dangerously ill with hemorrhage of the lungs, at Lyons, in France. The object of his European tour was to visit Italy and execute an order from Mr. Belmont, of New York, for a marble statue of the late Commodore M. C. Perry; his father-in-law, to be placed in Central Park.

DESTROYED BY MATCHES.

A little girl aged about two years, daughter of Owen Walsh, of Easton, Penn., died the other day from having eaten the tops of two dry matches.

EXTRAORDINARY EVENT OF AN EARTHQUAKE ON AN AUSTRIAN WELL.

The Charleston Mercury says: The most significant phenomenon, if it can be attributed to the earthquake, occurred at the Artesian well. It is well known that the city has been tubing the well with ten and a half inch iron pipes. On the 31st day of last March this tubing had reached the depth of eight hundred and ten feet below the surface, and there it has since remained. The excavation or boring, six inches in diameter, had been previously carried such a depth of nine hundred and thirty feet. The utmost resources of the mechanics have been expended in endeavors to remove the obstruction and sink the tubing further, but all in vain. Platforms have been erected, and large amounts of iron and wood, weighing several tons, have repeatedly been placed upon it, but it would not and did not settle the breadth of a hair. On Thursday, during the afternoon, previous to the earthquake, the tubing commenced settling, very slowly at first, and then with great alacrity, the under-end, which had projected about four feet above the surface of the ground, disappeared, leaving the superincumbent weight, which had been resting upon it all day, upon the ground. After removing the rubbish, and sounding for the top of the tubing, it was found to have gone down a distance of thirty feet.

THRILLING ADVENTURE ON THE ICE.

On Monday last a party of gentlemen visited the bay for the purpose of seeing the Indians and others fish for trout. About two o'clock some of the party observed a singular motion of the ice. It appeared that at there was a strong current in the water, but an examination disclosed the fact that the ice upon which they were standing had parted between them and the shore, and that they were rapidly floating into Lake Huron. They at once put their horses in motion to find some point where they could get to the main land, but could find no such place. In the mean time they were going rapidly, the wind blowing a gale from the shore. Their situation was very dangerous, both as regards the danger of the breaking up of the ice upon which they were, and the severe cold; great excitement existed at Bay City among the inhabitants generally, and many plans for their relief were talked of and canvassed. They floated some fourteen miles, when one end of the ice fortunately ground on the Point Pelee. They made a rush for the shore after first getting off their horses and sleighs. The ice was much broken, and they had to travel some distance over separate cakes to reach the shore.—East Saginaw Cour.

A MUSEUM MAN'S CURIOUSITY.

A well-
dressed gentleman who attended the exhibition in New York of Stephens, the wifepoisoner, was detected shortly afterwards in an attempt to steal the culprit's boots. The guilty person excused the act by asserting that he was the possessor of a museum, and desired to add the boots to his list of curiosities.

EMBEZZLEMENT IN THE SOUTH.

A cashier
and book-keeper in a Charleston (S. C.) house has absconded, after having embezzled $2,000 to $4,000, which, it is alleged, he squandered on a woman who feigned an attachment with him, and to the author of the New Times and West Hill He did with it "The tale of Nor-

THREE PERSONS DESTROYED BY A DOG.

French newspaper, the Journal de Chartres, relates a terrible affair: A dog, through whose nose some unfeeling wretch had driven a long and sharp nail, became so furious from pain, that he attacked and bit almost every one with whom he came in contact. Of ten persons bitten, three are already dead, and some of the others are so fearfully injured that their recovery is not probable.

dressed gentleman who attended the exhibition in New York of Stephens, the wife-
to add the boots to his list of curiosities.

has absconded, after having embezzled $2,000
to $4,000, which, it is alleged, he squandered
on a woman who feigned an attachment with

OPENING LETTERS IN PARIS.

Americans in Paris are complaining that their letters are opened in the French postoffices. One gentleman found money for a million in a bill sent to his address—it was the inclosure from a London lady's played by mistake in his envelope by the officials.

A FASHIONABLE FAILING.

Judge Gould stated, one day last week in open court, in Troy, New York, that he had that morning received six applications for divorce, on the ground of adultery. One would think that the morals of the Third Judicial District were retrograding.

THE MAINE DECAPITATION.

It is stated that in addition to the $94,000 which the State of Maine has been defrauded by its late Treasurer, Elder Peck, the sum of $70,000 has been found to be owed by him outside of his liabilities to the State, besides what may not yet be matured.

YOUNG AMERICAN AMBIGUOUS.

Some young Americans in Liberty, Indiana, took it into their heads, a few days since, to give their school-teacher a ducking, because he had refused to treat them during the holidays, and had to pay five dollars apiece for their part of the fun.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, February 13.—There is reliable information from Vera Cruz that General De Galleo has been appointed Secretary of Foreign Affairs, to serve during the absence of Mr. Ocampo, who is expected to arrive here in the course of a week on a special mission from the Constitutional Government, and more especially to arrange such details of the McLean Treaty as were left to the Executive authorities of both Governments, including the designation of prices through which merchandise from the United States may either pass free or at such rates of duty as our own Congress may impose, and also to arrange the means by which the boundary of the Rio Grande shall be better protected, and persons guilty of crimes committed on either side punished.

THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, decided last week to report on the treaty, but the bill was referred, in order to obtain the opinion of Republican Senators, some of whose views are necessary for its ratification. Nearly all the Democratic Senators are already in favor of it
