

NEW SERIES OF THE
Congressional Globe and Appendix.
TO BE STEREOTYPED.

The undersigned originated the mode of Journalizing the proceedings of Congress, which presented them entire. Their publication was the first and only one that gave each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all the debates; every important vote; and an Appendix, including at full length all the revised speeches delivered during the session. The work thus conducted by them is a most perfect political history.—The Senators from the States and the Representatives from every section of the Union bring with them into Congress a knowledge of the feelings, sentiments, and interests of their several constituencies. Public opinion and the public information, as it exists among those they represent, are embodied by them; and in the crucible of Congress the wisdom of our times is brought to its test, and is there concentrated, in directing the political movements of the whole country. The impulses thus given through Congress from every quarter react upon the nation as a whole, and all its component parts are made to move in co-operation. The press cannot be more usefully employed than in condensing and again spreading abroad the intelligence of our free country, tending to such happy results through our almost miraculously adjusted State and National institutions.

Having identified ourselves with the plan of advancing the usefulness of Congress by publishing full and impartial reports, and having a large mass of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, issued during the last ten years, which would be impaired in value to us and utility to the public if the work were discontinued, we have a double motive to prompt us to extend it through a new series. We are resolved if possible to give it permanence, and to hand it down to successors as a standard work, worthy of being maintained and improved. We shall enter upon our new undertaking without being distracted or burdened by any associate labors of the press; and, thus unencumbered, shall hope to make the new series a step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one or the other) always in attendance in Congress—will compare the manuscript of our reporters with the daily reports of the city papers—correct all by our own observation and knowledge of the proceedings; and in important matters, where that will not assure us of the fidelity of the reports, we will procure the aid of the members themselves, to obtain the exact scope of their remarks. The work, thus authenticated, will be stereotyped, which is a guaranty that we will make it as perfect as it is possible for us to make it, as we would not incur the expense of stereotyping it, if we did not feel confident of its superiority over all works of the kind which have ever been or are likely to be published. Stereotyping the work will enable us to supply lost or mutilated numbers, which we will do, without making any charge for them.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress. The speeches of the members are condensed, to bring them into a readable length. All the resolutions offered, or motions made, are given in the mover's own words; and the yeas and nays on all the important questions. It is printed with small type—breviter and nonpareil—on a double royal sheet, in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages.

The Appendix is made up of the President's annual message, the reports of the principal officers of the Government that accompany it, and all the long speeches of members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually make the same number of pages.

We print the numbers as fast as the proceedings of Congress furnish enough matter for number. During the first month or six weeks of a session, there is rarely more business done than will make one number of the Congressional Globe and one number of the Appendix a week; but during the remainder of a session there is usually sufficient matter for two or three numbers of each every week. The next session will be a long one, and it is supposed will be unusually interesting; therefore, we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix will each make near one thousand large quarto pages, printed in small type—breviter and nonpareil.—We furnish complete indexes to both at the end of the session.

We have on hand the Congressional Globe and Appendix for the last twelve sessions of Congress, of which five were long and seven were short sessions. The Congressional Globe and Appendix for each session are bound together in excellent binding, with Russia backs and corners. Our prices for them, thus bound together, are $3 a volume for a short, and $5 a volume for a long session, making $46 for a full set. Those who want the back volumes should apply for them immediately, as they are in demand. The last Congress subscribed for two hundred and twenty-six sets; and it is probable that the next will subscribe for at least as many more, as the proceedings of Congress for the last eight years cannot be procured from any other source, Gales & Seaton having stopped printing their Register of Debates in 1837. A few hundred copies of the first volume is all we have on hand.

The next session of Congress will be a long one, and, therefore, the Congressional Globe and Appendix should be $2 for the session, which is the price we charge for the unbound numbers of the past long sessions; but we have concluded to reduce the price, as follows, until the first day of next January; after which time the Congressional Globe and Appendix will each be $2 for the session, and no deduction will be made on account of the number of copies taken.

TERMS.

For one copy of the Con. Globe $1 50
For one copy of the Appendix 1 50
For 4 copies of either or part of both 5 00
For 25 cop. of either or part of both 25 00
The money may be remitted by mail at our risk. It should be here by the 7th of December, at farthest, to procure all the numbers promptly.
Proprietors of newspapers who copy this Prospectus, and send to us one copy of their paper, containing it, shall have their names entered on our books for one copy of the Congressional globe and Appendix during the session.

Our prices for these papers are so low that we cannot afford to trust them out; therefore, no person need consume his time in writing for them and not sending the money.

UNITED STATES SATURDAY POST.

New Volume, New Type, Old Friendships, and New Attractions.

The publishers of the United States Saturday Post feel constrained to make a gain their acknowledgements to the reading public for the liberal support which their paper receives. To show that they are not unmindful of the return which such patronage requires, it would be entirely sufficient to refer the reader to the established character of the Fireside Friend, which is pre-eminently the designation of this paper. As a newspaper, dependent upon public patronage, "grows by what it feeds on," the publishers flatter themselves that the Post has increased in interest and value, with the steady and gratifying support which has been accorded to it, for a period of a quarter of a century. In this time, which has served for the life and death of whole generations of periodicals, and the rise, meridian and decline of many a rival, the Post has kept the even tenor of its way, by its own intrinsic health and strength—now following, oftener leading the public taste, but not departing from its independence to minister to the transient newspaper follies, which, compared to the Post, are indeed ephemeral. We shall continue in this path, endeavoring, in the News Department, to present the latest and best authenticated intelligence, divested of party hue and interested bias, and resting solely on the basis of truth, as far as it is ascertainable. We endeavor to select and publish intelligence of value and importance to citizens engaged in all the three great interests, Agriculture, Commerce and Manufactures. In political intelligence we recognize only one party; and that is our country—our whole country. We know no sectional interest in our patriotism, no party lines in our politics, no sectarianism in our religion, but print and publish, "the greatest good of the greatest number."

To give the Saturday Post an importance beyond that temporary one which it derives from being the record of current events, and to make it acceptable to the family circle, we give to its columns the character of a weekly magazine, embracing Original Tales and Sketches, Original Verse and Essays, History and Historical Biography and Legends, Science and Statistics, Revolutionary Annals, Moral Tales and Traits of Character, Original Comments on Notables, wit and Humor; in a word, such a variety of matter as, (our own country first remembered,) the whole literature of the world may offer. The original translations from European Literature which have from time to time appeared in this journal, are referred to as an earnest that we have spared no pains to make the Post truly cosmopolitan in the Great Republic of Letters.

Volume twenty-seventh, upon which we are about to enter, will appear in new type, and with such other improvements and advantages as experience may suggest. To repeat the words of a former prospectus, our motto is still Excelsior. Among the oldest papers on the continent, and possessed of all the advantages which long accumulated facilities afford, the conductors blend with these peculiar advantages, (not to be acquired in a day) all the advantages which each successive year presents to their notice, and all the changes for the better which occur to men intent on doing well by a reading public which has always done well for the United States Saturday Post.

PROSPECTUS OF THE United States Journal

BY JESSE E. DOW & Co.

THE first number of our new paper will be issued this (first) day of May, with an entire new dress—new type, fine white paper, with other important alterations and improvements. The paper will be devoted to a fearless exposition of Democratic principles; it will zealously and unremittently oppose each and every effort to establish a mammoth monarchy bank and other mischievous corporations and consolidations of wealth, which subvert the rights of the people and undermine the pillars of the Republic; it will oppose an oppressive and anti-republican tariff system, the assumption of the State debts by the General Government, and all other Federal principles which have an inevitable tendency to destroy public prosperity as well as individual happiness.—Against all such political delusions, we shall wage unchanging, uncompromising war.

The FARMER and the MECHANIC who produce all the real capital of the nation, will find in our paper an unwavering champion of their inalienable rights; the long cherished principles of the editors are too well known to the public to require any pledge upon this point. To the Miscellaneous Department particular attention will be devoted; the Ladies will always find in our columns a choice selection from the current literature of the day, as well as original contributions from the most talented writers of which our country can boast. A general summary of Foreign and Domestic news will be furnished; a regular price current and a correct list of the prices of stocks will also be given.

The conductors have already secured the aid and co-operation of a large number of the most distinguished literary and political writers of the day, arrangements will also be made, at the earliest period possible, to embellish our columns by the contributions of correspondents from abroad. With this brief and imperfect outline of our plan, we very respectfully submit our claims to an extensive patronage to the consideration of a generous public.

PROSPECTUS

FOR THE

Democratic Pioneer,

Now Published in Upper Sandusky,

THE undersigned, believing it to be for the welfare and better organization of the Democratic party, is desirous of publishing a paper in the above named place, which in politics, will be thoroughly Democratic; while at the same time much other interesting matter will appear in it. It will be published every week, and as far as possible, contain the latest intelligence.

In taking the responsibility of publishing a paper, practice has made it necessary to give an avowal of the principles by which it will be governed, and in so doing, it is deemed sufficient when we say: it will be devoted to principles which guarantee to every man, equal protection, equal privileges, and universal liberty,—holding the doctrine that all men are alike worthy of protection, so long as the doctrine of freedom and equality are professed to be the governing principles of our happy land—without distinction between rich or poor. Believing such were not the governing principles of the majority in our State Legislature last winter, we shall be found battling against all such men and measures.

It is the intention of the editor to be perfectly free and uncontrolled by any man or set of men; and always willing to receive the counsel of such as are desirous of promoting the good cause for which it is published to vindicate, as the advice of many is more likely to be correct than the few.

The full desire being, to print a sheet truly and wholly Democratic, we not only take our own opinion, but also the opinions of the illustrious who have promulgated Democratic principles from the earliest dawn of our republican government.

The mechanical branch of the paper will be neatly executed.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: The paper will be published weekly, per year, if paid in advance, at... $2 00
If not paid till the expiration, . . . . . 2 50
For six months, if paid in advance, . . . 1 00
If at the expiration of six months, . . . 1 50

The above terms will be required, unless the publisher sees fit to make other arrangements.

Every Democrat in Wyandott and surrounding country, is constituted an agent, to get at least one good subscriber.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Ohio Statesman.

SESSION PAPER FOR 1845-6.

The undersigned give notice that the Ohio Statesman, for the Legislative Session, will be issued, as in former years. Full and accurate reports of Legislative proceedings will be published. The best Reporters that we can procure will be engaged, and no party bias will be allowed to enter into our columns to be devoted to the history of the Legislature. Every exertion will be made to give full and accurate accounts of the doings of the People's Representatives. Upon the importance of the action of the next Legislature, is not necessary for us to enlarge.—The result of the late election has not decreased, but rather increased, the probability that that action will be more momentous than that of any other year.

In addition to the proceedings of the Legislature, and the general news of the times, we shall have a regular correspondent at Washington, to advise us of the doings of Congress. The proceedings of the approaching Democratic Eighth of January Convention, will also appear, in full, in the columns of the session, as well as the yearly Statesman, which will evidently, be of the highest interest to the Democratic party of the state.

Any person who will procure six subscribers, and inform us of the direction of his paper, shall have a copy sent him for his trouble.

Persons receiving a prospectus, who cannot make use of it themselves, will please hand it to another.

Terms of Session Paper.

The STATESMAN will be issued Daily, Tri-Weekly, Semi-Weekly and Weekly.

Tri-Weekly, - - - - - 1 50

Weekly, - - - - - 50

The amount paid, and set opposite the subscriber's name, will designate which paper is desired.

The Semi-Weekly will contain all the matter of the Daily and Tri-Weekly—the Weekly will contain the full reports of the Legislature—proceedings of the Eighth of January Convention, Congressional, &c., but not all the miscellaneous reading, news, &c.

All payments to be made in advance.

TERMS OF THE STATESMAN BY THE YEAR.

As some may desire to subscribe for a longer period than the session, we also insert the terms for the Statesman by the year, viz:

The Statesman is published daily during the session of the Legislature, and try-weekly the balance of the year at... $600
Semi-weekly during the session of the Legislature, and weekly during the balance of the year at... 3 00

CONGRESSIONAL JOURNAL.

The editors of the United States Journal propose to commence with the next session of Congress, a weekly publication under the above title, to continue through the whole session, at the unprecedented low price of one Dollar to each subscriber. It will contain a faithful and important record of both Houses of Congress, the gist of all the important speeches which may be delivered, &c. &c. The most competent reporters will be employed, and nothing shall prevent it being made worthy of the patronage of the public generally. The Journal will endeavor, in its records, to do justice to both parties; it will feel allowed to patronize the publication. It being the long session, as it is called, the volume will contain at least 500 pages; each number will contain sixteen pages of solid matter, which will enable the publishers to give all the proceedings worthy of being preserved in book form, for binding and future reference. The exceedingly low terms will place it within the reach of all; the publishers hope that their friends will use their exertions in obtaining subscribers.
