Subscribe for THE REPUBLIC it gives you more news than any paper in the county.

Job lots of men's and boys clothing bought and sold for cash, cheap at Dawson's.

The commissioners have fixed on January 20 as the date for the herd law to go into effect.

C. F. Warner moved his tailoring establishment into the old Town company's building on Tuesday.

The Warriner tailor shop and the Nass shoe shop was moved in next the Smith drug store this week.

Remember we carry the best Colorado coals on the market and will not be undersold; Chicago Lumber company.

The court house chimneys were cleaned out this week and the interior of the building has been entirely renovated.

Those wanting smithing coal will find a superior article at the Foster lumber yard, they handle the big Verin Pelmont.

The teachers association was put over on account of bad weather to January 1891. The programme will be published next week.

The Christian church will soon be completed, and will be a neat and commodious structure. John Stires is the contractor and builder.

Douglas & Jordan have a fine, new music box that is the admiration of all who have heard its beautiful rendition of the latest waltzes and operatic selections.

The large building in the north end of town known, as the old hardware store will be moved on the corner made vacant by the removal of the Warriner tailor shop.

A new can can, "David the Shepherd Boy," will be rendered soon. Mr. Bower will train a class for rendering the play. You may look forward to a fine entertainment.

The Chicago Lumber company have just received a car of Missouri white oak posts and a car of Lawrence Glidden wrier. Get their prices before buying elsewhere.

We hear rumors of many young people that are to unite in holy wedlock about holiday time. This is a commendable state of affairs and shows that prosperity dwells in our midst.

If you want good coal at a reasonable price go to the Foster Lumber company. They handle the standards, viz: Robinson lump, Watson lump, Canon egg, Elk mountain, Anthracite.

The literary society meeting that was to have been held at the Methodist church Saturday evening, was postponed until the following Saturday owing to the inclemency of the weather.

The commissioners were convened in extra session this week. The purpose of the meeting was the establishment of a herd law, as the old one was pronounced null and void by the court at the last term. The proper proceedings will be observed.

Register your name at Wittelschofer's for a chance to win a prize of a child's cloak, overcoat, or a men's fine suit pattern. You need not buy anything to have a chance as it is a free gift for Christmas—plan of drawing with the people Christmas eve.

Dr. Frank Smith bought out the Morris drug store and commenced to move his former drug stock into the Morris store Monday. He will have the largest and best equipped drug store in town and a better stand than formerly. We wish him success.

W. B. Bryant moved into the Campbell place and established his tonsorial establishment Monday. We understand that a partnership has been formed with Mr. Campbell. They certainly have the most commodious tonsorial parlor in town. A cigar stand is also a feature of the new business.

We have carefully read the circular of the Inter-State Rain company of this place, and we think their proposition is perfectly fair and honorable. They expressly advertise "No Rain no Pay." Some papers are denouncing it as a fraud and spilling lots of printers ink on the subject. Now if "No Rain or no Pay" are the conditions, will our contemporaries show us wherein the fraud lies?

Don't fail to see the Chicago Lumber company before buying a bill of lumber. They will save you money.

Tennant says he has not been a third party man since he got married, some three years ago. Good stick to it old boy.

Goodland's juvenile band is progressing finely. Their late instructor has left the city, but they will keep right on under the instruction of some other musical director. It will be enough to warm the cockles on the heart of a real estate shark to see our lit band marching through our streets playing "Annie" and "Comrades."

Mr. Wittelschofer, from Goodland, and a member of one of the leading firms west of the river who deal in clothing, was looking St. Francis over this week with a view of putting in an exclusive clothing house here. We understand he has decided to locate here providing he can procure a suitable room.—Cheyenne County Rustler.

The financial success of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at this place should be a hint to snowman. If so antiquated an old fossil as "Uncle Thomas" can draw a $500 house, what would a good modern play do? Our opera house will seat 800 persons comfortably, and all seats were taken and standing room was not to be had by the time the curtain rose. Some good show should come down on us and see if they can do as well.

Sheriff-elect Kemp was a pleasant caller at THE REPUBLIC office Friday. He informed us that he had been up in Cheyenne county as witness in a suit in the county court at St. Francis. He says that some man is to build a large building there and is buying his lumber in Goodland. Also that the big ditch that was to be built is to be abandoned now since the Goodland rainmakers are to operate the weather next season.

Douglas & Jordan of Goodland, have purchased a fine stock of jewelry in the east and ordered it shipped to St. Francis. They have placed Mr. Edsall in charge and having had an extensive experience in the jewelry business, is well equipped for conducting the same. All those connected with the firm are gentlemen of worth and we may confidently expect this house to develop into one of our important institutions.—Cheyenne County Rustler.

Saturday morning it began to snow in good old New England style and before night several inches of the beautiful covered the earth like a mantle. The climate of this country is certainly changing and for the better. Instead of the dry snowless winters of the past we will have snow and rains. Old timers will tell you that ten and fifteen years ago no rain fell after about the first of August and no snow fell at all, except an occasional blizzard. Late rains and snows were detrimental to cattle raising, on the prairie, with no shelter and no feed, except what grew on the prairie. But cultivation tends to attract moisture and before many years western Kansas will be covered with its winding sheet of snow every winter, as well as the country on the same parallel in the east.

The weekly and daily press of the country are devoting considerable space to the Goodland rainmakers. Some are devoured by the green-eyed monster, while others are fair and impartial in their criticism of the new system of artificial rain making. Melbourne claims that he never sold his secret to Goodland parties, but we have it just the same. This attraction has brought Goodland to the front in the most approved style and her fame has spread abroad till either ocean knows its name. If the success of the rain experiments are assured, we would think that it would be a good plan for them to practice on snowmaking. If it is possible to make rain why isn't it possible to make snow? A foot or two of snow about now would be the greatest benefit that could possibly come to the farmers of this country. It would assure one of the greatest crops of wheat that the world ever saw. Try it brother rainmaker, try it, but for goodness sake don't monkey with a blizzard.

Traveling men claim that Goodland is the best town on the lines of railroad between Topeka and Denver, and that it does more business for its size than any town in the state. It has not only held its own in the hard times of the past few years, but has grown considerably. When one comes to look over its location it cannot be wondered at. Situated as it is in central Sherman county, it catches all the trade of its own county, and also from adjoining counties. It is a curious fact that nearly every stick of lumber and every pound of coal that is used in southern, central and western Cheyenne county is bought in Goodland; and when buying lumber and coal, provisions are also purchased here for the reason that they can be had so much cheaper. Thomas county buys considerable merchandise of us. Wallace county buys nearly all her stuff here, and we also catch a good deal of trade from Kit Carson county Colorado. Surely we are bound to make a good town, if not a great city.
