URBANA UNION. CITY AND COUNTY.

This Paper. The question has been asked, whether the URBANA UNION will be a permanent paper.

Those who wish to be subscribers must pay in advance else they cannot be subscribers. Customers for job work must pay on delivery.

Wool.—Will our friends bring in a Winter's supply of wool, as soon as possible, and oblige.

OCTOBER ELECTION. En. USTON.—Announce the name of Gen. John H. Young as an Independent candidate for State Senator.

EA. PERRY.—Please announce the name of JOSEPH PERRY as an Independent candidate for Inferior Director.

Wool.—Those of our patrons who promised to bring us wool are hereby respectfully informed that now will be the acceptable time!

We have received from Hon. S. Shellbarger a pamphlet entitled "The Impending Contest."

LT. COL. ARMSTRONG has resigned his position in the 95th Regiment. This will be regretted by the regiment and its friends.

It may be best to remark that the editor is afflicted with bad cobbles in his hob, so that if there are any mistakes in this week's number our readers will know why!

The Cincinnati Branch of the Sanitary Commission, for the week ending Oct. 1, credits its contributions from the Aid Societies of Urbana and West Liberty.

Our lady young man thinks the best exhibition at the Fair was the fair. He is a monomaniac on the subject of women, sometimes. Probably that's what he means.

PERSONAL.—Major Warner of the 113th Ohio, was in town Saturday.

CURTAIN VAX DEMAS, of the 66th Ohio, was at the Hamilton House, yesterday, looking about as well as if he had never been a "Poppe" prisoner at Richmond.

42d OHIO.—The friends of Capt. Lynch's company in this regiment will be glad to learn that the 42d has reached the Ohio opposite Portsmouth, safe and sound.

General Morgan has proven great skill and energy as a commander by his safe evacuation of Cumberland Gap.

THE FAIR last week was a success. The people attended in great numbers, although the exhibition as a general one was meagre to those of preceding years.

THE meeting at the Court House last evening was well attended by men of all parties. Mr. McKinney, candidate for Congress, made a two hours' speech in which he reviewed the parties of the country.

CORPORAL LINTZ HAMILTON, (Johnson's Island Guards) of this place, was one of the company which took down 1300 rebel prisoners from Johnson's Island to Vicksburg.

KING RICHARD once remarked in a very energetic manner that he would give his kingdom for a horse; but now a number have the opportunity to have a fine horse and equipments furnished them gratuitously.

JOSEPH HITT, son of Samuel Hitt of Ross & Hitt, formerly Sergeant Major of the 66th regiment, taken prisoner at Fort Republic, and released some weeks ago, arrived at home in Urbana last Saturday.

THE Army of Ohio has been divided into three army corps—named first, second and third—of the three divisions, with proper complements of cavalry and artillery.

THE 28th and the 13th Ohio Regiments are in the second corps—the first in Wood's division, and the last in Smith's. Gen. Beech is first and General Thomas second in command.

THE SHEEP exhibited at the Fair by T. S. McFarland of Concord township, attracted much attention. The Cotswold wools (one year old) have no equals in this section of country in any respect.

IN THE HALLS OF THE FAIR.—Our reporter managed to make a haul (in his eye) in the Hall of the Fair, which is herewith presented.

THIS year was very deficient, there being little or no competition on what was exhibited. This is to be regretted, and we trust there will not be a repetition in future years.

THE Howe (original) Sewing Machine, exhibited by G. Ellis & Co., was awarded the first premium. But one other machine was in the Hall.

THE same firm was awarded first premium on manufactured wares. These were but a sample of their usual custom work.

THIS we regret to say, is about all that can be said of Mechanics' Hall, although there were some specimens of machinery (manufactured out of the county) on exhibition.

Did not contain many, or a great variety of specimens of the "admirable art," but a number of articles on exhibition were praiseworthy.

ALBRIGHT and Collins contributed a large number of their best photographs, well known by their life-like resemblances of citizens of the county.

THANKS to the ladies, looked "gay and happy." It was the only one, in fact, which looked "full and contented."

THE most attractive articles on exhibition, and not only the most attractive but the most deserving of mention, were the premium quilts of Mrs. J. D. Severinghaus.

IT has all the time been believed that Champaign was exempt from a draft, but not enough concern was manifested up to the last in making returns, and so the draft had to be made.

THE meeting at the Court House last evening was well attended by men of all parties. Mr. McKinney, candidate for Congress, made a two hours' speech in which he reviewed the parties of the country.

THE most original articles in this department were silk and cotton grown in Champaign county—the former in Concord and the latter in Urbana townships.

THE Paroled officers of the 66th regiment have at last been exchanged, as follows. (The Letter denotes the company):

1st Lieut. B. F. Ganson, (B) for 1st Lieut. C. V. P. Brannagan, 8th Ab.

2nd Lieut. W. A. Sampson, (K) for 2nd Lieut. H. E. Morse, 59th Va.

2nd Lieut. M. S. Dempsey, (A) for 2nd Lieut. T. W. McInture, 33d Va.

2nd Lieut. J. W. Watkins, (E) for 2nd Lieut. J. P. Charlton, 4th Va.

Captains T. J. Buxton, (co. B) and J. G. Palmer, (co. B) have been exchanged, but their specific equivalents are not mentioned.

THE Delaware Grape, by Mr. Turner, of Springfield, was the sweetest we have ever tasted. Its small size is more than atoned for by its quality.

TO GOV. ANDREW. "Tell John Andrew," &c. "That old John Brown is dead."

TO GOV. ANDREW. "Tell John Andrew," &c. "That old John Brown is dead."

CAPTAIN SEYMOUR, of the 11th Ohio, paid a visit on Saturday evening. The Captain has been quite unwell for several weeks, caused by exposure on the "tented field."

THE 11th is one of the bully regiments of Cox's division (all Ohio troops). It did splendid fighting under McClellan in Maryland, and its commander, Colonel Coleman, was killed at the bridge which Burnside held to the last at Antietam.

CAPTAIN SEYMOUR says the army was completely demoralized under Pope. When that officer was making a second Bull Run fight of it, and sending in his despatches claiming a great victory, &c., General McClellan who was then in Washington, at the War Department, remarked: "Pope's being beaten."

ALL my troops (meaning his late command) must be sent him, or all is lost." Stanton replied, "This cannot be, sir; Pope will certainly be victorious," McClellan only said: "Wait and see. You will know who is right, sir."

"Here is my resignation," he continued, handing that paper to the President. At this moment another courier arrived from Pope, bringing discouraging and truthful news. The President and Secretary read, and the former said to McClellan: "We cannot accept your resignation, just now." "Very well, sir," replied the General, and departed.

STILL worse and worse news came from Pope, and McClellan was sent for. [He was then giving an order to a subordinate officer.] "You are to take command of the army and defend us at Washington." "Why is this?" said McClellan. "It is the wish of us all," replied the Secretary, pointing to the President and General Halleck. "You seem to have a better opinion of me, Mr. Stanton?" "Yes, sir, I have," said the latter. "I have done all I could against you, General. I was mistaken and I regret it now; and hereafter will do all I can for you. Thank you, sir," replied Little Mac; "but there is only one condition upon which I can assume command again, and that is, let alone, hereafter of the army, and to let alone, hereafter." It was granted at once and eagerly. The time had come when a MAN WAS NEEDED.

CAPTAIN SEYMOUR was lying in his tent when the news came. Here was an army completely demoralized; men were exhausted, discouraged, struggling about, no apparent order or discipline. All at once there arose a shout in that magnificent army which only one man's name could create. "We are under McClellan!" was the universal shout of cheered and inspired men; and every man that could walk was ready to be at his post, and for fight, at any moment. Pope, the Post-General, was nowhere; it was all "McClellan!"

AS an illustration of the feeling of McClellan's old heroes—Cox's division was advancing on Washington from the battle-field; and met Fitz John Porter's splendid troops. "Hey," said the latter, "you belong to Pope, do you? Why ain't you marching on Richmond; have you taken it yet. Pope's played h—, hasn't he?"

—Then came the glorious ten days' campaign in Maryland; and every man did his duty, because the army was under the only man in whom it had confidence. It is now in splendid condition, and is being greatly augmented in force every day. When the Captain left Washington, Thursday evening, there were evidences of a great movement soon to take place, but nobody knew what they all have confidence in the commander of the army and that satisfies.

THE ROTUNDA.

CHAMPAIGN county is represented by officers in the Regular service of the United States Army as follows:

8th Infantry—Capt. Edwin W. H. Reed, 11th Infantry—1st Lieut. Duncan M. Vance, 18th Infantry—1st Lieut. Thomas T. Brand, and in the U. S. Navy as follows: Commander—Abner Read, Lieuts. Commanding—J. C. Febriger, Joseph P. Yaffe.

THE majority of these officers have had experience, and proved themselves not wanting in qualifications. Commander Reed and Capt. Febriger have distinguished themselves conspicuously during the present war; while Captain Yaffe stands ready to whenever opportunity offers. The army officers, also, will render a good account of themselves.

AS HOSTS.—Our young friend Robert Young arrived at home Monday, from the 45th Regiment, having in charge Lieut. Fulton, of Capt. Rhoades' company, who is seriously sick.

"Bob" is in the Ordnance department, and looks about as hearty and "compliant" (beg pardon as ever. The members of Capt. Rhoades' company are all in good health and spirits.

COLONEL RUMBLE is acting Major-General, commanding a division. He is well liked by his command, and will add to his laurels before the war is over.

SAMUEL JAMISON is among the victims of rebellion and disunion. Not that he died on the battle field, but he died in the cause of the war for the Union. The news he gave last week in Vance's letter indicated the low state of his health, and now the intelligence comes that he is no more of earth. Naturally of a weak constitution he held not back but offered his life, if necessary, to the country's cause; and now it has been given. Those who know the rock checked boy of eighteen and his kind and excellent mother will be pained to hear that he has so soon joined her. Requiescat in pace.

THE 96th Ohio.—The official report of Col. McClellan of the action of his regiment at Richmond, Ky., has finally appeared. In it there is nothing new presented of that engagement. He compliments Lieut. Strayer of Company E (his company) with others for displaying great personal courage, and says of his command: "Too much cannot be said in praise of the endurance, spirit and gallantry exhibited by the officers and men composing my Regiment upon that unfortunate day. Only one week in the field, and during all that time bivouacked in line of battle in the face of the enemy, with heavy picket and other duties consequent upon our advanced position to perform, but little time or opportunity had been given to organize or drill the Regiment. Laboring under difficulties and disadvantages which few, if any, Regiments from Ohio have ever experienced, the men went into the engagement with an eagerness which only novelty in war ever exhibit, and maintained themselves with a gallantry which would have done honor to veterans."

THE total losses in the regiment were: Killed, 26; wounded, 86; missing, 2. Total, 114.

COLORS FOR THE 95th.—We notice in Ohio State Journal a list of the ladies who contributed for the purchase of an elegant stand of colors for the 95th regiment. In it we find no name from this county. Is this an omission? We hope so.

THE Urbana Union should be in the hands of every family in Champaign county.
