Death to Rats and Vermin!
HERE WE COME!
CITIZENS MILLERS AND FARMERS now is your time to exterminate your Rats, Mice, Roaches and Bed Bugs. By the request of many Citizens I have prepared two hundred boxes of my "Kestrel" Vermin Destroyer. For the use of those who may be plagued with these destructive vermin, and I will continue to keep it all through the winter.
This preparation is free from all dangerous poisons, and can be used in Kitchens, Pantries, Cellars or Stables, without being in danger of injuring the human family, or useful animals, but is sure to destroy that which it is designed for.
The testimony of hundreds of Citizens can be had by sending a card to the City of Dayton, for the use of used for many years. It leaves no stench, as the vermin go off to streams of CHAS. FISHER, Can be had at my residence, No. 107 Jefferson st., between 8th and 9th, or from the boy who will carry it through town for you.
M. E.—This is the only preparation that has ever been made or sold here which contains arsenic, and will remain out every time it is laid for.

Metamorphosis of Clothes.
Clothes are a great institution. They are, indeed, an indispensable article where people desire to appear on the streets of a city, or anywhere among modest people. We have heard it said that clothes make the man; that the tailor is the architect of modern humanity.
"Be this as it will," there has been a vast change in the thing of toggin' since the time our "first parents" arrayed themselves in fig leaves.
Speaking of "clothes," we are reminded that they will produce strange and complete metamorphoses. An incident illustrative of this recently came under our ken: On the breaking up of the pleasant weather a few weeks ago, Hon. Geo. H. Padgett, J.
Dan Jones, and half a score of clever fellows from the Queen City, found themselves at the Laramie House, near the Reservoir, in Shelby county, greatly desiring to get to the nearest point on the D. & M. Road, whence they might slide home in the shortest possible time. The main difficulty in the way of communicating their wishes was that of procuring a conveyance for themselves and baggage, which was considerable. Capt. Baker was applied to in the extremity, and after a conference of some time, in which few probabilities were presented, and many impossibilities were considered, the Captain concluded to work himself up to an equality with any emergency which might be presented on the morrow. Matters relating to "homeward bound" having been put into as good shape as possible prior to applying the practical test, the company retired (it being late at night) to get a little rest preparatory to an early start in the morning.
The Captain was up before the dawn, and started off to a neighbor's, about three miles away, (the nearest point) and securing a pair of spavined horses and a rickety spring wagon, he returned for his guests. The rain was coming down copiously when the crowd started from the Laramie House for Sidney, and the road over which they had to pass was certainly one of the worst between sunrise and sunset.
The prospect was anything but cheering. The gentlemen in the wagon by means of umbrellas and oil quilts managed to protect themselves pretty well from the rain and mud, but the poor Captain, who drove, and stood the brunt of the liquid elements, had a miserable time of it, and by the time they arrived in Sidney, he was drenched with rain, and completely enveloped in mud, from the crown of his hat to the soles of his boots. The cars were about starting, and his company lost no time in getting to the depot. The Captain then drove his team up to a hotel, and putting the establishment into the hands of the landlord, (a new man at the house, whom he had never before) he followed out to the wagon yard.
The Captain likes a joke, and he thought to have one with the landlord.
"Where 'r you from?" asked Boniface.
"From the Laramie Reservoir," replied the Captain.
"Pretty muddy up your way?"
"Yes."
"What do you do at the Reservoir?"
"I'm hunter; but I don't think I'll follow the business much longer; it's too heavy for me; but don't say anything about it, you understand."
"Yes," replied the landlord; "and now when do you intend cleaning off these horses?"
"I rather think I'll not clean the horses," said the Captain; "I'm not very well, and it's a pretty heavy job; just let your hostler clean 'em well—mark you—and I'll make it all right; but you needn't say anything about it, you know."
The Captain then repaired to a clothing store and procured a complete change of apparel—cap, coat, vest, pants and boots. In his new rig he went back to the hotel. The landlord met him with a smiling face.
"How are you, sir—have you a team?" asked the landlord.
"My man took my team to the stable a while ago, I believe," replied Baker, who saw that Boniface did not recognize him.
"Oh, yes. From the Reservoir, I believe—Take a seat."
"Yes."
"Pretty soaked up your way; team very muddy, and your hostler covered with it, and got the sulks, to boot."
"Ah!"
"Yes; and I would just hint that you had better watch him a little; he says he can't stand it up there, and you know he might leave you in the lurch."
"I've discharged him!" replied the Captain;
"He was of little account, and I've another man to take his place when I get home." The landlord then related to the Captain every little incident of the wagon yard, which was enjoyed peculiarly from the fact that the relator was unable to distinguish between the hostler and the proprietor of the Laramie House.
Clothes are a great institution.

For the Empire.
The New Penitentiary.
Ms. Editor—You stated in Monday's Empire that you agreed with the Dayton Journal, that Columbus was near enough to Dayton for the location of a Penitentiary. As different cities in the State are competing for the Penitentiary to be built in addition to the one already at Columbus, I take it that you are opposed to its location near Dayton, on the ground that prison labor would be injurious to the interest of our mechanics. I will admit that such used to be the case, but the system at the P. O. was changed some years ago, so that now the convict labor does not in any way come in competition with the mechanics of Columbus, or interfere with the interests of the working classes there. It is not necessary to speak on question at length, but I will remark that the work in all the mechanical arts in the prison is privately executed for large contractors who reside in different parts of the State, and is obtained on the highest bids. The prison work, in fact, comes principally in competition with the wholesale trade of the eastern cities. Such, at least is my understanding of the system in operation at Columbus.
The location of the new Penitentiary near Dayton would give us the advantage arising out of the contrast for building it, if nothing more; and that would doubtless be felt for some years to come. There are, however, many other items of advantage incidentally growing out of its location here, while I can conceive of nothing deleterious to our interests, under the present system. I hope the new buildings will be located near this city, and that the Commissioners will find it to their advantage to do so.

THE NEW WONDER.
Peter Josse's Hair Restorative!
THIS Hair Restorative is now acknowledged to be the best ever invented for the disease of the hair and the scalp, and it has won wonderful reputation. It has cured of itching, dandruff, and all other ailments of the scalp, and it is the best and most reliable of all hair restoratives. The following is one among the many testimonials just received by the Proprietor: JAYTON, Sept. 25, 1893.
DR. B. PICKERING—For several years past, from some cause, my hair has been gradually falling out, until only a few strands remained. I have tried various remedies, but without any good result. We were induced to try your "Restorative" by hearing it highly spoken of by those who had used it, and who assured us that it had the effect of bringing a new and vigorous growth of hair upon their heads.
We were glad to do so, and the result has been plainly visible in the renewed growth of hair where we had been balding. We cannot recommend the Restorative too highly. Yours truly, committee therefore report that they cannot receive the work from Owen Trator, the contractor.

signed by Mr. Curtis.

ning under the canal near Seely's basin, giving

City Council.
CITY COUNCIL CHAMBERS,
TUESDAY EVENING, Nov. 29, 1893.
Present—Messrs. Decker, Wiggins, Phillips, Binn, Shank, Kiersted, Boyle, Gilliland, Burt, Lutz and Bomberger.
The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.
RESOLUTIONS.
A communication was received from the business men near the corner of Main and Third streets, representing that the practice of stopping wagons loaded with hay, fodder, &c., in front of the business houses, has become a nuisance to the proprietors and their customers, and praying that the nuisance may be speedily abated. Referred to the Trustees of the Third Ward.
A petition was received from S. D. Edger and others, asking the regrading of Wayne street, between that portion of it newly improved, and Steele's Hill. Received.
REPORTS.
The committee to whom was referred the sur-perintendence of the grading of Wayne street, report that they find on examination that a portion of the street is too high by from five to seven inches upon the east side, that the road through the cut on the hill is too narrow by from three inches to one foot, and that the gravel is only from two to four inches deep at the edge of the road, whereas it should be nine inches. The committee therefore report that they cannot receive the work from Owen Trator, the contractor.
The City Solicitor, to whom was referred the encroachment of D. M. Curtis' mill upon the street, presented an acknowledgment of the same, signed by Mr. Curtis.
He also made a report upon the culvert running under the canal near Seely's basin, giving his opinion that it was the duty of the City to repair the same.
The ordinance increasing the number of police officers to seven, and providing for the appointment of a Captain, was read the third time, and passed.
RESOLUTIONS.
By Mr. Phillips, That the Trustees of the Second Ward have the mouth of the alley on the north side of Second street paved. Adopted.
By Mr. Lutz, That the City Engineer furnish an estimate for the graving of Wayne at from Wyoming street north as far as may be necessary. Adopted.
By Mr. Decker, That the Trustees of the First Ward be authorized to put under contract the grading of the north side of First street, from Meigs street to the west line of lot No.
3728, according to the estimate of the City Engineer, the same being $287.10.
By Mr. Shank, That the Trustees of the 3d Ward, have the mouth of the alley on Byram street, between Perry and Council sts., paved.
Adopted.
By Mr. Shank, That the property holders on the east side of Ludlow street, between 3d and 4th streets, be notified to repair the gutter and sidewalk in front of their lots within ten days. Adopted.
By Mr. Gilliland, That the Street Commissioner be authorized to repair the culvert under the canal near Seely's basin. Adopted.

Adopted.
By Mr. Gilliland, That the Trustees of the 4th Ward be authorized to abate a nuisance on the ground of B. F. Eaker on the west side of
