A similar house standing on the same site was blown down by a storm some thirty years since, and the mother and grandmother of Mr. Anderson were killed. A colored woman, now living here, called Clarissa, was carried a half mile in the storm and dropped down in a field unharmed. She says she could feel the logs and rails playing about her body, but could not see, and did not know how high she was carried.

EX-ALDERMAN KELLY.

The Doors of the Jail Closed Upon Him To-Day.

Yesterday afternoon, United States District Attorney Channing Richards received a telegram from the Attorney General at Washington, conveying the intelligence that President Hayes had declined to interfere in the case of John J. Kelly, the Democratic Alderman who was convicted in the United States Circuit Court of inducing a man to do an illegal thing in order to gain a right to vote. Kelly was convicted nearly a year ago, and after repeated delays was sentenced to three months' imprisonment in the County Jail on the 20th of last June.

His friends continued their efforts in his behalf, and he was released on a bond signed by Dan Wolf as surety to await the result of an application to the President for a pardon. The ground upon which the application was urged was principally sympathy for Kelly's mother, a hardworking and worthy woman. For her relief many prominent Republicans signed the petition, as well as Democrats.

A Deputy Marshal was sent out in search of Kelly this morning, but was not able to find him. Mr. Charley Baker, Kelly's attorney, however, related to the Marshal's office that they did not wish to have Kelly seen walking through the streets with an officer, and if a deputy would repair to the Jail, that Kelly would report there himself. This was agreed to and carried out.

Charles N. Danenhower Appointed to Fill the Vacancy.

In the executive session of the Board of City Commissioners yesterday afternoon the following resolution, offered by Mr. Rowland, was adopted:

"Resolved, That the President of the Board is hereby requested to ask Colonel A. L. Anderson for his resignation as Chief Engineer of this Board, to take effect November 1, 1879."

The reason assigned for this step is the necessity of economy. No fault is found with Colonel Anderson, except that he has not the best of health.

This morning Col. Anderson sent the following to the Board:

"Gentlemen: I received yesterday a communication from your President informing me that the Board had passed a resolution requesting my resignation as Chief Engineer, to take effect November 1st. In pursuance thereof I hereby tender my resignation."

Upon the receipt of this document the Board adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That Charles N. Danenhower be and is hereby appointed Chief Engineer of this Board, vice A. L. ORDINATION SERVICES.

Rev. T. J. Melish and J. H. Logie Admitted to the Priesthood and C. A. Hayden to the Deaconate.

At 11 o'clock this morning at the St. John's Church Bishop Jaggar ordained to the priesthood Rev. T. J. Melish, formerly a Baptist minister and for several years editor of the Journal and Messenger, and Rev. J. H. Logie, formerly a Methodist minister; to the deaconate, Rev. C. A. Hayden, a short time since pastor of the Mt. Auburn Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Kinsolving, Rev. Dr. Benedict, Rev. Dr. Gray and Rev. Mr. Rowland assisted in the exercises.

The ordination sermon was preached by Bishop Jaggar. He chose for his text St. John vi, 16, and first spoke in reference to the necessity of ordaining those according to the rituals of the Church who had already been ordained by other churches. It was not because they regarded the ordinations by other churches of no avail, and the pastors of other churches as acting without scriptural authority, but because the Episcopal Church held that the orders of Bishops, Priests and Deacons were of divine origin, and to each of these orders it was necessary for candidates to be ordained by the Bishop according to the custom of the apostles. He then went on to show that these orders were of apostolic origin and had come down to us and should be perpetuated by the Church unchanged.

Following the services the usual questions were asked the candidates, and the laying on of hands and bestowing of the authority of the offices closed the ceremonies.
