It is said that it will be a "cold day" when Cleveland is left, but it is all right to expect cold weather in November.

The Coffeyville people say that if they catch the man who left that dynamite package at the express office, they will not keep him eighteen months before they hang him, after the Chicago system.

The platform of the minority when unmasked is "success of one candidate and treachery to the balance of the ticket." And yet this success and treachery can only succeed through the aid and substantial help of the baser elements of which the majority party is composed.

Remember that local success and organization is the "tap-root" from which all our national greatness, let every Republican mark the politician who proposes to scratch so long tried and true man as Van Ness, whose defeat would hand Sedgwick county into the control of the Democratic party.

If you have not registered you have just two days left in which to thus qualify yourself as a voter. It is the duty of every good citizen to take part in public elections, therefore the obligation resting upon him to prepare for the exercise of the privilege as well as the performance of the duty is no less binding. Go register.

The EAGLE is a Republican paper and in sympathy with the principles which in days gone by has made the Republican party grand in its conceptions, glorious in its victories and imperishable in the results of its achievements; therefore will remember the man for whom it has unselfishly fought in the past, which man would now break down the party and the paper which stood by them.

Minor elections are necessary to joint action and through the aid of disorganized or easy going members of a majority party. Trading at the polls to carry through some one at the expense of the balance of their ticket is a long established precedent of the minority and men have been nominated this year by the Democratic party of Sedgwick county to be used as "wadding" to the Democratic gun and land the "bullet candidate" victorious at the polls.

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING IN THE FIRST WARD.

Without doubt the great majority of the people in the First Ward desire the return of P. B. Plumb to the United States senate and would much regret his defeat. Every Republican would very much regret to have it said that the First Ward was against the man who had stood so faithfully by the city. It is, nevertheless, a fact that the First Ward will have a controlling voice in sending a representative to the legislature who will either vote for or against Plumb. The Republicans nominated Mr. Boyle, and that there should be no mistake, the convention pledged him to vote for the man who got up in the United States senate, this summer, when they had cut down the appropriation one half on that government building in the First Ward, and made such a speech in our behalf as a city, said so much in our praise as a people, that the senate was persuaded not only to put the original sum back, but made a demand that the conference committee of the two house accede. It is hoped and ought to be expected that the First Ward will speak out in no uncertain way when it comes to the question of a representative who has been instructed to vote for Plumb.

A PARTISAN OUTRAGE.

In his annual report Governor Church, of Dakota, places the gain in population in that territory during the past year at 62,000, making a total of 640,000 people there now, while in the same period 2,500,000 acres of land have been purchased for settlement. Governor Stevenson, of Idaho, estimates the present population of that territory at 100,000, and puts the amount of land under cultivation at 500,000 acres above the figures of a year ago. These figures furnish proof of the rapid growth and development of the great west and afford a record of material progress that cannot be equaled outside of the American republic. According to this showing Dakota has a greater population than either of the ten states of Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oregon, Rhode Island, Vermont or West Virginia; yet because, forsooth, it is understood that Dakota would send a Republican delegation to congress the Democrats arbitrarily refuse the appeals of the territory for admission into the union as a state, thus virtually disfranchising the 150,000 voters-citizens resident there. So long as the Democracy shall control the administration and either branch of congress it will be their policy to prevent the admission of Dakota and every other territory that is likely to develop a Republican majority, and for the reason, in addition to that stated above, that as territories they afford patronage in the appointment of officers. With the average Democrat it is party before country, justice or ought else.

THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

Bentley for the State Senate.

O. H. Bentley, our candidate for state senator in this district, is thirty-seven years old and the senior member of the law firm of Bentley, Hatfield & Bentley. He has a very large acquaintance in this city and county. We doubt if there is any lawyer at this bar better known throughout Sedgwick county and more popular as a man and lawyer than Mr. Bentley. Our nominee was born in the village of Fabius, Onondaga county, N. Y., and grew to manhood on his father's farm at Arcade, Wyoming county, N. Y., to which place his father moved, when the subject of this sketch was 3 years of age. Teaching a country school for two years, Mr. Bentley, when eighteen years of age, began the study of law, spending a portion of his time in the office of Bowen, Rogers & Locke, the eminent lawyers of Buffalo, N. Y. This firm were the preceptors of Grover Cleveland. Before becoming of age Mr. Bentley removed to Ohio and was admitted to the bar at Columbus in January, 1872. For eight years Mr. Bentley resided at Cleveland, O., where he met with the usual successes and reverses incident to a young lawyer's life, and was married.

In March, 1880, Mr. Bentley crossed the Missouri river on an emigrant ticket and after visiting most of the enterprising cities of Kansas located in Wichita fully convinced that this was the coming city of Kansas. He has since enjoyed a lucrative law practice, devoting his time largely to criminal and corporation law. From the first year of Mr. Bentley's residence here he has done hard work for the party, making nineteen speeches in this county the first fall of his residence here. Hence his popularity with his party friends in this county.

Aside from being an excellent lawyer, a ready debater and a man fully abreast of the times on all public questions, our candidate is a public-spirited citizen and always contributes liberally of his time and means to the advancement of this city. Two years ago Mr. Bentley and Wm. G. Dacey, of Boston, conceived the idea of building a railroad from this city to Ellsworth, Kansas. They, with a number of our public spirited citizens, formed the Kansas Midland railway company, which led to the building of one of Wichita's best railway lines.

For several months past in connection with Dean Adams and prominent citizens here Mr. Bentley has been pushing the new St. John's Episcopal church, which will be, when completed, one of the finest church buildings in the west. When Mr. Bentley takes hold of an enterprise, he gives it his entire time until success is assured; as we have already said in these columns, his energy is untiring.

Such are the leading characteristics of this man who will be elected in this county by a very handsome majority. Mr. Bentley is an ardent admirer of Senator Plumb, and if elected will go to the legislature instructed to vote and work for Senator Plumb's re-election to the United States senate.

There are many things required of the next legislature by this city and county. This county is the banner county of Kansas, Wichita is the largest and most important city of the state. Sedgwick county comprises the twenty-ninth senatorial district of Kansas. The state is over-whelmingly Republican. Let us send a state senator from this county in accord with the majority. Then something can be accomplished for this city and county.

In face of the fact that four quite prominent men of their respective communities, whose names appeared in the "Vidette" manual, have acknowledged that they were members of such a secret organization, and that their oaths and proceedings published in the expose are correct, our esteemed evening contemporary still continues to scream for proof. Why don't that doubting concern call for proof that the sun shines?

Let every man who reveres the name of Lincoln, cherishes the memory of Garfield, and whose "blood runs warmer than wine" at the recollection of Grant, stand by the men who today exemplify and keep green the adamant principles that hath made our lives free, happy and prosperous. Scout the advice of a paid attorney and the solicitations of men who would sink their political convictions for the sorry use of pelf.

Nothing has been substituted for the fatal stove for heating passenger cars by the railroads of the country so far as we have seen, and now that the season is here when it becomes necessary to heat the cars we may expect the horror of burning to accompany and intensify the terrors of railroad accidents which, it seems, there is no possibility of avoiding. Disastrous railroad accidents may be unavoidable, but a substitute for the stove for heating and the coal oil lamp for lighting could be provided and should be required.

The Republican central committee of Winfield, whom the Democratic papers have been charging with the dynamite explosion at Coffeyville, have offered one thousand dollars reward for the perpetrator of that crime. Governor Martin has also offered a reward in the name of the state. As the Democratic party are wanting money so badly that they are making all the world blush with their methods of forcing office holders to give down, why don't they show up those guilty Republicans and take that thousand dollars?

We wonder if Mr. Rogers, the assistant orator to Botkin, advertised to-morrow night in Wichita, is the same whose name figured in that Vidette manual as a misleader from which we made sufficient extracts to drive the Democracy crazy? We wouldn't be much surprised. In that enunciation Botkin's name also will no doubt soon be enrolled as a misleader. P. Peter Elder had better look out for this disciple of J. Peter St. John, who went even wait for any cock to crow. By the way, when it comes to crowing, Botkin can beat any cock in the land.

The EAGLE has never meddled or interfered in nominations. Its editor may from year to year have advised, but when nominations are made the EAGLE is for the ticket as made, not always from choice, but from a sincere and lasting conviction that the Republican convention was entitled to respect, and the ticket presented was the result of its deliberations, and every Republican should conceal his personal dislikes and work not for the candidate, but for the final success of the heroic principles that placed Lincoln's name by the side of Washington's.

Rumors are rife that men who owe all their character and prosperity to the Republican party, who are unrecognized until placed in position by this party—men who today would be cyphers if the rank and file of the party had not taken the EAGLE's word that they were worthy of support and voted for them, are deliberately counselling the defeat of some of the candidates on the Republican ticket, and their reasons do not arise to even the dignity of being personal spite to the candidates, but on the other hand sneek of indirect bribery and corruption.

Organization in times of peace and quietude when analyzed is more necessary than at any other time. Organization is all there is of party, and every foe to the Republican party desires to break this organization and to this end the several foes of the party though loathing each other have joined hands and though like rats they may eat each other, their souls' desire is to effect disintegration of Republican ranks and trust to the future for spoils. Look out for the men who are disorganizing the Republican party of Sedgwick county by advocating the election of a Democrat.

The EAGLE and all other Republican papers of the state did not publish a large page of stereotyped plates simultaneously and charge the leaders of the Union Labor party with anarchy, just because they thought some secret organization was menacing the life and liberty of people of this state.—Benton.

No, you can bet we didn't. The expose was made solely for the benefit of the Democratic party which was falling an innocent victim to the designs of an oath bound secret order, whose order was not only trying to run the U. L. party, but whose leaders no doubt named half of the Democratic candidates for the legislature in the state of Kansas, besides many of the county candidates. To come closer home there is a man running on the Democratic ticket in Sedgwick county who is no more the nominee of the Democrats than he is of the Union Labor party. Beyond or behind that the Beacon knows no more than the EAGLE, unless indeed the Beacon is a misleader, and we must confess that it makes more noise about the expose than any two misleaders that we know of.

With all the demagogic howling from the Democratic press and partisans over the dynamite outrage at Coffeyville and frantic attempt to connect some Republican with the dastardly outrage, no effort has been made, so far as we have seen or heard, by that party or anybody, or committee acting or speaking for it, to apprehend or ascertain who the perpetrator of the outrage is. From the bluster and blow and sweeping declarations indulged in it was reasonably presumed that the miscreant would not have been placed in safe keeping if not summarily dealt with ere this, but after a week's waiting, under the impression that the whole matter would be ferreted out and all the attendant facts given to the public by the ready accusers, the Democrats, it devolves upon the Republican state and district committees, seconded by the state authorities, to take the initiative and ascertain if possible who the guilty party is that may be brought to justice. If this is not done it will be no fault of the Republican party.

EXCHANGE SHOTS.

Caught in the Web. Myron W. Reed. I often find a spider, human or otherwise, wounded or dead in the web he has woven for the death of others. Of all things in the world, what could better be appointed to catch the spider? J. J. Wilkes took a spider from the box of the man he murdered that the draped American flag. The thing he hated tripped him and he landed on the stage of York's theater in such a way as to break his leg, and to break it in such a way that he could not ride long nor far. He must stop, within reach of capture or death.

The "Sun" Washington State. From the Chicago News. Kansas is an advanced and progressive state, peopled and controlled by a highly intelligent and wonderfully active civilization. Kansas has drawn for her population upon those very sources which have assured Chicago her pre-eminence standing before the world. Everywhere within her boundary lines are to be found schools, churches, libraries and the best society. Some of the best literature in the west has come out of Kansas, and the newspaper press of Kansas has always maintained the highest standard. We will venture the assertion that, making just allowances for its age and its population, there are more costly private libraries in Kansas than any other western state.

Informed by a Spirit. Arkansas City Dispatch. Yesterday we stated that Thomas Binkley had received a message announcing the death of his mother, but did not have time to give the details of the mysterious vision in which he first received his information. On Sunday evening Mr. Binkley accidentally dropped into the house of John Furlong, in the Third ward, where a number of people were holding a meeting. While there he received what purported to be a spirit communication telling him that his mother had died that morning at 3:20 in Ohio, and that he would receive word to that effect on Monday. He did receive a message as predicted, with the exception that it gave the time of death at 1:15 instead of 3:30.

A Big Quartette. Washington Globe. There were four attorney generals in the supreme court yesterday morning—all there on legal business. They were Kilpatrick, of Pennsylvania; Anderson, of Georgia; Hogg, of Texas, and Bradford, of Kansas. All are large men and to a considerable extent, they bear a strong resemblance to each other. The largest is Mr. Hogg, who weighs 250 pounds, but the others tip the beam at figures that are over the 200 mark. Each succeeded in being introduced to the others, and then they went out together and were weighed, the result being a grand total of 880 pounds of flesh and legal lore. Then they hired a capacious and extra strong hack and went for a drive that lasted until the horses were tired. The aggregation of law and avoidpoids is now bound together by bonds of friendship.

KANSAS KOLLARY. Farmers in the vicinity of Sedgwick are sowing their wheat fields with salt to head off the chinch bug. The boiler and engine of the Forest City city works at Sterling are to be utilized in making salt. From present indications there will be three more salt companies making salt inside of three weeks.—Kingman Courier.

The amount paid out by the local pension department at Topeka last week was enormously large, $42,262.20 being disbursed.

Congressman Anderson drove eighty miles and made four speeches one day last week. That's the kind of a man that the Democrats of the fifth district are trying to beat.

The editor of the Leoti Standard suggests to the people who grieve illicit visits to his local home, that instead of making an occasional bucket of sack instead of picking out all the chinks. Prof. Blake of the Lawrence university thinks the next crop of winter wheat will be worth $1.40 per bushel in Chicago at threshing time, and predicts another big yield for Kansas. Fort Scott shipped last year 1,100 car loads of flag stone, 100,000 barrels of cement, $20,000 worth of window glass, $20,000 worth of iron and boiler plates, a great quantity of lumber and machinery. What with the Two Old Cronies and the opening of the Night Blooming Cereus flowers in the green house of one of the citizens, to entertain them, Abilene's society folk are reasonably well entertained evenings.

There are not so many daily papers in Kansas as there was a year ago, but there is a large accumulation of information among that class of optimists who imagine that it doesn't take any money to pay printers and buy white paper.

There is such a suspicion of dynamite now in the air at Winfield that the most devoted husbands in the town compel their wives to open the oysters and everything in the line of provisions that come in cans.—Arkansas City Traveler.

School children in Shawnee county will not go to the school a failure of the teacher to observe Solomon's injunction. It is said there were 250 cases of "licking" in the country schools of that county last year. Two lady teachers led the record as wallopers.

Governor Martin issued a proclamation offering a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of Thomas J. Groves, late treasurer of Harvey county, who is a fugitive from justice, charged with the embezzlement of from $10,000 to $15,000 of the county funds some three months ago.

Abilene is all agog over the finding of a basket containing a handsome girl baby, about six weeks old, daintily wrapped up in elegant apparel and accompanied by a large roll of expensive clothing, on the door step of one of the prominent and wealthy, though childless citizens of that place Monday night about 8 o'clock.

The Southwest Kansas Millers' association is in session at Arkansas City. About twenty-five members are present, and every person accessible to the two months and the subjects discussed are of interest to millers only. There is no forming of pools or combines looking to making unfair prices paid for wheat or in the sale of flour.

Governor Martin has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the party guilty of placing a package of dynamite in the hands of the agent of the Pacific Express company at Coffeyville, resulting in the death of Mrs. Upham and her daughter. The proclamation also offers a reward of $300 for the arrest of each and every person accessible to the crime.

Arkansas City is on sent for a sensation. An old man named Alex McDowell left that place in company with a man named Decker six weeks ago to go into the territory for a few days on a hunt. Decker returned but McDowell is still missing and nothing has been seen or heard of him. Foul play is suspected and Decker is supposed to know something about the matter. No arrests.

The twenty-first annual convention of the English Lutheran Synod of Kansas is in session in Lawrence this week.

Amusement for Kansas schoolboys.

I believe that Uppigham makes fuller provision than any other existing school to meet the necessity for diverse employment or healthy amusement outside of study hours. Until within a few years the great schools mostly contented themselves with providing facilities for cricket and football. For these ample provision is made at Uppigham in several large playing fields, and the cricketers of the school particularly have won for themselves a record so distinguished as to prove conclusively that exclusive attention to that game is not essential to attention to the "fray" stage he is about one inch long, with gray eyes, when three months old he becomes well shaped, with rufous spots on the sides. He is then so healthy and greedy he will jump at anything. Many mistake them at this age for trout, and it is common for markets to offer them for sale as brook trout. Fully about one-half the later returns to the sea, the rest remaining in fresh water. This has been decided to be because some develop more rapidly than others, the late ones going to salt water in the second season. The arrangement can be accepted as a wise provision of nature against wholesale destruction.—Globe Democrat.

How to Kill Country.

The province of Fuk-Kien, China, is almost an unbroken stretch of hills and mountains, a charming country to lovers of wild scenery, but tedious to travel in, for the only roads are sedan chairs. Except near the seacoast, the streams are swift and rocky, rendering their ascent by boat very slow. One might think that in such a country rice could not be staple, yet on every hill and mountain where there is a spring and soil good to work, there are terraces for rice. The people cultivate into every nook and corner, so that a map of the rice courses of Fuk-Kien would be a map of its water courses. The people who inhabit the valleys present great varieties of character and speech. If you cross a divide which separates two main branches of the river, you may find people living within a few hours' walk of each other who can scarcely converse together in fact, every village has its own local dialect.—Rev. J. E. Walker in Globe-Democrat.

He Saved Three Cents.

A man, his wife and three children walked up to one of the drop-penny-in-the-dot-and-ascertain-your-correct-weight machines in one of the North river ferry houses. After examining it he told his three children to step on the platform of the scale, which they did. He then dropped a cent into the slot and the hand moved around to 800. He then told the largest child to step off, and so on as he did the hand moved back to 118, then by substituting 118 from 200 he ascertained the weight of the child. In this manner he also ascertained the respective weights of the other two children. His wife and himself got on the scales and were weighed in a like manner. He saved three cents.—New York Letter.

Points in Butter Making.

At a recent meeting of the Illinois Dairy Institute Professor Roberts stated that in his experience the Holstein's milk tested at 4 and the Jersey's 1 1/2 pounds of milk to one pound of butter. A fact generally conceded at this meeting was that cream should be kept cool and sweet until there is enough for a churning, and then all sorted or ripened alikes by putting in a warm room and allowing them both to ferment in butter. Experts present declared that by this means one tenth more butter will be made than by a promiscuous mixing of the cream in all stages of ripening.

The fastest armed cruiser in the world.

It is said to be the German cruiser, with 2,000 tons, 12 guns, 12 torpedoes, 4,000 horsepower, she makes twenty-three knots per hour.
