THE PAVILION.—There was a very fair audience at Miller's Pavilion Theatre last night. The "Lady of Lyons" was rendered in as good style as we remember to have ever before seen in this city. Indeed there were very many excellent points made, which we do not remember to have seen elsewhere.

THE "DONNETT TRUPE."—The novel and truly wonderful exhibitions of Donnett's trained Dogs and Monkeys—which we have already briefly referred to—will appear at Huston Hall, on Tuesday evening next, under the direction of Col. Wood, a gentleman long and favorably known to our citizens as one of the most successful entertainers to the public. We have often witnessed these performances, and we assure our citizens that the proposed exhibition is, in all respects, worthy of their patronage. It is entirely free from every thing that could offend the most fastidious taste; and the whole affair is conducted according to the strictest rules of propriety and decorum. It has been before the public for several years past, and has been visited by thousands of people in all parts of the country, and has every where met with unequalled approbation.

It is an exhibition peculiarly suited to the "juveniles," and is always largely patronized by them. They may anticipate a "good time" during its stay here.

We refer the reader to the card of Col. Wood, to be found in its appropriate place in our advertising columns.

Our Oregon friends complain that we did them injustice in locating in their neighborhood the scene of the despicable scandal we gave an airing on Wednesday last. It is inadvertently done, and we will make amends by saying that it should have been located "between Main and Ludlow," in the old part of town.

We regret that we should have even thought of such a thing as inserting the word "Oregon" in the prefatory remarks we made to the documents published, and cannot now do an account for it in any other way than that the gentleman who found them resided in that delightful part of our city. We now take back the imputation.

The picnic of Miss Lentz's school, in connection with a large number of invited guests, in the vicinity of Miami City yesterday, was, we learn, one of the most agreeable excursions that has been made since this spring. During the day various exercises were entered into. Appropriate addresses were made by Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, of the Gospel Herald, and others. The day was passed very pleasantly and profitably. Such reunions are productive of good.

The Laramie House.—Capt. Wm. Baker, so well known to the traveling public on the Miami Canal, has taken the commodious House situated near the Laramie Reservoir, Shelby county, and has fitted it up in the best style for the accommodation of the votaries of pleasure and sport, this season. The Laramie, it is well known, is one of the best points in Ohio for fishing and hunting, and as there is a good hotel there now, in charge of a gentleman who understands just what is expected of a landlord, the public can go there with a confidence that they will be well received, and meet with just such accommodations as are necessary to hunters and fishers, and their families. The fishing has commenced in earnest, and we are assured that it now affords first rate sport. The packets run twice a day to the house, so that it is directly accessible to parties and their baggage.

On Monday next commences at Cleveland, a National Convention of the German "Singer-Club" to continue for three days.

The Editor of the Commercial Record.—The Dayton Journal of this morning pronounces the report of the Cincinnati Commercial about the fracas in the Committee room at Columbus about the 4th resolution of the Republican platform, a canard. The editor of the Journal was not a member of the Committee, or even a delegate to the Republican Convention, and we are not advised of the authority upon which he denies the Commercial's report. The Cincinnati Gazette, of this morning, acknowledges the truth of the statement, while it regrets that the author of it should have made use of his position as a delegate to divulge all the little bickerings incident to such occasions, and to place individuals, as well as the party, in an unfavorable light as possible before the public.

The Dayton Journal's contribution towards breaking the force of the Commercial's episode, of the emote in the Committee room, has, we are sorry to say, been made at the expense of truth. That there was a stormy time in that room when the resolutions were under consideration; that there was bad blood aroused, and that it took all the cool heads in the Convention to smooth it down, is a notoriety true that we did not suppose any one had the peculiar backbone required to make a denial of it.

Hericultural.—A taste for horticulture has for several years past, increased among our merchant princes, manufacturers, and retired gentlemen, and their exhibition of fruits, vegetables and flowers now on exhibition in Pike's Opera House, is one of the most interesting places of resort in the city. I called there in company with the worthy President of the society, S. W. Haselton, Esq., yesterday, and was most agreeably surprised to find such a great variety of berries, vegetables and flowers. On entering the room through a bowery of evergreens, our senses were regaled with the odor of thousands of fragrant flowers; a cool, delightful atmosphere was kept up by a large fountain in the centre of the room, and the whole scene before us was most refreshing and soothing. It appeared to us like a little garden of Eden, fresh from the hands of its creator. Cedar trees, shrubbery, flowers and delicious strawberries, were our surroundings. Added to these, an assemblage of beautiful daughters of Eve, all admiring the beauties of the garden, was not the least attractive feature of this tablature. Mr. Haselton had a large variety of fribbles on exhibition, much larger than we supposed were to be found. Among them the George the Fourth, Napoleon, Belle of Baltimore, and a number of others, were very beautiful.

Of strawberries there was a fine variety, of large growth, and Mr. Johnson, of Avondale, we understand, takes the premium this time. There was a great variety of Cactus and other green house plants, in a most thrifty condition. We lingered for a long time in this charming place, and could not but wish that our young men about town, who spend so much time at coffee houses, theatres, and other places of amusement, could be induced to retire into the country and devote themselves to the culture of the fruits of the earth. The exercise would do them much more good than ten pins or billiards, and they would be much more acceptable to the ladies.

Hundreds of our young men of wealth and mind without wealth, now spend their time in drinking, gaming and frivolous amusements, destructive alike to soul and body. A taste for horticulture and agriculture is, however, on the increase, and let it be encouraged.

Fourth street, the Broadway of Cincinnati, is crowded every afternoon with the beauty and fashion of our city. The ladies are now exhibiting their spring purchases to great advantage, and the fine weather brings them out.

The river is gradually subsiding and is now quite low. The large boats are now laid up for the season.

Our markets are well supplied with strawberries at from 5 to 30 cents per quart. Cherries are also quite abundant.

Street railroads is now the great local topic of discussion.

In haste,
SHAWNEEN, ILL., June 1st, 1859.

DEAR DAVID.—Will you be pleased to inform Lieutenant Crow and the rest of my friends that I will not be home as soon as I anticipated. The Mount City Stockholders held their meeting at this place which is several miles above that point and have almost unanimously agreed to build an ark, something after the fashion of the one described in the Bible. We expect to have it ready to launch in a few days, and then we shall all embark and float down until we arrive at the Mount where we intend to cast anchor and await the subsiding of the waters.

The unionist do not doubt think strange that we cling to this project with such tenacity, but let me inform you of a fact which has now become notorious. It has been ascertained by actual measurement that the mound is positively the centre of the universe, and further the whole philosophy of Galileo and others have been disproved and that the world does not revolve, as so believed by the majority of mankind but runs round like a stone, and that the mound is actually the socket holding the axis on which it turns. You will see then by this philosophy that the great gathering of the last day must take place here, as this motion of the Earth must inevitably bring things to the centre, believing in all this as we firmly do we shall cling to this last hope of mankind as the fond mother does to the cold clay of the beautiful babe that nestled in her bosom.

I am Yours,
S. G. CAIN.

THE BUREAU VIEW.—The Washington letter writer of the Baltimore American says that Mr. Hays has recovered a verdict of $200 against John P. Heiss, of the Washington States, in suit for arrears of salary. Mr. Hays deducted fifty days' salary from Mr. Savage's account, for absence from duty at the office, but the Court sustained the plaintiff's claim. A letter from Mr. Savage, addressed to Mr. Heiss, was received in evidence, in which Mr. S. says that "a journalist is engaged for the general effect he can produce, and not by the day, like a parer on the highway."

The Court took the right view of the matter. If the value of some editors was estimated only by the amount of time they spend within their sanctuaries, their wages would not amount to as much as they daily and nightly spend for cigars and other refreshments. Of the correctness of this, we could present in evidence half a dozen newspapers without going one hundred miles from home. It is a question that does not need discussion among the initiators, that most men connected with newspapers make more friends for the papers, and patrons to the office, by "going out among the people," than they could possibly do by remaining closely in their sanctuaries. Proprietors of newspapers who are favored with common sense and common honesty would not expect a writer or reporter while out advancing the interests of his paper and establishment, to "pay his own expenses, find himself, and be doctored by his siphon. Heed seems to have been wanting in three qualities, and the Court properly reminded him of the lack.

Commodore Vanderbilt began life as a White Hall boatman, in New York harbor, and as we proceed and happy when he made his $500 a year as now with an income of a million per annum.

Sir James J. Jebb, the celebrated Hindu merchant, died at Bombay on the 14th of April. His age was 76. Sir James stood at the head of the native merchants of India, and a few years since was created a baronet by the British Government and presented with the freedom of the City of London. His donation to the relief of the famine in the West Indies, and his aid in the purchase of the Erie Canal, are well known. He has bequeathed a large fortune to his family.

A young man at Niagara having been crossed in love, walked out to the precipice, gave one spring look at the gulf beneath him, and then—was rescued. His body was found the next morning in bed. A very sensible young man, we think.

The opinion amongst railroad men in New York is that the competing roads will lose $125,000 a month during the continuance of the railroad war; the aggregate loss of the four will be $500,000 per month, being at the rate of $60,000,000 per annum.

There is a reported delinquency in one of the departments of the New York Board of education which is hushed up and kept from the press.

THEY HAVE CAUSE TO SWEAR.—The Columbus Statesman says that the law against profane swearing was terribly violated Thursday afternoon on High Street. About every other Republican was out-spoken and indignant at the doings of the Convention. Never did we hear any thing like it. Well, if there ever was a time when profanity was allowable, that was the time. A more miserable set of bedridden sinners were never before congregated together.

"Our army in Flanders," which was reported to have "sawed terribly," could not have had the one-tenthousandth amount of provocation that the rag tag and bobtail of the late Republican Convention had. If swearing was a relief to them, we will not chide them severely for its utterance.

QUIT A WINDFALL.—A dashing young widow, possessing rare personal attractions, a resident of Wayne township, in this county, has recently come in possession of a large land estate in Virginia, said to be worth at least eighty thousand dollars. The property having been bequeathed her by a distant relative. An might be expected, the lady has any number of ardent "lovers" at present, who are forcibly and eloquently urging their respective claims.

THE MANIFESTS genuine heroism under the circumstances. How long she will hold out is a matter of conjecture.

Very good order was preserved at the Pavilion last night. The Marshal, with an efficient force, will be present this evening—a warrant that disorder will not be permitted.
