WILL LINAWEVER WAS ASSAULTED

Grover Metzger, a young man about 25 years old, assaulted, apparently without provocation, Will Linawever, road overseer of Delawares township, three miles north-west of Lansing near the South Side race track where the Union Pacific road gang was at work, and it was at first thought that his wounds would prove serious, but he is now recovering and will, it is thought, be well within a few days if he has suffered no fracture of the skull.

Metzger, after striking Linawever, ran to the Leavenworth & Topoka railway tracks and got as far as Meridian where he was overtaken by Sheriff Meyers Wednesday night and brought back to the county jail yesterday morning.

The assault took place at the camp of the road graders Wednesday morning. The Union Pacific has a gang of men at work in this county working out its road tax and Metzger's father is boss of the gang.

Linawever, being road overseer of the township, went to the camp several times to make inspections. He lives in Lansing and is a butcher. Wednesday he told his wife he intended taking the road gang a roast for dinner and she intended eating dinner with them. He walked to the place where the men were at work and arrived there shortly before noon. Foreman Metzger invited him to stay to dinner and Linawever sat down, after washing his hands and face and talked to Metzger's mother.

Grover Metzger had also been in Lansing and, it is said, was intoxicated when he came to the camp and saw Linawever there. He asked, "What in hell are you doing here?" and Linawever, instead of replying, smiled thinking Metzger was joking. However, the young man, it is said, drew back with some blunt instrument in his hand and struck the Lansing butcher three times in the face, once on the right side and once under the chin. Linawever fell from the chair in which he was sitting and Metzger ran away. It is said that Metzger's mother and sister saw the assault and that it was entirely an unprovoked one.

Metzger ran to the railway track and hurried toward Meridian. Linawever, after he recovered slightly from the blows, started back toward Lansing and walked the three miles in the hot sun across fields, falling down several times on the way. At Lansing Dr. Crozier was summoned by Mrs. Linawever and the injured man given medical treatment. At first it was thought that both of his eyes had been seriously injured, but the left one is now said to be free from injury, but a blood clot, it is thought, has formed over the right one. The injured man continually expectorates blood.

Mrs. Linawever yesterday afternoon swore to a state complaint charging Metzger with assault with intent to kill upon her husband and the young man that will charge this morning at Lansing, Kansas Herald.

Mr. Linawever was raised by Mr. J. H. Hoover, of this county. He was an excellent man and has many friends in Shenandoah and Page counties. Mr. Hoover received a letter, several days ago, which stated that an operation had been performed and several pieces of bone had been removed. His recovery is expected.

Mr. Hoover has been anxious to go to see him, but has been prevented by the disability of his son, who severely sprained his ankle several weeks ago.

MASSANUTTEN ACADEMY. The Board of Trustees of Massanutten Academy met at the Court House this week and decided to continue the institution.

Prof. Howard J. Benchoff, of Chambersburg, Pa., was elected President of the Reformed Church and a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, of Lancaster, Pa. Prof. Benchoff was Principal of the Chambersburg High School for five years. He resigned position to take a postgraduate course in Columbia University, of New York, where he took the degree of A. M. in Latin, English and Education. During the last year he was the Principal of the Public Schools, of Breckenridge, Colorado.

Prof. Bolger has been elected to be at the head of the music department and will return.

Miss Isabella Elliott, of Chambersburg, Pa., a graduate of Wilson College, has been elected Teacher of English and Modern Languages.

Prof. Benchoff is endeavoring to secure a graduate of a Virginia Military College, as teacher of mathematics and military tactics.

The prospect for an increased attendance this year is very good. Prof. Benchoff has been appointed by the Board of Trustees Agent to canvass the Virginia Classis for the purpose of raising money for a new building, a description of which will be found in the new catalogue.

The Fourth at Woodstock. The Fourth of July at Woodstock was one of the most quiet days of the year. Not more than a half dozen crackers, were heard and then the town became quiet. Business houses were closed. The reel team of the Shenandoah Fire Co., accompanied by a large number of visitors went to New Market, a number of other went fishing, and the few that remained at home kept as cool as possible in their homes.

New Uniforms. The reel team of the Shenandoah Fire Company appeared in their new uniform last Monday evening. It consisted of white pants, sweaters, with a large "W" on the breast, and white shoes.

A colored girl after seeing them on the street, went home and reported that the firemen had nothing on except white paddies and a big W.

The Feast of Seven Tables given by the ladies of the Methodist Church Guild was a success. It was greatly enjoyed and the ladies realized a handsome sum.

WOODSTOCK WINS HONORS.

REEL TEAM DEFEATS LURAY AT NEW MARKET—TIMES, 27 1/2 SECONDS.

Bell Team Won From New Market by a Score of 8 to 5.

The Woodstock boys carried off all the honors in sight, at New Market's big Fourth of July celebration Tuesday.

The first contest was for a cash prize of $5.00 offered by the citizens of New Market for a 150 yards reel race. There were two entries, Luray's reel team and the Shenandoah Fire Co.'s team from this place. Luray ran first and made a complete fizzle. They failed to make connection at the plug and no time was caught.

The Woodstock boys lined up in a business like manner and with their attractive white running suits, completely captivated the large crowd, and when the starter gave the signal they went down the line like racers of the first class, and captured the prize in 27 1/2 seconds.

From the way the Woodstock boys conducted themselves in New Market, the Fire Company can expect to hear from them again at Strasburg on July 15th and still again at Harrisonburg in August.

Woodstock 8 - New Market 5. At 4 o'clock the ball team from this place, defeated the New Market team by a score of 8 to 5. The Woodstock boys played fast ball and had the New Market team shut out until the sixth inning without even a hit to their credit when the umpire took a hand in the game and New Market ran in three runs.

The feature of the game was "Dick" Hoffman's pitching only allowing 2 hits in the 8 innings. The New Market team was composed of the cream of the ball players between Staunton and Mt. Jackson. The score by innings was:

1 3 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Woodstock - 2 0 0 3 2 1 0 8 8
N. Market - 0 0 0 0 0 3 2 0 5

The game was called on account of rain in the 8th inning.

MR. JACKSON 12 - STANLEY 6. At 10 o'clock Mt. Jackson's crack ball team defeated the team from Woodstock by a score of 12 to 6. The game was won by fast playing and few errors.

And They Were Married. Sunday evening between five and six o'clock Mr. William Rhodes and Miss Lizzie Haum, of Timberville neighborhood, arrived in New Market, Md. and gave evidence that on matrimony they were "beat". He left his money and buggy at Weaver's livery stable to be sent back home the next day, and prepared a surrey and driver, and there went to Luray. They then boarded the midnight train for Hagerstown, Md. Monday night they arrived at the home of the groom's father, near Broadway, happy as young married people can be.

The groom is about 24 years old, and a son of Mr. John M. Rhodes, by his second wife, whilst the bride is 15 years old, and a daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Haum and wife, who is a daughter of the late Abram Garber. Some time ago, Mrs. Haum married for her second husband Mr. Charles Reamer, (formerly of this place), who resided near Broadway - Shen. Valley.

Marriage of Miss Feller and Mr. Green. Miss Mattie Feller, of New Market, Va., and Mr. Myron Green, of Kernhook, N. Y., were married in the Lutheran parsonage in Washington city at quarter past four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 28, 1905, the pastor Rev. G. Bergman officiating. Mr. Green who reached the Hotel Thaxton in our town Tuesday night attended an informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wickes, the latter a sister of Miss Feller, a number of her lady friends being in attendance. Mr. Green and Miss Feller departed on the train the next morning for Washington where the marriage was solemnized as indicated. The ceremony was witnessed by her sisters Mrs. C. W. Wickes (who went to Washington Tuesday) and Mrs. Parker Sweet (formerly Miss Agnes Feller) and husband, who reside in that city. - Shen. Valley.

To our Subscribers. A number of our subscribers have been sending in or handing us their renewals for another year. We hope others will follow their good example, as newspapers like all other good enterprises need money to keep them going. We will be glad to see a large number of our subscribers next Monday, court day.

CHURCH NOTES. Regular services were held in the Presbyterian and Lutheran churches last Sunday morning and night.

Sacramental service was held in the Methodist Church, last Sunday morning. At night Presiding Elder, Dr. W. H. D. Harper preached.

Card of Appreciation. Mr. P. W. Magruder and family request us to tender their sincere thanks and expression of appreciation to their many friends for their sympathy and acts of kindness, extended to them during Mrs. Magruder's illness and after her death.

Fred. Jones, colored, who came here with the Bell Telephone construction camp was arrested last Saturday night charged with the larceny of a pair of shoes from the store of T. Glenn Locke. After his arrest, he made threats that he would burn the town. He was tried by the Mayor on Monday morning and was placed under a bond of $500. In default of security, he was given the option of serving the time in the county jail or in some place, remote from Woodstock. He chose the latter and is now browsing upon new pasture, in some other place.

Burglars. Some parties broke into the property of Mr. Milton Hoover last Friday night. They were discovered by neighbors and were driven through the lots for a considerable distance. A number of shots were fired at them, but they seemed to have escaped without injury.

Ladies and gent's slippers at cost now at Glenn Locke's.

In Memory of Mrs. P. W. Magruder.

The passing away from earth, of every human life, is the passing away of an active force; for no man liveth or dieth, to himself. To awake to this impressive truth, and act in accordance with it, has much to do with shaping our whole attitude towards our fellow men, and towards our God. And the perfection of such awaking is found only by the Christian; for it is he alone that realizes his inability to meet his obligations truly, and use influence rightly; 'tis he alone that seeks and finds and embraces the only Help that can make him a force for good, and not evil, in this world and in the world to come.

The most effective forces are not always the obtrusive, aggressive or the noisy ones. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handywork, and Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge."

Yet, "there is no speech nor language; their voice is not heard"; The potent force of life itself, is secret, silent, in its chiefest processes; yet in every sphere both material or spiritual, whether in the blade of grass pushing its way through the earth's rough opposing crust, or in the regenerating touch of the life giving Spirit of God in the heart of man, that subtle silent secret force is powerful.

And so with the force of a quiet life, spent amid the shelter of a Christian home. Home was her peculiar, her appropriate sphere; her whole temperament was retiring, and the most of her time attention and existence, especially in these latter years, were centered upon the domestic duties of wife and mother. And yet the sequel showed that her gentle quiet unobtrusive life had sent forth an influence deep and sweet; an influence pervasive and expansive, and not bounded by the mere environs of home!

It is something worth remembering; especially in these days; that the women of the Bible, and notably the women of the Bible select to praise, are women of the home. Such women before to the silent secret forces before referred to; the forces that mould and move the world.

It is something, simply to be good. Goodness has its own sweet silent subtle power; a force that finally softens and subdues the hardest heart, when everything else will fail. Indeed, the "heart," the "world," is "hard," because good part of its lack of seeing goodness. But when it does see it, it stops and bows its head in reverence. Happy the man of the world that is willing not merely to admire, but to learn the lesson goodness teaches.

For "goodness" is not of earth - Mrs. Magruder's goodness was not of earth. She learned it after Savior's feet. First, at His feet, as He hung upon the cross the propitiation for her sins; where she exchanged her own "goodness" as worthless and received instead His perfect goodness given freely to her; and then, ever afterwards, at His feet, as His lovely disciple, learning like Mary, with docile heart, by precept and example, what true "goodness" truly is.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth! Ye, saith the Spirit! For they rest from their labors and their works do follow them!"

"Her children arise up and call her blessed! Her husband also, and he praiseth her."

"For a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised." The Mansie, July 3, '05. PASTOR.

Cattle are Going Blind in Frederick County. Farmers of Frederick county are greatly alarmed at the outbreak of a disease among their cattle that is now epidemic. From the effects of the disease the cattle become stone blind and finally die.

Mr. C. R. Smithey, of Bruce town, whose cattle are affected with disease, described its symptoms in a letter to the Agricultural Department. Mr. Smithey received the following reply, showing that the method of treatment is simple and efficacious:

"Referring to your letter of the 29th inst., I would say that the eye disease in question has become prevalent in the United States during the past few years, and it appears to be of an infectious nature. Cases are reported where one affected animal has been introduced into a herd with the result that in the course of a few weeks a number of animals in the herd became similarly affected. When no attention is given to this lesion, a number of animals will become blind in one or both eyes.

"When treatment is very simple, and when applied in time will cure most cases. The affected eyes should be well bathed in a solution of boracic acid, and after wiping dry a small amount of iodoforn vaseline should be inserted between the eyelids, either by means of the finger or a small flat stick with rounded edges. The eyelids should then be rubbed gently, in order to spread the ointment over the whole surface of the eye. It will be found that a few applications made in this way will cure even far progressed cases.

"When taken at the first appearance, one application is often sufficient to check the development of the lesion. It is important that the ointment, which should be prepared in the strength of one part of iodoforn to twelve parts of vaseline, should be rubbed until perfectly smooth, as any small particles of iodoforn not evenly diffused through the vaseline will have an irritating effect on the eye."

Died as She Reached Hospital. Mrs. H. L. Rogers, of Middle town, died suddenly Saturday morning at the Strasburg Hospital. She and her daughter had just driven up to the institution and were approaching the entrance, when she was taken with the hemorrhage. She was taken into the hospital and in a few minutes expired. She had been in ill health and had gone the hospital to consult with Dr. Bruin. She was about 60 years old. The body was taken to her home at Middletown.

Dr. J. B. Rush will be absent from his dental parlors from Tuesday, July 11th to 15th, inclusive.
