

A MOST ROYAL WELCOME WAS

Tendered Prescott Visitors Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Murphy Give Reception in Honor of General Baldwin and Wife.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Murphy tendered a reception last evening to General and Mrs. F. D. Baldwin in Old Fellows hall, and the reception was followed by dancing.

Willis Grauder's orchestra, composed of seven pieces, with Mrs. H. Smith at the piano, furnished the music for the occasion and rendered a number of selections while the guests were arriving and being received by the host and hostess.

General Baldwin and Mrs. Murphy, followed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Baldwin led the grand march, about 10:30 after which dancing followed until the early morning hours, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A most delicious punch was served during the evening in an ante room of the hall. The banquet hall where refreshments were served had been transformed into a dream of beauty, through its artistic decorations.

Officers attending the competition have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the hospitalities shown them during their brief sojourn here.

HIGH SCORES IN COMPETITION

Best Records Ever Made at Target Practice.

Competition Closed on Tuesday. Range Will Probably Be Made a Permanent One.

Competition closed on Tuesday. Range will probably be made a permanent one. The competitors in the tri-department competition got down to business yesterday and commenced making records which will count in the distribution of medals for tomorrow.

The shooting was at stationary targets in the morning or slow fire, and at disappearing targets in the afternoon, rapid fire.

The four highest men in this competition scores placed on the army team which will shoot in Chicago, commencing August 25, and from the highest competitors there, a team is selected to participate in an international shoot which takes place in New Jersey.

The result, at the close of the shoot on Saturday evening out of a possible 1100 was as follows:

Corporal Henry Henser, distinguished marksman, troop E, 14th cavalry, 812.

First Lieut. Aubrey Lippincott, 14th, 810.

Private Harold P. Howard, 14th, 728.

Corporal Geo. F. Watson, G, 14th, 710.

Private Claude E. Lewis, M 14th, 685.

Private John Carlson, L 14th, 683.

Quartermaster Sergt. Henry Kvarmeier, M 15th, 622.

Sergt. Fred Jabnik, L 14th, 620.

Corporal Paul Bushkovski, band, 14th, 618.

Sergt. Charles J. Downey, E 14th, 620.

Private Nathan Jones, troop L, 9th, 521.

Sergt. Andrew J. Hale, troop G, 10th, 528.

Today's shoot closes the contest at stationary and disappearing targets and the programme for tomorrow, which will also be repeated on Saturday will be one run skirmish fire forenoon and afternoon each, each man firing twenty shots.

In this shooting there are two figures on steel frames side by side, one being the silhouette of a kneeling soldier and the other a reclining soldier, and the firing is at 200, 300, 400, 500 and 600 yards, the orders being sounded by trumpet.

To spectators who are not acquainted with those engaged in the firing these will probably be the most interesting days of the competition, although the pistol competition on Monday and Tuesday will no doubt prove quite interesting also.

Lieutenants Hathaway and Quinlan left today to return to their posts at Monterey, California.

(From Friday's Daily.) Yesterday's shooting at the target grounds changed the position of the competitors considerably.

Corporal Henry Henser, distinguished marksman of G, 14th cavalry, 812.

First Lieut. Aubrey Lippincott, 14th, 810.
