OFF FOR EUROPE.

Mr. Thomas Williamson and wife, are back from the Pacific coast, both looking splendid, especially Tom, who never looked so well.

LITTLE BUSINESS.

The justice court yesterday showed up with nothing of the criminal sort of business. The crooks seem to have a dull time of it these depressing days and their line of business is suffering considerably.

LETTER OF INQUIRY.

Mr. R. A. Dyre, of St. Louis, writes a letter that has a business ring about it, to a prominent gentleman of this city.

TRUE ENOUGH.

Mr. John A. Givens passed through this city yesterday on his way home at St. Sterling, Ill., from a visit in the southwestern part of the state, where he has a large ranch.

CAUGHT AT THE CROSSING.

Yesterday morning, as the five wagon of John & Williams was crossing the Ft. Scott tracks on First street, near the passenger depot, it was struck by the through freight train and badly broken up.

REHEARD BY THE COURT.

Mr. G. W. Johnson, the real estate rustler, has returned from a visit of some weeks east, and is again on the war path and looks as though his vacation furnished needed rest.

A BAD FRIEND.

Yesterday, near the Santa Fe depot, a gentleman under the influence of liquor was making a great deal of noise, cursing and abusing and his wife was endeavoring to restrain him.

SUICIDE.

W. H. Holbrook Takes Strychnine and Dies in Terrible Agony Three Hours Later.

The Rash Deed Thought to be the Result of Financial Embarrassment.

Last evening near 6 o'clock Mr. William H. Holbrook, who has for a few weeks been proprietor of the Fisher boarding house on North Topeka avenue, took, as he claimed, a dose of quinine in the presence of some members of his family.

He said at one time that he had taken only a dose of quinine. At other times he said he had taken some other medicine, but denied having taken poison.

The doctors then examined the glass he was known to have used in taking the medicine near 6 o'clock. They were satisfied that it had contained strychnine. Convulsion followed convulsion until at 9:15 he was a corpse.

When the information was imparted to his family and friends that he had committed suicide there was no particular surprise manifested. He had lately been heard to say frequently that he would rather be dead than alive.

He leaves a wife and three daughters, one of whom is married and lives in Nebraska. Mr. Holbrook's persistent denials of having taken poison has created a suspicion among some that he might have made a mistake thinking he was taking quinine when in reality it was strychnine.

Another theory is that he was so determined on committing suicide that he would not say he had taken poison fearing it would enable the physicians to save his life.

PHILADELPHIA STORE.

Policeman Dan Parks did a good job in the capture of a brilliant young rascal who was much sought for elsewhere. A fine horse was missing from a farm in Dickinson county some time ago, and shortly afterwards the animal appeared in Clay Center with a mortgage attached of $99, given by the supposed owner, Henry Ingalls.
