Accidents.

Joseph Bourie had a foot badly mashed at the salt well Wednesday afternoon. They were engaged putting down eight inch iron tubing, and had seven lengths nearly down when it struck and could not be forced down. They commenced putting on the eighth piece of tubing and had it just fairly entered when all at once the tubing dropped suddenly and an iron clamp which was fastened around the tubing caught Mr. Bourie's foot, mashing it very seriously; the whole weight of the tubing, considerably over a ton, dropping some eight or ten inches. Mr. Bourie showed remarkable fortitude, for not withstanding the intense pain, he bore it manfully while they removed the upper piece of tubing, and shifted the rope so as to lift the weight of his foot and relieve it. He even assisted them to adjust the rope. The accident was a very unfortunate one, as the disabled man has wife and four children to support, and was entirely dependent upon his days labor. He is a steady hard working man, and is deserving of the substantial sympathy of our citizens.

The same afternoon Octave Paquette, employed at the water mill, had a thumb dislocated and badly bruised, by a heavy plank falling upon it. Drs. Perrin rendered surgical aid in both the above cases. Mr. Paquette will be around all right in a few days, but Mr. Bourie is seriously disabled and it will be some time before he will be able to work.

Allis Correspondence.

Allis, July, 24th, 1882.

Our quiet little settlement is bereft by the loss of two beautiful babes by the hand of death: one from the family of John Balonzie—an only child, aged fourteen months; the other from the family of Royal J. Taylor. Mr. Taylor was at Rogers City on the building committee of the Court House, but, having been sent for, reached home the day before his child died. The neighbors sympathize with the parents in their affliction. The funeral of the first was conducted by your correspondent, and that of the latter by Rev. L. P. Aiken.

The Fire Company held a meeting Friday evening but a quorum not being present no business was transacted.

There will be Quarterly Meeting service at the M. E. church, in Cheboygan, on Sunday, August 6th. Rev. L. P. Davis of West Bay City will officiate.

The River and Harbor bill, as amended by the last conference committee, has passed both houses, and appropriates $18,743,875. Cheboygan gets $10,000.

Rev. W. M. Campbell came over from Bay View, via Mackinac, this morning, and will hold service in the Methodist church to-morrow at the usual hours, morning and evening.

Deputy County Surveyor Douglass has just completed a survey of the corporation line on the east side of Cheboygan, and it is the intention to open, grade and properly ditch the same for highway purposes.

Robert Patterson has just platted his fourth addition to the village of Cheboygan. It is on the east side of the river, and from present indications will soon be the scene of active building operations.

Death came and claimed for its own the youngest child of Mr. Jas. Conrad, at Mackinaw City Thursday. The remains were brought down here, and the funeral service took place from the residence of Rev. H. A. Conrad yesterday.

Property immediately on the east side of the corporation is being rapidly improved. About seventy-five acres have been chopped and ready to burn by Messrs. Gallagher, Gerow and Sutherland, who each own adjoining tracts. If this example was followed by other property owners in that neighborhood the surroundings of our town would be in harmony with the many improvements going on in the corporation.

Some time since we gave an order for a new supply of print paper, and it was to have been shipped, according to agreement, July 15th, but was not. By telegraphing, we learn it is on the way now, but will not reach us in time for this issue, and consequently we have to ask the indulgence of our readers and advertising patrons for the brevity of this number. Much matter in type we are obliged to leave out for want of room.

Last week Stanislaus Treban, of Munroe township, was arrested by an officer from Petoskey, for stealing a steer in that county, but he proved before a jury that although he took the steer it was under the impression that it was his own, and they accordingly acquitted him. The rumor got about that it was a case of kidnapping on the part of Emmett county officials, but such was not the case as they had papers for his arrest.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: Hereafter Mackinaw will be the summer headquarters of the Chicago Yacht Club fleet, and it is possible that a club house may be erected there. The fleet will start on a day early enough to allow a stay there during the last two weeks of August. The sail up will be a race for a $500 cup. The cruise of the Chicago Yacht Club to Mackinaw will take place during the first week in August, the fleet spending about two weeks in cruising around that point. The yachts so far announced to take part in the cruise are the Viking, Countess, Idler, Cora, Ariel, and Burke.

Teachers' Institute.

The Hon. Superintendent of Public Instruction has appointed the week beginning August 21st as the time for holding the Institute of this county. Prominent educators of the state have been appointed to take charge. The proceedings will consist of a series of lectures upon the work of the teacher in all its phases. During the session, two or more special addresses will be delivered, to which the general public are cordially invited.

The Superintendent expresses his earnest desire that all teachers, School Officers, and patrons generally shall give a hearty support to the work of the Institute, and manifest their interest in the advancement of education by a large and prompt attendance.

The Institute will be held in the Union Graded School. Rooms and board for members from a distance will be secured for them at reduced rates.

He Surprised His Father.

A Connecticut man is never happy unless he is inventing something. Even the children have a fancy for the business. Last summer a Connecticut farmer's boy visited Barnum's circus and saw the catapult. It suggested to him a tramp-bouncer to be set under a man's door-step, and he at once went to work to build one. As he wanted to surprise his father, he kept the matter a secret, and worked like a beaver up in the hay-loft of the great barn, building the machine. Finally he got it done. It was a magnificent machine, worked by a spring capable of throwing one hundred and fifty pounds a distance of thirty feet. This machine he buried in the hay until he should be ready to test it.

Something possessed his father's hired man to go up on that hayloft the next day, and he contrived to get right on the foot-board of the machine, and was slung whirling across the barn into a half-filled bay of hay on the opposite side. Alighting on the hay saved him from serious injury, but not from surprise. He didn't expect any such experience, and was not at all pleased with it. Neither did he understand it; and as five hundred dollars wouldn't have induced him to go on that hayloft again, he did not find out what threw him, and fear of ridicule prevented his mentioning it.

That night two tramps tried to sleep in that hayloft, and gave it up as a bad job, after a sad experience. They had crawled into the hay, and were getting themselves fixed, when one got afool of the machine, and immediately his companion heard a whizz, a wild yell, and then calls for help from the other side of the barn. He arose to go to his companion, and got there quicker than he expected. He found his friend very curious to know what tossed him, and somewhat scared. The way those tramps fled from that barn was a caution.

The next day, when all the folks were away on a visit, the lad got the machine down and set it under the front door-step. Temporarily, he attached the wire that set it going to the door-bell. When the folks returned, they all stood on the door-step and the old man rang to be let in. With so much weight the machine couldn't throw 'em far, but it rose up enough to dump 'em. The old man was the first to get up. He sprang once more on the step and rang violently.

He wasn't a very big man, and it did seem as though the Lord had put that big snow-drift there, forty feet away, just on purpose to catch him. They got him out, and, filled with terror, went in the back way. There they told the story, and the boy explained, and the old man ran him out and stood him on the machine six times, and he butted that snow-drift all to pieces. He will not patent the machine, believing that it is too cruel a thing for these enlightened days.

The losses by fire in the United States and Canada for the first six months of the present year are estimated at the enormous sum of $47,700,000.

Germany is groaning under the burden of taxation. An artillery captain wrote an article showing that military pomp and display of troops could be abolished at a saving of millions, and he went to jail quick'n a wink.
