PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

A campaign of philanthropy is some-thing new in politics, but that is prac-tically what Pennsylvania is experiencing just now. Mr. P. A. B. Widener, great street car magnate of Philadelphia, is said to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, and he is making a bid for popularity by scattering public benefactions with a princely hand.

Mr. Widener recently began his cam-paign by announcing that he intended to give his magnificent city residence, valued at $600,000, to Philadelphia to be used as a branch of the free library

He further stated that he was prepared to spend $400,000 in fitting it up for the purpose and hanging fine works of art on the walls. He is to turn the building over to the library trus-tees within a year after his new country house is completed.

This generous gift Mr. Widener follows with the statement that he is to be one of four men who are to give $30,-000 each toward the construction of a suitable building for a museum of art and that when it is built he will donate his collection of art treasures, valued at $500,000, to the prospective museum.

Victoria Woodhull Again.

announcement that Victoria Woodhull-Martin is soon to revisit this country and the accompanying rumor that she is to marry a rich western mine owner recalls the wonderfully interesting career of this remarkable woman. It was nearly 30 years ago that the Claffin sisters, Victoria and Tennessee, or "Tennie" as she is more familiarly known, began to attract attention. Chicago knew them "before the fire." Later they appeared in New York. Vic-toria had then had two husbands and had married Mr. Woodhull, who figures but inconspicuously in her history. The sisters astonished the public by opening a broker's office in Wall street and publiabing a newspaper. Victoria became a famous lecturer and startled society by advocating woman's rights, social reform and a sort of free love theory. They prospered for a time, but finally went to England. There the sisters began a still more brilliant career and ended by marrying rich men. Victoria became the wife of John Biddulph Martin, a wealthy banker, and Tennie wedded Sir Francis Cook. Since then both have been prominent in philanthropic enterprises Mr. Martin died last March, leaving all his fortune to his wife.

The Kansas Farmer and the Advocate and News together, for one year, for EVERY ONE SATISFIED.

Pronounced the Most Successful Treatment for All Chronic Diseases Ever Received.

One Month's Treatment Free Until Dec. 20. Time Will Not be Extended.

A large number of the best citizens in and around Topeka have commenced a course of medical treatment with the noted American doctors during the last thirty days, and all say they have never received so much relief in so short a time before, although many had been under treatment by others for years. As these specialists have cured many citizens of Topeka before, and all now under treat-ment receiving such relief in so short a time, it's no wonder all feel so well sat-issed with the treatment they are now receiving. These doctors have not been able to see near all who called for treatable to see near all who called for treatment, and, therefore, have decided to extend the time of one month's free treatment to December 20. No one who calls will be neglected, and every effort will be made to see each one during the time mentioned, as there will be no expectations of the decided of the contract of t tension of the time. This is no charity offer, but is intended to be for all who desire to put it to good use and mean to be cured. These doctors will not publish the names of any one unless their consent is first given to do so. Every method known to medical science is used in its proper place that is known to remove disease. Having in-vestigated every means and being men of large experience and close investi-gators they can offer the suffering public a complete and successful treatment at a cost within the reach of all. They are no fakirs, but men of high standing and integrity, and what they tell you can be relied upon.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.

The many ills peculiar to the female sex are met with such rapid relief in every case that all are surprised to know that they can be so quickly cured after years of suffering (untold). These doc-tors bid all ladies who suffer come and be healed and suffer no more.

RHEUMATISM IN ALL FORMS.

All who suffer from this disease, no difference from what cause or how long standing, no difference how much swollen or how much pain. No difference how long you have been confined to bed, go to the American Doctors and get perfect relief in fifteen days.
