NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1883.

Everybody reads the TRIBUNE.

W. F. Clapp of Owasso is here on business.

Charley Moore went to Chicago last Tuesday on business.

H. E. Soper, and Geo. H. Dupont from Detroit were here this week.

McBride the injured man at Indian River died last week, buried Sunday.

The TRIBUNE is preeminently a friend of Cheboygan and all her interests and people.

Rev. A. W. Westgate left Tuesday morning for Detroit on business, returns this week.

The Messenger came in on her last trip. She is now being stripped for her winter sleep.

Wm. Gainor has contracted with Watt S. Humphrey, to get out pine. He begins operations Monday.

Charley Robinson runs a hay press averaging about eight tons a day. Charley means success.

Geo. Sheaver, a prominent business man and Odd Fellow of Bay City was here attending to business.

Sam. A. Walling from Chicago well known here made his friends glad by the light of his countenance.

Nothing in the TRIBUNE to wound any lady or gentleman, or prevent it from being a first class family paper.

Mrs Farr reports from Jackson, to her husband, that she is having a fine visit, and starts Monday for Indianapolis.

Mr. Taylor, formerly of Mattoon, Ogden & Taylor, left for his home in New York, sickness in his family calling him home.

The Under-Sheriff Lynn went out on the Petoskey road yesterday morning to bring to jail a woman recently gone insane.

Knit breeches are worn in Cheboygan, but in some instances they are not worn off so high, and if the season is mild may winter through.

Chief Justice Graves is to be honored with a reception at Detroit Dec. 27th by the Bar of the State. W. S. Humphrey is on the general committee.

Thompson Smith has at present 13 camps getting out logs. It is expected that the force employed will get out logs that will cut $0,000,000.

John Derry pronounced insane by Drs. Gerow and DuPaul, was taken to Pontiac Sheriff Harrington started with the unfortunate man yesterday morning.

W. W. Davidson the artist who has been with us six seasons departed for Chicago, Thursday, to spend the winter as his custom is, we shall greatly miss him until he returns.

Cheboygan should have telephone connections with Petoskey, Mackinaw City, Indian River and other points. And it is sure to come to pass before there's a Democratic President.

Mrs Alfred Osler feels it best for her on account of being so lonely to go and live with her husband's father and mother who live at Pottsdam, N. Y., by them selves. Mrs Osler starts Monday.

The members of Fountain Hose Co No. 3. desire through the Tribune, to return thanks to Thompson Smith, Nelson & Bullen, H. Chambers, and W. H. Vanderbilt for favors bestowed the company in connection with their Thanksgiving dance.

A vessel man must, of necessity, be hail fellow well met with all. The tug, lighters and river business of Mattoon & Robinson will be presided over by that universally popular man, Robert Robinson; we make our politest bow to Capt Robinson.

Capt. J. W. Brown made 148 trips through St. Mary's river this season, with the Van Raalte with out finding the bottom of the river once. He made 104 consecutive trips with out missing, being on time or failing to connect with a train. This speaks well for both steamer and Captain.

Robert Robinson and wife are among the highly esteemed and popular of Cheboygan. On Thursday evening a large company filled their dwelling, music, mirth, melody, were the order of the hours, then a long felt want, was richly supplied by first class refreshments. The dance, card table and vivacious conversation kept the company to gather until 15 or 18 o'clock.

Wm. Smith is running one camp.

The Steam tug Bradley is in the Amiot ship yard, high and dry for the winter.

Right handed kid mitten owner found, call, pay for this notice and receive property.

For the exhilarating game of ten pins, go to James Bartlett's next to the fish market.

We were glad to welcome to our office a pleasant call from Esquire Henion of Hastings, Michigan. Come again.

Dr. T. A. Perrin's eye swallowed a saw dust cinder on Wednesday night and inflamed. Moral, don't eat saw dust cinders at a late hour.

Another bank is spoken of for Cheboygan. The new parties are from Port Huron. The coming spring will show signs that this village has expanding and growing power in it.

Frank Howard, alias Bill Smith, was wanted at East Saginaw for robbery. While in John Murphy's saloon on Thursday afternoon, Marshal Lynn went for him and of course lodged him in jail.

Nelson & Bullen are simply immense in their business operations and their dry goods store is worth a visit from any one. Penny, at the head of the dry goods department is as fine a gentleman as lives.

Allen Smith has been constructing a dam for Thompson Smith on Milliken's creek, and strange to say, when the weather is bad, Al. says he can't dam at all, it matters not how much he swears but Al. always pulls through.

Blake's foundry has a new engine, of the Sutton make. Its cylinder is 20x12 1/2, rock valve, Judson governor. Drive wheel 5 feet, fly wheel seven. The increased steam power is needed for the growing business. May Cheboygan and Blake expand upward and onward alike.

All people interested in matters of Art should not fail to see the beautiful painting now on exhibition at A. W. Westgate & Son's, painted by Mr. Will L. Beebe, one of Michigan's best artists. It would be well for those who desire good portrait paintings to call on Mr. Beebe, who is stopping at the Grand Central, and solicits your orders.

Dr. T. A. Perrin was holding the gun so it couldn't get away, and Watts S. Humphrey was gently tapping a shell in the chamber but the thing was sensitive and determined to go off, and it did, the butt end of the shell tearing through Humphrey's middle finger, taking also a piece of the forefinger. Humphrey started for the woods next morning playing as good a hand as the best. Dr. Perrin's face was powdered and as is always the case in face powdering the looks were not improved.

The TRIBUNE was never so prosperous as now, never was in such a condition to be useful as now, never had so many words of approval and encouragement as now, never was so determined and prepared to present the fairest, cleanest and best paper in Northern Michigan as now, never received so many subscribers as now, and remember there is no better time to subscribe for this live, just, progressive paper than now. One dollar and fifty cents gives you a receipt for the TRIBUNE until January 1st, 1885.

On Monday Robert Robinson negotiated for one-half interest in the Mattoon mill property, securing the shares of Ogden and Taylor. The tug and lighters are included. The sum of eight thousand dollars being the purchase price for said half interest. The firm will be now known as Mattoon & Robinson. The firm will get out their own logs in part, and propose to run the mill up to its capacity, and should, from their experience, judgment, ability and staying qualities, furnish first class lumber at as profitable a rate as any firm. We wish the new firm abundant success.

A well-known and estimable lady had occasion a few evenings since to be on the street at 7 o'clock, when near Newton's store, a stranger, well dressed, accosted her thusly, "Hello, Clara." She proceeded and the same hello followed. When in the light of Carmody's saloon, she sharply said to the rake, "You are mistaken sir in the person," when the insolent fellow said, "I see I am, but can't I see you home?" Such a brass foundry ought to be shot, so the woman said. The way to do when any lady is thus insulted is to step in the first place and order a policeman, and Cheboygan will furnish one instantly to care for such villains.

Once upon a time there was a frog—
The life saving stations will be closed Dec. 10th.

Corn from the wrecked schooner Case sold well.

Capt. Kirtland and daughter left for Milwaukee Monday.

W. G. Boggs left Tuesday morning for business trip to Bay City.

Rev. Father DeSmedt left Monday for Grand Rapids on official business.

The Benton House now sports a hard wood floor as well as Dan McLeod.

The brick yard will throw bricks at the telephone until it rings them on.

Smith & Adams' planing mill is to be supplied with water from the water works.

J. B. McArthur, and Vorce & Co. will not have the telephone pass them without yelling hello.

Mrs. Kidd has just started a first-class private boarding house on Water street. Terms reasonable.

Mattoon & Robinson are going to have a telephone at their mill, if it can be secured and of course it can.

Cheboygan is always glad when Ephraim Nelson is here, and he arrived on Tuesday night, as full of business push as ever.

It would be a great strike to have the telephone at the forks of the river during the running and booming of logs. Next summer you'll see.

The new standard time was made to accommodate those who are affectionate with lamp posts, through the moving influence of flat bottle inwards.

A prominent Cheboygan business man objects to promoting any satanic being to the position of "boss devil," but admits that there may be something devilish on the earth.

J. B. McArthur loaded the schooner Danforth with lumber for Robinson & Prettyman, of Chicago. This is the last boat of the season for Chicago, from this port, with lumber.

The Chippewa News says that Gabriel is driving a hearse at the Soo, and met with an accident. No wonder, the hearse business is not the orthodox way of blowing the blast of resurrection.

Henry Minor and R. Rapp have returned from their Mullet Lake hunt with three deer as trophies. The season is now ended and the hunters among our merchants are inclined to literary pursuits.

The steam barge Huron City and tow left here a few days ago for Buffalo, and have turned up at Tawas, where they run in short of fuel. It is not known whether they will proceed to Buffalo or lay up at Tawas.

Next Tuesday evening, the famous Continental Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers will give a splendid entertainment at the opera house. Let everybody go who loves fun, music and comedy. The company is first class. Remember to go.

Republicans, Greenbackers and Democrats, declare the tone and spirit of the TRIBUNE to be clean, absolutely free from all petty personalities and vulgarities. We appreciate our many friends and will put forth our honest efforts to serve them in any way possible.

Enterprise is abroad, a fellow with an eye to business called in and wanted to advertise for trade a $50 bull pup for a $40 dog, and receive the difference. His dog being royal, but as times were hard a cheaper dog would do him this winter. As he was of doubtful pay, we wont name the animal that was so enterprising.

Morris Wheeler is a genius in advertising, selling goods delivering goods, making friends, keeping friends and serving Cheboygan generally. This week he has heard from Congress and finds out that he is appointed grocer for the people with the eagle to help him in his rapidly growing business. If you want a square true man to deal with go to Morris Wheeler's.

St. Ignace is now connected by telephone, they use the acoustic telephone. The sound only runs to first station, and he is asked to tell the next station what he wants to communicate. This is a very poor system of exchange, the subscribers along the line will soon get tired of repeating messages. It soon will be pronounced a failure. The only complete system is the Bell, such as is now in Cheboygan.
