Masonic Installation.

The exercises connected with the dedication and installation services of the Masonic Hall took place on Monday evening last. A very select audience assembled by special invitation, which with the members of the Lodge, filled the large and elegant rooms belonging to the order. Deputy District Grand Master Clarke, who is also Grand Lecturer of the order for the state of Michigan, was present, and was assisted by the retiring Master of the Lodge, Mr. Bell, in the ceremonies of the installation of the newly elected officers whose names are:

W. M.—G. G. Wharton.
S. W.—W. G. Boggs.
J. W.—E. O. Penny.
Sec.—J. P. Sutton.
Treas.—J. B. McArthur.
S. D.—B. H. Bogale.
J. D.—W. H. Daly.
Stewards—W. C. Whiting and John B. Adams.
Tyler.—H. H. Kezar.

The dedicatory exercises, followed by the address of Mr. Clarke were very interesting and impressive. Mr. Clarke is a gentleman of culture and refinement. His address was a very able and eloquent one, and was listened to with the most profound attention by all present.

The supper following, in the parlors adjoining, was furnished by Mrs. Jewell, deservedly popular for her taste and skill in all matters of that kind. The tables were not only elegantly arranged, but most bountifully supplied with all the good things of the season of which all partook with evident satisfaction.

After partaking of the superb supper, a number of the more youthful members and some of the invited guests remained for a participation in the pleasures of the "light fantastic." Every person seemed delighted with the dedicatory exercises, and especially so with Mr. Clarke's very able and eloquent address.

A Reminiscence.

A friend from Mackinac tells the following: Many years ago when a number of articles, (whiskey included) were cheap a certain gentleman who was, then, engaged in business on the island of Mackinac, thought he might, perhaps, increase his trade by dealing out a small quantity of the fire water to Mr. and Mrs. "Lo" who were quite numerous in this region at that time. Acting on this idea that his fortune could be thus materially augmented he went to the store of a prominent firm and bought a barrel of whiskey. It was then winter and good freezing weather. As the barrel was being rolled out, he asked the junior partner, whom we will call Ruben, in a whisper, "Rube, how much water will this bear?" Rube, with a knowing wink, and a twinkle in his eye, replied: "Bout half." So our friend had the barrel carted to his shop, placed in a back shed, and quietly proceeded to make one, two, by adding the due proportion of harmless lake water. The night was very cold. On the following morning, when poor "Lo" came around to trade and squander his ducats, just paid out by the U. S. Indian agent, our neophyte proceeded to draw the costly "nectar" when lo! to his astonishment, the juice refused to penetrate through the orifice of faucet and spigot; in other words it had congealed under the influence of "Jack Frost."

He returned to the store where he had made the purchase the day before, and said: "Rube, I thought you told me that whisky would bear one-half water." Rube replied: "So I did." Our neophyte then said, in a troubled way: "I watered mine one-half, and it froze." And Rube retorted: "You—fool, I watered that whisky myself, before I sold it to you!"

Election of Church Officers.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church and Society was held last Tuesday evening, at which time the following officers were elected:
Deacon—Geo. E. Frost.
Treasurer—Edward O. Penny.
Clerk—William Vanderbilt.
Trustee, full term.—H. A. Blake.
"to fill vacancy, 1 year, T. T. Van Arsdale.
Trustee to fill vacancy 2 years, Geo. E. Frost.

Married.

On New Year's day at the Methodist Episcopal Parsonage by Rev. W. M. Campbell, Mr. John H. Riggs to Miss. Adelaide McCallum, all of Cheboygan.

Old Time.

For THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

MR. EDITOR: Have you ever taken time to think what a very "old codger" Time is? When the mud sills of this universe were laid, the old fellow was there; not to "boss the job" but to see that the thing was done "on the square." And when old Noah launched the ark and started for the straits of Mackinac he was on deck, not as captain but first mate. And ever since the death of Able, he has been going around with his rube mowing machine attesting to the emphatic truth of that old couplet in our grandfather's spelling-book, viz:

"Time Cuts down all
Both great and small."

And old Sam Tilden's time cannot be very far off now. How the modern "Jeffersonian Democracy" will mourn when old Time with one sweep of his mowing machine smoothes off the corns from the pedal extremities of Sam and John Kelly.

At the first game of base ball in the garden of Eden, Time was there keeping tally, and acting as "umpire." Time is the oldest inhabitant. When Adam sought to pre-empt the "half section" in which paradise was located, Time was there and told Adam that that would not prevent the foreclosure of the original mortgage, and as a result, Adam and wife were both "busted in the snoot" and kicked out of the township.

Time saw the first red-headed woodpecker, and heard the mellifluous voice of the black-headed bumblebee as he sang for the first time in Eden. "We'll Rally Round the Flag Boys."

Time controls the fate of empires, the grit of the prize fighter, and the depth of brown on the wings of a turkey, roasting in the kitchen of the Grand Central, for a New Year's dinner.

Time saw the Tower of Babel rise and fall. Many an "old brick" found that that enterprise did not "pan out" half as well as expected, for instead of having a "high old time," they "tumbled to the racket" of fate.

Time saw the rise of Babylon, Ninevah and Cheboygan, but they have all "passed in their checks" save the latter, "you bet."

Over all the grand old empires the "woodbine twineth" and the musical notes of the owl resounds amid their solitudes "muchi." "I should smile" were I to forget to mention that Time smoothes the false hair waves on the top-knot of the city school marm, and polishes the cranium of the bald-headed man for a race course for the flies, and starts the fuzzi on the upper lip of the young gent, who, using St. Jacob's oil, is struggling to develop his first mustache.

Time transforms saw-logs into palaces and renders plethoric the pocket book of the man who loans money at four per cent a month.

Time attends all the weddings, and removes the lustre from the gifts of solid silver bought at dollar stores to give to the bride a "splendid outfit" in her new home. Time and the dentists fill the mouths of many a toothless maiden with a complete set of "potato masher" and renders her more lovable and kissable, you may "bet your boots" on that. So endeth your correspondent's soliloquy on Time.

NOW AND THEN.

Personal.

MISS KITTIE HARRINGTON of Detroit is visiting friends here.

W. E. SMYTH, JR., of St. Ignace, spent a few days in town this week.

DR. JNO. R. BAILEY of Mackinac spent a portion of the week in our village.

WM. H. AND HENRY MAULTBY are in town visiting their friends and families.

EDWARD, FORSYTH, spent a short time with his "better half" at Bay City the first of the week.

SANFORD BAKER made a business trip to Detroit this week, returning home yesterday morning.

A. P. Frost, Esq. of Pontiac is expected to make his sons, Geo. E., and Fred S. Frost, a visit next week.

A. M. CLARK of Lexington, Mich. Masonic Grand Lecturer left our village on the Wednesday night train.

MR. AND MRS. C. S. RAMSAY, returned this morning from a very enjoyable visit in Ohio. Wednesday of last week at Springfield, O., they attended the golden wedding of Mrs. Ramsay's parents.

The army bill and civil service reform passed the House, the latter quite unexpectedly, and by a large majority.

Blazes!

At about half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon Joseph Spooner's smoke house, back of his meat market, was discovered to be on fire, and at once the fire bell sent the news along the streets. The members of the hose companies were immediately seen running from all directions to their posts of duty and long lines of hose were soon stretched along the streets to the hydrants in the vicinity of the fire, but there the hose lay, as flat as an editor's pocket-book, with no water to send flying through them. The members of the hose companies could be seen, with axes, backed up by muscle and will, trying to pick away the packing which the Water Commissioners had caused to be placed about the hydrants, and which had frozen hard, and at the same time it was discovered that the water commissioners had taken the wrenches away which belonged to the hose companies. We refrain from giving the strong language indulged in by the members of the hose companies when they found the condition of things. Hose Co. No. 1 speedily got a good stream of water on the burning building, from the hydrant on Huron street and the fire was soon a thing of the past. Our water works are certainly a success and we have some hose companies that are a success, but everything should be kept in readiness so that when a fire is discovered it will not be necessary to take a portion of the burning building and hold it over the hydrants in order to thaw out the packing, or hunt up the water commissioners so that a wrench may be found before water can be obtained.

On the East and north sides of the smoke house referred to are large frame buildings which would have stood a poor chance if it had not been for hard work done by the hose companies and others.

G. Paul Smith.

G. Paul Smith, the impersonator and cartoonist, accompanied by F. E. Holton the trombone soloist, will give the second and third entertainments of the Star Course, at the opera House, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 9th and 10th. The newspapers everywhere speak in the highest terms of this party. We take the following from the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Advertiser:
The audience greeting Master Smith last evening was itself a compliment to his great genius. But the personations—how shall we criticize that which is above criticism! A deaf person could follow the subject by witnessing the acting alone, while a blind person could readily imagine the movement of the figure and the expression of the face from the tone of the voice. We never saw the attention of an audience held more closely than it was last night throughout the entire programme.

Below we give the programme for Tuesday evening's entertainment:

- Introductory Music.
- Recitals—"Patrick O'Rourke and the Frogs"—Bangs.
- "Joe"—Pickens.
- Trombone Solo—Grand Fantasia—"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep"—Bellinger.
- FRANK E. HOLTON.
- Impersonations—"Our Girls," a la Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Costumed.
- Music.
- Costumed Impersonation—"Grand Aria"—(with obligato by Mr. Holton) a la Marie Aimée.
- Music.
- Costumed Impersonation—Scene 1, Act 3, from Adolphe Belot's great French Drama, "Article 47"—a la Sara Bernhardt.
- Trombone Solo—Arbuckle's Surf Polka.—Steinhauer.

FRANK E. HOLTON.
Costumed Impersonation—"Zachariah Spicer"—Original Conception.
The Odd Fellows are determined to add attractions to this course as fast as they can. They have recently secured the services of Miss Barrett, the celebrated lady cornetist, who will appear with the Root Concert troupe on the 8th of next month.

A plan of the hall can be seen at H. J. Miner's store, and seats secured.

D. M. Ferry & Co., Seedmen, Detroit, Mich., have sent us a copy of their Seed Annual for 1883. It is more beautiful and valuable than ever. The hints on the formation and management of gardens, as well as the cultural directions it contains have evidently been prepared by careful hands; and cannot fail to be of great service to all who garden, whether for profit or pleasure.

A Peerless Perfume.
The refreshing aroma of Floreston Cologne, and its lasting fragrance, make it a peerless perfume for the toilet.

To the Tax payers of the Town of Huron.
The undersigned will be at the store of J. J. Cueny, every Saturday between 11 A. M. and 2 P. M. during the month of January 1883.

H. L. KOEHLER,
Township Treasurer.
