A SOUTH CAROLINA OUTLAW.—Redmond, the leader of the South Carolina "moonshiners" who are defying the United States revenue officers, to which allusion has been made in our telegraphic dispatches, is a native of Transylvania County, North Carolina, and is said to have a slight infusion of Indian blood in his veins. He is six feet tall, stoutly built, very strong and active as a cat. About two years ago he was arrested by a Deputy United States Marshal. While on his way to jail Redmond drew a pistol, which he had concealed in his boot, and shot the officer dead. About a year ago he was arrested by Deputy Marshals Barton, Gary and Hendricks, but escaped from them, took a position in ambush in the roadside and fired into the party, wounding Gary and Hendricks, the latter desperately. Afterward he went to Barton's house for the avowed purpose of killing him. Barton was away from home, and the outlaw, in searching the house, found a check for $100. He placed Mrs. Barton on a bare-backed horse, and forced her to go to Easley Station with him, cash the check and give him the money. He then coolly selected Mr. Barton's best horse and rode away to the mountains.

Theatrical Manager Dead. National Associated Press to the Star. New York, March 28.—Henry A. Elliott, the well-known theatrical manager of this city, was found dead in his bed yesterday. He had been suffering very much from neuralgia, and death was probably caused by an overdose of morphia, he having been using the drug to alleviate his pain.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tilton. National Associated Press to the Star. New York, March 28.—Rumors are again current of the probable reconciliation between Theodore Tilton and his wife. The Times this morning publishes the statement of prominent members of the Plymouth Church, who say that Tilton has tried to effect a reconciliation with his wife, and that, as the result of a recent interview, they will soon be reunited as man and wife and go to Europe together.

Swung into Eternity. National Associated Press to the Star. MAUCH CHUNK, PENN., March 28.—Thos. H. Fisher, the notorious Molly Maguire and murderer of Morgan Powell, was led to the gallows a few minutes before 11 o'clock today. When asked whether he had any thing to say, he drew a paper from his pocket, containing a statement that he was innocent of the crime and that he forgave every one who injured him. At three minutes before 11 the trap-door went down, and in ten minutes Fisher was dead.

Briefly Told. National Associated Press to the Star. ROME, March 28.—A consistory was held at the Vatican to-day. The Pope delivered an allocution, and then nominated the Scotch Episcopate as follows: Right Rev. John Strain, D.D., Metropolitan Archbishop of St. Andrew's at Edinburgh; Charles Eyre, Archbishop of Glasgow; Macdonald, Bishop of Aberdeen; MacLachlan, Bishop of Galloway; and Macdonald, Bishop of Argyre.

Baltimore, Md., March 28.—Mrs. Tyler, widow of John Tyler, who became President of the United States in 1840, was confirmed by Archbishop Gibbons at the convent of the Visitation, Georgetown, D. C., Tuesday last.

New York, March 28.—The United States ship Constellation, with about six hundred tons of goods for the Paris Exposition, sailed from the Navy-yard yesterday, and expects to reach Havre April 20th.

WASHINGTON.

DEAN VS. FIELD. The proceedings in the case of Dean vs. Field have attracted more than ordinary interest. Mr. Chandler, a Georgia Democrat, and some others, have spoken for the Republicans, and Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, made a strong argument in favor of Dean, the Democratic contestant. Mr. Hale made one of his mean speeches for Field. The vote was very exciting on the resolution declaring Field elected to the seat; the yeas were 120 and the nays 120, including the Speaker's vote. There were twenty-five pairs. Three votes only were thus unaccounted for. One was Field's, another was the vacancy from Louisiana, and the third is Freeman, a Republican, who is sick in Pennsylvania, and is to be brought on here to vote, if able to move, in favor of Field. No Democrats voted for Field, but the merits of the case seem to be with Dean.

THE SINKING FUND. Some surprise is felt at the vote of Mr. Morrison, of Illinois, against the proposition offered by Mr. Goode, of Virginia, to suspend payment of the Sinking Fund for five years. It is shown by the reports of the Treasury Department that the payments to this fund are already $225,000,000 in excess of what the law requires. If these suspensions be made the law and any pretended obligation to the bondholder are fully complied with. Taxes could then be reduced over $30,000,000, thus relieving all the industries of the country. How any Western or Southern Democrat could vote against this measure of relief to the taxpayer is hard to see.

SCHURZ'S TIMBER AGENTS. Information has been received here from reliable sources indicating the belief that in addition to the other and well-known infamies of Secretary Schurz's timber agents in the South there is a game of corruption. The infatuation of Secretary Schurz in holding on to these bad men is most extraordinary, and bringing much odium upon the Administration.

THE MONEY ALL RIGHT. National Associated Press to the Star. WASHINGTON, March 28.—Mr. E. O. Graves, Chief of the National Bank Redemption Agency, who has recently, with a force of Treasury experts, been examining the affairs of the Sub-Treasury at New York city, returned to Washington yesterday. He will submit his final report within a few days. It can, however, be stated that the result of the examination was satisfactory in almost every respect. The funds on hand were found to agree exactly with the statement of the Sub-Treasurer. The examiners weighed $10,000,000 in gold coin, $1,400,000 in silver coin, $3,367,000 in gold bars, and counted $2,300,000 in notes, besides a very large amount of securities.

Instigation of Republican Senators. New York, March 28.—The Post's special from Washington says: There is considerable feeling among certain Republican Senators at the course pursued by other Republican Senators in leaving the Senate daily without arranging pairs with Democratic Senators. There are about half a dozen Republicans who seem indifferent as to whether the Senate is left in control of Democrats or not, and the result has been that at every executive session held during the last ten days the Democrats have been in the majority. Democratic Senators are under strict party discipline and not one leaves the Senate during its session without arranging pairs. It is an open secret that the rejection of Lewis E. Parsons' nomination for District Attorney for Alabama, and John M. Dann for District Attorney for Delaware, was due to the fact that several Republican Senators had left the Senate Chamber without arranging pairs.

The Fishing Award. New York, March 28.—A special from Washington states the Fishing Commission question in another light. Additional correspondence is brought to light showing that: First, Mr. Delfoss was disinclined to serve as a commissioner; second, that he was requested and urged by Mr. Fish and Sir Edward Thornton to serve; third, in this request our government took the initiative; fourth, Count Beust nominated Mr. Delfoss on the information that he had been agreed on by both Governments.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Matrimonial Perjuror Discharged. National Associated Press to the Star. New York, March 28.—Joseph Lopez, indicted for perjury in the suit of Morrison vs. Lopez, was discharged on his own recognizance yesterday, the evidence not being sufficient to sustain the charge.

The Sixpenny Savings Bank. The suspension of the Sixpenny Savings Bank was announced yesterday. The deficiency reported is almost $100,000. The Bank has been doing a large business, and there will be much consternation among depositors, many of whom are of the working class.

Another Big Will Case. The will of the late Samuel Wood, bequeathing under its codicil an estate of about $2,000,000 to found a Music College in this city was offered for probate yesterday. The testator had no direct relatives, but to collateral branches of his family he bequeathed about $100,000 in fee simple, and about $100,000 in trust. Notice of contest has already been given by the son of a dead cousin, who receives no bequest under the will, and there will probably result another protracted contest. The will was drawn with the usual preamble, in legal formulas, by a lawyer, and covers twenty-nine pages legal cap.

Senator John Morrissy arrived in the city last evening. He is looking well, but is by no means thoroughly recovered. It is hoped, however, that after a few days rest he will be able to go to Albany.

Eleven Stubborn Men. Mrs. Dele Stewart has been on trial in the General Sessions on the charge of attempting to kill Police Captain McCullough on the evening of the 18th. The trial ended in the disagreement of the jury. After a consideration of the case lasting four hours a juror said eleven jurors were for conviction, but the twelfth determinedly withstood them.

Attempted Suicide of John Manning. A dramatic scene of attempted suicide occurred yesterday at the residence of Frederic Hintz, Tenth street. Some years ago John Manning, young and prosperous, married the daughter of Mr. Hintz. Manning was an advertising agent, and did a large business among insurance companies and mercantile houses. He had an office on Broadway, and was considered to be upon the road to fortune. For what reason does not appear, but he took to excessive drinking, after which came a decline of his business, and domestic troubles, which led to a suit for divorce, begun by Mrs. Manning about two years ago. Yesterday he called at Mr. Hintz' to see his children. The family became alarmed, and called for the police. Before Manning could be arrested he shot himself twice in the head. He was still alive early this morning.

The steamer Abyssinia, which arrived last night from Europe, brought $500,000 in silver bars.

WAR FEVER AND PROBABILITIES. LONDON, March 28.—The news from the East received during the past five days has revived the war excitement, and the probability of an open rupture between England and Russia is much discussed. The utterances of the Berlin Post are favorably commented upon, and are construed by many as meaning that Germany will give at least moral support to England. It is confidentially asserted that Russia will be unable to conclude a bargain with Austria without sacrificing too important Russian interests in the present emergency, and it is hoped in Government circles that in the event of war Austria and England will be allies.

Other Foreign News. TERRIBLE COLLIERY EXPLOSION. LONDON, March 28.—A colliery explosion occurred at Hanley yesterday, and thirty miners were killed.

A Clergyman's Naughty Son. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. PORTKENSERIE, N. Y., March 28.—The escapades of a well-known clergyman's son have just come to light in this city, and the story is full of theft, forgery and bigamy. The person referred to is Charles McKervin, 14th, son of Rev. Mr. McKervin, a clergyman of Jersey City. For some time past he had been employed in the White House shoe factory in this city.

A Little over five weeks ago he married Nellie Smith, daughter of Daniel Smith, of Wadlinger's Falls, and brought her here, taking her home on Saturday. Yesterday deserted wife No. 2 received a letter from McKervin dated on Monday, saying he ran away because he was in debt $20, and was afraid of being arrested and had gone home to die. Since his departure it is said he married a girl in West Hurley three years ago, and deserted her shortly afterwards.

The Log Cases. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—The agent of Col. Carter, representing the Interior Department in the log cases at Lake Charles, telegraphs that the defendants in the suits in his section have nominally confessed judgment. This they did solely owing to the fact that the Government cases are so strong that there was no hope of escape from conviction. He further avers that there has been no unlawful seizures, or in fact any violation of law, and that this will be established when the truth is fully known. People who are interested, however, in stealing logs, not only from the Government but from the State and private lands, are raising an outcry of dishonesty and outrage by the Government agents, and their representatives in Congress, in order to ingratiate themselves with their constituents, support this theory.

The Railroad Case—Fire. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. UTICA, N. Y., March 28.—The summing up in the railroad case for $700,000, wherein the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad was plaintiff and the United States defendant, was concluded, and the case given to the jury at 3:10 yesterday afternoon, and at 5:50 in the evening a verdict of $499,483.68 in favor of the Railroad Company was rendered. Horrible Outrage by a Father. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. PIEDMONT, W. VA., March 28.—Considerable excitement prevails here by the discovery of the brutal outrage committed by Nathan Crow on his daughter, seven years of age, on Friday last. Crow is an engineer recently discharged from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and has since been employed by the Lochiel Lumber Company. The child told her mother of the circumstance, and a physician being called, after an examination of her injuries, he gave information which led to the arrest of Crow.

A Peripatetic Fraud. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. RICHMOND, IND., March 28.—A stylish young man, representing himself to be a Methodist minister from Kansas City and to have been robbed of $75 at Chicago, duped several of our prominent citizens, ministers, Y. M. C. A. men, etc., and wound up by getting in the lock-up yesterday. He registered as James P. Meor, had a railroad pass for Edwin Ward, and a letter addressed to James Merryman, also letters in cipher, and other suspicious truck. His two pals escaped. He was slated as a suspected felon.

THE STREET RAILROAD ORDINANCE

Voted by the Board of Public Works.

This was the day set by the Board of Public Works for passing upon the General Street Railroad Ordinance, which had been returned to them from Council. A large number of advocates and opponents of the measure were present, and able speeches were made, pro and con.

Mr. Shoemaker read a petition from the Workmen against the passage of the ordinance, and requested that action be delayed for a few days.

Councilman Von Seggern opposed the passage on the ground that it was premature. It was altogether too favorable to the Companies, and the lease of our streets should be open to competition.

Councilman John K. Love reviewed the working of the present system with a view to showing the deficiencies which the ordinance before the Board did not remedy. Milton Glenn, a resident of the East End, favored the ordinance, and thought that a majority of the citizens were in favor of it, and that their interests would be subserved by it.

Mr. Shoemaker made several corrections to the statements made by the opponents of the measure, and was followed by J. J. Hooker, a resident of the East End, who presented a petition asking for the passage of the ordinance, and spoke in its favor.

A motion was then made to refer the ordinance to the Committee on Railroads, but was lost by a vote of 2 to 2. Mr. Foote being absent. This was followed by a motion to approve the ordinance, which was lost by a unanimous vote.

A Young Druggist. Commits Suicide in Covington. This morning our sister city, Covington, was the scene of another suicide, the victim being Mr. Forman Broderick, a druggist about twenty-six years of age, in the employ of M. Hermance, on the corner of Fourth and Scott streets.

Broderick had been to Cincinnati in company with other friends all night, and from all appearances had not been desponding. This morning about 6 o'clock they returned and went into the drug-store, and were sitting down, talking, when Broderick became excited and jumped from his chair and threw things around promiscuously, and the boys were compelled to catch hold of him and set him down in his chair.

About 6 o'clock he jerked from his pocket a bottle of diluted prussic acid and drank the contents, remarking at the time to the boys—"nobody to blame." Dr. Wise was called but could render no aid, and he expired in a few minutes. He no doubt premeditated the act, for all day yesterday he was in deep study and seemed very melancholy.

The cause of the rash act is supposed to be the financial embarrassment of his father. His remains will be taken to Maysville for interment to-morrow on the steamer Wildwood. Coroner Averdieck summoned a jury, who rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

THE MARTIN CASE. Continuation of the Coroner's Investigation. The testimony in the alleged poisoning case of John Martin was resumed this morning by the Coroner and the jury.

Mrs. Emma Witherwell was the first witness sworn. She testified as follows: I live on West Walnut Hills; am second eldest daughter of the deceased; visited my father during his sickness in 1876 frequently; was not with him during his last illness; he often stated that he thought he was poisoned, and refused to accept victuals at times, thinking they had been drugged; he often said, after coming back from Longview, that he had been poisoned; he often pointed to Mrs. Burgess and said that it was she who poisoned him; Mrs. Burgess often visited me and said that she thought that Mr. Martin was being drugged by Mrs. Jones, and also poisoned; he told me about the pie which made him vomit; he had often been driven from home by the woman with whom he lived and who was in a drunken condition.

Dr. N. Leaman testified that he had been the family physician for twelve years; that he attended Martin during his last illness; he was suffering from organic disease of the lungs, liver and kidneys, and from torpidity of the liver, he had delirium tremens several times, and also during his last illness; when sent to Longview he suffered from chronic alcoholism, and had an idea that some one wanted to kill him by poison; he has seen Mrs. Burgess under the influence of liquor, but she always treated Mr. Martin kindly; never saw any symptoms of poison.

Mrs. Widau testified that she had been acquainted with the deceased for nine years; that she had stated a decisive opinion as to his last illness, and that he never stated that he had been poisoned.

Dr. Bartholow was sworn, and corroborated the statements made by Dr. Leaman as to the nature of Martin's disease.

Mr. Alex. Payne, a nurse at the City Hospital, testified to nursing the deceased at No. 303 Court street, and found him delirious from excessive drink; deceased never told him that he was afraid of being poisoned. One time I found Mrs. Burgess and a Mrs. O'Neil trying to give Martin some medicine, which he refused to take. He wanted me to give him his medicine and food, as he didn't like that given to him at home.

Dr. V. Schneider, who made the post mortem examination, reported as follows: To the Coroner of Hamilton County: Dr. Strick—On the 27th day of February, 1878, I was ordered by the Coroner to make a post mortem examination in Spring Grove Cemetery on the body of John Martin. Decomposition had gone pretty far, still it was possible to pronounce a decisive opinion as to the state during life of some of the most important organs. I first opened the thoracic cavity; the heart was perfectly sound; the lungs were on both sides adherent to the walls of the chest, which is proof that the deceased at times suffered from pleurisy. The tissue of the lung appeared very dry and was exempt from marks of tubercular disease or inflammation. I next examined the abdominal cavity. Decomposition here had gone much farther. The stomach, kidneys and liver were taken out for analysis. The result of the post-mortem examination necessarily is a negative one. The cause of death remains doubtful.

Mollie Baker testified that about two years ago the deceased came to Mrs. Jones, and stated that he had eaten nothing for two days, because he had been given something at home in which he thought there was poison. He had taken some of this food to a drug-store, and the druggist told him he had found poison in it.

F. M. Doolittle testified that the deceased told him two years ago that he had been poisoned, and that he (Martin) had proof of it. The deceased was afraid of his wife.

The rest of the testimony was of a similar nature, and the case was continued until to-morrow afternoon.

Mrs. HARRIET CARY, who was recently taken from the County Infirmary into the family of Harsh Caver, near Batavia, Ohio, while the family were away yesterday, robbed the house of $300 and some fine clothing and came to this city. She was captured early this morning at the Railroad Hotel, corner of Front and Broadway. When arrested she had $17 on her person and had with her a basket containing a silk dress.

Mrs. Lucy SCOTTS, a colored married woman living at No. 22 McAllister street, next to the Dumas house, died yesterday. No physician could be found who was willing to sign the death return, and the Coroner was forced to hold an inquest, which was set for to-morrow morning. In the meantime a post mortem will be held.
