SHENANDOAH TO HAVE A HORSE SHOW.

Capt. G. W. Koontz Will Convert Old Fair Grounds Into an Up-to-date Show Grounds.

Captain G. W. Koontz, former treasurer of the Shenandoah County Agricultural Society, is the chief promoter in giving Shenandoah county a Horse and Colt Show and keeping the county abreast with her sister counties of the State.

Capt. Koontz has had a force of hands at work repairing the race track and getting the grounds in proper shape to have one of the best Horse Shows in the state of Virginia, the work will be pushed forward as fast as possible this fall, and will not be completed until next Spring and the first show to take place sometime next summer.

Shenandoah is one of the counties in the State that is noted for her fine horses, and there is no reason why she cannot have a Horse show that will shine out among the other shows of the county.

Let our people get together and resurrect the days when the "Old Fair" was in full blast.

A VISIT TO THE RESERVOIR.

Several members of the Town Council, Prof. C. D. Schmitt, of Knoxville, Mr. A. R. Hollingsworth, Mr. Hugh Kneisley, Mr. P. S. Rhodes, Surveyor, the Town Sergeant, a representative of the HERALD and Master Harold Ransburg visited the reservoir last Tuesday. The object of the visit was the selection and survey of a few acres of land, which at some time might be necessary for the town to own, and the examination of the water supply.

After selecting and surveying the land, the party made a very searching investigation of baskets and boxes which had been provided by the more thoughtful of the party. They were spread before them the choicest viands of some of the best cooks in the town. The party did full credit to this part of the program, and even the invalids gave evidence that they needed no more tonics or that the tonics which they had used had had remarkable effect.

Next the water supply was carefully examined, and while it was learned that the supply is amply sufficient to more than meet the present demands, the amount running into the reservoir is not as large as it was some years ago. This is not from any failure of the streams to yield the usual amount, but because all the water is not now conveyed into the reservoir. They also examined new sources of supply, and found that a considerable quantity of water is within reach.

The entire party, from the oldest to the youngest climbed the steep grade to the top of the mountain, and there found water which at some future time, if necessary could be easily piped into the reservoir. We had a fine view of the little Fort Valley, were started by a sharp report of thunder, had our clothes slightly moistened by a passing shower, killed one snake and returned to the reservoir.

The councilmen, anxious to familiarize themselves with all the water conditions, visited the Kitey House Spring and examined the hollow above the spring. They were of the opinion that if it should ever become necessary that stream could also be piped into the reservoir.

The return home was without incident except for the fact that the party endeavored to eat all the good things that were left at dinner. They succeeded well and the most voracious of the party did not draw the line until he was offered green persimmons. Here he halted, but was delighted to hear that supper was ready when he reached home.

The peach orchard of Mr. Walter Fravel was visited, but on account of criminal lack of judgment upon the part of the member of the council who fixed the date of the outing, we were a week too soon and the beautiful peaches were not yet ripe. This is a fine orchard and Mr. Fravel has a fine crop.

Although it was an outing that all enjoyed and all, we have no doubt, feel better for having taken it.

In the Methodist Tabernacle, sacramental services were held on Sunday morning and regular service, on Sunday night.

Preparatory services will be held in the Lutheran church next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Communion service on Sunday morning.

The public is cordially invited to attend both services.

Our store will be closed after Aug. 19th. Don't forget to make your purchase before. Those desiring to have us send their Fall and Winter hats will please call before that date and place orders. Riley's Millinery.

See J. L. Boyer & Co. for fertilizers. We represent the old reliable factories of G. Ober and Son Co., Patapsco Guano Co., Rasin Monumental and Swift & Co. Our prices are rock bottom.

It is rumored that the revenues of Woodstock were greater than the expenses for the last year and that the Council were able to lay aside something for the sinking fund. We think the rumor is correct, but we have not seen any report.

The mosquitoes in this place will not incite our citizens with yellow fever, but they may spread other diseases. Since putting in water, mosquitoes seem to have increased and a general effort to destroy them by means now known to be effective would be beneficial to the town.

THE FISHER'S HILL RE-UNION.

The re-union of Stover Camp at Fisher's Hill, last Saturday was one of the largest, if not the largest ever held on those grounds. Not only Shenandoah and adjoining counties, but a number of persons from distant parts of Virginia and other states were present. The crowd was estimated at from eight to ten thousand people.

The Southern Railway, we are informed, hauled 3500 persons, and all the vehicles in this and adjoining counties seemed to be there. The grounds were nicely prepared for the occasion.

The old veterans were well taken care of by the camp, and the citizens seemed to be under the impression, that it was the duty of each family to be prepared to feed the crowd. The merry-go-round entertained many, and the Soda Fountains, Milk Shakes, Lemonade and Ice Cream stands tried to cool off the sweltering crowd.

In the afternoon eloquent Confederate speeches were made by Gov. Montague, Hon. W. H. Mann, Attorney Gen. Anderson, Judge Sam'l W. Williams, and Mr. G. H. Hulvey. The speeches, we have no doubt, were excellent, but as no provision was made for reporters, and it was almost impossible to find a suitable place, we will make no effort to report them.

The Mt. Olive Band was present and discoursed sweet music to the delight of the crowd. The day was an ideal one and the people that failed to enjoy the re-union this year, will never enjoy one till they reach that grand re-union to be held "just across the river."

Notwithstanding the fact that the Railway Company endeavored to furnish ample accommodation, the cars were jammed and in many only standing room could be obtained. The railroad authorities have not yet learned what the Shenandoah Valley can do, when our people determine to meet each other. Among the distinguished guests, on the ground were Senator John W. Daniel and Major R. W. Hunter, but they only remained a few minutes as they were visiting the battle fields.

Bride of Sixteen Years is Killed. Lexington, Va., August 7.—John Rudolph Lawhorn yesterday shot and killed his wife at their home near Marlbrook, Rockbridge county. The tragedy was accidental, and resulted from the discharge of a gun. Mr. Lawhorn had shot a snake, and returning to the house, his wife playfully struck the gun with a broomstick, not knowing the gun was loaded. The entire load entered her forehead, tearing off the top of her head. She died instantly. She was buried yesterday.

Lawhorn was taken before Justice S. W. Paxton, who after investigation discharged the prisoner. The couple was married three months ago. She was a daughter of George T. Patterson, and was only sixteen years old.

A number of lodges from the valley and other sections of the state, it is expected, will attend. Other exercises will be announced later.

NOTICE. I want water at my LITTLE FARM. The distance from the main water line at the Academy is about 500 feet to follow the main road way by Mr. Peter Hoshour, Kawood Henry, Dr. Rush's place, John Koontz's home, and to my place at my orchard. I want bids as follows:

Death of Mrs. Clara Golladay. Mrs. Clara Golladay, wife of Mr. S. J. E. Golladay died last Sunday night at the hospital in Strasburg, where her daughter, a few weeks ago, had been operated upon for appendicitis. Mrs. G. was 40 years of age.

Run Over by a Wagon. Fred. Spiker, the little son of Capt. and Mrs. Ed. Spiker, and Donald Hancock, of Washington, who is the 12 year-old nephew of Mrs. Charles H. Eselman, whom he is visiting, were run over and hurt while riding from Assembly Park to Harrisonburg Saturday evening on a wagon train drawn by a traction engine. Both escaped serious injury.—Harrisonburg News.

MESSRS. CHAPMAN AND NEWMAN RESIGN.

At a regular meeting of the town council Tuesday night, Mr. H. B. Chapman, Mayor of Woodstock and Mr. W. L. Newman, Trustee of the Woodstock Graded and High School, tendered their resignations to take effect at once. On account of the small attendance, neither resignation was accepted, but laid on the table until the next meeting.

THE TRUTH.

MR. EDITOR:— I write as an outside observer, unconnected with practical municipal government, with no motive except a loyal pride in my town and a conviction that to a great extent, the citizens who have placed the present Town Council in office, are in no wise familiar with the transactions that have taken place here between that body and Messrs. E. L. Folk & Co.

I have assurances of the above facts, else the party who signs himself "Subscriber" would not depend upon such assertions as he makes being credited as facts. There seems to be some bitterness thrown into the latter lines of "Subscribers" Card. I again attribute this to the fact that he, like most other citizens is not very familiar with the transactions that took place at the time Messrs. E. L. Folk & Co., were attempting to bind the town and its Council down to an agreement that meant a thirty year franchise on the site known as "The Commons" thirty years exemption from taxes and licenses and thirty years of unhindered and unrestricted water privileges.

Mark you, a demand for all of the above privileges from the town, with the building occupied at present by the Farmers Union Store, and the ground upon which it stands thrown in.

I am told that after mature deliberation, the agreement or franchise was restricted to the following: "Thirty years franchise to 'Commons' South of Court Street extended, with privilege of renewal of lease. Thirty years exemption from taxes and licenses and five years free use of the town's water with proviso that if at the expiration of five years the Council then in office saw fit to extend the privilege five years longer, it was their function to do so."

Now "Subscriber" do you as a citizen of Woodstock, sanction or approve of more liberal concession than those set forth in this franchise. And do you think it proper to "have a fling" such as you have written, at any citizen or member of the Town Council, because they failed to secure an enterprise that fair, equitable and honorable inducements could not secure?

The foregoing agreement and conditions stand out on the Recorder's minutes of those meetings and are not secretly guarded, but can be seen and known by any citizen of the town. This same agreement speaks more eloquently for the zeal, patience and honesty with which the Mayor and the Council worked to secure this enterprise, than any article I am able to write, and I may add that it was not the lack of public spirit for the welfare of the town that lost this enterprise, but natural advantages and conditions that existed elsewhere and which the Council and people were powerless to change.

In future would it not seem incumbent on our able newspaper to report each month (and it would only be once each month) the acts and business that transpire at these Council meetings? This course would certainly put us in a way to keep posted on all matters that interest us, and facts that otherwise would be hidden, would become known.

Let us keep in touch with the business of our Town Council transacts. "CITIZEN." Woodstock, Va., Aug. 8, '05. "Shenandoah Herald," Woodstock, Va.

Dear Editor:— In a letter published in your paper under date of Aug. 8th and signed "A Subscriber," reference is made to some libelous statements reflecting upon the standing of our firm and its character for honorable dealings. We have been aware for some time past that such statements were in circulation but as yet have been unable to locate the author.

In order that we may find the guilty person, we will promise to pay liberally any information that will enable us to act in the matter as the law may permit. Very truly yours, E. L. FOLK & Co.
