NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1882.

□ Smyth & Co., the enterprising jewelers and stationers, come out with a new advertisement this week.

Fexer's holiday announcement contains a vast amount of information. It can be found in another column.

O. M. Clement, the boot and shoe dealer, will have an interesting advertisement in next week's issue. Look out for it.

Charles Southam did the inside painting of Post & Van Arsdale's new store room and it shows forth his handy work, in other words "It speaks for itself."

Read the new advertisement of L. P. Limpert in this issue. Mr. Limpert has a very fine stock of watches, jewelry, &c., which will well repay any one to examine.

The railroad trains are still way off of time notwithstanding the persistent effort to keep the track clear with snow plows, the immense snow drifts between Cheboygan and Standish makes difficult work.

So far 25 inches of snow is the amount of the "beautiful" this section has been favored with. South of us they have had a much greater quantity. Last Saturday at the foot of Black Lake it was twenty-eight inches deep on the level.

We acknowledge the receipt, from the bereaved family, of a copy of a neat memorial of the late W. S. George. It contains a brief but very interesting biographical sketch, which originally appeared in the Lansing Republican, and numerous tributes to the memory of the deceased from the press of the state.

During the season of 1882 the steamer City of Cleveland made 66 round trips from Detroit to St. Ignace, traveling 50,820 miles from April 17th to December 3d. She burned 5,200 tons of coal, and her wheel turned 1,140,000 times. Her crew numbered 56. Her trips were made with remarkable regularity, and her popular officers did much to win favor with the public.

We are glad to state that the work of sinking the test salt well is progressing more favorably than it has for months past. They are now down to a depth of 775 feet and the rock has changed to a much more favorable character and is standing up well, with every indication that it will continue to do so. The depth now reached is considerably deeper than that attained at the former attempt, when it was abandoned. Those in charge feel confident that their greatest trouble is over. Should this prove to be the case, it will not take many weeks to decide as to whether salt can be obtained or not.

W. G. Boggs expects to receive a carload of family groceries to-day, which will be offered for sale at the old Becker stand, first door north of the post-office.

The New Line.

The Detroit Dry-Dock Company has contracted to build a propeller for the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad Company, which will be the first of a line of large propellers to run in connection with the railroad between Ogdensburg and Chicago through the new Welland Canal. The new propeller will be a double-decker 242 feet in length over all, 36 feet beam, 13 feet hold, and 8 feet between decks. Her machinery will consist of a fore and aft compound engine with cylinders 27 and 44 by 40, which will be supplied with steam from two steel boilers 8 feet shell by 16 feet in length, capable of sustaining a working pressure of 110 pounds to the square inch. In general appearance the boat will resemble the J. C. Gault, of the Wabash Line, and will be fitted with gangways for rolling freight. She will be so constructed as to carry 40,000 bushels of corn through the Welland Canal. Work on her will be commenced at once, and she will be out ready for business in May and June next. She will cost over $100,000. A new feature in ship building will be introduced in this boat in the way of an iron shelf. This shelf will extend over the frames, and be attached by angle iron to the iron strap which passes around the ship under the plank sheer. This arrangement will lighten the boat considerably and at the same time be very strong. She will be iron-stepped and finished in the most substantial manner possible. It is quite probable that several other steamers for the line will be built for the season of 1884.—Detroit Free Press.

What a Former Invalid Said.

"I suffered for years from an exhaustive weakness, and was fast approaching consumption. I felt that insanity and a premature grave was inevitable; but thanks to Brown's Iron Bitters, I am again restored to perfect health of mind and body." If you, too, are ill, may not this remedy restore your health?
