

NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1882.

Alex S. McDonald has so far recovered that he is able to walk about this week.

Two street hawkers sold their wares on the street Saturday night and didn't get "egged." They were the first that have escaped for some time.

Captains of crafts coming down report that they can see the electric light at W. S. Smith's mill for miles up the straits as distinctly as if only a few rods distant.

The need of a street-sprinkler was strongly felt this week. Our merchants could well afford to pay one for working rather than have the dust fly as it has this week.

Messrs. Moore and Grant have the frame up for their new ship chandlery store, and will soon have it done and ready for business. It is 25x75 and two stories high.

The Merry Makers returned from their trip to the "Soo," and advertised to appear at the Opera House Tuesday night, but on account of the small attendance they did not play.

Shipping huckleberries at Indian river is quite a business this season. Mr. Martin informs us that he pays out daily for them about $200. They are brought in mostly by Indians.

The moonlight excursion to Spectacle Reef by the ladies of St. James' church, Tuesday evening, was well attended, 218 tickets being sold, and all expressed themselves as having had a good time.

Swimming is all the rage at present among the small boys. Their principal place is off the new dock running out from Huron street, which isn't quite as exposed as off the main dock which they used to occupy.

McIntyre & Reid's delivery horse got frightened at something on the street, Monday, and, breaking loose from the wagon, went down Main street at a lively rate, dragging the seat to which the reins were attached.

A sort of a one-horse circus opened up here Monday, and advertised to remain all the week; but a small attendance of people and a large presence of ripe eggs changed their minds, and they silently stole away Tuesday night.

The Band boys give an excursion and basket picnic to Macinac Island, to-morrow, on the steamer Dove. The boat leaves here at 10 o'clock, arrives there about 11, remaining until 4, thus giving all plenty of time to see the sights.

The chairman of the township boards of school inspectors are required by law to meet at the office of the county clerk on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of electing a county school examiner in the place of Thos. Bentley whose term expires.

Chas. S. Hampton, editor of the Harbor Springs Independent delivered a speech at the Opera House Wednesday evening on the principles of Greenbackism. The attendance was not very large but his address is favorably spoken of by those who were in attendance.

It has been thought that Mr. McKenzie had charge of putting in the pumps and connections at the water works, but the men who always means what he says, state that Mr. Walker, the inventor is the man. This will doubtless be a surprise to Mr. Walker, who we do not believe knows he is here.

The marble works of Fehnan & Wedge is a pretty busy place at present. They are cutting and fitting all the stone for Fexer's, Paquette's and Post & Van Arsdale's new blocks. Mr. Fehnan has just finished a monument for Jos. Butts that is a beauty, and consists of seven different pieces.

A. P. Newton, we have no doubt, was somewhat surprised to learn from our contemporary that he was in Detroit last week, arranging for a steam pump for the tug J. W. Bennett. As the pump has been here for several weeks, this shows remarkable enterprise for our neighbor in gathering news.

The St. Ignace Spy says their club will soon issue a challenge to the Eureka here, and at the same time tries to intimidate our boys by informing them that the best playing talent they ever had ain't here now. Well, bring over your fly ones, and you will be apt to find enough left to at least keep the Saints interested.

A movement to establish a new summer resort is thus noted in the Kalamazoo Telegraph of the 25th: "Judge Wells, F. B. Stockbridge, W. H. McCourtie, of this place, and W. J. Stewart of Grand Rapids, leave for Mackinaw this evening. Their present purpose is to carry out a scheme which has been perfected for the securing of land, the forming of a company and the erection of some 20 cottages. Parties in Washington are also interested in this project, and its fulfillment will soon be accomplished."

Mr. Thos. Richardson left a pair of fine cherries at our office this week. They were beauties.

Attention is called to the call for a Republican county convention, which is published in another place to-day.

Since the races here, Bay City or Alpena papers haven't chirruped once about the superiority of their horseflesh.

Potatoes have dropped in price a little. They now sell for $1.50 per bushel. Tomatoes retail for 8 cents per pound.

The band is making preparation for a moonlight excursion to Spectacle Reef next week, at which the dance will be free.

About an inch and a half of water fell last Thursday. It was pretty tough on farmers who had hay down, but it helped the growing crops amazingly.

Robert Bannatyne, who has been with Jas. F. Moloney & Bro. for some time, is now book keeper for Smith & Adams, having been engaged by them Wednesday.

A man walking up Main street the other day took the middle of the street. Why? Why, he came from St. Ignace and was afraid the sidewalks would blister his feet.

Somebody has lost a pocketbook containing a note, some change, and a railroad ticket. The owner can have the same by calling, paying charges, and proving property.

A change of time-table on the M. C. R. R. took effect this week. The north bound train arrives about forty minutes later, and the south bound about that much earlier. This arrangement does not bring the mail at quite as convenient a season for our business men as it did.

Yes, that little, hot, and dusty fishing hamlet of St. Ignace is a lively town. We hear of three fellows going into a restaurant for three lemonades, and it only took the proprietor half an hour to get them ready. That is in proportion to the way all business is done.

Some roughs stole about $80 from an Indian Thursday and that night the officers arrested one fellow who after getting in the lock-up confessed the crime and implicated four others who had a hearing before a justice yesterday. They all plead not guilty and were marched back to jail and will be brought up again this afternoon.
