AMUSEMENTS.

"TWO MOTHERS" AT PIKE'S. A very fair Monday night house last night braved the weather to witness the "Two Mothers" at Pike's. The play is founded on the celebrated Tichborne case, is in seven acts and tableaux, and possesses real merit and decided interest. It is intensely melodramatic, and its railroad and shipwreck incidents are as realistic as our theatergoers have ever witnessed.

The latter scene is especially the finest we have ever seen. The piece is admirably acted, as well as finely put upon the stage. Mr. Keene, Mr. Mark Price, Mr. Chipman, Mrs. Barry and the others are all fine artists, and were very warmly received.

Mr. Price especially received a hearty welcome from his old Cincinnati admirers. Altogether the piece is a very satisfactory one. It is out of the old rut and has a freshness about it that the old theatergoer rarely enjoys. "The Two Mothers" will be given every night this week and at matinees Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

MRS. OATES AT THE GRAND. Mrs. Oates and company last night repeated "Girofle-Girofle" to a fine house. To-night "The Frothy Perfumer." Same bill at Wednesday matinee and Wednesday night.

HEUCK'S OPERA-HOUSE. C. L. Graves' Combination opened at Heuck's last night to a very good audience, considering the inclement weather. "The Soldier's Trust," a five-act military drama, by the author of "The Two Orphans," was the play, and was most excellently performed by the strong company.

Mr. George C. Boniface as "Corporal Antoine," especially was good, and J. Harrison as "Gen. Roquebert," J. H. Rome as "Pecard," W. L. Gleason as "Lusion," C. L. Graves as "Mons. Fruchard," Annie Barclay as "Mina de Rantzburg," and the remainder of the company were good and sustained their parts in splendid style. The same bill will hold the boards for the remainder of the week and at Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday matinees.

VINE-STREET OPERA-HOUSE. The Vine-street Opera-house is running a programme this week that takes the cake, and the show from first to last is good. Miss Ada Adair, in elogs and reels; Bessie Bell, vocalists; Miss Belle Cushing, in serio-comic selections, and last but not least, Seamon and Somers and the Girard Brothers. These four gentlemen do a wonderfully clever act, and succeeded last night in making a tremendous hit.

All the above are new people, and of last week's stock the following have been retained: James Mackin, Lillie Howard, Alice Bateman and others. The show concluded with "Too Much Fun," and in the last piece there is indeed too much fun.

NOTES. The Criterion Comedy Company will be at Pike's next week.

"Gill's Goblin" are underlined to appear at Heuck's next week.

Lotta begins her engagement in New York on Easter Monday.

This will be the last week of Rice's Surprise party in New York.

C. L. Graves' Combination carry an unusually large lot of scenery.

Neil Burgess opened in New York City last night in "Widow Bedott."

There will be a mass rehearsal of the May Festival Chorus to-night, and a prompt and full attendance is expected.

Harry Williams, of the Grand Opera-house, who has been on the sick list for five or six weeks, rejoined his friends by appearing in his old place last night.

Kiraly's grand spectacular play "Enchantment," which had such a successful run at Gilmore's Garden, N. Y., will be presented at the Grand next week with magnificent scenery.

"Pinafore" translated into the Russian tongue is shortly to be produced simultaneously in St. Petersburg and Moscow, in consequence of their majority without one of them dying.

Watches.

Large stock Gold Watches, from $15 up to $250. Silver from $5 to $50. The best and cheapest in the market. Come and see them. H. R. Struve, 233 Walnut street, between Fifth and Sixth.

Attention, Horse Dealers. Use Hyland's Lightning Healing Powder, the quickest remedy for pole-evil and fistula, and all sores that horses are liable to have. Sold by John Keeshan, Sixth and Walnut streets.

Matinees To-morrow—Alice Oates Opera Company, at the Grand; Boston Theater Company, in "Two Mothers," at Pike's; C. L. Graves' Combination, in "The Soldier's Trust," at Heuck's; new acts and olio at the Vine-street Opera-house.

The appearance together of Mr. Lester Wallack and Mr. Dion Boucicault will probably be viewed by the public as an event worthy of their special favor. This event is set down for to-morrow night, when "How She Loves Him" will be revived at Wallack's Theater. Mr. John Gilbert, Miss Ada Dyas and others of the regular company are also to take part in the performance.—[N. Y. Times, Sunday.]

At the instance of J. H. McVicker, manager of McVicker's Theater, Chicago, the wardrobe and outfit of the company, which for the past two weeks have been playing "Pirates of Penzance" at Haverly's Theater, were yesterday attached and the manager of the company was compelled to secure bail in the sum of $6,000. Manager McVicker states that he had a contract with this company, the engagement here covering the same period as the Haverly engagement, and he claims $3,000 damages for violation of their contract.—[New York World.]

Two cars containing refreshments will accompany the excursionists, which will be served en route, instead of alighting at a way station, as originally proposed. Seventy-five carriages and a large number of omnibuses have been engaged to convey the guests from the depot to their hotels. These will come up Eighth street to the avenue, and thence to the hotels en route.

On Thursday morning the gentlemen in convenient groups will be taken in charge of by representatives of the leading business houses of the city and escorted to the objects of interest thought likely to attract strangers. On Thursday afternoon the Police, 150 strong, will parade and at the elbow of the canal will be met by the Fire Department for a grand display. The banquet Thursday evening, as heretofore published, will seat 1770 guests and the galleries for spectators accommodate from 1,800 to 2,000.

The salesmen are thinking of offering another banquet on Friday evening to the merchants from the South, but its details have not been agreed upon.

The Governors of all the Southwestern States have been invited to attend the great banquet of Thursday. On the whole the preparations have been so made as to insure the greatest fête ever given in this country. The largest similar one heretofore given in the United States embraced 800 guests, and was given to General Kautz in New York some thirty years ago.

No tickets of admission to the gallery will be sold for Thursday evening. Those issued to subscribers to the $25,000 fund for the celebration, and those furnished to invited guests, will fill every seat of the balconies of the hall. Subscribers may procure their tickets by application at John Church's music store to-day and to-morrow.

A Remarkable Case. Invitations are out for a rather novel celebration by the Bloch family. Millie, Alex. and Sol. Bloch are triplets, and they united in celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of their birth. The invitations are as follows:

1880. Twenty-first Birthday Anniversary. Reception and supper of the triplets. Millie, Alex. and Sol. Bloch, 161 Eureka Hill, Wednesday evening, March 24, 1880. Reception at eight o'clock p. m. Doors at nine o'clock p. m.

This is the first case on record where triplets have reached their majority without one of them dying.
