

In the Field.

EDITOR ADVOCATE:—Last week I completed a trip with President Hanna and Alonza Wardall through a majority of the counties in the Sixth congressional district, and I wish to say, to take them as a whole, there are more real live Pops in that district than in any of the sixty-three counties of the state in which we have been. We never found a man up there but who was determined to win in this great fight for the common people. They are all anxious to "send out the light." Not a man in the whole district but who is willing to sacrifice his own personal interest or ambition for the welfare of the party, from a national, state or county standpoint, and not only that, but they are good organizers.

Especially is the organization good in Jewell, Smith, Osborne and Thomas counties. Some of the county officials are doing the same effective work as is being done by the officials of Kingman county. It would pay if some of our county officials in other parts of the state would write to Will Brandon, of Kingman county, and learn just what our fellows are doing there. I should judge that Phillips, Norton and Decatur counties were sending out more reform literature than any other counties in the state.

The boys in Sheridan and Graham counties are hard workers, but they have had no crops there for some time, and are not able to send out as many papers as they would like to send. Rooks county said they were going to redeem themselves by sending a Populist representative to take the place of the corporation representative that was sent up from there two years ago. The Lincoln county men all swear by Congressman Baker, and say they are going to give him an increased majority this fall. As for Mitchell county, she always comes up "smiling from below," and gives a good majority for the People.

I believe that A. C. Hillman, county superintendent of Saline county, is doing more work as county lecturer of the F. A. & I. U. than any man holding a similar position in the Alliance work in the state.

At the close of their trip, I had the pleasure of being with General J. B. Weaver for several days. He spoke in Washington, Clay, Republic and Saline counties to immense crowds. Just think of from 2,000 to 3,000 people coming out at this time a year to hear a political speech and you can imagine what they will do when the heat of the campaign opens. One only needs to be with General Weaver a few days to see what a wonderful campaigner he is. You cannot listen to him but you will be convinced that he is right, and that his whole life work is given to building up the interest of the common people. Not only is it true that he is one of the finest reasoners on the American rostrum, but he is the most thorough organizer in the United States. If this were not true, how could it be that three times he was sent to congress from districts where he had to overcome immense majorities, and he was only defeated by the money power importing thousands of voters into his district, as they did in Jerry Simpson's district two years ago. I wonder how many of your readers who have read Congressman Sibley's great silver speech in congress knows that Sibley was converted to our faith by hearing General Weaver delivering a speech in Pennsylvania some three years ago. In fact, is it not true that had not Weaver battled single-handed and alone for three months in congress against the burning up of the greenbacks and the reduction of the currency, and for the building up of a party for the common people, that to-day there would be very few reform office-holders, either national, state or county? All honor to brave General Weaver, and may he live to see his name engraved in the hearts and homes of all the common people.

During the fourteen days out on this trip, I took 617 subscribers for the ADVOCATE. So you see the people like to read a good, Christian paper.

EDITOR ADVOCATE:—The enclosed one-dollar bill was sent me by the Universal Weeder company, Boston, Mass., to pay some freight that they had agreed to prepay on a weeder I purchased of them. When the dollar came into my hands I had manipulated the deposit made in the Mechanics' and Farmers' bank so the Universal Weeder company had paid the freight and I returned this dollar bill to them with my condolence, and assured them that they had my prayers for their success. A few days since I received the following letter:

BOSTON, Mass., April 13, '94.

Jim M. Kane;

DEAR SIR—Here's that same dollar back. Use it for cigars or give same to the unemployed. We will get it back from the good effects of your prayers. Yours truly,

THE UNIVERSAL WEEDER CO.,

M. B. GILBRICK, Boston, Mass. Manager.

MR. ADVOCATE, I sometimes smoke, as I did when the republicans down here published me as being licensed to preach by the late Methodist Episcopal (Parsons) conference of this state; I eat and wear some clothes and have other desires while in the flesh, as other people, but I will not give up this dollar for any of all these things. I send it to the ADVOCATE company, not that the company is "unemployed," but that the ADVOCATE may make its weekly visits and bear glad tidings, strengthen hope and stiffen the political backbone of many homes, and you own the dollar.

EDITOR ADVOCATE:—Your last issue contains a tabulated report of the world's stock of gold and silver money. The tables are probably as near correct as the purpose requires, but this table should have contained other items. After giving the world's stock of gold and silver, these items should have been given: World's stock of gold and silver money lunatics, two-thirds of the whole population; world's stock of sensible paper money advocates one-third. World's stock of land monopolists, two-tenths of the whole people; world's stock of landless, eight-tenths of the whole. Land monopolists of the United States, three-tenths; landless of the United States, seven-tenths. World's stock of luxuriant idle people through land monopoly, two-tenths. Employed as supernumeraries in the United States, about two-tenths; unemployed through result of present conditions in the United States, three-tenths. Profitably employed in the United States, three-tenths. Prospective life of the republic under present conditions, six and two-twelfth years.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON WORLD'S FAIR

Those of our readers who improved the opportunity of attending the WORLD'S FAIR will always remember it as one of the grandest privileges of their lives.

SAVE THIS COUPON.

It contains some things you ought to know. You ought to know that the World's Fair Management asked all manufacturers of Binders and Mowers to take their machines into the grain and grass fields, and by their work prove their claims. You ought to know that the manufacturers of McCormick Binders and Mowers promptly notified the World's Fair Committee that they would comply with this reasonable request. You ought to know that various other manufacturers of Binders and Mowers sent representatives to examine the grain and grass fields specified, and that these representatives reported to their respective companies that the condition of the crops to be cut was such that ordinary machines could not handle them. You ought to know that none of those manufacturers allowed their machines to go into these tests where they knew the McCormick Binders and Mowers would be at work. You ought to know that the World's Fair Judges said of McCormick Binders that they were simple and easily operated, and that their performance was in all respects thoroughly satisfactory. You ought to know that they said of McCormick Mowers that their draft is at least 30 lbs. lighter than the draft of ordinary mowers. You ought to know these things because you don't want to make a mistake when it comes to buying so important a farm implement as a Binder or a Mower. You want the best.

WHO CAN EVER FORGET THEM?

Or who can ever forget the proud distinction achieved by McCormick Binders and Mowers? Who can ever forget that the McCormick received the highest awards given for any make of Binders and Mowers, and that in the regular field trials they earned the only honorable mention for grain and grass cutting machinery?
