

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

E. E. J. MILES... Manager. Six Nights and Saturday Matinee. The accomplished and Popular Irish Comedian, MR. JOS. MURPHY.

WOOD'S THEATER.

"There's Millions in It." Every Evening during the week, MR. JOHN T. HAYMOND, in his great role of COL. MULBERRY SELLERS.

FOR SALE.

Flour - Families or groceries in want of good flour - warranted to give satisfaction - can be supplied by going to the WEST-END MILLS.

FOR SALE-REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE - FARM - Good farm of 97 1/2 acres, situated 1 1/2 miles from the railroad, in Clermont County; 4 1/2 acres in corn, 3 acres in potatoes, 20 acres in meadow, balance in pasture and small crop.

FOR RENT-ROOMS.

FOR RENT-ROOMS - Five rooms at 408 Broadway to rent. Call at 402 Main street.

FOR RENT-ROOMS - Furnished rooms.

FOR RENT-ROOMS - Furnished rooms, and meal tickets for sale; 21 meals, $3.00; lodging 2 and 50c; meals at all hours. 194 W. Sixth street.

WANTED-SITUATIONS.

WANTED-A SITUATION-To do general house work in the country. Good references given. Address ELLEN MOORE, this office.

WANTED-SITUATION-By a good girl.

WANTED-SITUATION-By a young man, can furnish best of reference from last place. Address WM. F. DOOLEY, Covington, Ky.

WANTED-SITUATION-By a person of several years' experience in dry goods.

WANTED-SITUATION-By a young man, can furnish best of reference from last place. Address WM. F. DOOLEY, Covington, Ky.

WANTED-MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED-BUY YOUR HATS OF MARTIN, at 43 W. Fifth st. 1215-14

WANTED-TO EXCHANGE-A pair of No. 7 Shirley skates, nearly new, for an opera glass. Address SKATES, this office.

WANTED-Cash paid for diamonds, watches, old gold and silver.

WANTED-TO SELL-Five or ten shares in a Building Association; money ready to be paid. Address, GEO. C. MONTGOMERY, 23 W. Third st.

WANTED-HORSES TO BOARD - For the winter in the country, Terms cheap.

WANTED-THIEVES-To try Mrs. Griswold's abdominal long and nursing corset. They are without a rival. Order promptly filled by her agent, MRS. A. C. MUNSON, 506 Hopkins street, west of Freeman street.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT-HOUSE-On Walnut Hill. Apply 214 Main street.

FOR RENT-COTTAGE-377 Cutter street, three good rooms, yard, &c.; rent cheap. Inquire at 45 East Third street.

FOR RENT-COTTAGE-A brick gothic cottage, near dummy station and the church, Mt. Lookout. Inquire at 161 Elm st. at P. M.

FOR RENT-FURNISHED HOUSE - A house of seven rooms, well furnished throughout, gas, water, &c., centrally located. Address N. C. this office.

FOR RENT-HOUSE-A two story brick of six rooms, kitchen and large lot, &c.; a stable, three stalls, wagon room, &c., on Delhi Pike, city. Call or address D. P. ALLEN, Twenty-first Ward, city.

FOR RENT-HOUSE - Of eight rooms, in complete order; modern improvements; 455 West Third street. Apply to Mr. COX, Hartwell, Ohio.

FOR RENT-HOTEL-The Broadway Hotel - This house is situated on the corner of Second and Broadway, convenient to the railroad and steamboats, and was for a long time the most popular hotel in Cincinnati. In the hands of a five man it could be made to pay handsomely. Will rent it furnished at a price to suit the times. For full information call at the hotel.

FOR SALE OR RENT-MILL-The Brighton Flour and Feed Mill, situated on Central av. and Duquesne st., and lately newly furnished with modern improvements; steam engine, boilers, grinding-stones, and everything pertaining to the business, and is for immediate possession; positively in the best running order. Inquire at GEO. M. HERAN-COURT'S Brewery, Harrison av., Fairmount.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE-DESK-Woolen patent, cheap. Inquire at 78 West Eighth street.

FOR SALE-HOUSE-With good run of custom. Inquire at No. 549 1/2 Central Avenue.

FOR SALE-SEWING MACHINE-A NEW No. 5 Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine. Inquire at this office.

FOR SALE-SALOON, &c.-An elegant beer saloon and boarding-house, centrally located; a rare bargain. Apply at 410 Race st. to a large business. Good reasons for selling out; 5 years' lease; easy terms.

FOR SALE-HOUSE-Dark bay horse, 7 years old, about 15 1/2 hands high; works both single and double; warranted sound in every particular. Inquire at Nos. 63 and 65 E. Third street.

FOR SALE-DRUG STORE-On account of the death of the proprietor, a first-class stock of drugs, all new and clean; will include about 15,000 inhabitants; for business in a town of 1,500 inhabitants; will be sold on reasonable terms. Apply upon by person or letter to F. W. MILLER, Adm'r, Fortland, &c.

PREFERRED SPECIALS.

Dyeing and Scouring at Walker's, 61 E. 3d.

TAHNS AVENUE BAZAR.

Side pleating made to order; double footing ruffling 65c. 325 Central avenue, opposite Ninth street. no15-20t

ENGRAVINGS, PHOTOGRAPHS, CRAYON DRAWINGS, WORKED MOTTOS, SPATTER PICTURES, &c., framed in the latest styles.

J. SMITH & Co., Picture and Art Store, 151 West Fifth Street. 6c5-10t

SENT TO G. P. ROWELL & CO., NEW YORK, FOR PAMPHLET OF 100 PAGES, CONTAINING LISTS OF 5,000 NEWSPAPERS, AND ESTIMATES SHOWING COST OF ADVERTISING.

6c5-10t

Third Edition

The next twenty-four hours, fair weather and rising temperature.

THE PRESIDENCY

Returning Board of Louisiana Expected to Report To-day.

South Carolina Affairs Growing More Complicated.

Florida Still Holds a Good Hand in the General Middle.

Louisiana. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—It is now announced, though not officially, that the official canvass, as made up by the Board, is as follows: Packard, 3,200 majority; the highest Hayes Elector 1,700, and the lowest 400. This result is reached by throwing out eight parishes where there were intimidation, and three voting places in this city where frauds were perpetrated.

[From Rehnold's dispatch to Commercial.] Judge Trumbull and Senator Stevenson, of Kentucky, are of opinion that the Board under law have no authority to canvass the vote for President.

Ex-Governor Wickliffe, a Tilden Elector for the State, and who to-day was made chairman of the meeting of the Board have certainly counted out the whole Democratic ticket by near 1,800 majority.

I think plans are being formed for a first-class contest over the Electoral Board after the Board is through with it. Hayes Electors are also here awaiting their certificates.

Midnight-It is reported that the Capitol building is being guarded by Federal troops to-night, but when there this afternoon I saw no troops. It is also reported that there is a secret entrance to the room of the Board, and that leading Republicans are in there in consultation. The Board is still in session, and probably will be most of the night.

[From New Orleans special to Enquirer.] The Returning Board has been in secret session all day and until 12 o'clock to-night in the rooms in the rear of the Senate Chamber. From that which is gathered outside it is presumed that at least thirty-five parishes had been settled upon, and when the session closed all but one or two parishes had been gone over. Although their report will not be made public before to-morrow, it is understood in Republican circles that all of the eight Hayes Electors will be counted by minorities ranging from 200 or 400 to 1,900, and Republican candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor by from 1,800 to 1,900 majority. The discrepancy in the majorities for Electors is accounted for by an omission from tickets of from three to five Electors in some of the parishes. It is said the Board decided to count one of the Democratic candidates for Legislature in the Third Ward, another in the Fourth, and one in the Seventh Ward, in order to increase or make sure of a Republican majority in the General Assembly, and it is also said they will return, as elected, but one Democratic Congressman.

South Carolina. National Associated Press to the Star. COLUMBIA, S. C. Dec. 4.—Midnight- The Democrat House continued in caucus all this afternoon. What action was taken is unknown. The Republican members of the Senate held a caucus previous to the regular hour of meeting of that body, which was not harmonious, and lasted until 1 o'clock P. M. when the Senate met. The session was unimportant until just before 2 o'clock P. M., when it was moved that the Senate adjourn. The motion was carried by a vote of 10 yeas to 14 nays. This action is regarded as important, as 2 o'clock to-day was the hour set for meeting the vote for Governor, and as the Senate adjourned without considering the question, or postponing it to some future day, it is virtually disposed of in that way, and must originate in the House to come up again. The question is now whether the Senate will recognize the Mackey House with a membership of fifty-six, only holding certificates of the Board of State Canvassers, while sixty-three is necessary to a quorum. The Democrats have sixty, requiring only three to make a quorum. The city tonight is full of people, and others are arriving.

The Supreme Court heard an argument during the entire day, on application for a mandamus requiring the Secretary of State to deliver the returns for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor to Speaker Wallace, and adjourned at 7:30 P. M. until to-morrow at 11 A. M. As this question involves the other question as to which is the legal House of Representatives, the action of the Court is looked forward to with great interest.

Florida. National Associated Press to the Star. TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 5.—Yesterday was consumed principally with the presentation of the general argument of the Democrats. This was prepared by the Democratic lawyers who are here, and was presented by Colonel George W. Biddle, of Philadelphia. It is an elaborate document, laying down certain general and well settled principles of law, and then discussing the contested counties under one or the other of these principles. It closes by asking, first, that the Board simply figure up the face of the returns, on which it claims 129 majority for Tilden; or, if it sees fit to go behind the face of the returns, that it throw out certain counties and precincts, which will leave a majority of 1,297 for the Tilden Electors.

The Republicans offered no general argument, but spent the day in offering new affidavits and testimony.

The decision of the Board is confidently looked for to-day.

It is not possible to make a reasonable guess as to what it will be.

Humphries, Republican candidate for Elector, who was reported to be ineligible to an Electorship, as he was a shipping master at Pensacola, came before the Board and swore that he resigned in October, and that his resignation was accepted a week before the election.

Oregon. National Associated Press to the Star. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The official vote of Oregon was canvassed yesterday, giving 1,005 Republican majority. A protest was presented by Senator Kelly and eight others against issuing a certificate to Walls, and in favor of granting it to the next highest on the list. It was taken under consideration by the Governor, who will hear the argument in the Supreme Court to-morrow. The Republicans will not argue before the Governor, as they say the statute says that the Secretary of State shall canvass the votes in the presence of the Governor, and issue certificates to the persons having the highest number of votes. The Governor will give his decision on Wednesday at noon.

NEWS FROM THE METROPOLIS

Wrestling. National Associated Press to the Star. NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The wrestling match for the championship of America and $1,000, between McLaughlin and Murphy, has been postponed from tonight until Thursday. The contest is creating unusual interest. The betting is $50 to $40 in favor of McLaughlin.

Political. The Post's Washington special says that it is now definitely known that there will be no change in the position of President pro tem of the Senate until a few days before the end of the session.

The Graphic's special says that Mr. Hewitt's visit to the White House is a matter much commented upon. He still declines to give any details of his interview with the President. It is believed that his visit was due to a special invitation from the President.

Fire and Death. National Associated Press to the Star. COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5.—At Shawnee about 3:30 this morning a fire was discovered in the saloon kept by Thomas Hughes, of that place. A drunken man by the name of Samuel Lyons, who was in the saloon when the fire was discovered, was burned to death. A Mr. Patterson broke open the door and tried to rescue him, but could not do so, as the building inside was in a blaze.

The goods, grocery and provision store of Fred. Krumm also caught fire, and was entirely consumed, the greater part of the stock being saved.

Mr. Krumm's building was insured for $2,000, and the stock for $3,500. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective flue.

FOREIGN.

National Associated Press to the Star. OUR DISTINGUISHED (?) VISITORS TO ENGLAND. LONDON, Dec. 5.—It is learned that Miss Baile, the mistress of the forger Gray, became informed of the fact that the extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain had been rearranged, and warned Winslow of the fact. Gray and Winslow could not be found. They have successfully eluded arrest, and covered up their tracks.

The detectives searching for them are completely baffled.

The surrender to the United States of Brent, the Louisville forger, is considered certain.

LATER. LONDON, Dec. 5.—Brent was arrested in the uniform of the Lanciers, in which regiment he had enlisted. He was examined yesterday in the Broad-street Police Court.

It is reported that warrants have been issued for the arrest of Winslow and Gray, but the officials are reticent and no positive information can be obtained.

An official dispatch from Buenos Ayres says the insurrection in Entre Rios will be terminated quickly.

The Civil War in Mexico. National Associated Press to the Star. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5.—A Brownsville special says it is reported that the battle between Generals Canales and Martinez that it was a hard fought struggle, eight hundred having been left dead on the field. The "Lerdostes" lost two thousand and their army was almost entirely destroyed. General Canales lost one of his best officers, the General Laparra; he was killed in the last decisive charge. Gen. Cortina sent a communication to "Ronel Ta," early on Friday morning demanding his surrender within twenty-four hours. He sent again, to-day, because yesterday was the last day of Lerdo's Presidential term. Iglesias, who claims to be President, is still in Guanajuato with his lately formed cabinet. On Friday Gen. Cortina issued two proclamations— one addressed to the Defenders of Matamoros, and the other to his own command. In the first he says he has waited patiently for a day to come when there would no longer be a pretext for the followers of Lerdo to sustain him.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5.—A Rio Grande dispatch says General Diaz has occupied the City of Mexico, and that Lerdo and his Ministers have fled westward.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

A Synopsis of the Document Sent to Congress To-day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—The President's Message was read in Congress to-day. The following is a synopsis:

The President says: In submitting my last Annual Message it seems proper that I should refer to, and, in some degree, recapitulate the events of the past eight years.

It was my fortune, or misfortune, to be called to the office of Chief Executive without any previous political training. From the age of seventeen I had never witnessed the excitement attending a Presidential campaign but twice antecedent to my own candidacy, and at one of them was ineligible to a vote.

Under such circumstances, it is but reasonable that errors of judgment must have occurred. Mistakes have been made, as all can see.

I admit that it seems to be often in the selection of assistants appointed to aid in carrying out the duties of administration, that the Government, in nearly every case selected without personal acquaintance with the applicant, but upon the recommendation of Representatives chosen by votes cast by the people.

He says no administration has been free from these mistakes, but he leaves comparison to history, claiming that he has acted in every particular of the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

He refers briefly to the early part of his administration, following the late civil conflict to the assassination of Lincoln, and the wranglings previous to the inauguration between Grant and the Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction.

He recapitulates the work of reconstructing the late slave States, the reduction of the public debt, the increase in trade, the peace and right within the law, and for the best interests of the whole people. These failures have been errors of judgment, and not of will.

to vindicate his previous action in regard to it. In conclusion, he says, with the present Congress my official life terminates. It is not probable that public affairs will ever again receive attention from me, further than as a citizen of the Republic, always taking a deep interest in the honor, integrity and prosperity of the whole land.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT. EXECUTIVE MANSION, December 5, 1876.

Secretary of Treasury's Report.

This report shows the following receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876.

RECEIPTS. The moneys received and covered into the Treasury by warrants during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876, were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes From customs, From internal revenue, From sales of public lands, etc.

Total ordinary receipts, 283,758,493 86. Premium on sales of coin, 3,723,845 87.

Total net receipts, exclusive of proceeds of bonds of 1851, Geneva award, 294,091,955 28.

Balance in Treasury June 30, 1875, including deposits of coin and United States notes represented by certificates outstanding, 144,702,416 41.

Total available cash, 438,794,371 69.

EXPENDITURES. The net expenditures by warrants during the same period were:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes For civil expenses, For foreign intercourse, For Indians, etc.

Total net disbursements, 216,940,549 39. Balance in Treasury June 30, 1876, 121,853,733 30.

Total, 438,794,371 69.

This statement shows that the net revenues for the fiscal year were $27,857,820 00. And that the net expenditures were $288,456,797 33.

Leaving a surplus revenue, exclusive of provision for sinking fund, of $29,337,022 67.

LATEST LOCAL.

The Committee on Railroads meet this afternoon.

The night men of the police force will be addressed this afternoon by Judge Lindemann.

The old lumber yard, which has occupied the corner of Clinton and Lian streets, from time immemorial, has at last been removed.

TONY ADER, a young man who keeps a provision stand in Court-street Market-house, was severely bitten in the hand by a dog during market hours.

A PACKAGE of curled human hair, which Detectives Amphauter and Keshman picked up from the pavement on Fourth street, yesterday, can be seen and identified by the loser at the office of the Chief of Police.

MR. CHAS. J. HASKETTINE'S collection of works of art from Haseltine's gallery, Philadelphia, will be viewed by a large number of our leading citizens at Wisconsin Hall, 68 and 70 West Fourth street, Thursday evening.

LEOPOLD FAIS, a German saloon keeper at the corner of Richmond and Baymiller streets, was arrested this morning by Officer Augenfelter, and lodged in the Central Station, on a warrant charging him with abusing his family.

In the contested election case of Kieborst against Bernard, the cross-examination of Hill was resumed. But little testimony was taken, and the case at noon adjourned until this afternoon, when it is thought the testimony will be concluded.

ON Christmas evening, December 25, the first masquerade ball will be given at the Bellevue House. The management will spare no expense or effort to make this the success of the season. The Inclined Plane cars will run all night. Music by Currier's Orchestra. Tickets now on sale at J. B. Hawley's, No. 164 Vine street.

Marriage Record.

Amanda Jones, 25 yrs., Hamilton Co., O. Maria Hayspohl, 28 years, city. Thos. Bremer, 41 years, Germany. Maggie King, 23 years, Ireland. Louise Muller, 18 years, Germany. Lucinda Quading, 24 years, England.

Police Court.

Miscellaneous-Geo. Sweeney, maiming, continued to Dec. 16; Henry Christopher, personal violence to an officer, $50; Michael Molloy, abusing family, $50; Wm. Farrell, same, 30 days; Hiram Green, same, 30.

Assault and Battery-Martin O'Brien, continued to Dec. 9; John Grogan, continued to Dec. 7; A. W. Scott, $50.

</