

Wise Power has been applied to machinery for the purpose of raising water for farm purposes. In the last number of the Horticulturist, Dr. Kirtland gives an account of its use for two years by Mr. Anderson, five miles west of Ashland, O., on the road leading to Mansfield. It worked a pump that furnished a large stock of water that otherwise could obtain no water. The cost of the machine, including pump, did not exceed $15.—Ohio Farmer.

The following lines upon the death of a Shanghai rooster, are from the pen of an Eastern editor: "His voice, when heard amidst the crowing of other roosters, was like the trombone in an orchestra of violins, or the deep bass of rumbling thunder amid the hum of a dozen spinning wheels:

Farwell, faithful errand, a lasting farewell,
From thy fate let all roosters take warning—
No more will thy voice, in a long and loud swell,
Awake us, to get up and go to work, about half past five o'clock in the morning."

Scrofula.—Testimony.
The following case is interesting, says Dr. Tyler, as evincing the efficacy of the Rock Rose, and also being the first case in this region.—
The individual now living in New Haven, of undoubted veracity and intelligence. The facts are here noted, as they fell from his lips. Mr. A. C. Tyler, who was about 2 years old, had the Scrofula, and the swelling of the neck commenced and increased in size, without pain, till about the age of fourteen, when it increased rapidly, and became extremely painful. He consulted Drs. B. Monson and Spalding, of New Haven, and many times used, but the disease progressed, so that at the age of sixteen, he had eight abscesses on the neck, discharging, and three abscesses on the shoulders, and three on the hips.—Mr. C., finding medicine useless, discontinued it, and all other remedies for many years, when, in 1817, he fell in with Mr. Smith, a farmer from Long Island, who had the reputation of curing Scrofula. Mr. C. was told by him, if he would try his medicine, he would furnish him some. At the time he commenced this medicine, he was emaciated, weak and languid. He had been unable to labor all, for three months. His tumors were discharged from his neck; the abscesses upon his shoulders, and in four weeks from the time he commenced the use of this medicine, he was cured of his labor. This treatment was continued with benefit, and he visited Long Island, that he might if possible, get more of the medicine; and for months continued to take it. He was informed that the doctor who cured him, was returned to New Haven, and, relieved of his troublesome disease, gave up all medicine, and continued well for two years, when, from over exertion, a severe prostration fell upon him. Mr. C. was called, and aware of the benefit received from the Rock Rose medicine, again advised its use.—Mr. C., now 18 1/2, sixty-six years old, enjoys tolerable health, his neck evincing the severity of the disease, and the success of the remedy. He has above case published in a work by D. A. Tyler, M. D., of New Haven, Conn.

TO THE LADIES.
Liver Complaint and General Debility cured, by using the Oxygenated Bitters.
LA PORT, Indiana, Dec. 30, 1850.
Messrs. Reed, Bates & Austin—Gentlemen:—I am ready to the request of your agent, I send you a statement of my case, and the effect of Dr. Green's Oxygenated Bitters upon me.
I have suffered upwards of five years from indigestion, attended with pain in the stomach, severe headache, and costiveness, faintness after meals, and many other symptoms, difficult for me to describe. I had been treated generally with and live upon the most simple kinds of food, and even this would often cause me severe pains for some hours after eating, and a drink of cold water would seem to fill me with wind. I tried several remedies, very highly recommended by my friends, without any favorable effect, but continued to grow worse, week by week.
My wife was also ill, and had been for about five years afflicted in a similar way, together with an almost constant pain, through her left side to her shoulder, and housework would often increase this so as to cause faintness. She lost all appetite, and was unable to do any kind of work, and great distress, and often depriving her of sleep; and her strength failed her, so that she could not walk without stopping. She consulted several physicians, some of whom pronounced her disease Liver complaint, and others called it General Debility, but under their treatment grew no better; Sarsaparilla and several other remedies were recommended to her, which she tried, but still continued to grow worse, and was unable to do any kind of work, so that we were obliged to leave our home, and having heard Dr. Green's Oxygenated Bitters very highly spoken of, as a cure for dyspepsia and general debility, we commenced taking them about a year ago, and began very soon to get better. I recovered so rapidly that in a few weeks I was quite well, but my wife did not gain so fast, though she has since notably regained her former health and sprightliness.

We took the Oxygenated Bitters according to the directions, and attribute our recovery entirely to the use of this excellent medicine, and most cheerfully recommend it to all persons similarly afflicted.
I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours,
C. B. RIBOULT.
