MILITARISM IN RUSSIA.

The Shooting of a Nobleman by an Army Officer Causes a Discussion in the Papers

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—An interesting case affecting the military has just been reported here and is causing considerable comment in the Russian papers.

On April 30 Lieut. Klykoff of the Thirty-seventh dragoons and a certain nobleman Malinkoffsky had an exchange of words in the local zoological garden. Lieut. Klykoff placed his hand on the handle of his revolver and ordered Malinkoffsky to desist from addressing him. Malinkoffsky did not at once obey and the lieutenant drew his weapon and after a scuffle fired three times. Malinkoffsky died from the effects of one of the bullets. Klykoff has been tried in a military court and condemned to a year and a half imprisonment. The court itself petitioned the emperor to reduce the sentence to two months arrest in a fortress.

The case has caused much comment in the newspapers. The military party declare that the wearing of the uniform necessitates officers defending the honor of the entire officers' corps as well as their own personal honor. To this the Novoye Vremya replies that it would be better to permit officers to wear civilian clothing when off military duty.

FROM OVER THE COUNTY.

A few flakes of snow fell in this vicinity last Saturday during a squall. George Horton is quite a broncho rider. He says that he is too light, however, for heavy bucking.

D. A. Long, the champion bicycle rider, rode 12 miles the other day in 24 hours.

There was a show at the Rulston school house last Saturday night. It was given by Williams Bros. and is of the kinetoscope variety.

Mrs. Frank Feaster is visiting relatives in Thomas county.

Harold Kemp was out from Goodland to see the folks Saturday.

Jake Horton intends to take a place on the Rulston section.

Report of the Fairview school, district No. 10, for the month ending October 11: Enrollment, 13; number of days taught, 19; average daily attendance, 12; average deportment, 99; cases of tardiness, none. Those neither absent nor tardy: Goldie Hollenbeck, Ethel Hollenbeck, Ella Hollenbeck, Edna Hollenbeck, Ruth Hollenbeck, Frank Jones, Florry Jones, Clyde Jones, Clinton Jones, James Jones. Those absent but not tardy: Effa Jones, Elmes Baker, Hazel Baker.

FANNIE A. ALBERT, Teacher.

Wedding Anniversary and Birthday Party. A pleasant gathering of neighbors and friends occurred on the Ichabod Warner farm, four miles southeast of Goodland, Tuesday. The occasion was the birthday of I. Warner, who was 80 years of age on that date and the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Chase Warner on the day preceding, the 15th of October. It was a family and neighborhood gathering, and was a very pleasant affair.

Elijah Binkley and Miss Mattie Strain were married last Thursday evening by Probate Judge Calvert. Miss Strain is from Brewster and is a sister of Mrs. Jud Horney, of that place. Mr. Binkley formerly lived at Brewster but his home is now in Missouri.

The Right Kind of Subscribers. W. H. Moore and brother, James Moore, the great trust promoters, are the kind of subscribers that newspaper publishers like to see. The only trouble is that subscribers like the Moores are hard to find. The Moores were reared in Binghampton, N. Y., and retain many friendships there. Naturally they are interested in Binghampton news, so they are what may be termed "life subscribers." At any rate they have paid their subscriptions to the American to the year 2110—or 200 years in advance.

An Up-to-Date Article. "Pardon me sir," began the peddler of supplies, "but may I ask you what is the style of your typewriter?" "Right up to date," replied the business man, enthusiastically. "Elbow sleeves, lace insertion shirt waist and all that sort of thing."

Notice. Notice is hereby given to all parties not to trespass on southeast of section 13-9-39 and southwest of section 13-9-38, the said lands being my property.

A. C. WOODARD.

Teachers' Examination. The next regular teachers' examination will be held at the court house on Saturday, October 25.

J. R. REED, County Superintendent.

Far Overcoats. We are showing samples of men's far overcoats for 30 days. Call and order one before the blizzards come.

A RUNAWAY BOY.

Bert Kline, 13 Years Old, Wanted to Leave Because He Disliked to Go to School—Got as Far as Edson.

Bert Kline, a boy of 13 years, thought he would like to go out and see the world, and as he did not enjoy attending school, he decided last Thursday that he would run away from home. He began his preparations by going to H. H. Auer, who he told that his mother wanted to borrow $10. Mr. Auer gave the boy $7 and told him that his mother could just as well have $10, but he did not have the change. The boy then went to different stores about town and bought a coat, cap and gloves, charging them to his father.

A search was made for young Kline Thursday night, but although several persons had seen him during the day he could not be found. Outgoing trains were watched and instructions left at the depot not to sell him a ticket.

Friday, however, he was found at Edson, having walked the ten miles, and was brought back to Goodland. He still had most of the $7 and seemed pleased to return home. Bert is an adopted son of Engineer Frank Kline, and is well treated at home. He was prompted to run away because he did not like going to school and the desire of most all boys when reaching a certain age to go out and see the world.

Presley I. Lancaster, a former resident of Sherman county, is in this city. He came to the states two weeks ago from Dawson, Y. T., where he has been managing the business of his brother, Joseph Lancaster, a wealthy Dawson merchant, who disappeared about a year ago and only recently turned up in Denver. The disappearance of Joseph Lancaster was a complete mystery to his relatives until he returned about a month ago, and related that he had felt a general breaking down of mind and body, coming on from overwork in attention to his business, and desired to get away from friends and relatives. He took considerable money with him and went to Texas where he spent several months in a hospital. He gradually grew better and then became interested in Colorado mining, not desiring to make himself known to his relatives until his complete recovery. He is now in Oakland, Cal., with his wife and will return to his business at Dawson next spring.

Presley Lancaster will spend a few days here visiting with his many friends, and will then go to Chicago on a business trip. He will return to the Klondike by the overland route via Victoria.

Will Require Two Ballot Boxes. The only election in Sherman county this year will be for township officers in Grant, Lincoln, State Line and McPherson townships, and commissioner of the Third district, which also embraces those townships.

The new law introduces some novel features. The township ticket is on one ballot and the county ticket on another, in order to facilitate the count. As a consequence this year there will be separate ballots; one having only the name of the candidates for commissioner and the other the township candidates. This will necessitate two ballot boxes.

Potatoes Will Be Cheaper. The shortage in the market supply of potatoes, and the consequent high price, are not likely to continue much longer. There are nine states, among them New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, which produce three-fifths of the country's crop, and they have not yet placed their potatoes on the market. When they begin shipping, which will be soon, the shortage and the high prices will cease.

A Case of Measles. The little daughter of H. S. Simonton was taken down with the measles Tuesday.

Ideals last as long as ice cream in a frying pan.

Horse swapping isn't any more risky than marrying; but you can swap horses more than once.

When a man marries a girl for her beauty he runs the risk of losing her; and when he marries her for her money he runs the risk of her losing it just the same.

Because you are better than the man you despise does not mean you are not worse than those who despise you.

A man knows he has enjoyed himself at the theater when it gave him a good laugh; a woman, when it gave her a good weep.

There are a whole lot of mysteries in this world that are never explained because there is nothing about them to be explained.

A woman gives her neighbor a bad reputation with the same consistency she gives her cook a good reference when she discharges her for all manner of bad things.

When a man has the will power to be able to insist upon a girl's singing a second song when her first one nearly drove him wild, he has the will power to become president if he wants it.

RAILROAD SPIKES.

To-day will be pay day. Trainmaster John Boyle was at Pueblo all this week.

Engine 547 is on the Roswell-Pueblo run for a few days.

J. D. Boyle, of the freight house, was a visitor at Denver this week.

Machinist Robert Zerwekh resumed his labors in the shops this week.

Engineer A. F. Tapper and wife have returned from a visit in Longmont, Col.

Brakeman Dayton was sick for several days this week, but is now about again.

The bridge gang finished their work here Wednesday and were sent to Flagler.

H. H. Auer was at Colby Wednesday to see the sights. Charley Short chaperoned "Dad."

The coal house of the furnaces at the machine shop was undergoing repair Wednesday.

Fireman Sam Dryden has moved his family here from Roswell. They occupy the Oakford house.

Guy Usher made his first trip as brakeman Sunday night as an understudy of Conductor Randall.

Engineer Brossa and Fireman Lee are down from the Denver run helping out the rush on the main line.

Hostler George Sherman and W. A. Baker, a machinists' helper, were examined for firemen this week.

Engine 510 returned from Valley Junction Wednesday and will go in the shop for general overhaul.

Fireman Brinker is having some trouble with one arm, the result of his experience in the Clayton wreck.

Fireman L. E. Brinker has returned from a visit to his former home in Illinois. He was accompanied by his wife.

Station Agent J. W. Handley has moved from Park Row to the Hazel-baker residence on West Eleventh street.

A Goodland brakeman in making a getaway at Phillipsburg the other night ran over a hay stack; but the rabbit escaped.

W. P. Brinker is again filling his position as round house foreman. He has fully recovered from his long and severe illness.

The 87, Paul McBride's engine, went out of the shops Wednesday and was "broke in" yesterday. The engine was in for light repair.

G. O. Prothero is a new machinists' apprentice. He is from Trenton, Mo., and is a brother of Jesse Prothero, back shop foreman.

Brakeman Fagan has resigned his position and is going south as the climate is too cold here for "Florida's" warm, southern blood.

The nine hour day went into force the first of this week on account of the short hours of good light. There is plenty of work on hand at the shops.

Phil Wabchel, for many years the efficient night agent at the depot, will leave in a few days for Council Bluffs where he will take a run as baggage man on the Rock Island.

Conductor J. T. Joyce, of passenger service, has taken a three weeks' leave of absence and will visit in Iowa. Conductor Ed Denney will be in charge of the run during Joyce's absence.

Considerable credit is given to the belief that the 800 class of engines, which it was reported would supplant the engines of the 500 type on this division, will not be sent here at all.

Dispatcher L. B. Fiske resigned his position with the road here to accept a similar position with the Chicago & Great Western at Dubuque, Ia. He left for his new field of labor Tuesday.

It is reported that Fireman Charles Sherman will soon be made an engineer, having passed the examination some time ago. His brother, George Sherman, is booked for promotion from hostler to fireman.

A carload of 20 ostriches passed through Goodland the other day en route from the ostrich farm in Colorado Springs to Monte Carlo, France. It is estimated that there were $10,000 worth of feathers on the birds.

M. B. Tomblin, formerly of Goodland, has been offered the position of timekeeper in General Foreman Adams' office. Mr. Tomblin is now living at Eldora, Col., but will move his family here should he accept the position.

Conductor George Copley is on the Denver run in Conductor Converse's place, and Converse is on Conductor Miller's run on passenger while the latter is out on a hunting trip. Converse was also out on a hunt this week.

Engineer Paul McBride has returned from a few weeks' absence which he spent at his old home in Ohio. He was accompanied by his wife and son, Frank, and they also made a visit to the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo.

Dispatcher Lineman, of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was here this week to look over an offer made him as dispatcher at this place. He turned the position down, as the town was too small for him.

Trainmaster John Boyle, of Goodland, passed through the city Sunday morning on his way to Downs to spend the day with friends. Say, John, are you trying to consolidate the Missouri Pacific and Rock Island interests in this part of the state?—Phillipsburg Dispatch.

Charley Short, who has been an apprentice in the shop for the past three years, has severed his connection with the shops and will go to his home in Colorado Springs. He will complete the trade in the Midland shops at Colorado City. Charley is a good boy and he has many friends here, who regret his leaving.

Mids Wanted. The board of county commissioners will accept bids for plastering the county jail. Bids open until October 28, 1901.

A. D. ROSS, County Clerk.

A RIO GRANDE WRECK.

A Freight Breaks in Two at Roswell and Collides With a Second Section Causing a Bad Smash Up.

A bad wreck occurred on the Rio Grande railroad at Roswell, Col., last Friday between two freight trains. The first section broke in two and the section following crashed into the detached cars, smashing up a 90-ton locomotive and 13 of the box cars. The wreckage was piled up within a space of 50 feet and was higher than the Rock Island depot at Roswell.

No one was hurt but the engineer and fireman both had a miraculous escape. The cars were loaded with lumber and coal and the damage was estimated at $50,000.

Dr. C. W. Richards Leaves Goodland. Dr. C. W. Richards, whose shingle has waived in the breezes that blew about Goodland the past eight months, left Monday night for Kansas City. The doctor failed to take down his sign, but perhaps left it for the purpose of waiving the acclaim that he no longer needs it in his business, for before taking his departure he was induced to confess that he had been elected to occupy a chair of surgery in the Eclectic Medical college of Kansas City; or it may have been only to remind us that he once graced the city with his presence.

Dr. Richards came to Goodland in February from Denver, and he certainly has had his troubles—from small pox scabs to several cases of wrong diagnosis and always the conflict of other physicians. He enjoyed considerable practice at times, but failed in registering under the new state medical law. In all candor, however, it is hoped that the doctor has improved his material condition.

Father Leydecker Goes to Germany. The Norton Champion says of Father Leydecker, who conducted services in the Catholic church in this city once a month:

"Father Leydecker closed his pastorate here last week and is now on his way to visit his old home in Germany. The priest is the only son of an old and wealthy family of manufacturers of woollens. With three sisters he inherited an estate valued at three million dollars. Father Leydecker had been educated to the law and practiced in the German courts. Later he was a surgeon in the native army and finally a priest. It was his purpose to build a $10,000 Catholic church here, contributing half the sum out of his private purse, but the bishop refused to accept the church unless the priest out of his own pocket expended $15,000 in its construction. As a consequence the priest asked to be relieved of the pastorate. He will be gone two or three years and may never return. He told the Champion reporter he had recently refused $22,000 for his farm in Leavenworth county. Father Leydecker was one priest who did not need to pound the parishioners every Sunday for unpaid dues."

J. B. Penn Goes to Oklahoma. J. B. Penn, who has been identified with the business interests of Goodland since the town's establishment, left yesterday morning for Mounds, L. T., where he will go into the cattle business on an extensive scale. He shipped his blooded Herefords to that place and he and George Hamilton, who will be employed on the ranch, accompanied the shipment.

Mr. Penn was engaged in the meat business here for many years and in his removal Goodland loses one of its oldest and most substantial business men. He sold his market a few months ago to George Hoopes.

Bell Bower Changes Occupations. A. A. Bower, who, for the past 11 years has conducted the furniture and undertaking store of Bower & Son in this city, will leave next week for Norton where he and his brother, F. L. Bower, have purchased a hardware store. Ernest Bower, another brother, will come to Goodland and manage the furniture store.

Doings of the Commissioners. The board of county commissioners were in session at an adjourned meeting from Monday to Wednesday evening. The board received the report of the examiners of the county treasurer's books and found the county's affairs in good shape. The board checked over the county business for the last year and verified the county records of receipts and expenditures.

The subject of the refunding of the county funding bonds was deferred. There being only one bid on the painting of the court house, this matter was also deferred indefinitely. The date for bids on plastering the county jail was extended to the last of October.

List of Ficti Jurors. The following persons have been drawn for jury duty for the November term of the district court: C. W. Allen, J. A. Nelson, LaBlanche; Joseph Piles, Lamborn; A. R. Wells, C. E. Biddison, S. H. Vassar, M. L. Chandler, Joe B. Williams, W. N. Rowe, Goodland; W. J. Smith, G. F. Hayden, Rulston; T. S. McDaniel, Brewster.
