PRESEKILL, N. Y., July 17, 1875. P. H. Bristol, Esq., Des Moines, Iowa: Dear Sir,--In reply to yours of the 12th, Mr. Beecher desires me to say that there seems to be a general misapprehension about his going West this fall. Mr. Beecher can not travel or lecture in September on account of the "hay cold."

Early in August he is compelled every year to leave home and go to the White Mountains, where he is obliged to remain till the last week of September, and there escapes his enemy. Arrangements were partially made last fall for Mr. Beecher to lecture in some part of the West under the direction of a lecture bureau, but as you are aware, all such plans were broken up by the trial, which for six months kept him in daily in Court-room. It is quite uncertain if Mr. Beecher will lecture at all this season at any great distance from his home duties. If he does, the places will be left entirely to the direction of the bureau and relieve him from that care.

It will, therefore, be wise for you to secure his services through some such medium in case he is able to go west at all. Thanks for your kindness and congratulations. A unanimous verdict would have been gratifying and only small justice in view of the most vile and wicked slanders against the purest, clearest-hearted man that the sun shines on, and after the tortures of months in that Court-room, and but nine against three, and that three being such as they were, together with the disclosures of the perjury of the Leader and Price wretches, is considered here equal to what the full vindication would have been had the jury given their verdict without either the Leader or Price. I have no fears but that, even in this life, my husband will stand acquitted before all men, save such characters as those who have plotted against him, and even they know that he is guiltless.

Yours respectfully, Mrs. H. W. BEECHER.

Mint Matters--Fisher Steps Down, and so Will Avery.

WASHINGTON, July 26.--The Director of the Mint, now on the Pacific coast, is busily engaged in preparing the Mints at San Francisco and Carson for a large coinage of subsidiary silver coin.

In a letter from Carson, Nevada, dated the 16th, he says the hydraulic press and other machinery sent out here last year has been placed in position, and will more than double the coinage capacity of the mint.

It is estimated that, with the necessary coinage of gold, there can be coined in half dollars and dimes four hundred thousand dollars per month.

Judge Fisher today formally tendered his resignation as District Attorney for the District of Columbia. Governor Wells has been notified and will at once come on and qualify, when Fisher will be relieved.

The Secretary of the Treasury, to-day, was officially informed of the indictment of Chief Clerk Avery, and will relieve him from duty to-morrow. The Secretary has not yet designated his successor.

Death Rate--European Mail Advice--Drowned while Attempting to Desert--Fatal Affray.

NEW YORK, July 26.--The city death rate last week was 45 per 10,000 per annum. This is a considerable increase over the preceding week. This great mortality is due to deaths of little children, who are dying at the rate of about 100 per day.

MAIL DATES FROM THE CONTINENT give the following:

PARIS, July 10.--Violent thunder-storms have this week occurred in several parts of our territory, causing in their passage considerable damage, and the down-pour of rain has been so excessive in some districts that further serious inundations are apprehended. Harvest operations, which were in active progress in the South, have been suspended, consequent upon the continued inclemency of the weather.

In Dauphny and Lower Burgundy harvesting is equally prostrated. In the central departments great hesitation is shown to commence the harvest work, it being deferred from day to day in expectation that the sun will reappear, but all in vain. Rust is doing much damage, and the number of blackened ears is very great. Half of the grain fields are beaten down. In our immediate districts, although not so seriously affected, the present humid atmosphere could not be much further prolonged without great damage. Rust is even now making perceptible progress, and quantities of ears are immature. Harvest operations can not be undertaken for another week, and the intermittent rains have been very pernicious to the healthy formation of grain and the quality must prove defective.

In Normandy the prospects of good crops entertained a few weeks ago have now vanished, and in some localities only a medium yield is expected.

A very large extent of land has been subjected to the disastrous effects of hail. In the Eastern Provinces the prospects are almost equally unencouraging, but few instances excepted.

HAVRE, July 11.--The weather is still very unsettled throughout the country, and fears are entertained respecting the wheat crop. Should rain continue a few days more considerable damage would ensue. All our markets are tending upwards for both wheat and flour.

HAMBURG, GERMANY, July 10.--Owing to the scant supplies and animating reports from other markets, the prices of wheat have advanced about 15 per cent. The prospects for the new crop in general are not considered so favorable as last year, and as stocks of all wheat are much reduced, there is reason for expecting a further gradual advance of prices. The growing cereals have been much damaged by hail storms and inundations, in consequence of which some districts will have only partial crops.

Three railors, belonging to the United States steam sloop-of-war Powhatan, now lying in the harbor, were drowned while attempting to desert by swimming ashore a few days ago. Two bodies have been recovered.

During a quarrel over cards last night in a saloon corner of Marion and Prince streets, Mark Turkey stabbed Thomas Lotlis in four places. One of the wounds was in the abdomen and will likely prove fatal. Turkey was arrested.

Robert Dale Owen--Mrs. Beecher Explains her Husband's Lecture Engagements, and Gives her Opinion of his Innocence.

CHICAGO, July 26.--The Superintendent of the Indiana State Hospital for the Insane writes to the Tribune, of this city, as follows:

Referring to an article in the Tribune in which, inferentially, the insanity of the Hon. Robert Dale Owen, now in my care, is connected with the celebrated Katie King imposture, I beg leave to state, for the benefit of many persons interested, that Mr. Owen's present condition is clearly attributable to other and sufficient predisposing and exciting causes than Spiritualism in any of its phases, theoretical or experimental. The whole subject of spiritualism seems indeed to have been discussed out of Mr.

Owen's thought. His delirium and other aberrations presented none of the characteristics which might be anticipated were his insanity the result of his speculations, investigations or humiliations connected with that subject.

The Dea Moltes (Iowa) Lecture Committee desiring information in regard to Henry Ward Beecher's lecture engagements, wrote to that distinguished individual, and received the following reply from his wife:

PRESEKILL, N. Y., July 17, 1875. P. H. Bristol, Esq., Des Moines, Iowa: Dear Sir,--In reply to yours of the 12th, Mr. Beecher desires me to say that there seems to be a general misapprehension about his going West this fall. PONT JERVIS, N. Y., July 26.--Loss to Erie Railroad Company by explosion of locomotive west of here Friday evening is estimated at $20,000. The track is torn up a long distance, and the rails bent. The locomotive had just been repaired.

Opening Grain Transportation.

NEW YORK, July 26.--Members of the Committee on Grain of the Produce Exchange state that they have agreed with railroad representatives upon the basis of a system for grading grain, and are now waiting for the approval of the different railroad officials.

The new system will cheapen the handling of grain very much, especially in the shipment of small lots. The extra expense incurred by shippers for litterage on small lots will be avoided, and it is expected that it will materially increase the receipts of grain here. The new system will be similar to that already adopted in Chicago and other cities.

The Holcomb Inquest.

The following additional testimony was taken after our going to press with the first addition. The previous testimony will be found in another column. Edward Spencer, a fireman of Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, testified as follows:

Holcomb and I were in the fourth story of the building, when he remarked to me that he wished he had an ax or hook to cut a hole in a partition near by. I started to go, when he said, "Never mind going down."

Just about that time a part of the roof fell in, and I told Dick, when he replied: "Yes, all will go." Soon after I heard a crash, and Dick shouted: "There it is, come now!" and the roof seemed to shoot to the center, and Dick went down between the wall and floor, feet foremost, with his hands raised above his head. I fell on the rubbish. By standing in the window I passed through the wall and thus only sustained very slight injuries. James P. Booth, a job printer in the employ of Bloch Co., testified that the building was insecure; that the floors were all sunk in near the center, and that the foundations for the columns which held up the printing presses consisted each of one flag stone laid on the ground. The stones were about 2 feet square and 8 inches thick. The columns were 12 inches square.

John F. Dunn also testified to the insecurity of the building.

P. F. Lapham, a printer, foreman for Bloch & Co., testified as follows: I have worked in the building about six years. I considered the building insecure. I could stand in the center of the floor and shake them up and down. When Mr. Donaldson put his presses in, all the employees said that they would leave, unless the presses were properly supported, which was done subsequently.

There were several large cracks in the north, south and east walls when we moved into the building. They were fixed afterward. Mr. Troupness was up there one day, and he advised us all to get our lives insured.

At this point the inquest was adjourned until next Wednesday morning, when the testimony will be continued.

There was no evidence produced against her in Court this morning, and her father was sentenced to pay the costs.

The First Umbrella in London.

An old English record states that as early as the middle of the eighteenth century some enterprising genius introduced umbrellas at Oxford and Cambridge, letting them out, like sedan-chairs to the students at so much per hour, thus enabling poor young men to pass from building to building to their lectures without being drenched by rain. But people no more thought of taking an umbrella about the streets of a town or city, than of taking a bed to sleep in, or a stove to warm themselves by, as they went about their regular business.
