Muscogee Red drifted into town a few days ago. He was promptly given employment on that new moral and literary luminary on the west side. Red soon got on a glorious drunk and ended up in the calaboose.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Valentine, of Edinburg, Ind., are visiting Mr. J. W. Cole of this city. Mrs. Valentine is Mr. Cole's sister. They were accompanied from Kansas City by their daughter, Mrs. Robert Ward, who is visiting in the city.

Mr. Myler, mayor of Iola, has notified all joint keepers that they must keep them closed during his term of office. The disposition among the jointists seems to be to comply. It seems to be but little trouble to close up joints where the mayor and council so desire.

Some of the fire boys seem a little sore over the selection of a fire chief by the mayor. Come, boys, let 'er go. Don't try to kick over what you have been for a good many years striving to build up. This chief business always seemed to us to be a kind of empty honor any way. It simply gives some one a chance to strut a little in public. Let's accept the situation and go ahead as though nothing had happened.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it. In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Rev. Edward H. Gelvin, president of the Oswego College, made this office a business call yesterday. Mr. Gelvin is an Eastern man of culture and refinement, and very genial and pleasant. He has taken charge of this institution with a view of building it up and making it one of the flourishing educational institutions of the state. He will spend the summer in talking up its interests, and, since it has opened its doors to boys as well as girls, we see no reason why it should not flourish.

Quite a serious fire at New Albany last Sunday night. It destroyed two stores and a post office. Some of the merchandise was saved but the loss is severe. Mr. Currie and Mr. Johnson are heavy losers. We received the above information by courtesy of Mr. H. A. Huffman from a private letter from his grandson John Beck.

The new daily, the Blade, has made its appearance. It is a neat, seven column folio and of course fills a long felt want. The weekly Blade is now issued in semi-weekly installments. It comes in broken doses and can be more easily digested.

The Model laundry is being enlarged. Since Mr. Banks assumed the charge of this laundry the business has grown so that he is simply overwhelmed with work and finds it necessary to increase his capacity for handling the work.

Where do all the pins go? That is a hard one. Where do all the photographs go? The good are preserved and the poor go into the scrap basket or the stove. If you want the kind that are preserved and appreciated get Lauck to make them. Hainbach bldg., Chanute, Kans.

Prof. Ah Sou from Rangoon, Birma, will deliver an address at the American Baptist church at 8 o'clock. Will probably remain over Sunday.

There is now one store running in the south part of the Fourth ward and another with a meat shop annex almost ready to open.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given to children. For sale at Brown's pharmacy.

Browning, Margaret Cox, Edna Hadley, Wilbur Lapham, Maud Mathews, Corinne Pulliam, Violet Russel and Hugh Jones.

DEAD.

Mrs. Susan E. Reeves, who has been an invalid for the past year, died last Monday afternoon. The funeral was held at the residence on West Main street Wednesday morning, Rev. Coker officiating, and the remains buried in the Congregational cemetery, northwest of Chanute.

Mrs. Reeves was a good and highly respected old lady, and an old settler in this community. She leaves a family of four grown up children, H. L. Reeves, Mrs. Hattie Iryin, T. A. Reeves and Mrs. Alice Brewster.

John Herbert Johnson died at his father's home in Chanute Thursday evening, May 9th. He was born in Sweden March 12, 1868 and came to this country with his parents when two years old, settling on the old homestead west of town. His parents and a sister and two brothers are still living. Funeral services were held at the Swedish church conducted by Rev. A. Langerquist assisted by Rev. Gray. The remains were buried in the Swede Center cemetery.

THE BRIDGE WENT DOWN

This is a great calamity to tax-payers as well as to those who were hurt and lost property. It is pleasant to know that the bridge will be put up again, and what is more gratifying to tax-payers that trade at The Mammoth Racket, is the fact that when the Racket came to Chanute, prices were torn down, and though most a dozen years have passed we most gloriously succeed in keeping them down at our place, as the following plainly show:

12 sheets ledger or fool's cap paper	5c
24 sheets excellent letter paper	5c
25 envelopes	2c
25 envelopes, official	8c
Splendid black ink, per bottle	3c
Shirt waists, each	10c
3 balls staging for	10c
Good screen doors complete for	98c

H. L. FREEMAN & SON, OWNERS

Samuel Sanders.

Samuel Sanders died at his home in this city last Tuesday. He was an old gentleman 82 past, and for some time has been quite feeble, but absolutely refused to live with any of his children, though repeatedly urged so to do. About 10 o'clock Tuesday morning he came up town to the post office and stopped on his way at the store of Bloomheart & Wright and talked with his son-in-law, Mr. John Wright.

A little before noon Rolla Wright took dinner to his grandfather, as was his custom, and found the old gentleman in his chair dead. Mr. Sanders was an old soldier and an old Grand Army man. He came to this county in an early day and was a very active, hard working and successful farmer. For a number of years past he has lived in the city. The funeral was held Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Wright and the remains interred in the Newman cemetery, across the river.
