BOOST FOR A GYM.
The Liberal high school must get up some pep and boost for a Gym, where the students can have pleasure and develop themselves also.

The L. H. S. orchestra and H. S. glee club did not give what little benefit they could to the entertainment for the benefit of the track team when they have sung at the Loyalty meeting. The orchestra has played at a church or two and still they could not play for their own high school.

Miss Wilson had her hand and wrist bound up on account of soreness. We hoped it would prevent her from giving us that awful test over the twenty chapters of "Ivanhoe" this week.

Hiram Jarret has not been in the school for the last few days on account of sickness.

Mrs. Wilmarth, who is painting a picture of "The Last Tournament" taken from the "Idylls of the King," says that it will be completed by Friday. This will be very much appreciated by the students.

The English II classes are now studying "Ivanhoe." They intend to finish it in two weeks.

At the last teachers' meeting they decided to give semester tests if they cared to. We hope that they will not desire to.

Anna Miller spent the week-end at her home near Floris, Okla.

All the girls who did not attend the Fowler track meet went to Miss Henry's room where flowers were made for the May Day fete.

The "Abiders" will meet Friday evening at Mr. Atkin's, the hostess being Hazel Hall. Each girl is requested to bring a biblical story about a character whose name begins with the first letter of her first name.

The Baptist's young men entertained their lady friends at Charles Barbee's Friday evening. The new games suggested a delight to everyone. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served. A number of high school students and two of the teachers attended. We expected to see Miss Breiner there, and were not disappointed. We all agree that she is the life of any social gathering.

The English II classes are promised a test Wednesday over twenty chapters of "Ivanhoe." The purpose is to discover how much we know.

The Freshmen published the Bulletin last week and boasted of being so smart but also states that there were several D's on their report cards. Something must be wrong as a very few D's are seen on any of the Sophomore cards.

The Modern History classes are now studying about "Turkey and the Eastern Question." They expect to finish the text by the close of school. Just four weeks of school. It won't be long because so much will be missed and so many things to go to.

DID YOU KNOW?

High school girls of Arkon, Ohio, have decided to quit chewing gum, eating candy and confections until the war is over?

Suppose some of us adopt the same plan.

Each literary society gave the most interesting program that has been given this term.

Vernon Morrow is the possessor of a book written in 1825. It is Franklin's autobiography and is a rare specimen of antiquities.

Why Ernest Boles doesn't want to quit school before the term is out.—That the Sophomore class has a poet among its members.

—That Marjorie Argo has started a "Hope Chest." At present she has two cakes of Yeast Foam in it, and we wonder if Marjorie is going to learn how to use the cakes.

—That Velma Craig wants to disguise herself and join the navy.

The best program that has been given in the Lit society was given last Friday. Mary Jackson's reading was well given. The duet rendered by Vera and Vira Knisley was very pleasing. The story given by Don Thompson was the best ever given in the society. It showed much preparation and thought. Dortha Farmer's piano solo was well selected, being a military march. The papers read by George Spradling and Genevieve Stricklin was especially interesting. It contained much war news. Edgar Richardson told about several new inventions. The piano solo given by Lois Moore was good. The program as a whole was very pleasing.

The Philoanthian society met on Friday, April 27, in room 6 and a very good program was given. The debate, "Let It Be Resolved That the Government Should Confiscate All Incomes to Exceed $50,000 for Carrying On the Present War." Those who defended the subject were Hilda Spradling and Eunice Hatfield. Those who argued against it were Pauline Hancock and Josie Lippant. Both sides handled the argument especially well and they showed that a great amount of preparation had been made. The readings by Margurite Falls and Ralph Bane were good. The story by Joe Black was very interesting. Gertrude Malone and Willard Harden gave readings. Mary Farmer gave a splendid reading which deserves special mention. Helen Carson's reading was quite good and so was John Black's. Current Events were handled with very much credit by Cecil Dillion. The papers by Lelah Dunlap and Ethel Davis contained much which was very instructive and also much which was very amusing. After the Critic's report by Miss Briener the society was adjourned.

Gene Martin, formerly of L. H. S., has returned from Kansas university to begin spring work on the farm.

Allen George, a former high school student, left Monday morning to give his services to the U. S. navy.

Gladys Blake spent Sunday with relatives in Hooker.

Joe Black takes his nap in Geometry and Physics every morning.

The D. S. girls are making white waists which will be the last garments made this year. Some of the D. S. work may be sent to the State exhibit at Hutchinson. It is to be held some time this month.

A notice from Governor Capper is posted on the bulletin board stating that there are 4,000,000 children in school and that he would like at least 300,000 of them to become producers and raise pigs, chickens, or make gardens.

Guy Miller could not take part in the track meet for some reason.

The program given by the high school students Wednesday evening was especially good and was enjoyed by a large number of visitors as well as the students. The two solos by Mart Baker were quite good. We were favored by a reading by Miss Wood and it was certainly enjoyed by everyone who heard it. The readings by Ada Malone, Thelma Keating and Freda Gardener were generously applauded. Anna Miller and Ruth Anthony entertained with a piano duet which showed much preparation and skill. Orlo and Letha Rolo presented the pianologue in a pleasing manner and it well deserved the encore. Miss Alice Hestwood and Mary Falls favored the audience with a piano duet which was most entertaining. The program was well worth while and it is regretted that a larger number of people were not present. About $26 was the amount cleared.

The boys who have quit school to work on the farm are: George Bane, Foster Bragg, Chester Boles, Ben Richardson, Paul Carson and Graydon Moller.

A "pep" meeting was conducted in chapel Friday by Zack Woods and Mary Kennedy for the track meet.

Earl Craig has quit school. Katherine Beller spent Sunday with her chum, Louis Moore.

Elizabeth and Ambrosia White spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Everyone enjoyed the snow Monday morning.

The new west door of the high school building is proving a great convenience.

The Domestic Science classes took dictation about frozen desserts last week. Frozen desserts were used first in Italy where large amounts of snow and ice are carried down the Alps.

Frozen desserts consist of: (a) plain ice cream, (b) French ice cream, (c) Mousse, (2) water mixtures: (a) water ice, (b) sherbet, (c) Frappe, (d) granite, (e) frozen puddings.

A treat, indeed, was in store for the Seniors Friday evening, April 27, when Louise Falls gave a beautiful little party in honor of the class of 1917. The first game of the evening was contest in which Elaine Black won the prize, which was a cap with the words "What a Goose Am I" printed on it, the inscription being suggestive of the game. Other entertainments was plentiful, especially when Mary Kennedy and Margurite Bane showed their ability to drink a pint (more or less?) of strong salt water, and Velda Reynolds and Georgia Armstrong tried to prove that they could eat crackers and whistle at the same time. Music was furnished by several of the guests. The fun and frivolity were soon over. But the best part yet was a dainty two-course luncheon. The house was artistically decorated with the class colors, old rose and white. At a late hour the guests departed, all declaring they had spent one of the happiest evenings of their lives.

Harvey Burns has a rare relic which he brought to school last week. It is a piece of wood cut from the cabin where General Grant had his headquarters on James River. The cabin is also famous as the place where Lee's surrender was negotiated. It is now in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia.

Anel Davis spent the week-end at her home in the country. She did not return until Tuesday.

Harold Bragg went out to his home south of town Friday evening.

Those in the Colonial Minuet had a dress rehearsal Saturday night. It was amusing for them to see their class-mates dressed in their old-fashioned colonial costumes.

The Caesar class is half through with their last book. Although a very small class they have made very rapid progress and are finishing their work sooner than any of the other Latin classes. We might add that all in the Caesar class are Sophomores.

English I note books must be in by Friday. The students are working hard to get these complete, and in on time.

We Americans are a queer people. We pay our teachers less to train our children than we pay laborers to feed our hogs. Moreover, we go out frequently to see that the hogs are fed right, but most people never visit the schools to see that the children are taught right. How are your children being taught?

TRACK MEET

Despite the cold weather Friday the track meet with Fowler was held as scheduled.

Considering the weather here there was a fair sized crowd out who showed their loyalty by remaining until after the finish.

Hiram Jarret was kept out of the running events by a severe cold, but he was in several of the field events (Continued on Last Page)

If we were back in the 17th century no doubt we would be content to live in a log cabin like our great grandfathers, but as we are living in the 20th century we want 20th century surroundings. That means the best of furnishings, decorations, etc.

NEU-TONE; the artistic, sanitary, washable, flat wall finish, is distinctly a 20th century finish. Put on in attractive combinations with a stencil border it is the de-lux yet inexpensive method of decorating the home.

If you have been depending on the out of date wall paper, kalsomine, or water color method it would be well for you to drop in and see how much more decorative and modern you can make your home, at less cost, by using Neu-Tone.

We have a full line of color samples and stencil designs, so that you can get a complete understanding of the possibilities of improvement on your present decorations.
