

THE DAILY STAR

WASHINGTON, May 14.—For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, southerly winds, falling barometer, cloudy weather and local rains, followed by cooler northwest winds and possibly rising barometer.

The man, Wm. Lee, who went to the Good Samaritan Hospital day before yesterday, turns out to be Larry Harrison, the fellow who shot at Officer Smith on Sixth street Sunday night. It seems that Smith's return shot did good work, for Harrison is lying in a very dangerous condition.

Mr. Lanester, Superintendent of the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad, has donated two hundred tickets to the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Association for Decoration Day, to be distributed as they think proper. Strict orders have been given to permit no one to board the train without having a ticket.

Margaret Kist, living on Kuonilton street, Cumningsville, died from strangulation yesterday evening, while eating her supper. Dr. Hochstetter was called in and stated that death must have been caused by the lodging of a bone in the throat. Coroner Currier held an inquest to-day, and rendered a verdict accordingly. The deceased leaves two children to mourn her loss.

At the annual election of officers of the Harmonic Society, held Monday night, May 12th, the following gentlemen were chosen for the ensuing year: President, W. W. Taylor; Vice Presidents, H. The grounds will be brilliantly illuminated with calcium lights, and kept open until about midnight. Street cars will be run until everybody is accommodated.

It Was Not "Red." The authorities of Loveland, O., telegraphed down to Chief Wapenstein last night that they had arrested a man there who answered the description of "Red" Leary. Detective Kushman went up to that place this morning and brought the man to this city. He turned out to be Bill Barnes, of Kokomo, Ind., who had tramped from New York, and is on his way to St. Louis. He was released.

Betta-street Hospital Festival. The Spring Festival for the benefit of the Bettastreet Hospital took place yesterday afternoon and last night at the Bellevue House. It was a grand success, fully four thousand persons being present. A few remarks were made in the early part of the evening by Ex-Mayor Moore, after which the grand concert by the German Military Band and united singing societies commenced. An address was delivered by Hon. Emil Bothe, who spoke of the good being done by the Sisters of the institution, who are carrying on their noble work without regard to compensation and without reference to religion.

Mr. John Best was awarded the first prize in a valuable gold-headed cane for selling the largest number of tickets, and Mr. F. Lauterman the second prize, an ivory-handled cane.

An application from Mr. C. W. Rowland and his associates, asking that they be paid $2,300 instead of $1,000 for their services while investigating the affairs of the Southern Railroad was referred to a Committee.

The Kenner Gerrard form of lease for certain terminal facilities for the Southern Railroad was approved, Mr. Laws strongly opposing.

The license for operating the Southern Road train came up for action. A protest from the old Common Carrier Company was read and several modifications in the mode of operation made, after which the following was adopted: "Resolved, That the agreement by and between the Trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad and E. W. Woodward and associates for the operation of the Cincinnati Southern Road is and the same is hereby approved, with the modifications suggested by this Board in said license, a corrected copy of which, with the additions and alterations, is hereby attached and made a part of the contract, upon the conditions of which this Board approves the same."

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

"REHEARSED" AT THE GRAND. Miss Jane Combs and her fine company presented "Engaged" at the Grand Opera house to another good house last night. The play is a sparkling piece, and is to comedy just what "Pinafore" is to burlesque opera. The characters are all well presented, and the entertainment is much improved by the fact that it is fresh, bright and original, and therefore very entertaining. To-day matinee and night.

THE ORCHESTRA CONCERT. The eleventh orchestra concert takes place at Music Hall to-morrow night. A most attractive programme is offered, and there should, and doubtless will, be a fine audience. Public rehearsal this afternoon.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL CONCERT. The first grand concert by the children of the public schools, for the purpose of securing to children in the schools scholarships in the College of Music, will be given at Music Hall Saturday afternoon and evening of May 15th. Fifteen hundred children will sing in the chorus.

ARRIVAL HOME OF MISS LULU STEVENS. Miss Lulu Stevens, of the Oates opera troupe, and her mother arrived home last night, the company having closed the season in Albany, New York, last Saturday. Miss Stevens, previously known only as a stage singer, made a brilliant success of her first season on the operatic stage, and already ranks as an artist of high standing in her profession.

BASE HITS Made in the Police Court This Morning By the Champion Battist. As the weather continues to grow warmer the cases in the Police Court increase in number. It keeps the "coppers" busy carrying and conducting prisoners to the various station-houses. Hat Row is beginning to get lively. A first-class row occurred down there yesterday between Mary Hulce and Marjorie Smith, which resulted in Griffin getting whipped and Hulce being sent to the Work-house for three months.

Mary Loftis, the woman who attempted suicide by drowning yesterday, was sent to the venue for one week to get the spirits out of her.

Jennie Gorman, who just got out of the House on the Pike yesterday, celebrated the event by a free opera entertainment in Beckley. The Judge didn't care about sending her right back from where she had been so long, and upon Jennie promising to do better in the future, he gave her another chance.

Messrs. J. & C. Maguire, Young Cennedra Liver and Blood Bitters and Benda Plant, now two justly celebrated medicines, have proved such invaluable remedies in my experience, that I can confidently recommend them. Their success is truly remarkable.

Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer is no new preparation for the public to experiment with, its success is unparalleled for restoring gray hair to its natural color, promoting its growth, and producing new hair on bald heads.

"Truth lies in a nut shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered that the Grand Central Hotel on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American, $2.50 or $3, and the European, $1 and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant restaurant at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

For eighteen years we have been cautioning the afflicted against the use of that vile drug, Balsam tobacba. Besides exposing a person, it actually worsens, often prolonging the case for months, until weakness and derangement of the kidneys are in, and then the patient has to seek relief in the Samaritan's Gift. Much better use the Gift and be cured in a couple of days. Sold by every druggist. A FORTUNATE ARTISTE.

Miss Annie Pixley's Australian Romance—Wanted, a Daughter! [From to-day's Indianapolis Sentinel.] From a hint received from a party apparently well advised as to the facts, a Sentinel representative interviewed Mr. Frank J. Pilling, agent for the beautiful California actress. The rumor was that Miss Annie has, or was about to come into possession of an immense fortune in Australia. At first Mr. Pilling seemed inclined to entire reticence concerning the matter, but at last he waived his objections, and furnished the following details concerning this report:

During a very successful ten months' engagement in Sidney, Australia, to each and every performance there came a middle-aged lady, who had secured the best stage box for that purpose. After the third performance she, through the manager, obtained an introduction to Miss Pixley, and expressed her great pleasure in the drama, and her extreme interest in the fair performer herself. During the remainder of the engagement this new-found friend was lavish in her gifts to Miss Pixley and insisted upon entertaining her frequently at her own magnificent residence, she being immensely wealthy. Thus an intimate and mutually pleasant acquaintance arose, the elder lady seeming only happy when in the society of her new found friend. As the time drew nigh for the departure of the troupe, the lady felt and expressed great sorrow for the loss of her young favorite, this regret seeming to deepen as the hour of parting drew nigh. Liberal offers were made to cancel all professional engagements that the young lady might remain with her wealthy friend. But this course was at the time impracticable, and the new found friend parted with reiterated assurances of mutual remembrance. The elder lady desired and received a promise that in the hour of her young friend would reply to her.

A day or two ago (since her arrival in this city) Miss Pixley received a much stamped letter which had been sent first to her home in San Francisco, thence to Philadelphia, and subsequently to other localities, until it finally reached her here. It was from her aged friend in Sidney, telling of her grief at the absence of one she had learned to love so well, picturing particularly her love, childless condition, wretched, though surrounded with all the luxuries of unbounded wealth, and begging her loved friend to return to her, and, be it said, her daughter and heiress in fact as she so truly is in heart. Much that the letter contains is so tearfully written as to command the deepest sympathy of any, even the most indifferent reader. It is needless to say that the warm heart of Miss Pixley was deeply moved by the distress of her loving friend, and her impulses prompted to an immediate compliance with the request so pathetically set forth. But a few moments' reflection presented to her mind the numerous impediments in the way of such a disposition of the question, and therefore the matter is still under advisement. To inherit a fortune truly princely in extent is an experience that comes into the lot of but few people, and it is somewhat vexing that the golden opportunity must be lost, for several reasons. In the first place Miss Pixley has a father and mother in comfortable circumstances, who might object to giving up their daughter; and last, but by no means least, the American public would enter a most vigorous protest against this summary transferring of their favorite. Other objections also intervene, and so the matter remains at present. How it will terminate eventually time must tell.

Forty-sixth Congress—Extra Session SENATE. WASHINGTON, May 13.—The bill providing for the exchange of subsidiary coins for legal-tender notes was reported favorably from the Committee on Finance, but went over for the day.

Consideration was resumed of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill. The motion to strike out the clause in the bill authorizing the issue in payment of arrears of pensions of $10,000,000 in legal-tender currency kept in the Treasury to redeem the fractional currency, was rejected. Without definite action on the bill the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE. WASHINGTON, May 13.—The previous question on a passage over the President's veto of the bill to prevent military interference with elections being demanded and seconded, the vote resulted in its being rejected by yeas 127, nays 97, not a two-thirds vote in the affirmative.

The bill in relation to the free coinage of silver and coin and bullion certificates was taken up and discussed. Without voting on the bill the House adjourned.

CHILL CURE.

Fever & Ague, Chills & Fever, NEURALGIA, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, as well as all forms of MALARIAL FEVERS and DISEASES are permanently cured by Magill's Chill Cure, Tonic and Appetizer.

It does not contain Arsenic, Calomel, Mercury, Quinine, or Explosive Drugs. —Don't forget this! You value health. Many medicines now on the market rely on one or more of these poisons or strong drugs, or upon others equally as bad for what little claim they have to merit. At best they only give temporary relief and are liable to permanently injure the system. Magill's Chill Cure, Tonic and Appetizer is positively free from these and every other harmful ingredient and may be given to young children or persons in feeble health without possibility of a shadow of injury being produced. The proprietor holds himself responsible for this statement and pledges himself to the public to guard and protect the absolute purity and great merit of this medicine by personal attention to its manufacture. He receives many letters from persons saying they have been humbugged by worthless imitations. Hundreds of statements similar to the one given here-with could be published if our space allowed of it. The proprietor refers to thousands who have used this medicine and are deriving others to use it as evidence of its merit. From J. Singleton, No. 271 Jefferson Street, Louisville, Ky., March 10, 1899: "I suffered for many years almost constantly with Fever and Ague or Chills, which I could not get rid of by any other means. I tried Quinine and other medicines freely, all failed to cure me, was completely restored. To cure me, I used Magill's Chill Cure, Tonic and Appetizer. I have several perfect health ever since. I gained rapidly in flesh and strength. I believe this medicine possesses most remarkable merit, and in my case it was especially so. I will give this cure 100 cents per bottle. For sale by druggists and general dealers."
