

A man who says he is a natural son of Lord Byron, and who calls himself Augustus Stuart Byron McDonald, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life at Adrian, Michigan, for throwing the cars off the track in March last. This man pretended to make disclosures, and an officer from Milwaukee was confined in the dungeon with him for four weeks and got from him the evidence of his guilt. He is one of a gang of conspirators who had agreed upon a wholesale plan of robbery and murder.

His work will be made of the best materials, in a good substantial manner, and on reasonable terms.

He keeps constantly on hand for sale, LUMBER WAGONS, ONE HORSE WAGONS, CUTTERS, SLEIGHS, &c.

Farmers, Look Here!

He manufactures Ball & Post's CULTIVATOR, a new article patented April 6th, 1852, to which he would call the attention of agriculturists. As a labor-saving machine, it is capable of doing double the amount of work of any ordinary Cultivator.—This implement has two long shares, one on each side, constructed of steel, and fastened on the mould boards in such a manner as to move the entire surface of the ground, thereby cutting all roots and weeds that come in contact with the shares which may be graduated by the elevy to run from two to six inches in depth.

The three small plows attached to the shares answer the same purpose of the common tooth cultivator, and in addition to the shares and plows, is a metallic blade rake attached to the rear of the Cultivator, which serves to cut and break up the sod and hard lumps, leaving the earth in a fine and pulverized condition. The effectiveness of this cultivator renders second hoeing unnecessary, which is a saving of time and labor.

Mr. Perrin also manufactures a larger sized machine, constructed upon the same principle as the above, but with larger shares, and containing two small plows in addition to the corn cultivator, which is designed to put in grain, and working up on summer fallows. They are light, and of durable construction, readily handled and of easy draught.

This CULTIVATOR obtained the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, held at Cleveland in Sept., 1852. Shop on Front-st., Perrysburg, Ohio.—11tf
