STRAY BITS. Somer M. Waterbury's society circus in New York cost him about $30,000 for a one-night stand.

The Chinese laundrymen of Pittsburg, Pa., bleach their washes with chloride of lime, and the garments soon rot away.

C. F. Brown, of Malverna, Pa., has just taken the first drink of water since October last. He can go without water all winter.

A gold crown worth $25,000 has been sent to Vienna by the Austro-Hungarians of Buenos Ayres. It is to be placed on the coffin of the late Crown Prince Rudolf.

The Philadelphia Call remarks that "the downtown bobtail cars should bear the iron dog; 'Drop a nickel in the slot and see how much faster you could have walked home.'"

Dr. Agnew says that a healthy woman can kill herself in about a year by horseback riding, and all other physicians would probably agree with him if they didn't want patients.

A highway robber compelled George Falmonth, of Indiana, to sign a check on a bank for $20,000, to sign a check on a bank for $20,000, to sign a check on a bank for $20,000.

The returns for accidents on the railways of the United Kingdom during the year 1889 are interesting. Eleven passengers were killed and 398 injured, as against 25 passengers killed and 338 injured in 1887.

Professor Paul d'Nuce, whoever he is, says he can cause a thunderstorm and a fall of rain in any district in two hours' notice, and that he can have the shower stop in fifteen minutes or continue half a day.

M. Adolphe d'Assier has made a special study of the great climatic cycle. He says that the next ice period will reach its greatest height in the year 11,750. It is a little early yet to begin laying in coal.

A negro in Rankin county, Miss., who had stolen a mule, was given the option of going to the penitentiary or receiving a hundred lashes on the back. He chose the latter, taking the punishment like a stoic.

In the quaint old Anglican church of Capel-Ferne, near Dover, there is no provision made for lighting it at night, and at the evening service those who attend are in the habit of bringing candles and lamps along with them.

A New York pilot says that if one sailing craft can sneak past another in distress without being signalled he will do it nine times in ten. It costs the owners money to feed rescued people, and they don't encourage humane actions.

The winter in Iceland has been unusually severe. When, the other day, the first post ship of the season broke through the ice floes and reached Reykjavik the first question asked by the natives was whether Prince Bismarck was still alive.

The superintendent of a Louisville employment agency urges boys who desire to take up trades to learn cooking. He has found that there is a great scarcity of good male cooks not only in Louisville, but also in every city in the United States.

A Pennsylvania hunter found a cave in the mountains the other day which contained, as he estimated, four tons of solid honey, but he was pitched into him and stung him a score of times and ran him off before he could arrange to gather, pack and ship.

St. Peter's at Rome is to be further embellished by fresh mosaics. At present the cornice running around the nave and aisles is merely a canvas imitation, but Pope Leo intends to replace it by real mosaic, according to the original designs by Raphael, Bramante and Michael Angelo.

There are two mile superlatives about cranate that open in the last and next to last out of his bed quicker than any young man. One is to stick a jackknife in the headboard of a bed on the left side, and the other is to arrange the slippers very carefully, bottom up, at the foot of the bed.

Garden and Forest quotes this simple method of testing the quality of a pear: Write a name with pen and ink upon the dry skin of the fruit. If the ink is quickly absorbed, leaving clear, sharp lines, the quality of the fruit is good; if the skin does not absorb the ink quickly, and the lines are blotched, the quality is inferior.

Here is an item from the Choctaw, Ala., Herald: We are requested to say to the men of this place that on the top of the bell at the church on Saturday evenings, before the second and fourth Sundays in each month, they are solicited to attend and assist the young ladies in cleaning the lamps and church for services the next day.

The ways of successions in different parts of the world vary greatly. In the United States and England the seller bears the expense of the sale, but in France the purchaser bears the cost, 5 per cent being added to his purchase. In Holland it is still worse, the buyer being required to pay 10 per cent additional for the expenses of the sale.

The quality of roof slates, says a German trade journal, may be easily tested by carefully weighing samples, then putting them for a quarter of an hour into boiling water that is fairly free from lime, salt and ammonia; on reweighing the slates those that show the greatest increase in weight are the most capable of resisting deterioration.

An Austin inventor has devised a steered husk which draws by a team, plucks and husks the corn at the rate of eight to twelve ears a day, according to the capacity of the team. The team and machine move astride the row, one horse on either side, and every ear of corn, large or small, is picked up, corn husking can now be done just as thrashing is, lasting but a few days.

The production of wool in India, central Asia and China is estimated at 300,000,000 pounds. Australia and New Zealand possess 72,000,000 sheep, producing 300,000,000 pounds of wool, worth $114,160,000. La Plata possesses 100,000,000 sheep, producing 50,000,000 tons of wool, worth $4,840,000. Europe possesses 200,000,000 sheep, yielding 400,000,000 pounds of wool.

There is so long a list of applicants for admission to the London Athenaeum club that the last man elected has been waiting for sixteen years, and fifteen years is the average time that a name remains on the list there, unless it is so distinguished that it is taken up out of its order. Three or four years is said to be a moderate time to wait for a chance of admission to many other clubs in London.

A woman in New York has invented an ingenious and unique bath for infants. It is made of pure rubber, strong cloth and is folded over a pretty frame of bamboo, which can be enlarged as the child grows older. At the bottom is a hard rubber faucet for the water outlet. One end is furnished with convenient pockets for toilet articles, and the other end with a clothes and towel bracket. It is raised sufficiently from the floor to make it convenient for the mother to sit in her chair while bathing the baby.

WOMAN'S WEAR. Black is again a leading color for dresses, hats, bonnets and wraps.

The new gown stuff velveteens has a silk black, and stripes of short pile velvet over the right side.

It is thought that the centennial will help the white west to spread and flourish like a green bay tree.

London will have none of orange colored stationaryery that imitates Fernand the less, but loves quietness more.

Ladies' shirts of striped linen or pale silk, for wear with directors coats, appear in the shops in almost distressing profusion.

Frocks of fine white wool braided all over with white silk loop ample enough for a shepherdess and are costly enough for a princess.

A discovery, due to the plentiful royal deaths abroad, is that a diamond necklace worn between two jet ones is strict half mourning.

A new finish for sashes of silk or ribbon is two shades of lavender, the ends, with a handsome jet fringe falling from the lower curve.

Seen upon a recent hat: Two birds, three butterflies, two yards of ribbon, four of lace, about ten of silver cords in rows and rings and rosettes.

You can buy a child's sash of washing silk five inches wide and two and one half yards long, for one shilling, but you must go to London for it.

For morning walks or shopping thick veils are allowable, but for all other occasions the sheers dotted net, coming just below the chin, is the correct thing.

An easy mitigation of the new baggy sleeve is to shirr it just below the armpole, and set velvet or galloon under the shirring, with an other row just above the cuff.

Bands of crepe flowers with pearl centers laid flat upon crepe and making the hem to a gown are among the latest devices of Felix, the famous Parisian costumer.

The perennial and supercilious jersey will be worn again, mainly in black. The pretty silk blouses are used in its stead where a color would be in better taste.

About the most comfortable underdresses for a black gown is the striped or plaid washing silk, which is firm enough to need lining neither in skirt nor waist.

One of the newest stuffs for panels, bands and so on is a fine cord checked white silk worked all over in outline stitch with the quiet figures of Queen Anne embroidery.

Vests of white tulle, outlined by braces of handsome ribbon and finished at the neck with frills of dainty lace, are among the most useful of the confections yet devised for turning a plain waist into a drowsy one.

ODDS AND ENDS. Probably the youngest commercial traveler in this country is Frank Wade, aged 12 years, who represents a Buffalo oil company on the road.

A Redding (Cal.) man has made a lot of sugar from the native maple, and connoisseurs pronounce it equal to the eastern product.

Large tobacco farms, to be worked and managed by skilled Cubans, have just been established in the half island of Cuba. Tobacco grown there from Havana seed is said to be even finer and more delicately flavored than that from Cuba itself.

England got most of its ice now from Norway, Scandinavian competition having almost entirely destroyed the business of shipping ice from Boston to England, which was once very profitable. It is said in London from 10 to 15 cents per hundred weight.

Mr. John Helton, of Smithboro, Ga., who has just passed his 82nd birthday, started out at 6 o'clock the other morning, walked ten miles, out and split 128 rails and 22 staves, plowed up an acre of ground and walked home and ate his supper at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

During the last eleven years nearly 30,000 persons have lost their lives in Great Britain the portion left to charity was valued at $268,545. The three largest estates were Mr. Rylands', Manchester manufacturer and brewer house man, $2,574,923; Sir William Pearce's, Glasgow shipbuilder, $1,069,069, and Mr. W. J. Cookson's, chemical manufacturer, $1,000,000.
