THE TIME AND PLACE.

MANGLED TO DEATH.

THE HORRIBLE FATE OF A RESIDENT OF ANNESS.

He is Thrown From His Horse and Dragged Until a Lifeless Mass.

His Skull Crushed and His Body Found Entirely Dead Lying in the Road.

Further Particulars of the Awful Storm at Clements, Kan.—Only One Life Now Known to be Lost—Items From Goldwater—Kingfisher City News—Notes.

Special Dispatch to the Daily Eagle. CONWAY SPRINGS, Kan., May 30.—Albert Williams, a young man unmarried, working on the Thomas Hall farm, near Anness, Sumner county, was thrown from his horse this morning and killed. It is supposed his feet got fastened in the saddle stirrup and the horse kicked him to death, as his skull was crushed and his body lying in the road.

COLDWATER BREVITIES. Special Correspondence to the Daily Eagle. GOLDWATER, Kan., May 30.—Comanche county was visited by a splendid rain last night, the fall being estimated at one and one-half inches. It is still raining today and there are strong indications of a heavy rain this afternoon. Wheat is being harvested in various parts of the county and the yield promises to be quite good. Oats is still in fine condition and with the impetus received by the last rain will doubtless produce an excellent crop. Corn is in better condition than was ever known at this season of the year.

Over 4,000 acres of land changed hands in this county last week and the real estate market bids fair to become quite active in the immediate future. The corner stone of our new $12,000 school building will be laid on the 30th, with appropriate exercises by the Masonic lodge. A well prepared program will be carried out in this, as well as the memorial exercises in the afternoon.

Rev. B. E. Shawhan, of Winfield, is conducting a revival service at the M. E. church. The house is crowded to its utmost capacity at every service. About twenty persons, many of these heads of families, have already been converted. The seasonal fair was warm. Finch, Long and Emerson have already been here securing accommodations for their delegates. As the matter now stands, Finch will go into convention with eleven, Long with thirteen, and Emerson with ten delegates.

THE STORM AT CLEMENTS. EMPORIA, Kan., May 30.—Latter particulars received today from the scene of the terrible tornado which took place last evening in the neighborhood of Clements, Chase county, thirty miles west of Emporia, show that only one death so far has resulted, that of Mr. Milton Brown, a wealthy farmer. But his wife is not expected to live, as she has been seriously injured in the rally, and her two children, a boy and a girl, were also seriously injured. Mr. Brown's head was smashed almost flat by a portion of the house falling on him. His body otherwise was little bruised. Two daughters, one aged about 12 and the other not over 2, were also injured, the former having a broken limb and the latter a bruised and battered face. A son, said to be a young man, was also injured, having one of his legs broken. Three others, who lived south of Clements, were also slightly wounded. At least twelve or fifteen farm houses, with out houses, were blown to pieces. Trees were uprooted or broken short off, while the trees in the yards and crops in the track of the tornado were utterly and irretrievably damaged.

The track of the storm was about three miles in length and only about fifty yards wide. A well prepared program will be carried out in this, as well as the memorial exercises in the afternoon.

ANOTHER HEAVY RAIN. PARSONS, Kan., May 30.—The southeastern portion of this state has just been visited with another rain. Drenching rains have been frequent during the past two weeks and the bottom lands in this portion of Kansas are very wet. Unfortunately for the farmers, rains set in when scarcely one-half their corn planting had been finished, and will have the effect of setting them back with their crop. The corn planted is growing rapidly, but the ground has been too wet for the farmers to give their fields the necessary attention. The wheat and oat crop is abundant in this part of Kansas. The corn crop this year will be late, but if the weather opens out favorably, with a warm June, this year's corn crop will be assured beyond the possibility of a doubt.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL. EMPORIA, Kan., May 30.—Last evening Luther Montgomery, while engaged in repairing a bridge over the Neosho river just north of this city, accidentally slipped and fell about twenty feet. He alighted on his head, fracturing his skull and died about 9 o'clock this morning. The remains will be sent to Pierceville, Ind.

MINERS WILL GO BACK. PARSONS, Kan., May 30.—The 600 coal miners in the employ of the Osage Coal and Mining Company at McAllister, I. T., and who went out on a strike about the middle of last month on account of the company enlarging the coal screens one-eighth of an inch, or from seven-eighths of an inch to one inch, it is said, have signified their intention of accepting the new scale of measurement laid down by the coal company, and will return to work again on the new basis on the 1st proximo.

NEW CORPORATIONS. TOPPERA, Kan., May 30.—The following new charters have been granted by the secretary of state: The Holton Hotel and Building company, Capital stock, $50,000. Directors: A. D. Walker, Jason Dickey, T. P. Moore, M. M. Beck, J. G. Hittner, and J. C. Hittner.

The Chelsea Investment company, of Kansas City, Capital stock, $50,000. Directors: D. M. Edgerton, D. D. Hoag, L. E. James, W. E. Barnhart, of Kansas City, Kan.; Robert Gillham, G. W. Tourtellot, of Kansas City, Mo.

The Adams Hotel company, of Parsons, Capital stock, $40,000. Directors: A. Matthews, W. K. Maxwell, John Adams, C. E. Foley and C. W. Turner.

DON'T BELIEVE IT IS HILLMAN. LAWRENCE, Kan., May 30.—Not one person in ten believes that the party arrested in Tombstone, Ariz., is John B. Hillman, and even the attorneys for the insurance companies place very little reliance upon the report.

The first accounts of the capture of Hillman were that Miller, the man who placed him under arrest, had been following him for ten years in hopes of getting $10,000 reward. This reward is worth, as the insurance companies have never offered one cent for Hillman's capture.

About four years ago this same Miller telegraphed to Colonel Walker, of Douglas county, that he had Hillman under arrest at Caldwell, Kan. The insurance companies telegraphed Colonel Walker to go down and see Miller. On arriving at Caldwell, he met Miller, who said that the prisoner was twelve miles in the territory working on a ranch. They hired a buggy and proceeded to Caldwell. The man who was so positive was Hillman was, according to Colonel Walker's statement, Hillman's junior by at least 15 years and in his countenance and features he did not come home very much disgusted, and today declared that he had not the slightest idea that the man who was lately arrested in Tombstone was Hillman.

The Hon. S. A. Riggs, who has been Mrs. Hillman's attorney from the very commencement of the case, says that he is so positive that the insurance companies will have to pay Mrs. Hillman the money that he would not take $100 off from the entire judgment in case a settlement was offered.

TOPPERA, Kan., May 30.—Detective Franklin of the Santa Fe today for Tombstone, Ariz., where the supposed Hillman is now in custody. He did not carry requisition papers with him, but if he has not the right man the necessary papers will be forwarded to him.

IN HONOR OF JUDGE USHER. LAWRENCE, Kan., May 30.—Memorial exercises in honor of the late Judge J. P. Usher were held this forenoon in the court house by the members of the Douglas county bar. Resolutions of respect were adopted and ordered placed on the journal of the court. Hon. S. G. Tischer made a short address, in which he spoke of Judge Usher's early relations with the bar and related a number of interesting incidents. He was followed by Hon. S. A. Riggs, J. W. Green, J. S. Emery and George J. Barker, who made appropriate and touching remarks on the life and character of the late judge who were specially dwelt upon. Although a very sensitive man, he exercised the most perfect control over his own feelings and always treated with the greatest courtesy all with whom he was associated. At the close Judge Benson spoke briefly of his relations with Mr. Usher and ordered the resolutions to be placed on the journal of the court.

KINGFISHER CITY. Substantial Improvements Made at That City—Railroad Talk.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE DAILY EAGLE. KINGFISHER CITY, Ok., May 30.—Much excitement is expressed here that the Rock Island road will be located through this place, all necessary inducements have been made to secure it. A clear title has been obtained to the entire town site. It is a beautiful plot of ground, situated at the junction of Kingfisher and Uncle John creeks. The banks of the creeks are dotted with a thick growth of timber, while numerous springs of pure, cool water abound. Kingfisher City is regularly platted and surveyed out, the lots being 50x140 feet, with broad streets and twenty foot alleys in all blocks. The principal streets are Main, Douglas, Wichita, Oklahoma, Cole, Engle and Beacon avenues. Many former Wichita faces may be seen upon the streets of the city. The town company have erected a wagon bridge over the Kingfisher at an expense of $250, the company paying the entire expense themselves. Nearly all the travel from the north passes through Main street. The company has the finest well of water in the territory; water was reached at a depth of twenty-one feet, but the well is thirty-eight feet deep, which assures a fine water, clear and cold.

Several very creditable buildings are now under way and more to follow. I have found the back files of the EAGLE since the day of opening in nearly every tent and cabin visited. The EAGLE is the only daily that arrives here the same day of publication.

The E. P. News, have issued the second issue of the New World. It is credit to themselves and appreciated by the public. The Cole Town Site company will soon issue a paper to be called the Kingfisher.

Last Saturday a very exciting pony horse race took place at Kingfisher City between cowboys and Indians. There were some five hundred people on the grounds, and later a genuine cock fight took place near the city.

The telegraph line is expected to reach here early next week, and the people are feeling happy over the event. Nothing could please them more, except the building of the Rock Island road into the town. All are anxiously awaiting the meeting of the directors on the 10th of June, which is expected to determine just what the company intends doing this year.

Quite a serious fight, jumping contest occurred yesterday near Lisbon. The dramatic personae consisted of an old man and a very fat woman. The facts in the case are the fat woman on Saturday stalked out on some one's new hen house and planted some trees. On Sunday afternoon this same old man with two women and two boys drove up in a wagon, and seeing the lot had been taken by the woman (who, by the way, is from Wichita and a sister of a former milkman living in the north end of Riverside park) jumped on and commenced to dig. The fat woman ordered them off. This morning they returned and the plucky fat woman started for them with a stick and a stone, raised it to strike her. It is said when the old man threw up his spine to ward off the blow, the barrel of the gun slipped down the shade blade and cut one of the old man's fingers off. The spine glanced hitting the woman on the head and cutting a long gash. The woman will recover, but the old man's finger is the first human hand furnished towards starting a human grave yard in Lisbon.

THE WAR IN HAITI.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Minister Preston, of Haiti, does not think that the reports that the Legitimate government in Haiti is about to be overcome by the insurgent, Hippolyte, are true. He said there had been something of a panic because Legitime had been compelled by a flood to evacuate the strong position at Petite Rivere and Hippolyte had come within forty miles of Port-au-Prince, but that forty miles consists of mountainous country, through which there are no roads, and he believes that the courage, raised new troops and were acting with more energy than before. There was no danger at Port-au-Prince would be taken. He said that he had never been captured. Mr. Preston said that on the 10th of last month Legitime was on the point of taking two strong positions in the mountains, which Hippolyte held, but at the time Admiral Gheadeary, of the United States navy, compelled Legitime to raise the blockade which he had established there, and Hippolyte's people not only were able to receive supplies, but were encouraged by the moral support which this action had given them, to continue fighting. The admiral raised the blockade upon an interpretation of international law which Minister Preston did not seem to think speedy termination would be desirable, since it is carried on guerrilla fashion.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Much Doubt Expressed as to the Wisdom of the Recent Order.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The friends of civil service reform are not agreed that the new orders providing that the list of eligibles for appointment to the public service shall be made public will work a reform. The commissioners themselves are so much in doubt upon the subject that the announcement is made that the commission may reserve the right to rescind this order if it shall be found that it will not accomplish the object desired. The purpose of the commission, as it is announced by Commissioner Roosevelt, is a commendable one. It remains to be seen whether the plan is really as simple as desired. Friends of the reform, who have watched the operation of the new law, greatly fear that the publication of the eligible list will not give the order to fall into the practical politician, by means of which he will seek to evade the operation of the civil service act. It is true that the appointing power has no right to select persons on the eligible list to the appointing power except as to the residence and character of the persons on that list. Yet it is a matter of common knowledge here in Washington, although probably in most instances not susceptible of legal proof, that exactly this inhibited recommendation or statement is repeatedly made to the appointing power. The plan which the civil service commission will have to solve is whether the proposed change will have the effect to give the politicians an advantage in the selection of persons on the eligible list to the appointing power. Under the present system neither the politicians nor the appointing officers know what names will be sent to them by the civil service commission, but if the list shall be made public the politicians and the appointing officers can know what the names are, what the politics may be and what the places of residence are and what the character of the persons are, which their purposes without violating the strict letter of the law. The scheme is of course intended as an advance step in behalf of the reform movement, but it is an experiment and doubtless the friends of the commission invite the expressions of opinion from those who have seen the operation of the law, which will be of great value to the commission.

HE DEFIED THE LAW. A Negro Tenant Burns His House Rather Than Surrender It.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 29.—Deputy Sheriff McDaniel, of King George county, Tuesday went with a writ of ejectment and undertook to remove Charles Peyton, a negro squatter, from a tenement house belonging to Charles Warwode, in the above county. When the sheriff arrived at the house and made known his visit Peyton entered the house and in a few moments returned with a loaded revolver, shot gun and leveling at the sheriff. He forced him to leave, following him some distance from the house, and when leaving him, said: "If you come back here again, you will get the contents of this gun." Sometime afterward the sheriff returned with a posse and also with another warrant for Peyton for resisting an officer. Peyton, who saw them coming, fortified himself and defied arrest with his gun. While defying arrest, Peyton set fire to the house with his family in it. He escaped through a rear door and took to the woods while the sheriff and his posse were rescuing the family and trying to save the building. The family was rescued, but the building and furniture was entirely destroyed. The sheriff and his posse then left the scene. After procuring another warrant for arson against Peyton they pursued and captured him.

BRUTALITY TO A CHILD.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Scared on many parts of the body with a red hot iron, her eyes blackened and her fingers in the condition of a washerwoman's digits, the nails being worn to the quick, 7-year-old Nellie Dubois has become the ward of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children. She says she was the victim and the slave of her step-mother, Annie Dubois, the wife of a foreman in a brass foundry in West Thirty-fourth street, who lives at 508 West Thirty-fourth street. Mrs. Dubois is in custody. She was brought to the front of the city's society by two gentlemen who were told of the child's condition by Mrs. Thomas. Nellie had told Mrs. Thomas that her step-mother had compelled her to do chamber work and to wash and iron for the family and to take care of the children. She was taken to the society's house and repeated her story to Agent Stocking. A physician said her condition was critical, and characterized her injuries as shocking. When the stepmother was interrogated she said that Nellie had fallen against a stove and burned herself. She denied that she had treated her badly, and hinted that she inherited insanity from her mother. The case will be inquired into.

TRAINMEN MURDER A TRAMP.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 30.—An unknown tramp who was stealing a ride on an east bound freight train of the Memphis & Charleston railroad last Sunday night was set upon and beaten by two negro brakemen and shot by the conductor, Ed Ham. The dead body was then thrown on the track near Luka, Miss., and not discovered until it had been run over by the east bound passenger train Monday morning.

MEMORIAL DAY.

DECORATION OF GRAVES THROUGHOUT THE LAND.

The President Reviews the Parade at Brooklyn—Ceremonies at Grant's Tomb.

Impressive Rites at Arlington—Hon. Eugene F. Ware, of Kansas, Delivers the Decoration Day Poem.

The Monument to Chicago's Martyred Police Unveiled—Congressman Perkins Delivers an Address at Girard—Exercises at Lawrence in Memory of Judge Usher—The Day Elsewhere.

BROOKLYN, May 30.—The celebration of memorial day in Brooklyn was, as it has been for many years, an unqualified success. The parade is always made the special feature, the services at the cemeteries as a rule being held on the Sunday preceding decoration day. The Grand Army men in the past have been so fortunate as to obtain the attendance of presidents and others in the reviewing stand, and today they had a Grand Army of the Republic veteran, General Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States, to review them. The president was assisted by another Grand Army man, Benjamin F. Tracy, secretary of the navy.

The president breakfasted early at the residence of Joseph F. Knapp, in company with Secretary of the Navy, Tracy and Mayor Chapin. After breakfast several prominent citizens called and shook hands with President Harrison. It was near 10 o'clock when the president and his party started out to review the parade. The head of the column was on the corner of Bedford and division avenues. On the arrival of the president General Marshal H. W. Hunt gave the order to fall into line. The various organizations appeared from the city-streets very rapidly. It was estimated that 30,000 persons were packed on Fort Green plain and the intersecting streets, and as the head of the column passed by the Grand Army men, as they passed the president, lifted their hats to him and waved their arms. Secretary Tracy was on the left of the president and he, too, came in for a graceful welcome. The volunteer and militia regiments and letter carriers got their share of the day's honors. After the review the president with Secretary Tracy, Mayor Chapin and others went to Mr. Knapp's residence where an informal reception was held. It had been arranged that the president should attend the ceremonies at General Grant's tomb in this city, but this was given up. The party returned to Washington in a private car this afternoon, leaving the Jersey City depot at 3:45 o'clock.

AT NEW YORK CITY. NEW YORK, May 30.—Though the early morning did not give promise of a fair day yet it could not be said to be a very unpleasant prospect for the rain fell only lightly and at intervals, while the morning worsened the rain ceased entirely and the sun at times almost broke through the clouds. All the public buildings displayed their flags at half mast but there was a very magnificent display of bunting elsewhere, except at the hotels and news paper offices. Even along the march of the parade there were flags flying from the buildings. Points of vantage along the line were taken by sight seers at an early hour and the reviewing stands were well filled before the parade started from the city hall. The line of march was a short one down Fifth avenue to Fourteenth street, thence to Broadway and around Union square.

The most elaborate feature of the decorations was noticeable at Union square, where the Lincoln statue was beautifully adorned with the flags. In the central park was a great center of decoration to lovers of flowers as tributes to the patriotic dead.

The procession started promptly at 9 o'clock headed by the American band and within the railings, verandas, geraniums and flowering plants are massed in a solid bank. The pedestal was covered with bunting and the Union square decorated with the insignia of war traced in flowers. The Washington statue was also beautifully decorated and the Seventh regiment composed the marching band in central park was a great center of decoration to lovers of flowers as tributes to the patriotic dead.

The parade was reviewed by Governor Hill, Vice-President Morton and Mayor McClellan. After returning from the review the Grand Army of the Republic went to the various cemeteries and decorated the graves of their dead comrades.

U. S. Grant post # A. I. arranged the memorial service today as heretofore at General Grant's tomb in Riverside park. At the entrance to the tomb a floral arch was erected bearing the inscription: "For his services in the hearts of his Countrymen." Above that was a shield with the national colors, also of flowers, and this was surmounted by a floral cross with the words "Army and Navy, G. & L." The interior of the tomb was a mass of flowers and evergreens so great as to completely hide the casket. Chang Yen Fou, the Chinese minister resident at Washington, sent a floral device bearing his name. Made imitation of the liberty bell in flowers. On the left side of the tomb a platform was erected on which the exercises were held. About 2,000 people surrounded and occupied the space in front of the tomb. Commander George A. Brice opened the proceedings with a speech and then a band played Cooher's funeral march.

Chaplain-in-Chief Anderson and Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., L. L. D., delivered the oration. The Seventy-first regiment fired a salute and the chaplain, Rev. Jason Galisher, closed with prayer. The United States man-of-war was in the river below the tomb and fired five minute guns during the services and a salute of twenty-one guns at the close.

AT WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, May 30.—Although the weather prospects were dubious this morning the veterans of the late war turned out in good force to make their annual pilgrimage to Arlington, the Soldier's Home and other grounds where the remains of their old comrades rest and to pay their tribute of respect and affection in the shape of floral offerings and suitable ceremonies.

There was little evidence of business activity to be seen and the spirit of the day was generally observed. The status of Garfield and other dead leaders in the war were tastefully adorned with flowers and bunting, and there was a splendid display of the national colors in all parts of the city.

The procession to Arlington was the feature of the day. Several hundred old veterans, many carrying their muskets, and others bearing sticks capped with small flags, were escorted by the district national guard in the march to the national cemetery. To those who have 40 years past observed this ceremony there was something affecting in the rapidly striking lines, the willinging hair and the halting gait of the old warriors. Nevertheless they made a pretty show as they straightened up in line and marched.

with a gay assumption of briskness toward the home of the dead.

The Grand Army of the Republic had concentrated its efforts upon Arlington and the ceremonies there were upon a large scale than elsewhere. Attorney Gen. Miller was the representative of the administration at that place. General D. S. Alexander was the orator of the day and the poem was delivered by Eugene F. Ware of Kansas. The invocation was made by Bishop Hurst and appropriate music was rendered by the Marine band and the Mozart club and a salute was fired by a battery of artillery. General Sheridan's tomb was specially decorated by the ladies of the Potomac relief corps and a monument to General Gabriel R. Paul was unveiled with an appropriate address by Chief Justice Charles Drake. At the soldiers' home Major S. S. Rockwood delivered an oration and Colonel Dewitt C. Sprague read an original poem while similar offices were performed at the congressional cemetery by Hon. W. W. Curry and George B. Fleming respectively. Flowers were strewn over General Logan's tomb by a committee of the Lehigh guard of honor.

At St. Matthews' church mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock for the repose of the soul of the late General Sheridan and for the soldiers who fell in battle.

AT CHICAGO. CHICAGO, May 30.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon the memorial monument erected by the citizens in honor of the policemen who were killed by an anarchist bomb in the Haymarket riot on May 4, 1886, was unveiled. The ceremonies were very simple, consisting of a presentation address by Mr. R. T. Crain, chairman of the citizens committee, the ceremony of unveiling by Mayor Deagan, son of Officer Matthias J. Deagan, the first of the policemen who died from the effects of the explosion, an address accepting the monument on behalf of the city by Mayor Cregier, and a letter to Deagan, the first of the policemen in view of the large number of processions to the cemetery for the purpose of decorating union soldiers' graves it was decided to have a procession in connection with the unveiling of this memorial.

The monument consists of a pedestal surmounted by a bronze policeman in uniform, of heroic size. The statue is the work of Mr. J. J. Galet, a Chicago sculptor. The memorial stands up on the scene of the riot, at the intersection of the Plaines and West Randolph streets, and is something over twenty feet in height.

AT OTTAWA. OTTAWA, Kan., May 30.—Memorial day was universally observed here. The business men all closed their establishments and decorated their buildings and stores. The old soldiers visited and decorated graves in both cemeteries. Hon. H. C. Meschen was the orator and Rev. P. McKinney also delivered an address.

AT GIRARD. GIRARD, Kan., May 30.—Decoration day was observed here by about five thousand people. Hon. B. W. Perkins delivered an eloquent address in the public park. Captain J. D. Barker and Judge James A. Smith also made some remarks. The procession to the cemetery was nearly a mile in length.

AT MEXICO CITY. CITY OF MEXICO, May 30.—Decoration day was duly observed by American ladies in this city, who went to the United States cemetery provided with flowers and decorated the soldiers' monument. A floral flag marked the graves of the soldiers.

AT DODGE CITY. DODGE CITY, Kan., May 30.—Memorial day was appropriately observed by our people today. Garlands of flowers were strewn upon the graves of our sleeping heroes, while at the opera house in the afternoon and evening 500 people assembled to listen to several addresses by local orators.

Quite a destructive fire occurred here this morning in the burning of what was known as the Handie park cottage, owned and occupied as a residence by W. J. Fitzgerald, which burned to the ground, together with its contents.

AT LA CYNVE. LA CYNVE, Kan., May 30.—Decoration day was observed here today by a large number of people than ever before assembled on a similar occasion in this city. J. H. Heister, of Pleasanton, delivered an address. The ceremonies were in charge of Mitchell Grand Army post and citizens.

AT CEDARVALE. CEDARVALE, Kan., May 30.—Memorial day was observed in this city with more than usual interest. Business was suspended and city and county turned out en masse to celebrate. The procession was over a mile in length and the audience at the cemetery was estimated at 2,000 people. A K. Green delivered the oration. A committee of forty-three children in white decorated the monuments for the dead.

AT LEAVENWORTH. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 30.—Today has been observed a general holiday, the principal exercises taking place at the national cemetery at Fort Leavenworth. All the troops stationed there, a thousand veterans from the Soldiers' home and the uniformed societies of the city, took part. Captain Arthur McArthur, U. S. A., was master of ceremonies and the oration was delivered by Colonel Cloud, of Kansas City.

AT KIOWA. Special Dispatch to the Daily Eagle. KIOWA, Kan., May 30.—Decoration day was duly observed in Kiowa. A large procession formed at 10 o'clock p. m. and marched to the M. E. church, where memorial services were held.
