An Attempted Slaughter.

WHEELING, W. VA., June 19.—A horrible case of an attempt at wholesale slaughter has been discovered. The Monitor Tug and Lumber Company have a large barge at their yards, which is being repaired, and is held in its position on the stocks by large ropes and blocks. During the night some one cut these ropes in a place where they were covered, and only the block kept the barge in its place.

It had been determined to raise the barge with jack-screws this morning, but it was found not to be necessary. Had it been attempted, at least a dozen men would have been killed. It is thought by the Company that the cutting was done by some men whose wages had been reduced and who have been talking ugly for some time. Detectives are at work on the case. This is the first display of anything like labor troubles in this city this summer.

THE RAMPANT REDS

Whetting Their Little Tomahawks. Straight Talk from General Crook.

National Associated Press to the Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—Dispatches received here state that General Howard's forces moved on the Indians at Stern's Mountain yesterday.

It is said that they number some five hundred and are in position in the rear of Juniper Lake. The settlers at White Horse expect an attack. Five hundred Indians are reported to be marching on Camp Harney, Oregon.

OMAHA, June 19.—Gen. Crook left for Chicago last night for consultation with Gen. Sheridan on the Bannock troubles. He (Crook) makes no secret of the fact that he considers the situation growing more serious every day. Telegrams from Fort Hall state that the Shoshone band returned to their reservation, but the latest information leads to the belief that the Malheur, Indians, the Shoshones, and the Hickettas of Columbia River, will shortly join in the insurrection, making from one thousand to twelve hundred hostiles among the lava beds, mountains and canyons, to six thousand men on the plains. At present not more than twelve hundred soldiers—five hundred from Gen. Howard, five hundred from the Departments of the Pacific and Arizona, and two hundred from Gen. Crook's Department—can be used. Crook has been obliged to use twenty-one companies to protect the Black Hills and the Fort McKinney region, stripping the Department of its available men and transportation.

The Bannocks hold an elevated country commanding the situation; full of chances of cattle-raiding supplies, and the situation is more serious than it has been for years. Crook says the Government has driven the Bannocks to the war and to fighting for their lives. He held a council with the Bannocks in April and found them not half supplied and starving. He telegraphed to the agent for supplies and received an answer: "No appropriation." He found that buffalo and game were gone. The Bannock chiefs say they had been allies of the whites in the recent war against the hostiles and had furnished Gen. Crook with scouts in the campaigns against the Putes and Sioux. In return for these services they begged Gen. Crook to help them, but he found he could do nothing.

A message from Gen. Bradley's command, Black Hills, says that Indian raids from the British Possessions are increasing by many officers, and yet there are others who claim that we are sure to meet Sitting Bull.
