

PRINTERS IN THE FIELD.

We see by the Defiance Democrat, that two printers have been taken up for the Legislature, A. P. ENOCHSON for the Senate and H. S. KNAPP for the House. Success attend them. Mr. Edgerton is said to be a staunch and tried Democrat; and from our acquaintance with Mr. Knapp, we can freely testify to his unflinching Democracy. We believe that the people of that district never had a better representation than they will have in the present nomination.

The Democrat says:

For the information of the democracy throughout the State we might say that they will be elected, but we say more—we intend to give A. P. Edgerton and Alderman Knapp larger majorities than ever was given to any man or men in the Northwest district. Mark our prediction.

That's just right. Go it Democrat.

FARMERS,

When you go to the polls, remember the recent infamous tax law which was saddled upon you by the last whig Legislature. Remember the toil and sweat of your harvest labor; remember the prices that are fixed upon your produce by these political gamblers; remember the unsafe currency of the state; remember that the children who look you in the face and say "father," are as dear to you and as precious to the country, as those which are born in the lap of luxury, and cradled in the pillow of extravagance;—luxuries which you are taxed to purchase; extravagance which you are laid under contribution to procure. Remember too that your taxes must be paid; that there is no leniency; though sickness is staring you upon one hand, and famine upon the other; the taxes must be paid. Remember that the ambition and misrule of Federalism has brought this law upon you. Charge it not to Locofocoism; lay it not upon its threshold; we repudiate it all; we regard it and declaim against it, as an anti-democratic measure.

The choice however is your own; to pamper to the extravagance and pride of the rich, yield your own sovereignty to their will, succumb to their dictates, acknowledge the prices which they put upon your productions, receive their worthless paper in payment, or speak, think and act for yourselves. Determine and exact the value of your own property. Assert, assume and maintain the independence which should distinguish the lords of creation—the tillers of the soil.

To whom are you to look for sympathy, possessing the social power that you do, when groaning under the low price of produce, and excessive taxation? To no one. The man is a simpleton who pities you; for you have the power to stand and present a front, before which the most formidable should sink at once. Up then and be doing! before the scepter departs from Israel. Work while the day lasteth, for night cometh and unless we are on the alert, we will discover beneath the shade, a fetter for the laboring man, which he will find it hard to break.

Leave your sinking ship.

The following taken from the Baltimore Patriot, a leading whig paper, will cast a dark spot upon the Mexican papers of this Union. Its opinion is, that there will be no war with Mexico; but if there should be, it is decidedly in favor of America, and will not go with its brother whigs, who have contended for Mexico so manfully. Hear it.

"We have a strong belief, we say, that there will be no war. But if there is war, every other consideration must give way to that of defending and maintaining the country. It is the desire of every just man that our country should always be right; but it is not less the sentiment of patriotism that we must support the country in a war, right or wrong."

We take the following witty remark from the rat machine of this place, and hope the thing will make another attempt at wit.

"Monstrous hard work, brother Giles, to advocate BANK DESTRUCTION, HARD MONEY, and the SUB-TREASURY; and still harder to make the people believe they should be taxed to support a press."

The rat should not become any more insane upon the 'tax to support a press' than he now is, or his friends will have to take him into safe keeping.

The thing speaks of it being "hard work" to advocate the doctrine of "bank destruction, hard money and sub-treasury." We think it is still harder for a soft editor to advocate the doctrine of soft banking, such as has cursed our land and stranded the people out of their hard earnings; and then meeting with the opposition of his own party, and driven about as it may please them, like that which he is, [a thing unworthy the support of any party or person however corrupt.] If frequent removal denotes anything like a lack of support and hard work, then we think the Rat can testify from experience. In three years or thereabouts, he has removed three or four times, never remaining more than a year or so in any one place. Cranberries and fence rails, we suppose the soft editor, thinks are good currency; but he believes in occasionally removing the deposits!

One question and then we will await an answer. How many cranberries can you (thing of the rat office) pick in one Sabbath, provided you do not get chased!

THE DEMOCRACY OF WYANDOT.

We believe this little county will turn the bright side up, and Democracy triumph. Democrats, let us be up and doing, so that we may be able to give all inquiring friends, a pleasing report of our labor. You can see by the following letter with what anxiety the result of the election in our county is looked for abroad. Democrats, let the result be a glorious one.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Sept. 19, 1845.

FRIEND GILES:—I have received two numbers of the 'Democratic Pioneer,' and am much pleased with it; and I do hope it will meet with a liberal patronage from the Democracy of Wyandot. A democratic paper rightly conducted, cannot fail to be of immense benefit to the good cause in your county; and it is therefore, incumbent upon those who are anxious for the success of our party, to use their best endeavors to obtain for the 'Pioneer,' such a support as will render it an efficient advocate of republican principles. That it will be sustained in a respectable manner, I have no doubt.

The result of the coming election in Wyandot county is awaited for here with considerable anxiety. I assure you, when we heard that the Democrats had elected most of the county officers, we rejoiced exceedingly to think that the whigs had been so grievously disappointed. Cannot we expect to hear of your having achieved a more splendid victory this fall by electing all of your candidates by increased majorities? I think so. I think we can look to the result of the coming election in Wyandot with certainty; for when the people have once become acquainted with the many delinquencies of the last Legislature, they cannot again trust a party which has proved so recreant to the trust reposed in it. When they reflect upon the many measures passed by that Legislature which have the tendency of robbing labor of its reward—when they think of the intricate character and base provisions of the banking law—of the injustice of the tax law—of the unconstitutionality of the Registry law and the law amending the statute dividing the State into Congressional districts, and of the many other unjust acts not mentioned, they cannot be so regardless of the true interest of our State as to again place in the ascendancy a party which has shown itself to be the willing instrument of wealth in its endeavors to crush and reduce to the bonds of servitude, the laboring and producing classes of community. I have too much confidence in the intelligence and integrity of the mass to doubt for a moment but that they will, in the ensuing election, assert their disagreement to all laws which create an unjust inequality on account of wealth, or which would give to the few privileges of which the many are deprived; and thus believing, I shall rest easy about the result of the October election.

This has been a very sickly season in Columbus. Indeed, I have heard it said that there has been more sickness this summer and fall, than there has been for the last thirty years, saving the year of the cholera.

Our news market is barren, and I can therefore give you none.

Truly yours, W.

When will the whigs stop lying.

Every man who is acquainted with JOHN A. MORISON, knows the report that he is drunk, and is to be found most of the time in the groceries, to be utterly FALSE. He is sober and attentive to business, which fact every whig sustaining the character of a man, in this place will admit. When will men professing to be upright, leave off proclaiming that which they know to be without foundation.

We received the following letter, containing interrogatories about Mr. Morrison from a man purporting to be a whig, of whom we know nothing. For some time we were puzzled to know what to do with it, having no knowledge of such a man as Mr. Hill, we thought it was a bore, but upon inquiry, found that there was such a person, and believing him to be honest in his request, we freely give place to his letter. He says he sent a copy of the same to the other office, so that if the report was not true it might be corrected. As well might he send to the fountain head of all corruption to have a false report corrected as to send there.

SALEM TOWNSHIP, Sept, 1845

MR. GILES:—Although I differ with you in politics, I am under the necessity of asking you for some information through the columns of your paper. I wish you to publish the following letter, which I addressed some time since to the Editor of the Telegraph, and for some reason perhaps best known to himself, he refused to publish it. Now, sir, I do think that if he was strictly honest, he could not have refused to give some information. I wish him to give some reason why he refused information. I have labored long and hard in the cause of Whig principles; and I wish Mr. Shrenk to know that I do not wish to be treated with so much contempt, in as much as I am one of his subscribers.

The following is the letter which I addressed to Mr. Shrenk.

There is a report in circulation in the western part of the county, [and I thought I know all over the county,] that John A. Morison, the Recorder of this county, is a common drunkard; that he is to be found at all hours of the day and most of the night, in and around the grog shops in Upper Sandusky.

Now, if this report is true, the good people of this county ought to know it. For one, I do not believe that such a man ought to be supported for office. Supposing that you have every opportunity of knowing, I am induced to make these inquiries of you—that if true you should make it public through your paper, if not, then it ought to be as publicly contradicted. Though a staunch Whig, I do not want to be instrumental in circulating false reports against good men; and at the same time, I always like to tell the truth about men if they are not worthy. You will oblige me by making inquiry about this matter if not known to yourself, and make the matter known in your paper. A man should not complain if the truth is spoken of him.

ELIAS HILL.

Ever in the Memory of the People.

A meeting was held in Washington city for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of the venerable old soldier and patriot, Gen. ANDREW JACKSON, a man than whom none is more worthy a bright spot in the memory of our country. His deeds will never die so long as an American heart liveth.

The following proceedings of the meeting are taken from the U. S. Journal:

MONUMENT TO JACKSON.

Pursuant to public notice, a numerous and highly respectable meeting of the citizens of Washington favorable to erection, in this city, of a Colossal Equestrian Statue in honor of the memory of Andrew Jackson, assembled at the Apollo Hall, on Monday evening, the 15th of September, 1845.

The meeting was called to order by JAMES HOBAN, Esq., and, on motion, Gen. JOHN P. VAN NESS was unanimously called to the Chair, and after a few appropriate remarks by him, the Hon. AMOS KENDALL and JOHN BOYLE, Esq., were appointed Vice Presidents, and JAMES HOBAN and W. MAURY, Secretaries.

Mr. HOBAN offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the American people be called upon to unite in erecting at the seat of the Federal Government a suitable monument to the memory of the Hero, Patriot and Sage, whose recent loss the nation still deploras, to go down to our most distant posterity, as a record of the great man's glory, of his country's gratitude and grief.

Resolved, That a colossal equestrian Statue in imperishable bronze, is deemed the most suitable for the purpose; to transmit to future centuries the features and form on which the annals of the Republic will teach each new succeeding generation to look with an ever renewed love and reverence, and an ever renewing ambition to emulate his noble deeds and noble virtues.

Resolved, That for the purpose of raising, by voluntary subscription the requisite sum, a Central Committee of thirteen be appointed, which shall proceed forthwith to organize the necessary measures for the collection of such subscription; by whom a monthly publication of the same shall be made, and the money so securely invested; and

Resolved, That, as General Jackson's own most trusted and beloved friend, and the selected inheritor of his papers, and guardian of his fame, Francis P. Blair, be appointed Treasurer.

Resolved, That the following citizens constitute said committee of thirteen, with power to supply vacancies; and, after the completion of the subscription, to direct and superintend the execution of the proposed work:

Cave Johnson, Francis P. Blair, Thos. Ritchie, Amos Kendall, John P. Van Ness, John G. Rives, Wm. A. Harris, Jesse E. Dow, Benjamin B. French, John W. Maury, Charles K. Gardner, James Hoban, Claas P. Sengstack.

Which resolutions were read and enthusiastically adopted.

And the meeting adjourned.

JOHN P. VAN NESS, Pres.

AMOS KENDALL, V. President.

JOHN BOYLE, Secretaries.

James Hoban, John W. Maury, Secretaries.

We take this quotation from the whig organ of this place, and think it is a very appropriate appeal.

"If there are any who cannot walk, and who have no mode of conveyance of their own; furnish them with horses, or take them in your teams; bring up the lame the halt, the blind and the sick—every thing that goes against BANK DESTRUCTION, furnish them with a genuine ticket."

Such is the appeal of the soft editor, and we think it a good one; for none but "lame, halt, BLIND and sick, but what do go for the total destruction of such banks as this soft thing vindicates.

The thing says we are "crawling out" of what we said about him proposing to do the county printing. We again reiterate the same as before, and say he did propose to do the county printing in this, and we believe in two other counties, notwithstanding he says he "never at any TIME or PLACE" proposed to do it.

The rest of the "backing out" amounts to this, we have backed our assertion by printing it with the assertion of a whig.

The Rat calls us brother, we forbid this, as we have no Rat brother; and then the people might think we rob stores if we were a brother. Call it not again.

UNION AND HARMONY.

We copy the following from the York Gazette, it will suit other places as well as York. "Whenever it becomes a fixed impression among democrats that the only way to maintain an ascendancy of their principles is by adhering with ardor to their regular nominations—that a stern devotion to measures requires the sacrifice of men—and faltering in the cause which they contend for, is invariably treason to the party, then we may, with confidence rely upon having our principles fairly carried out, and our views properly represented. If we desire success, we must support the ticket as settled by the representatives of the democratic party, and discountenance every attempt to destroy our political organization.

"We all have our individual preferences as to men—we all have our particular preferences to promote, but at the same time we should be ready to sacrifice all personal feeling and unite for the success of the party, and the promotion of its chosen representatives. If this course is not pursued, defeat will be the certain result. We cannot all be gratified in our choice, and if we do not intend to yield to the voice of the majority—to the many—we may as well dispense with the delegate system, and suffer the party to sink in ruin. That the party can only exist through the system by which it is now governed is evident, and any democrat who would propose its abolition is worse than an open enemy, and should not be trusted. It is the main pillar of our support."

Illinois Wealth.—A new Furnace in Hardin county, has been started which is now producing lead from ore which yields 65 and 70 per cent, by a very rough process—some has yielded 80 per cent, by actual experiment. That whole section of country is one mass of mineral—and silver prevails in the lead at the rate of $30 per ton, which can be extracted by a process so cheap as to make the silver pay all expenses.

Appointments by the President.

William Crosby, of Ohio, as Consul for the port of Talcahuano, in Chili, in the place of Paul H. Delano, recalled.

Denis Prieur, Collector of the Customs for the District of New Orleans, Louisiana vice Thomas Barrett, removed.

Alexander Porter, as Marshal of the United States for the district of Delaware, in the place of John McClung, resigned.

The Gallows.—Carter and Parke, for the alleged murder in New Jersey in May, 1843, under circumstances the most appalling, of an old bachelor, John B. Parke, his sister, Mrs. Castner, her husband, John Castner, and an infant scarcely two years old, were hung on the 22d inst. at Belvidere, in presence of an immense auditory. They both were convicted on circumstantial evidence, but which was of the strongest character; to the moment of their swinging into eternity, they protested that they were innocent.

The Emancipated Slaves.—Judge Leigh John Randolph's Executor, is endeavoring to find a location for the slaves manumitted by the will of that eccentric man. A legacy of $25,000 is left to them. They do not wish to go to Liberia, and they cannot remain in Virginia. Judge L. is seeking a place in a free state, where they may be placed without danger of molestation from invidious laws or a still more invidious public feeling.

Seven Pirates to be Hanged.—The slave traders who rescued a prize from a British cruiser on the African coast, killing ten Englishmen, a few months ago, have been tried in England and condemned to death. They are natives of Spain and Portugal.

The following opinions were expressed by Washington in a letter to a Judge Boudinet. They are worthy of being printed in letters of gold.

"The free cultivation of letters—the unbounded extension of commerce—the progressive refinement of manners—the growing liberality of sentiment—and, above all, the pure and benign light of revelation, have had a meliorating influence on all mankind, and increased the blessings of society."

The following excellent hint we cut from the Richmond Star, every word of which we heartily endorse.

"Folks who don't like the way papers are edited, should ask leave to put in a specimen of the right sort. Any editor will give such persons a chance at any time. Every man who thinks it easy to edit a paper exactly right, and to universal acceptance, ought to try it. May he be would succeed; and if so, he would be better entitled to a reward than the discoverer of perpetual motion."

One of the most curious coincidences occurs in the vote of Davidson county, Tennessee. For three successive years the whig majority has varied but one vote—in 1843, it was 583; in 1844, 582; and now 583 again!

"O. K."—For a long time people puzzled their brains to discover the meaning of the cabalistic letters "O. K." Recent events, however, furnish a key to the mystery. What can they mean but for O. K. this, Kontonant—Oregon, California, Kanada, and Kuba.

Our Prospectus.

We have already sent forth one number of our paper to such as we knew where to send, and wish all persons holding a prospectus, containing any names, to attend to sending in the names, and where to be sent. We would like to have our subscription list much larger than it is. If EVERY DEMOCRAT will exert himself properly, we can have a good list.—Some of our friends have done nobly, and to such, certainly our warmest thanks are due and freely given. We ask, will you exert yourself in our behalf for a short period, Democrats? We will promise to try and make our paper worthy your support, and hope your support will be sufficient to move on. We are not complaining, for certainly we have been doing better than we expected we to have done in the time; yet much more can be done. Will you do it! Our paper can go free of postage to any post office within thirty miles of this place.

Corruption's worshippers always hate a free press: its voice is ever too potent against their evil deeds to meet their approbation. They would have the whole world night—dark as their own secret and cunning acts—with no sunlight to gladden the hearts of the millions!

MARRIED.

S. Picking's Hotel.

THE Brick building formerly kept by A. HAIN, at the southeast corner of the Public Square, Bucyrus, Ohio. This commodious establishment, located in the centre of the business part of the town, and in the immediate vicinity of the public buildings, has been fitted up in good style, and is decidedly the most desirable resting place to be found for travellers and those visiting the town on business. This great advantage of position has encouraged the subscriber to make permanent arrangements for the convenience and comfort of his guests, which places this establishment in advance of all competition.

The undivided attention of the subscriber will be devoted to his business. His prices are graduated to suit the times.—No exertion or expense shall be omitted to secure ample provision for all the necessary and proper accommodations of his customers.

He would embrace this occasion to extend a general invitation to the old friends and patrons with whom he formed acquaintance while occupying the Eagle house in Bucyrus, to call and see him at his new stand.

PROSPECTUS

FOR THE Democratic Pioneer.

Now Published in Upper Sandusky.

THE undersigned, believing it to be for the welfare and better organization of the Democratic party, is desirous of publishing a paper in the above named place, which in politics will be thoroughly Democratic; while at the same time much other interesting matter will appear in it. It will be published every week, and as far as possible, contain the latest intelligence.

In taking the responsibility of publishing a paper, practice has made it necessary to give an avowal of the principles by which it will be governed, and in so doing, it is deemed sufficient when we say: it will be devoted to principles which guarantee to every man, equal protection, equal privileges, and universal liberty,—holding the doctrine that all men are alike worthy of protection, so long as the doctrine of freedom and equality are professed to be the governing principles of our happy land—without distinction between rich or poor. Believing such were not the governing principles of the majority in our State Legislature last winter, we shall be found battling against all such men and measures.

It is the intention of the editor to be perfectly free and uncontrolled by any man or set of men; and always willing to receive the counsel of such as are desirous of promoting the good cause for which it is published to vindicate, as the advice of many is more likely to be correct than the few.

The full design being, to print a sheet truly and wholly Democratic, we not only take our own opinion, but also the opinions of the illustrious who have promulgated Democratic principles from the earliest dawn of our republican government.

The mechanical branch of the paper will be most carefully executed.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: The paper will be published weekly, per year, if paid in advance, at ... $2 00 If not paid till the expiration, ... 2 50 For six months, if paid in advance, ... 1 00 At the expiration of six months, ... 1 50

The above terms will be required, unless the publisher sees fit to make other arrangements. Every Democrat in Wyandot and surrounding country, is constituted an agent, to get at least one good subscriber.

W. T. GILES. September, 5th, 1845.

Names. Post Office.

Administration Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that the subscriber has been appointed and qualified as Administrator on the estate of George Miller, late of Wyandot county, Ohio, deceased. Dated this 3d day of September, 1845. JAMES L. HARPER.

NEW GROCERY AND BAKERY.

THE subscribers would respectfully announce to the citizens of Upper Sandusky, and surrounding country, that they have opened a in the above named place, one door south of Kirby's Hotel, where they may at all times be found, ready, able and willing to sell Groceries as cheap as the cheapest.—Among their assortment may be found, Coffee, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Powder, Shot, Lead, Confectionaries, Bread, &c., &c., and all other articles generally kept in a retail Grocery. They labor strictly attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

NOW IN PRESS, Another New Illustrated Work!

TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE, BY CHARLES AND MISS LAMB.

THIS celebrated work has already passed through eighty successful editions in London, and is shortly to be issued here in a very superior style, with an ornamental initial letter to each story; the narrative to be embellished with elegant engravings, (from the Illustrated Shakespeare), and the pages surrounded with beautiful fancy colored borders. Charles Lamb and his sister are well known in the literary world as accomplished writers; and long may they be remembered for having reduced to plain prose, so far as practice, the beautiful stories of Winter Night's Tale. Midsummer Night's Dream. Much Ado about Nothing. As you like it. The Two Gentlemen of Verona. The Merchant of Venice. Cymbeline. King Lear. Macbeth. All's Well that Ends Well. The Taming of the Shrew. The Comedy of Errors. Measure for Measure. Twelfth Night, or What you Will. Timon of Athens. Romeo and Juliet. Hamlet, Prince of Denmark. Othello. Pericles Prince of Tyre.

The key to Shakespeare would have been a more expressive and truth-telling title for this valuable work; for no person can read any one of these interesting tales without at once realizing that he understands and fishes better than he has ever done before the beauties of "the great author," the "world's Poet," "the bard of Avon," "the immortal Shakespeare, who wrote not for a day, but for all time. Each number will contain the story of one play. Price twelve and a half cts.
