

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

A. A. Moore sold Ada Paul last week in Colorado. A. H. Gosard has gone to Kingman to be absent several days.

George Myers received this week a car load of sheep. Ben Bear shipped to Springfield, Mass., a pair of native Colorado rabbits.

Mr. M. P. Baran is putting up a beautiful picket fence about his premises. W. Wilderback has gone to Pueblo, Colorado, to operate this summer in stock.

J. C. Redfield is back from his eastern trip. He says there is no country half so free as this.

Councilman Nugent's wife goes this week to Doniphan county to visit relatives and friends.

Moore, T. H. Stevens and J. G. Byrne, two of Anthony's prominent citizens, came up yesterday. H. C. Spear, State superintendent of public instruction, paid his compliments to the Eagle on Friday last.

Richard & Rogers have a special in another column. A fine opportunity is offered to some one to make money.

W. E. Lathrop, Esq., a prominent member of the Harvey county bar, was in the city on Saturday last on legal business.

Mr. George Strong has returned from Massachusetts, having enjoyed a pleasant visit in that State and among old friends in Ohio.

Mayor Greenstein returned Saturday night from Topeka. Every arrangement has been completed for a State fair at the capital.

Those wishing to borrow money will find an advertisement in this issue from A. H. Gosard & Co., an old established and reliable firm.

G. W. C. Jones, one of Union township's best farmers and stock breeders, shipped two of his Poland China pigs to Alabama a few days since.

A gentleman, a temperance man, asked yesterday if we would favor, for the purpose of raising revenue for the city and lightening taxes, a scheme whereby city council members should issue drinks for the sale of simple, unalloyed liquors for the billiard tables, etc., with the tacit understanding upon the part of the city officers and the parties interested that if liquor is sold entirely to the city officers should make no complaint nor countenance prosecution. We answered then, as we answer now, emphatically, no. What is to be gained by whipping the city around the stump, except expense and vexation in the end? Enforce the law. If it proves an infringement upon personal rights and becomes obnoxious to the majority, it will be repealed; if not, then it must stand. No American citizen, imbued with the principles upon which rests the idea of a republican form of government, can consistently aid or countenance the violation of law. We are for the prosecution of any and every man found violating any law, be the violation for gain, revenge or what not.

When Rev. Kelly, in his Sunday morning prayer, thanked God that at that same hour the chief magistrate of this great Nation had his consecutive Sundays there has been no failure of the prediction so far as this county is concerned.

Sixteen sacks and pouches of mail were received at the Wichita office on Monday for distribution, besides the matter destined for other offices supplied by or through the Wichita office.

There is enough growing hedge in Sedgewick county—a county that has been settled less than a dozen years—to reach from the Arkansas Valley in the Atlantic Ocean. See our statistical table.

From our table it will be seen that Sedgewick county has on hand four hundred and five thousand seven hundred and forty-six bushels of old corn. Can any other county in the State show as much?

Sheriff Wait and United States Marshal Johnson escorted the three men charged with violating the land laws in Sumner county, to the Leavenworth jail, there to await the action of the United States court.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a social at the residence of Mr. Heller, on Lawrence avenue, this (Thursday) evening. Refreshments and good music will be furnished. The public are invited.

L. N. Woodcock went to Emporia last week to witness the production, by an amateur company of the "Color Guard". He says the play is immensely funny, but hardly equals in dramatic force "The Spy".

The Emporia News has secured the trans-Mississippi dispatch and makes its appearance as a legitimate daily newspaper. It reaches Wichita five hours after publication with all the afternoon dispatches. We congratulate the firm.

The opening of Stanley & Taylor's restaurant and ice cream parlor was celebrated with great éclat Tuesday evening. A dance in the Lotus Club was given in connection with the affair which was a brilliant one and attended by the elite of the city.

C. H. Abbott has just completed the plans and specifications for a new building at 1214 Davidson that is not only commodious but borders on the magnificent. It is a regular Boston "swell front" affair, fine in detail, and will cost a pile of money we should judge.

Mr. Wm. Krieger, whom Prof. Fickelson invited from Ames, Watamora county, to this city, arrived here last week and purchased some fourteen acres near Chisholm Creek, for the purpose of engaging in the manufacture of brick to supply this city and country.

A good girl wanted to do general house work. Steady, thrifty, reliable. A pleasant home will be given to one who can fill the situation. None but one who can do good cooking need apply. Wages promptly paid every week if desired. For further information apply at this office.

Mrs. Mary Tucker, wife of Hon. S. M. Tucker, has sold her home in this city and starts this week to join her husband in the Colorado mines, which we should think indicates that the Captain has concluded that the Klondike country shall be his home for the present.

M. C. McClain and E. W. Whitte have united their interests and embarked in the real estate and loaning business. Both of these gentlemen are in every way worthy of the confidence of the public. They are good business men and no doubt will succeed in their new enterprise. Their office is on the avenue, south side, near the city scales.

The foundations of the new water mill are nearly in and a large amount of heavy timber has been delivered upon the ground. The foundation stands south and west of that of the old building burned, and the new mill will not be over the stream but to one side. The mason work is strong and permanent.

Mr. Sarah McClung informs us that she and her neighbors in Ninneschaw township have cut one hundred acres in fax. He says that it is growing very well and is worth very heavily. Fax is a crop that will first come to the attention of the public through the lower Arkansas valley.

The "Little Belle," a five-cent cigar, manufactured by Husey & Krouse, almost rivals their famous "Wichita Belle," and only costs half as much. In fact may pronounce the "Little Belle" a triumph in the line of a cheap cigar. It is a Havana B1, neatly rolled and smokes like an oriental shag from Philipp. Call for a "Little Belle," and save a nickel.

The eyes of that miserable sinner who killed old Noah's ark from a high tree-top with the observation that "he wasn't going to come north here and one month later" have been lugged out last Monday afternoon and he lived to see this water and place. Such solid torrents of water as fell here in the shape of an hour's rain is seldom seen away from Niagara Falls.

GRAND TRANSPORTATION OF GRAIN.

Under late developments the Fort Scott & Wichita Railway enterprise promises to be of vast importance to the grain raisers of this section. The opening of the new line of the Mississippi made by Ed's jetty started the barge line from St. Louis. The success of the barge line has awakened the entire Northwest to the feasibility of cheap transportation of grain to Europe. Wichita has lighted Chicago as New York. At the canal convention, held last week at Rock Island, it was demonstrated that when an wheat can be successfully shipped from St. Paul, Minnesota, to Glasgow, Scotland, for 25 cents per bushel, and that a shipment of that character had actually been made by a Scottish firm. Chicago now writes for a canal from the Mississippi to Lake Michigan, and New York proposes to make the Erie Canal free. So that the assertion that competition for cheap transportation leads all enactments is again verified. Now for the point that interests the farmers of Sedgewick: A road is being built from Fort Scott to Memphis. This road was completed last week from Fort Scott to Missouri. With this road finished and the Wichita & Fort Scott road built we would have an almost direct line to the head of ship navigation, competing with St. Louis for our grain. The building of the line already chartered by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe from here down the Valley through the Territory would only strengthen the competition. That the Fort Scott & Memphis road will be completed at an early date is no longer a question. A St. Louis dispatch from Springfield, Missouri, dated May 25th, contains the following: "The Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis road was completed to this city today, and the first train over it arrived here, bearing General Manager Scott Nettleton and other officers of the road, who were received by a large crowd of citizens, and the event celebrated by the firing of cannon, speech, skating, etc. The road will be rapidly pushed westward to Memphis, Tennessee, and when completed will form a most important rail link, connecting this city to the Northwest with the Southern systems of road at Memphis, furnish cheap and rapid transportation for the products of a large part of Arkansas, southwestern Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, to a port beyond low water and freezing point on the Mississippi river."

There is a professional gentleman in this city who is cultivating a 90 foot square of ground, and keeping an accurate account of its yield. The patch is devoted to strawberries, raspberries and blackberries principally, and he proposes to demonstrate the capabilities of our soil to be in advance of the ordinary calculations of the farmer and horticulturist. We shall publish the result after the last crop has been harvested.

"Old Four Eyes" is no more. He has returned home. No longer are the purple and maroon of the city destined by his ransacking hoard, and mangled horses and sore back ponies are at a discount. Deany was last seen burying up the rear of a line of ponies headed for New Mexico. "Face thee well; and if forever, why forever, far thee well," that resonant hoarse.

The second quarterly meeting for Wichita station M. E. Church, will be held next Saturday and Sunday, June 4th and 5th, 1921. Preaching Saturday at 9 a. m., and Sabbath at 10 a. m., and 8 p. m., by the presiding elder, Rev. C. A. Ring. Love feast, Sabbath at 9 a. m. Communion at close of morning sermon. All are invited.

The second quarterly meeting for the year will be held at the M. E. church, next Saturday and Sunday. Friday is the regular fast day and all communicants are exhorted to observe the same. Prayers will be held at a general prayer meeting, on Saturday morning. A love feast will be held in the evening, commencing at 8:15 Sunday morning. All are invited. In connection with the eucharistic exercises, a collection for the poor will be taken up.

An English gentleman has purchased thirty-six quarter sections, or five thousand seven hundred and sixty acres of land in Park and Eagle townships in this county for farming purposes. He has a large five gang breaking plow to turning up the soil, which will be sowed to wheat this fall. He expects to export three thousand acres with wheat in September and October.

Mrs. Ida Jackson had an ugly fall on Friday evening last, when she slipped and fell from a ladder, to which she was leaning, while she was engaged in painting a picture. She was thrown violently to the ground on the corner of Douglas and Market street. The horse was forty-eight, and was running at a frightful speed when the vehicle was turned over. She sustained but a few scratches about the face.

Prof. H. Winlow Abbott spent a week among friends and well-wishers in this city, returning to his present home at work at Monmouth on Tuesday morning. Prof. Abbott is a warm-hearted man, of a deep, sympathetic nature, and he attracts to himself a large number of friends wherever he goes. He contributes an article on "Cherry" to the "Wichita Leader" local weekly, which, if it does not appear in this issue, will in the next.

Rev. J. T. Hanna greeted his many friends in this city last week, spending Sabbath here and filling Mr. Kelly's pulpit morning and evening. His sermons Sunday morning were well received and he was warmly welcomed by the congregation. He is a man of great ability and his sermons are full of beauty and attractiveness, and will be remembered by those who heard him. A distressing rumor has been current some days in our city to the effect that Lee Nixon and wife and child, and J. P. Hovey and wife and child, who left here ago for Washington Territory, had been lost in a vessel on the Pacific coast which went down a few days since between San Francisco and Oregon. But Mr. Niederlander received a letter from Mr. Nixon announcing his safe arrival at destination.

The District Court is still engaged with criminal cases, having disposed of but a single civil suit. The jury in the case of Orville Troupe, charged with manslaughter, returned a verdict of guilty and he was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. George Tomlin, the old gentleman, plead guilty to forgery and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. He had been in the penitentiary for a year and a half for a similar offense.

After a long and painful illness, patiently borne, Mrs. Lorina Glenn, wife of A. A. Glenn, died at her home in this city on Saturday last. She was 72 years of age and was a member of the Presbyterian church. Her death was a great loss to her family and to the church. She was a woman of great piety and was highly respected by all who knew her.

Our Presbyterian folks are always up with the times, and strongly for neatness and comfort for the best. Their church having been completely finished inside this spring, they are now engaged in painting and decorating the interior. They have now made arrangements to build a new parsonage, the contract for which estimates the cost at $1,000. Mr. Sternberg, we believe, has the contract for the building.

The Dispatch boasts that Clay Center, for shade tree colonies, any other town or city in the State. Of local comparisons traded persons only can write intelligently. Wichita has three shade trees for every one Clay Center has. Wichita has the most shade trees and completely shaded streets of any town in the State. A traveled person is the editor of the EAGLE.

Mr. Theodore S. Hunkley, a brother-in-law of H. L. Pierce, the Santa Fe agent, died at the residence of J. W. Eldridge on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Hunkley was a man of great ability and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a man of great piety and was highly respected by all who knew him.

What are we going to do with the peach crop? The home consumption will not make a drop in the bucket. Peaches in the country at large are a failure this season and our valley ought to reap the benefit from its splendid crop. The mountain demand, as also the local demand, is so great that unless some one, or more, make the shipping of the fruit a business, preparing for it beforehand and securing transportation rates, many thousands of bushels must rot in Sedgewick county. Capt. M. R. Moser has purchased a fruit evaporator which has been shipped from Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and also a machine with which one person can clean, haul, and pack peaches for market. He has a large number of peaches to ship from this market.

The hog market still continues to be quite lively. Some of our farmers have had handsome extra sums in hogs the past season. Hon. James H. Reed went down to his farm below town last week, where he has between three and four hundred pigs, little and big, from which he had cut eighty head of porkers. They brought the next day on the market over $1,000. Mr. Reed left for Colorado this week. He said before starting, but for the money he had invested he should abandon his mines for his farm operation.

He is right. Since out of ten who have left the mines for the farm, only two have come out even on an average, and not to exceed one in a thousand will make a fortune. There is no money in farming in Sedgewick county than there is in mining in the mountains.

There are numerous specimens of "smart Alecks" infesting every community that might very properly be enrolled under the general head of "impracticable fools." A class who never get tired of saying they are underdog, who are failures from which they are viewed, but who make it a business to criticize the successful men and enterprises. They are adept also in offering advice and in declaring that unless their dictum is followed every public enterprise must languish and the low go to the "dismal bog-woods." Wichita boasts her fair quota of these happy-losers, some of whom have of late felt called upon to criticize the EAGLE. We care in all for the kicks of such cattle as an elephant can't be hit by a needle. The truth of the matter is, they have not suggested a single new idea or proposed a single new enterprise or industry. In the absence of faith by workers, a little less blowing would prove satisfactory to the solid men of Wichita.

LICENSERS ON LOUISIANA. A gentleman, a temperance man, asked yesterday if we would favor, for the purpose of raising revenue for the city and lightening taxes, a scheme whereby city council members should issue drinks for the sale of simple, unalloyed liquors for the billiard tables, etc., with the tacit understanding upon the part of the city officers and the parties interested that if liquor is sold entirely to the city officers should make no complaint nor countenance prosecution. We answered then, as we answer now, emphatically, no. What is to be gained by whipping the city around the stump, except expense and vexation in the end? Enforce the law. If it proves an infringement upon personal rights and becomes obnoxious to the majority, it will be repealed; if not, then it must stand. No American citizen, imbued with the principles upon which rests the idea of a republican form of government, can consistently aid or countenance the violation of law. We are for the prosecution of any and every man found violating any law, be the violation for gain, revenge or what not.

When Rev. Kelly, in his Sunday morning prayer, thanked God that at that same hour the chief magistrate of this great Nation had his consecutive Sundays there has been no failure of the prediction so far as this county is concerned.

Sixteen sacks and pouches of mail were received at the Wichita office on Monday for distribution, besides the matter destined for other offices supplied by or through the Wichita office.

There is enough growing hedge in Sedgewick county—a county that has been settled less than a dozen years—to reach from the Arkansas Valley in the Atlantic Ocean. See our statistical table.

From our table it will be seen that Sedgewick county has on hand four hundred and five thousand seven hundred and forty-six bushels of old corn. Can any other county in the State show as much?

Sheriff Wait and United States Marshal Johnson escorted the three men charged with violating the land laws in Sumner county, to the Leavenworth jail, there to await the action of the United States court.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a social at the residence of Mr. Heller, on Lawrence avenue, this (Thursday) evening. Refreshments and good music will be furnished. The public are invited.

L. N. Woodcock went to Emporia last week to witness the production, by an amateur company of the "Color Guard". He says the play is immensely funny, but hardly equals in dramatic force "The Spy".

The Emporia News has secured the trans-Mississippi dispatch and makes its appearance as a legitimate daily newspaper. It reaches Wichita five hours after publication with all the afternoon dispatches. We congratulate the firm.

The opening of Stanley & Taylor's restaurant and ice cream parlor was celebrated with great éclat Tuesday evening. A dance in the Lotus Club was given in connection with the affair which was a brilliant one and attended by the elite of the city.

C. H. Abbott has just completed the plans and specifications for a new building at 1214 Davidson that is not only commodious but borders on the magnificent. It is a regular Boston "swell front" affair, fine in detail, and will cost a pile of money we should judge.

Mr. Wm. Krieger, whom Prof. Fickelson invited from Ames, Watamora county, to this city, arrived here last week and purchased some fourteen acres near Chisholm Creek, for the purpose of engaging in the manufacture of brick to supply this city and country.

A good girl wanted to do general house work. Steady, thrifty, reliable. A pleasant home will be given to one who can fill the situation. None but one who can do good cooking need apply. Wages promptly paid every week if desired. For further information apply at this office.

Mrs. Mary Tucker, wife of Hon. S. M. Tucker, has sold her home in this city and starts this week to join her husband in the Colorado mines, which we should think indicates that the Captain has concluded that the Klondike country shall be his home for the present.

M. C. McClain and E. W. Whitte have united their interests and embarked in the real estate and loaning business. Both of these gentlemen are in every way worthy of the confidence
